ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR WAR PENNANT

Carries 126 Pounds to Victory in the Oceanus—Star Spangled in Front Again.

For the second time in a week A. K. Macomber's big brown colt War Pennant proved his right to a place among the best juveniles of the year at the Jamaica track yesterday afternoon.

Carrying the heavy impost of 126 pounds the son of Jim Gaffney romped off with the Oceanus Handicap and made such a record as W. R. Coe's Sweep On.

War Pennant was the favorite and he was heavily backed at even money. Lord Brighton and Sweep On had many supporters and Grimalkin was not neglected.

When it came to racing War Pennant drove into the lead and again proved his remarkable courage.

Star Spangled, the crippled colt belonging to the Quincey Stable, on the Liberty Bond Purse, by head and again proved his remarkable courage.

Compadre, the little black son of Colin, and Lady Dorothy, the two renowned sprinters belonging to the Quincey Stable, were also in the race.

Tommy Rowan, the brother of Maurice Rowan who last season rode for the Brighton Stable, has obtained a place as a regular jockey.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT

BY DANIEL. WHILE there is some question whether the boys over there would welcome a team of major league stars not in the service, such as John McGraw planned to take to France, there is no question regarding the attitude of the sporting editor of the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Force.

There would be any hand-picked team of professional big leaguers coming over here to the island of Europe to play ball for the American Expeditionary Force in France. Any big leaguers who want to play for the benefit of the boys in the trenches, and who are willing to wear their southern and wear to defend the United States against all enemies whatsoever, just like all the rest of us, and don the uniform of Uncle Samuel's team.

But there is every likelihood of a team of ex-professionals, now A. E. F. players, going the rounds within about a month from now and taking on all the local talent of divisional teams, hospital staff teams and the rest, for the benefit of the boys in the trenches.

"Catchers—Color Sergeant Hank Goward, Pitchers—Corporal Grover Cleveland Alexander, Sherrod Smith, Leon Cadore of Brooklyn, Lambeth of Brooklyn, or Noyes of the Athletics. First base—Dots Miller of St. Louis. Second base—Johnnie Evers, K. C. late of Philly. Shortstop—Chuck Ward of Brooklyn. Third base—Cy Bates of the Athletics. Outfield—Menckee and Rice of Washington and Miller of Cleveland.

"Some little lineup, and Dots Miller, by the way, wears a D. S. C. over the place where he used to sport the nose of the sixth city. He's been wounded twice, but reckons he can wing 'em in from the deep garden just the same.

"For alternates the team may call on two Lieutenants, it's that democratic. They are Lieut. Edward Grant, former shortstop for the Giants, and Lieut. Moose McCormick, once famed pinch hitter for the same aggregation.

"The K. of C. would outfit this team, uniforms and all, even to the providing of two regular umpires, Hank Towne of the Western League and Leo Donnelly of the American Association. It would foot all the bills for the tour to post tour. Particular attention would be paid to stops in hospital tents, so that wounded and convalescents may watch the gang work out.

The first game would be played in Paris against an all star team picked from the Paris League.

"As soon as, or whenever it is possible, general headquarters will endeavor to arrange it so that the men in the lineup given above can be released on detached service for the duration of the tour. And as soon, or whenever it does, G. H. Q. will be credited with an assist to the joy of the A. E. F."

Hughes Jennings Soon to Leave for France. Hughes Jennings will be the first major league manager to reach France. In a letter to a friend the junior member of the firm of Jennings & Jennings, attorneys at law, Scranton, Pa., says he has applied for his passport, expects to get them by October 15 and expects to be on the other side by November 1.

The Knights of Columbus in getting Jennings as an overseas secretary acquire a man who during his active career as a ball player hit for 309, and made 1,761 hits, stealing 410 bases and laying down 223 sacrifices (they didn't raise them when Jennings was playing ball). We quote these figures on the authority of no less an expert than Ernie Lanigan.

Hugh's first professional game was played on June 16, 1890, for the Allentown, Pa. club of the Eastern Interstate League. He made one hit in four at bats and had nothing do.

Joining Louisville in 1891, Jennings remained with the Colonels until June 6, 1893, when he was tossed in for good measure by Billy Barnie in a trade with Ned Hanlon of Harry Taylor, later a judge, for "Voiceless Tim" O'Rourke. Hugh didn't break into the Oriole lineup until July 5. On that day an umpire sent John McGraw from the game and Hughes went to short. An Associated Press despatch regarding the contest said: "Jennings's errors were responsible for the loss of the game."

Gaffney Could Make the Braves Pay. With the war out of the way probably nothing would suit Jim Gaffney better than to regain the Boston Nationals. As told in Mr. Lieb's story yesterday Mr. Gaffney threatens to take back his club, which was on the financial rocks as early as last June. Messrs. Wise and Prince, the bankers who bought the club and installed Percy Haughton at its head, got tired of footing bills and somebody induced Commodore Plant of New London to buy the club at $100,000.

The help a little and it was reported that the Commodore was planning to take over the club. However, he is too shrewd a business man to be saddled with the white elephant at Braves Field while the war is on and the Braves look so weak. Gaffney knew how to run the club and if he got it back no doubt would make a go of it again.

Pittsburg Follows New York Out of Hockey Activity. Some days ago when the St. Nicholas rink announced the suspension of ice skating for the duration of the war, Pittsburg was quick to join in the "big city's" enforced defection. Pittsburg would go right ahead and play hockey. Then the War Department stepped in and Pittsburg's plans on Queer street. The Duquesne Garden, Pittsburg's lone rink, has been taken over as a barracks for soldiers stationed in that city, so hockey has been shelved in the Smoky City too.

There will be mighty little hockey in this country this year, for with the outbreak of hostilities the Government's need for all the dehydrated ammonia it can get, outdoor ice always unreliable and most of the players gone to war the situation looks mighty dubious.

Penn has had some light centers in recent years, but Walker, the little fellow who is holding the pivot position now, probably is the lightest in Penn football records. Walker weighs 147 pounds.

GREENLEAF POCKETS 70 IN CUE CONTEST

Young Billiardist Makes Phenomenal Run in Increasing Lead Over Layton. Ralph Greenleaf gave a spectacular exhibition of pocket billiards at Daly's Broadway room yesterday when he defeated Johnny Layton in two games, by 100 to 48 in the afternoon and 100 to 43 at night.

The total score of the match now stands at 800 points for Greenleaf and 553 for Layton.

Greenleaf displayed brilliant execution last night and ran out in four innings. He made a remarkable run of 70 in his second inning. George Worden, manager of Layton, after watching the "Big Hill" the former Princeton football star made a stirring address and aroused the crowd to a high pitch of enthusiasm. Scarcely had the cheers died down than Greenleaf announced that he would buy $100,000 worth. This sale brought forth yells of delight and the police band added to the din by rendering "Over There."

They followed a rush of buyers. It seemed as if every person at the track was trying to make a subscription at the same time, and for half an hour the air was rent with continuous cheering.

Among those who bought $100,000 worth were Joe Blume, John L. McPherson, The Landauer, Frederick Beck, R. C. Shunrock, John Walker, M. H. Fogler and Tom Shaw. The purchase made by John Walters brought his total up to $35,000. And before the end of the day he had another $25,000 worth for his part. Robert E. Cavanaugh, who is with our fighting forces in France.

POLICE GET $374,000 IN DRIVE AT TRACK

Bring Liberty Loan Total at Jamaica Near Million and a Half Mark. The police invaded the Jamaica race track yesterday afternoon. They weren't there in quest of violators of the law. They were there several hundred strong to make Uncle Sam's Liberty Loan drive a success.

And they succeeded so far as the racegoers were concerned, for when they marched out of the little track headed by Inspector McDonald they had checks to the amount of $374,000. This great sum brought the total subscribed by the racegoers since the drive began a week ago last Monday to $1,451,250.

And enthusiastically have the lovers of the thoroughbred come to the aid of the cause that the committee in charge at the track is confident will reach $1,600,000 before the time is up on October 19.

The police swung into the gates shortly after 1 o'clock, headed by their band. They had all sorts of war trophies which had been sent back by members of the force who are fighting in the trenches. They had machine guns, rifles, and various other kinds of ammunition. On reaching the grand stand they were met by Deputy Police Commissioner Lynch, "Big Bill" Edwards, "Big Ed" Ryan and Jack Adams.

Ryan had little difficulty in gathering the crowd together. He said a few words in favor of the bonds and then introduced "Big Bill" Edwards, who made a stirring address and aroused the crowd to a high pitch of enthusiasm. Scarcely had the cheers died down than Greenleaf announced that he would buy $100,000 worth. This sale brought forth yells of delight and the police band added to the din by rendering "Over There."
