MANCHESTER GIVES HOMELIKE GREETING

President Gets Closer to the People. By the Associated Press. MANCHESTER, Dec. 30.—The people of Manchester made President Wilson a more than friendly welcome today.

The general atmosphere of all the proceedings was intimate and friendly, often the people got near enough to shake hands. Even the ceremony of conferring the freedom of the city was a tone of homely simplicity and seemed more like a college commencement than a formal state ritual.

Utterances Eagerly Absorbed.

His most important pronouncement perhaps to Englishmen, the most important he has made in England, that the United States would make no covenant with any Powers except one with all the Powers, was not lost upon his hearers.

Speaks at Royal Exchange.

Later the President made a brief address in the balcony of the Royal Exchange, where he was met by a group of about 200 prominent men in the Midland Hotel, where he made an acknowledgment of Manchester's hospitality.

Final Tribute of Cheers.

The last Manchester saw of the President, he stood on the platform of the royal train, hat in hand, with his military aid, holding a small American flag which had been presented by the people of France.

New Rulers Oppose "Minority Terrorism"

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Dec. 29.—(Delayed)—The new Government has issued a proclamation saying: "We are assuming duties as the people's commissioners, with this oath—everything for the revolution, everything through the revolution, but in prime determination and unrelentingly opposed to every one who employs the people's revolution as a means for exploiting terrorism of the minority."

Scene at the Luncheon.

At the luncheon to the President by the municipality in the Midland Hotel Mr. Wilson sat in the center of a long table on the right of the Lord Mayor. American and British flags were draped on the walls behind them.

President's Appreciation.

The President said he thanked Manchester for the hospitality shown him. He referred to Mrs. Wilson as his partner in two speeches which followed. "You have again made me feel the cordiality of your friendship, and I want to tell you how much I appreciate it."

Unity of Spirit.

"With our unity of command there arose a unity of spirit. The minute we consented to cooperate our hearts beat in two speech which followed. "I have been particularly interested in what has been the generosity of spirit with which that unity of command has been accepted."

Recalls Story of a Warning.

"I remember hearing the story of a warning that one of our Australian soldiers gave to one of ours. Our soldiers were considered by the older men to be a bit rash when they were in the field."

Interpretation of Address.

Almost every sentence the President uttered in his speech in the Free Trade Hall was received with applause and cries of "Hear, hear!" and it was plain that his British audience regarded the speech as a most important one.

Star Spangled Banner Played.

Inside the greater hall all the spectators had been waiting some time for the Aldermen and city officials preceded the President on to the platform. The great organ at the end of the hall pealed forth "The Star Spangled Banner."

Foremost American Visitor.

In presenting the freedom of the city to President Wilson at the City Hall, the Lord Mayor said it afforded the city of Manchester supreme satisfaction to have on the roll the chief citizen of the American Republic, "foremost of all Americans who have ever visited England."

FOR WORLD ALLIANCE ONLY, WILSON TELLS MANCHESTER

Says America Is Not Interested in European Politics and Will Join No Combination Not Composed of All Nations.

MANCHESTER, Dec. 30.—In his address at the Free Trade Hall to-day President Wilson said:

My Lord Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen—perhaps I may be permitted to add Fellow Citizens: You have made me feel in a way that I deeply prize the generous welcome which you have accorded me, and back of it I know there lies the same sort of feeling for the great people whom I have the privilege of representing.

Sing "Jolly Good Fellow."

When the Lord Mayor completed his oration the choir offered the Free Trade Hall the morocco bound volume in which he was to sign his name as a freeman of the city of Manchester.

Only One Tie for Peoples.

Interest does not bind men together. Interest separates men. For the moment there is the slightest departure from the nice adjustment of interests, then jealousies begin to spring.

Knew American Voice.

It was the grandest and most extraordinary event that the President has attended since his arrival in Europe. President Wilson, accompanied by a fur coat and soft travelling cap standing upon the bridge with officials.

Voice of Humanity Abroad.

Therefore it seems to me that in the settlement which is just ahead of us something more delicate and difficult than was ever attempted before has to be achieved and that it is not a matter of mere expediency but of principle.

Must Provide for Readjustment.

That is the reason why it seems to me that the things that are most often in our minds are the least significant. I am not hopeful that the individual items of the settlement which are being discussed will be altogether satisfactory.

CLEMENCEAU BACKS BRITISH SEA VIEWS

Tells Chamber Wilson Assured Him U. S. Plan Would Satisfy Him.

APART ON SOME THINGS Favors Old 'Balance of Power' System—Deputies Support Him, 380 to 164.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—This has been the most active day's discussion in peace circles since the American delegation arrived, as the declaration of Premier Clemenceau and Foreign Minister Pichon in the Chamber of Deputies last night gave a rallying point in the form of the first official announcement of the plans of the French Government.

In Accord With Britain.

Premier Clemenceau's statement on the freedom of the seas was the first announcement from a high authoritative source. This was accepted as showing that the British and French viewpoints were in accord.

Opposition Is Attacked.

Le Libre in an editorial to-day scores the opposition for yesterday's debate in the Chamber of Deputies, charging that it was endeavoring to arouse between Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson an artificial conflict.

Clemenceau Wins, 380 to 164.

After explaining the peace situation, particularly with reference to the stand France intended to maintain, Premier Clemenceau suggested to the Chamber of Deputies last night that if it intended to dispense with his leadership now, it should do so by a vote of confidence, 380 to 164, only the Socialists dissenting.

LONDON PRESS ON PRESIDENT'S PLAN

"Telegraph" Admits That Old Order of Distrust Should Go.

AMITY, U. S.-BRITISH AIM

"Old Gang" in America Opposes President's Policies, "Mail" Says.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. Copyright, 1918, all rights reserved. LONDON, Dec. 30.—President Wilson's visit to England is looked upon as a good augury for the inception of the new Government. It is regarded that President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George now see eye to eye the principal problems in connection with the post-war situation.

Aim for Future.

"What the men who fought to do away with the system intend to put in its place is a question which will be without the old rivalries and jealousies. They want unity, not antagonism; mutual confidence, not distrust."

Concert of Power.

"What the President calls the items of his idea are worthless unless there stands back of them a permanent concert of power. In this view the American President tells us he finds complete harmony of opinion among British leaders. Since this is so, then we will be able to look with some confidence at the future. If this harmony has been brought about, then the most reassuring thing that ever happened in the world will be about to occur, apparently, in the view of Senator Lodge and those who agree with him."
