

The Tank Corps League of 253 Madison avenue, is a new organization formed to take care of the "treat 'em rough" soldiers when they come home from the war. This photograph, taken on opening day, shows, left to right, back row, Mrs. De Witt Clinton Falls, Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, Jr., Mrs. Everett Colby and Mrs. P. A. S. Franklin. In the second row, left to right, Mrs. Arthur Terry, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. H. Duryea, Mrs. A. W. Post and Sergeant Guy Empey.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, wife of Senator Walsh of Montana, after a year of war work in Washington, has entered upon social activities again.

Copyright, Harris & Ewing, from Paul Thompson.

Pretty clothes and pretty women are the usual thing at Palm Beach, but this black and white suit attracted more than customary attention recently.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Ex-Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo and their daughter at Los Angeles, pose for a picture with Douglas Fairbanks. Mr. McAdoo has become counsel for the "Big Five," the movie combination of Fairbanks, Chaplin, Mary Pickford, Griffiths and Hart.

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Here we have three of the latest hats seen on the Paris boulevards. Spring styles are on show over there already and the end of the war has brought forth some wonderful creations.

Photo copyright, Underwood & Underwood.