

In the Summer Limelight at Newport

From left to right—Mrs. Fred Frelinghuysen, Mrs. John Wanamaker, Jr., and Whitney Warren, Jr., in Mr. Warren's car. Indications are that Newport will enjoy the biggest season in years.

Above—Mrs. Rogers Benjamin Pratt out for a stroll. She is noticeable, even at Newport, for the smartness of her costumes.

Miss Grace Vanderbilt, daughter of General and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, alighting from a motor. Her sport costume was most becoming.

At left—Mrs. Lawrence L. Gillespie of New York, who is spending the summer at the Rhode Island resort, was photographed while out motoring.

Mrs. William Woodward and Mrs. Oliver Perin walking along one of the resort's beautiful avenues. Newport was never more attractive than at present.

Miss Dorothy Norris in a striking morning dress, probably on her way to the beach. With peace here the Summer places have come into their own again.

Mrs. Joseph E. Widener of Philadelphia and New York is back for the season. By August 1 Newport gayeties will be in full swing.
