

BOY, PAGE GILCREST OF THE 30. BLANKET!

He Carries a Thousand Dollar Check and Shuns $18 Taxi Charge. IS TRAVELLING "INCOG." Has Plans to Ward Off Cold and Bolshevism With Diatomaceous Earth.

Twisting a $1,000 check between his fingers, as if undecided whether to toss it out of the window of the taxi cab in which he was riding, Frank A. Gilcrest said yesterday afternoon that a method of applying diatomaceous earth had been perfected which would enable the holders of it to send one-two-three-four-five hundred thousand blankets to Serbia or Russia at the producing cost of three cents each before the cold weather, which would be done if there was any doubt about it not being so.

Then, from Forty-second street to Fifth street, he mentioned one or two newspapers in each of the thirty-eight States to which he wanted this news sent.

"What's the idea in sending blankets of earth to Russia?" he was asked. "To appease Bolshevism," he replied. Mr. Gilcrest is travelling "inco." He has shaved off his mustache. He does not want any one to try to find him.

About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon he handed some money to the No. 2 bellboy in the Ritz-Carlton and told him to call up different newspaper offices and instruct them to send reporters up in half an hour. He gave no name and disappeared.

Daashes In! Daashes Out. Half an hour later he dashed into the lobby of the Ritz-Carlton, No. 2 bellboy if there was any one to see him and dashed out and into a taxi cab with a reporter at his side.

On the way from the Ritz-Carlton to the Hotel des Artistes he told about the blankets. He did not want to say any more lest some one get control of the project.

He was in the Hotel des Artistes for possibly three-quarters of an hour. The taxi waited without.

When he reappeared in the lobby he read three letters and hopped into the elevator, which carried him upstairs again. Next time he came down he answered two telephone calls, one from a secretary, who had been in touch with Edgar M. Kitchen of Washington, who he said sent him a check for $100,000.

Once more in the taxi he headed for the Hotel Manhattan. He lit a cigarette and said: "Now, where was I?" "Blankets sent to Russia," he said.

"Oh, yes. Every one who wants clothing in all cold countries will get it before they need it."

"Who discovered this—er—ah—earth?" he was asked. "I did," he said.

"Oh, he went on: "you can say, no exceptions to the rule, that Serbia receives what she needs first."

Does Not Wish to Be Known. "You can also add," he continued, "that the entire process, application, etc., while it is in competent hands at present, the originator does not wish to be known."

"Who's backing you?" THE SUN reporter asked. "I'm—wait till I show you some thing."

He took out a gold match box and extracted therefrom a square piece of metal, which he began twisting—still holding the box in his hand. "Do you think of steel which bends like tin? Well, our steel, can't be cut by my best pair of steel scissors and is impervious to bullets? We won't wear our coat that just now. All I want to tell you about is this other project."

"Yes," persisted the reporter, "but what's the name of this?" "No one," he said, "need any backing. A man who can invent things like this—and he tapped the matchbox as he replaced it in his pocket—doesn't need any one to back him. I have so much money I don't know what to do with it. He regarded the crumpled check in his hand.

"Who is going to manufacture these blankets?" "That's none of your business. The contracts are being attended to."

"Why," he added, "I could shoot 'em through in five days."

"Where is your factory?" was the next question. "Out on a desert in California," he said, "as if it were of no importance."

"How much are you going to charge for these blankets?" the reporter asked. "Nothing, nothing!" He waved his hand. "I'm going to give 'em to the people. I can make them for 3 cents apiece, and they are better blankets than any others. Those who don't believe—the Bolshevists—won't get a damn thing."

Steps at Third Hotel. The cab stopped at the Hotel Manhattan. Gilcrest got out and hunted for his wallet. He could not find it. He dashed into the lobby to the hotel and continued the search successfully. The wallet contained a dollar bill. With the $3,000 check in one hand and the $1 bill in the other, he returned to his pocket, drawing a $50 note from his waist pocket and a $20 note from his coat pocket, along with some letters and memoranda.

"Here," he said, thrusting the $20 at the reporters; "you pay the man. I don't want to be seen standing outside the door."

The reporter went back to the cab and paid the bill, which was $2. By the time he had the change and had hunted for Mr. Gilcrest in the dining room and the lobby Mr. Gilcrest had disappeared. If Mr. Gilcrest will send his address or call at the office of THE SUN he can get his $18.

CLOUDY TO-DAY WITH BIT OF SUN—MAYBE Coney Island Reports "Soaking"—Other Resorts Mourn.

The rainfall in the twenty-four hour period ending at 8 o'clock last night amounted to five-hundredths of an inch, but the moisture that soaked into the populace, was immeasurable.

Coney Island reported that it had been "soaked" for more than a million dollars by the rains of the week, and that the coast resorts from Massachusetts to Virginia were in mourning.

In Newark, Isaac Liebowitz, a bricklayer, based on the fact that he had been might not have any work until St. Swethin finished his forty day job.

The Weather Bureau thinks the weather will be cloudy today and perhaps a bit showery, and maybe cloudy tomorrow, with flashes of sunshine both days—perhaps.

Magistrate Barlow Still Ill. It was learned yesterday at the Chief City Magistrate's office that Magistrate Peter T. Barlow has been confined to his bed at Beverly Hospital, Beverly, Mass., for some time. Magistrate Barlow has not presided at a court for more than eighteen months, due to illness.

YOUTHFUL ROMANCE COMES TO GRIEF Mrs. Paula Hahn Asks Annulment of Marriage.

Mrs. Paula Hahn, 23 years old, who eloped with her schoolboy friend, Milton Hahn, in 1912, and was married to him in Halifax, N. S., Scotia, has been asked in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, for an annulment of the marriage.

In 1912 Paula Ostermann lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ostermann, at 1174 Jamaica avenue, Woodhaven. Mr. Ostermann was a prosperous hotel man. Young Hahn lived nearby with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hahn, at 41 Ditmas place. The boy and girl attended Public School No. 59 and the boy always carried the girl's books for her on the way home after school.

When the couple suddenly disappeared a general alarm was sent out and search instituted everywhere. Then it was learned that they had married at Halifax on June 1, 1912. They had left Woodhaven on Decoration Day. In papers submitted to the court yesterday, Oberwager, Mrs. Hahn's lawyer, said:

"The daughter was then 15 years old. The marriage itself was an escapade, a youthful romance between two children who had left school one afternoon and instead of returning to their homes had disappeared for the purpose of getting married."

Mrs. Hahn, in her complaint, stated that she had not lived with her husband since she became eighteen years of age. Thomas F. Williams, counsel for the young husband, has filed an answer to the suit, declaring that the young wife was under the domination of her mother. Justice Callaghan reserved decision.

JERSEY EXTRADITES BOY IN HULL MURDER

O'Brien to Be Brought Back to New York. Maybe To-day. Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

Gov. Ruyven of New Jersey yesterday the requisition of Gov. Smith for the extradition of Edward E. O'Brien, who was indicted last week for the murder of a woman.

GOAT'S BREAKFAST COSTS OWNER $2

Ermintrude Leads 80 Friends in Descent on Brooklyn Flower Gardens.

GLADIOLAS HER FAVORITE Lassoed by Cop, She Presents a Strong Argument in Station House.

The unnatural love of a goat whose name is Ermintrude last names unceremoniously, for gladiolas and other flowers of beauty yesterday cost Kate Corso, owner of said goat, $2 in the Gates avenue police court.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges. But it was Ermintrude—lithic, graceful, quick moving—who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

MAIDS AS WELL AS SHIP CHRISTENED

Sponsor of Fourth Alabama Lavish With Wine.

Four maids of honor assisted the sponsor in christening the Fourth Alabama, a 5,500 ton steel ship which slid into Newark Bay yesterday afternoon from one of the twenty-eight ways at the Fort Newark shipyard of the Submarine Boat Corporation in Newark.

The sponsor was Miss Hazel Hannah, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William J. Hannah of Montgomery, Ala. She is a student at Columbia University. The maids of honor, who came up from Montgomery to take part in the launching, were the Misses Margaret Thompson, Helen Dent, Katherine Whitfield and Louise Johnson.

The vessel was named in honor of the Fourth Alabama National Guard Regiment, now the 167th United States Infantry. That outfit recently returned from France and were warmly welcomed by the citizens of Montgomery. During the celebration the Chamber of Commerce there decided to name the vessel after the regiment. Montgomery had won the right to name a vessel during the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

Miss Hannah made a slight mistake in christening the ship, with the result that some of the citizens of Montgomery overheard her and the maids of honor. She thought her first blow against the bottle of the ship failed to break the bow. But she did not give up. She tried again the sparkling wine was spilled over those nearest her.

Charles J. Beane, president of the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce and Bruce Kennedy, secretary of that body, were in charge of the launching party. There were a number of citizens from the Alabama in the party, among them Mrs. Hannah, Mrs. Walter L. Shepherd and Mrs. Charles G. Abercrombie, who acted as chaperones to the young women. The launching party passed last night in New York.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

Ermintrude, whose home, or at least, whose mistress's home, is on at no less a place than 536 Empire Boulevard, Brooklyn, wandered from pigtown, as Brooklyn stamping grounds are called by those who do not live in them, into "Spotless Town," which is a place of almost rural beauty in the general vicinity of New York avenue and Crown street.

She was accompanied by at least thirty other goats, whose interest in Spotless Town was gastronomic rather than sentimental.

With Ermintrude in the lead they descended with open mouths upon the lawns, gladiolas and other edible accessories who got the gladiolas. Coming as they did, the goats were as plentiful as water, and soon were masticating its fairest blossoms and choicest hedges.

JOHN WANAMAKER

THE STORE THAT REFLECTS THE GOOD TASTE OF NEW YORK

JOHN WANAMAKER Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co. Broadway at Ninth, New York. Store Hours, 9 to 5.

Good morning! This is July 22! The weather today will probably be showery.

Reasonably Able Men who have concentrated their whole time upon the study of special subjects are generally acknowledged as authorities upon which they have specialized.

The Morgans in finance, Elihu H. Root in constitutional and corporation law, the Scribners and Putnams in book publishing.

As to the business of Dry Goods, Wearing Apparel, Housefurnishings, Furniture and articles of Silver and Gold Jewelry, we respectfully submit that the present owners, who established it, having for 58 years devoted themselves with great zeal to making the Store what the public knows it to be, may without