

AMOS PINCHOT WEDS RUTH PICKERING

Marriage Takes Place in Home of Bridegroom's Uncle in Connecticut.

BRIDE IS VASSAR GIRL

Both Are Leaders in Radical Group of Greenwich Village, Where They Met.

Amos Pinchot, millionaire radical publisher, and Miss Ruth Pickering, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pickering of Elmira, N. Y., were married yesterday afternoon in the home of William Phelps Esch, an uncle of the bridegroom, at East Conn. The Rev. Charles Pittsford of Simsbury, Conn., read the wedding ritual.

The wedding was the culmination of a Greenwich Village romance. Both Mr. Pinchot and his bride have been leaders in the radical group which strives to maintain the intellectual standards of village life against the distractions that come with the spread of its fame and the invasion of interlopers and tourists. The couple includes a number of persons who have been active in the past in the cause of social reform.

Mr. Pinchot is 48 years old, and his bride is 37. She was his second wife. His first wife was Miss Gertrude Minton of New York. The first Mrs. Pinchot secured a divorce in Rockland county, New York, last December, after a separation of several years from her husband. She was given the custody of her daughter, 14 years old.

The Pinchots are of an old and wealthy Pennsylvania family. While Gifford was winning fame as the director under President Roosevelt of a fight for the preservation of the nation's forests, Amos was active in the investigation of political and economic controversies. He was one of the leaders of the Progressive party. The first Mrs. Pinchot was active in the women's movement, and during the conditions in Lawrence, Mass., during the textile strike of 1912 and worked as a strike breaker.

Amos Pinchot made a campaign against the tariff and the income tax, and in the early months of the war for heavier taxation assessments against the rich. In this campaign he had the sympathy and cooperation of the Greenwich Village intellectuals.

The second Mrs. Pinchot was graduated from Vassar College in 1914. While there she attained some note as a writer of verse. After graduation she came to New York and made her home in Greenwich Village. She became a close friend of the Eastmans, Max and Minnie, Crystal, and contributed verses to The Masses. Mr. Pinchot was a contributor of articles on controversial matters.

For a time Miss Pickering was secretary of a company that formerly published Pearson's Magazine. Later she was connected with the various Miss Pickering's family is of Quaker faith in both sides. She has many relatives in Philadelphia, where her parents once lived. Mrs. Pickering is chairman of the woman's suffrage organization of the city.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, Mrs. Charles Broughton Wood, Miss Mary Pinchot Morgan, Dr. and Mrs. George Mitchell Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Gerard, Mr. and Mrs. Larkin G. Mead, Stevenson H. Evans and the Misses Pickering.

Women to Convene Here.

A convention of women to discuss health and social problems will be held in this city the week of October 17, at the call of the social morality committee of the war work council Young Women's Christian Association. Delegates are to attend the conference from all parts of the city, and will be in session at that time. Among the organizations represented in the call for the convention are the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, Council of Jewish Women, General Federation of Women's Clubs, American Women's Suffrage Association, Women's Trade Union League, Southern Association of College Women, National Women's Temperance Union, and the National Council of Women.

ENGAGED.

HERMAN-OLIVER—Mr. and Mrs. I. Oliver of 711 West End avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter Hortense to Louis W. Herman of 711 West End avenue, New York city.

DIED.

CARTWRIGHT—Friday, August 8, in Brooklyn, N. Y., Ellen Casey Cartwright, daughter of the late David G. Cartwright.

Services private.

CLARK—Sunday, at Rangleys, Md., in her sixteenth year, Andrea Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Andrews Clark, on August 7, 1919.

Funeral services will be held at the residence of her parents, 412 Fifth avenue, on Monday, August 11, at 10:30 A. M.

GARRISON—In Hackensack, N. J., on Thursday, August 7, 1919, Benjamin Garrison, in his seventy-third year.

Funeral services at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Cutter, 137 River street, Hackensack, N. J., on Sunday, August 10, 1919, at 2 o'clock.

MAAS—Lieutenant-Commander Charles O. Maas, Assistant Naval Attaché American Embassy, Paris, at Paris, July 21.

Funeral at Arlington, Monday, August 11, at 2 o'clock. Paris and New Orleans papers please copy.

WHITMAN—August 9, 1919, at Katonah, N. Y., Mary Hoppin, beloved wife of Clarence Whitman, in her sixty-eighth year.

Funeral from St. Matthew's Church, Bedford, N. Y., Tuesday, at 1 P. M. American papers please copy.

WILLIAMSON—In Cornwall, N. Y., on August 8, 1919, Mrs. William Williamson, youngest daughter of the late Nicholas Williamson, M. D., and Mrs. A. Durley.

Funeral Monday, August 11, at 2:30 P. M., at 86 Union street, New Brunswick, N. J.

UNDERTAKERS.

In Case of Death, Call "Columbus 8200"

FRANK E. CAMPBELL, "THE FUNERAL CHURCH" (Non-Sectarian)

Broadway at 66th St., Davenport office, 232 St. & 2nd Av.

PERSONALS.

Demagogues, hypocrites, unscrupulous, will be exposed through the columns of THE SUN.

WITFORD.

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Pratt of 223 Clinton avenue, Brooklyn, and Poplar Hill, Glen Cove, L. I., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Leavelle Pratt, to William Temple Emmet, son of the late William Temple Emmet. Miss Pratt was graduated from the Farmington school and Mr. Emmet from Harvard in 1918.

Announcement was made yesterday by Eugene Winslow Durke of 50 West Forty-fifth street of the engagement of his daughter, Miss Helen Winslow Durke, to Capt. Christopher John Millham of London. Miss Durke, who is a miniature painter, recently returned from France, where she served a year as a member of the Smith College canteen.

Miss Brophy of 583 Riverside Drive announced yesterday the engagement of her daughter, Miss Isabelle Brophy, to James J. Stinchcomb, son of New Haven, Conn. Miss Brophy was graduated from Stevens Institute of Technology in 1919, and is now connected with a Winchester Repeating Arms Company of New Haven. The wedding will take place in October.

Announcement was made yesterday of the engagement of Miss Marion Baer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Baer of Westchester avenue, Mount Vernon, N. Y., to M. H. Kleban, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Kleban, also of Mount Vernon. The wedding will take place in the early autumn, and Mr. Kleban and his bride will live at 687 West End avenue after October 15.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Oliver of Long Beach, L. I., announced yesterday the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hortense Louise W. Herman, also of Long Beach.

Announcement was made yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Moses M. Benjamin of Westchester avenue, Mount Vernon, N. Y., to Samuel A. Hyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hyman of 303 Central Park West, this city.

H. C. FRICK ACQUIRES MORGAN ENAMELS

Bronzes and Tryptychs of Great Value Also in Fifth Avenue Home.

Henry C. Frick, who has been a liberal purchaser from the works of art included in the collection of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, was said yesterday to have enriched the galleries in his house on Fifth avenue by the addition of the famous Morgan enamels, some forty in number, bronzes and rare tryptychs of great value. As long ago as 1915 Mr. Frick had bought some of the rare Morgan porcelain china, amounting in value to more than $1,000,000. Previously he had acquired the famous Fragonard paintings to decorate his Fifth avenue home.

The purchase of the enamels, which is said to have been completed some months ago, although it has just been made public, is said to involve as much as $1,500,000. Notable among the enamels in the Morgan collection which Mr. Frick has acquired are portraits by Leonard Limousin and earlier artists, such as Monvasseri, Nardon and the Pentecosts. The Pentecosts are represented by three members of this family, Jean first, second and third.

The Morgan collection was especially rich in enamels and bronzes, which had come from the Bardin, Spitzer, Ebenheim and Manheim collections, when they were dispersed. The bronzes, which are said to be the property now of Mr. Frick, about 213 in number, are catalogued for Mr. Morgan by the famous Dr. Bode of Berlin. The Byzantine enamels, numbering forty-four, are said to be especially fine. They also have become the property of Mr. Frick.

COTTAGE MEMORIAL TO MRS. BOISSEVAIN

Rest Structure Offered to Rest Women Writers.

Last week occurred the anniversary of the birth of Inez Milholland Boissevain, who died three years ago, victim in the very dawn of her remarkable powers of her unceasing labors for the freedom of women and the welfare of all whose need appealed to her broad sympathies. And because Mrs. Boissevain was a special friend of newspaper women, specially beloved by them, her mother, Mrs. Jeanne R. Milholland, has decided to build a cottage at their estate, Meadowmount, in the Adirondacks, to be devoted to the vacation and rest periods of women who write for the press and for the magazines.

MISS RUTH WING ENGAGED.

Finances Is Ogden B. Carter, Former Princeton Man.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Esther Ruth Wing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Wing of Haled street, East Orange, N. J., to Ogden Bowers Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day Carter of Haled street, East Orange, N. J.

Must Indicate Films Are Old.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The W. H. Productions Company has been ordered by the Federal Trade Commission to discontinue the use of old motion picture films featuring William S. Hart without "clearly, distinctly and unmistakably" indicating to the public that they are old films renamed.

SOUTHAMPTON CLUB TO REPAIR BALL ROOM

Plans Include Purchase of Bathing Beach and Erection of a Casino.

SEA FRONT KEPT FREE

Meadow Club Again Is Scene of Gay Gathering—Many Colonists Entertain.

By a Staff Correspondent of The Sun. SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Purchase of the bathing beach, erection of a casino and a bathing pavilion in place that now in existence, and possibly a club house to replace the one in Hill street were decided upon at a meeting of the Southampton Club yesterday. The club members the Casino and bathing beach will be constructed, and also a bathing pool which will be excellent in rough weather, and especially for children.

What is of much importance to the citizens of this town is the fact that the rights to the bathing beach will be preserved to them, as has always been the case. Some years ago that part of the sea front belonging to the Southampton Bathing Association was acquired by Adrian E. Larkin, in order to protect the interests of the summer colony but those of the permanent residents of the town.

Another strip of shore front belonging to members of the Bette family has been added to that purchased by Mr. Larkin, and at the meeting yesterday the project was underwritten by Dr. George A. Dixon, president of the club. Charles Bode, Charles E. Sablin, Henry H. Rogers, Ralph J. Preston, Sherman Day, Thomas B. Clarke, Adrian E. Larkin, Robert M. Thompson and L. F. Holbrook are the names of those who have agreed to underwrite the project.

The financial committee appointed includes Dr. Dixon and Messrs. Steel and Sablin. Should the club be moved there a structure with an annex for the women will be built. When the results of the meeting become known it will be a matter for general rejoicing. The present rather primitive bathing pavilion is the most pleasant of the summer colony, and particularly on Sunday mornings after church services.

Dance at Meadow Club.

The Meadow Club was again the center of social life to-night, when the weekly dance brought out the largest gathering of the summer. It was quite as numerous as that which assembled last night at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund S. Twining, whose dance was pronounced a success in every way.

One of the largest dinners of the evening was given at the club by Major and Mrs. Theron G. Strong for Miss Daisy Hollins, who is here to remain over Sunday at Asher House, the summer home of Mrs. Strong's mother, Mrs. Henry Asher Robbins. The other dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. Buckerman, Mr. and Mrs. Wheaton Vaughan of Easthampton, Mr. and Mrs. James Parrish Lee, Mr. and Mrs. W. de Lancy Kountze, Mrs. Evelyn Martin Davies, Major and Mrs. Howard C. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Earle Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. I. Chauncey McKeever, Capt. Nathan V. Deane.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, who have been much entertained during their visit here, on Saturday, will return to their home in New York. A dinner was given for them last evening by Mr. and Mrs. F. Burrall Hoffman at Eden Glasie. Among the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deane, Mr. and Mrs. Nicol, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Tiers, Miss Mary Alexander, Miss Evelyn W. Preston, Miss Betty Thompson, Miss Katharine Mackay, F. Howard C. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanford and William Rogers.

At Mrs. Henry Pearce's luncheon for the club yesterday afternoon the guests Mesdames B. Aymar Sands, John Beverly Duer, Thomas H. Barber, Cornelius Tiers, Frederic H. Beitz, Alvin W. Kreech, Chas. G. Franklin and George B. Alexander.

Col. Robert M. Thompson, who started early this morning for his daily game of golf, gave a late luncheon and sail on his boat, the "The Everglades," which is anchored in Peconic Bay. Among his guests were Clarence Owsley, assistant secretary of Agriculture; Rear Admiral John Hubbard, directed by Jas. C. Parrish, Chas. A. Peabody, Samuel L. Parrish, Alvin W. Kreech, Morgan J. O'Brien, De Lancey Nicoll, Howard Townsend, Henry E. Coe and Dr. Edward L. Keys.

Plan Aid for French Village.

Samuel L. Parrish invited several friends to his house this morning to meet Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mygatt, who for several years have been active in relief work in France. Mr. Mygatt addressed the gathering in order to interest them in the rehabilitation of the village Misyrey, on the Somme, a little town that has been devastated. Some of those present were Mr. Thomas H. Barber, Miss Zena Mygatt, Miss Anne Hegan, Joseph du Vivier, Howard Townsend, Mrs. Alvin W. Kreech, Mrs. John G. Peck, Mrs. Charles R. Henderson, L. Emory Terry, Mrs. Robert Waller, Mrs. Peter B. Wyckoff, Mrs. James T. Terry, Mrs. Juliana Cutting, Mrs. William Morton Grinnell and Miss Sarah R. Lee.

Arrangements for a meeting in the Art Museum will be made after August 15. It is proposed that Southampton adopt this village and send to its inhabitants, who hope to reclaim their old farms, the implements, seeds, household commodities and domestic animals of all sorts.

"AIDA" TO BE POSTPONED.

The open air performance of "Aida," arranged by Fortune Gallo and Andrea de Segurora for the benefit of the sufferers from the earthquake in Italy, will not take place to-night. Owing to the strike the opera will be sung next Saturday night at the Sheephead Bay Speedway. There will be the same chorus of 2,000 and the same singers, under the direction of Giorgio Folacco.

Strike Holds Up Open Air Presentation of Opera.

The open air performance of "Aida," arranged by Fortune Gallo and Andrea de Segurora for the benefit of the sufferers from the earthquake in Italy, will not take place to-night. Owing to the strike the opera will be sung next Saturday night at the Sheephead Bay Speedway. There will be the same chorus of 2,000 and the same singers, under the direction of Giorgio Folacco.

"WILD WEST" DANCE AT PIER.

Villa Colony at Nassau-Barrington Enjoys a Novel Party.

NASSAU-BARRINGTON PIER, N. J., Aug. 9.—An afternoon of the snow ball at the Casino last night, at which Mrs. Frank E. Richmond of Providence won the award for the smartest white evening gown, came the week end dance at the Casino tonight.

At the Scarborough Club a "Wild West" dance, given by Mrs. S. Hinman Bird of New York and Mrs. Rowland Hazard of Providence, was attended by 10 members of the villa colony arrayed in "war paint and feathers." The dance was preceded by a luncheon given by Mrs. S. Hinman Bird of New York in honor of her sister, Mrs. David Bangs of New York, and Mrs. Francis Danforth of New York, the latter the guest of Mrs. Rowland Hazard at Oakwood.

HAECKEL, DARWIN'S DISCIPLE, DIES AT 86

Famous Professor of Jena University Was Author of Many Works on Evolution.

STIRRED CHURCH ENMITY

"Riddle of Universe" and Numerous Other Books Gained Worldwide Attention.

JENA, Germany, Aug. 9.—Prof. Ernest Heinrich Haeckel died in this city today. His greatest work was done as professor of zoology at the University of Jena and as curator of the Physic Museum. He resigned in 1909, and had lived in retirement since. He was 86 years of age.

Prof. Haeckel was one of those who signed the circular demanding the retirement of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg in the autumn of 1914, in which the Chancellor was attacked for attempting to reach an agreement with England. He believed fully in the justice of Germany going to war, placing the blame upon England for economic oppression of his native land. In severing his personal relations with all English ties he held that while he would always venerate the names of Shakespeare, Byron, Newton and Darwin, he must for political reasons despise England deeply.

Began as Author When 32. Prof. Haeckel was only 32 when he published a book on "General Morphology," which was hailed as epoch making in the history of biological research. He republished it later in a more popular form as "The Natural History of Creation." He carried the theories of Darwin to more definite conclusions, tracing the evolution of man through twenty-six stages and drawing up a genealogical tree showing the origins and relationships of the animal kingdom.

His greatest work, as well as his most ambitious, was "The Riddle of the Universe," published in 1900, in which he expounded his theory of religion which he termed "monism." In this work he set forth his theory of the universe as a casual, efficient, inevitable correlation. The work was translated into twenty languages and ran through many editions.

Between 1853 and 1890 he wrote forty scientific works, many of them illustrated by his own hand. He made special studies of the radiolaria, a species of the jelly fish, which formed the subject of a large number of these works, and gave names to 3,500 new species. His publication of the "Last Words on Evolution" in 1906 aroused the storm of protest from churchmen against which he had fought constantly during his professorship. Prof. Haeckel was born in Potsdam, February 16, 1834, and spent all his life there with the exception of his trips over the continent for scientific research. He was educated for medicine and started a practice in Berlin, but turned from it to his stronger desire to study in biological fields. The University of Jena finally offered him a professorship and later built the Physic Museum for him.

Early Devotee of New Science.

Darwin's theories had been given to the world in 1859, almost coincidentally with the beginning of Haeckel's scientific career. Before the scientific congress at Stettin in 1863 he made the address that established him as the chief follower of the new science. The University of Jena was asked many times by the churchmen to disperse with him, but at the instigation of Alexander Duke of Weimar he was retained.

DR. GEORGE MCKAY MILLER.

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Aug. 9.—Dr. George McKay Miller, 62, lecturer and author of "Ruskin, Ga.," died suddenly to-day at the home of R. W. Earlywine here. Dr. Miller stopped over here on his way from Chicago to Ruskin several days ago and was a guest at Mr. Earlywine's home.

BERKSHIRES DRAW COLONISTS.

Several New Yorkers Among the Arrivals at Stockbridge.

Special Dispatch to The Sun. LENOX, Mass., Aug. 9.—Henry Bigelow Williams entertained at luncheon at the Lenox Club this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson, Jr., also gave a luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson of Chicago. Mrs. William M. Kingland is seriously ill with pneumonia at Belair, her country place. Her physician from New York arrives to-day.

Mrs. Frederic Schenck is at Nahant with Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Channing. Hampton Bonner of New York is visiting his father, Robert E. Bonner, at Goshute House.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Duplignan of Mount Kisco, N. Y., and Col. and Mrs. H. W. Jones of Washington are at Curtis Hotel. Mrs. Perry Pease of Hempstead, L. I., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Pease.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Craig of New York have arrived at the Maplewood Pittsfield. Mrs. Augustus L. Hyde and Henry St. John Hyde of New York gave a luncheon at the Maplewood Pittsfield, this afternoon.

LEONCAVALLO DIES, FAMOUS COMPOSER

Friend of Wagner, Best Known as Author of Dramatic Opera "I Pagliacci."

VISITED AMERICA IN 1906

Reception Somewhat Frosty After a Disappointing Initial Concert.

Rosas, Aug. 9.—Ruggiero Leoncavallo, the composer, is dead.

Ruggiero Leoncavallo was born in Naples on March 3, 1859, and was widely known as one of the younger composers of his country who called Verdi "the old man." Leoncavallo had the friendship of Wagner and one of the German composers of the lives of those well known in the world has not hesitated to say that the form of his work as a composer was similar to that of the Bayreuth wizard. Of Wagner Leoncavallo himself said: "He was not a man; he was a revolution. Nobody can contemplate denying a principle without thinking of him. But it cannot be denied that one way does not do for all. If I want to put a modern man into music, such a man as would walk on the Ringstrasse, I cannot take classical music or 'The Pied of the Vain' for the purpose. Humperdinck unrolls the severest Wagnerian floods of tone over a tender fairy story, and I always have the impression of seeing a dove in an iron harness."

Leoncavallo lived for a long time in Paris. There he composed songs as well as occasional pieces and there he planned his trilogy of Italian history, of which his "Medici" is a part. He produced his short dramatic opera "I Pagliacci" at Milan in the spring of 1892, and it has remained his best known work. The "Medici" was performed first in the fall of 1893, also at Milan. It was said of him that the success of Mascagni's short opera paved the way for the success of his own. Works of his were often heard at the Metropolitan Opera House and at Covent Garden, and also at Vienna.

Among his other publications were "La Boheme" (not so well known here as Puccini's), "Zaza," "Roland von Berlin," "The Youth of Figaro" and "The Red Biscuits."

In 1906 Leoncavallo made a tour of this country a couple of months after he had sent a specially prepared copy of his then new work "Viva l'America" to President Roosevelt with an autograph.

Another open season for the birds up the Hudson. Clocking the breeding thoroughbreds at daybreak through their binoculars, while the snipe on Long Island beaches are piping their hunters to arms.

Every sportsman is on the move—golfer, hunter, fisherman, racing devotee—with Abercrombie & Fitch the hub of the circling wheel.

Clothes and equipment for man or woman, cowboy or the paddock, polo or the club house porch, master of hounds, or the explorer on horseback.

Birds of Passage On Their Way

Far West motorists stringing along the Fifth Avenue trail. Society flitting from seashore to mountain—the August migration is in full flight.

Mothers passing through New York with daughters preparing for school will here find the accepted suits, outdoor apparel, sport clothes and footwear.

Suits, skirts, sweaters, shirts, shoes and "Rufstuff" apparel for Autumn in the mountains. Comfort for travelers and seasoned cross-country motorists—and a sight of the most interesting store in the world.

Selecting golf suits, shotguns or racing glasses, picking off twenty-one shots or plover, there's just one place to come.

Big Chiefs Preparing Their Wigwams

Getting ready for the great Fall hunt—dusting off their rifles and polishing their rifles.

Many parties are already outfitting—now is the appointed time.

Housekeeping in The Woods

The ideal August and September vacation—sleeping under canvas—eating in the open—in the mellow light of lanterns and the moon.

Camp outfits complete, the world's largest assortment, whether you hike, motor or travel by canoe.

Write for Circular on Shooting Equipment

Abercrombie & Fitch Co.

Where W. Fitch, President, Madison Avenue and 45th St., New York.

"Where the Blazed Trail Crosses the Boulevard"

LEONCAVALLO DIES, FAMOUS COMPOSER

Friend of Wagner, Best Known as Author of Dramatic Opera "I Pagliacci."

VISITED AMERICA IN 1906

Reception Somewhat Frosty After a Disappointing Initial Concert.

Rosas, Aug. 9.—Ruggiero Leoncavallo, the composer, is dead.

Ruggiero Leoncavallo was born in Naples on March 3, 1859, and was widely known as one of the younger composers of his country who called Verdi "the old man." Leoncavallo had the friendship of Wagner and one of the German composers of the lives of those well known in the world has not hesitated to say that the form of his work as a composer was similar to that of the Bayreuth wizard. Of Wagner Leoncavallo himself said: "He was not a man; he was a revolution. Nobody can contemplate denying a principle without thinking of him. But it cannot be denied that one way does not do for all. If I want to put a modern man into music, such a man as would walk on the Ringstrasse, I cannot take classical music or 'The Pied of the Vain' for the purpose. Humperdinck unrolls the severest Wagnerian floods of tone over a tender fairy story, and I always have the impression of seeing a dove in an iron harness."

Leoncavallo lived for a long time in Paris. There he composed songs as well as occasional pieces and there he planned his trilogy of Italian history, of which his "Medici" is a part. He produced his short dramatic opera "I Pagliacci" at Milan in the spring of 1892, and it has remained his best known work. The "Medici" was performed first in the fall of 1893, also at Milan. It was said of him that the success of Mascagni's short opera paved the way for the success of his own. Works of his were often heard at the Metropolitan Opera House and at Covent Garden, and also at Vienna.

Among his other publications were "La Boheme" (not so well known here as Puccini's), "Zaza," "Roland von Berlin," "The Youth of Figaro" and "The Red Biscuits."

In 1906 Leoncavallo made a tour of this country a couple of months after he had sent a specially prepared copy of his then new work "Viva l'America" to President Roosevelt with an autograph.

Birds of Passage On Their Way

Far West motorists stringing along the Fifth Avenue trail. Society flitting from seashore to mountain—the August migration is in full flight.

Mothers passing through New York with daughters preparing for school will here find the accepted suits, outdoor apparel, sport clothes and footwear.

Suits, skirts, sweaters, shirts, shoes and "Rufstuff" apparel for Autumn in the mountains. Comfort for travelers and seasoned cross-country motorists—and a sight of the most interesting store in the world.

Selecting golf suits, shotguns or racing glasses, picking off twenty-one shots or plover, there's just one place to come.

Big Chiefs Preparing Their Wigwams

Getting ready for the great Fall hunt—dusting off their rifles and polishing their rifles.

Many parties are already outfitting—now is the appointed time.

Housekeeping in The Woods

The ideal August and September vacation—sleeping under canvas—eating in the open—in the mellow light of lanterns and the moon.

Camp outfits complete, the world's largest assortment, whether you hike, motor or travel by canoe.

Write for Circular on Shooting Equipment

Abercrombie & Fitch Co.

Where W. Fitch, President, Madison Avenue and 45th St., New York.

"Where the Blazed Trail Crosses the Boulevard"

LEONCAVALLO DIES, FAMOUS COMPOSER

Friend of Wagner, Best Known as Author of Dramatic Opera "I Pagliacci."

VISITED AMERICA IN 1906

Reception Somewhat Frosty After a Disappointing Initial Concert.

Rosas, Aug. 9.—Ruggiero Leoncavallo, the composer, is dead.

Ruggiero Leoncavallo was born in Naples on March 3, 1859, and was widely known as one of the younger composers of his country who called Verdi "the old man." Leoncavallo had the friendship of Wagner and one of the German composers of the lives of those well known in the world has not hesitated to say that the form of his work as a composer was similar to that of the Bayreuth wizard. Of Wagner Leoncavallo himself said: "He was not a man; he was a revolution. Nobody can contemplate denying a principle without thinking of him