The United Mine Workers in their convention held during the month of September in the city of Cleveland adopted a positive declaration...

There were almost 2,000 delegates seated in the convention, representing 560,000 organized miners...

Meet Operators in Buffalo. The officers of the mine workers with their scale committee entered into conferences and discussions with the operators in the city of Buffalo...

Later on the miners answered the call of the Socialist Labor party and endeavored to reach an agreement but failed...

At this time our Government intervened itself and applied for an injunction. A temporary restraining order was granted by a Federal Judge...

The Government then proceeded to invade further the rights of the miners, not only by restraining the miners, but also by restraining the operators...

Never in the history of our country has any such a mandatory order been obtained or even applied for by the Government or by any person, company or corporation...

Both the restraining order and the injunction, in so far as its prohibitory features are concerned, are predicated upon the Lever act, a law enacted by Congress for the purpose of curbing speculation and profiteering of the food and fuel supplies of the country...

President Wilson Quoted. In the course of President Wilson's address to the Buffalo convention of the American Federation of Labor in November, 1917, among other things he said: "While we are fighting for freedom we must see among other things that labor is free and that means a number of interesting things..."

The autocratic action of our Government in these proceedings is of such a nature that it staggers the human mind. In a free country to conceive of a Government applying for and obtaining a restraining order prohibiting the officials of a labor organization from contributing their own money for the purpose of procuring a restraining order against children that when known will shock the sensibilities of man and will cause resentment...

Purpose of Injunction. It is a well established principle that the inherent purpose of the injunction process, where there is no other adequate remedy, is to prevent the purpose of protecting property and property rights only, thereby exercising the equity power of the courts to prevent immediate and irreparable injury...

may be brought before the court for contempt and without any trial by jury. "By all the facts in the case the miners' strike is justified. We endorse it. We are convinced of the justice of the miners' cause."

Lewis Refuses to Comment. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, refused to discuss the action of the American Federation of Labor executive council to-night...

Very interesting. Pressed for the probable effect of the action on to-morrow's meeting of the miners Mr. Lewis said: "I do not feel that under all the circumstances I should express an opinion on the federation action at this time."

LEADERS PREFER JAIL TO REVOKING ORDER. Keeney, West Virginia Miners' Head, So Believes. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Whether the striking miners in West Virginia return to work will depend upon the action taken by the union leaders at Indianapolis to consider the Federal Court's mandate.

Offer Still Stands. Their offer of a $6 increase and arbitration of the forty-four hour proposition still stands, Mr. Green said. He added that inasmuch as some time ago ordered its "vacationists" to go back to work, it appears that either the union cannot control its members or the operators are not irregular as on the ordinary typewriter...

Real Test Comes To-day. The true test of the strike will come to-day, when several of the largest publishing houses in the city operate their presses for the first time since October 1. The Butcher Company will have most of its old men back, according to Major George L. Berry, international president of the pressmen's union...

Expect Maryland Miners to Return. Opinion Prevails That They Will Obey Court Order. Special Despatch to This Staff. CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 9.—Frank J. Drum, president of District No. 16 of the United Mine Workers of America, left here today for Indianapolis to attend the conference of leaders called to-morrow by John L. Lewis, acting president of the miners, to consider action on the Federal Court order to call off the strike...

Proposals to Be Offered. Major Berry issued a statement last night in regard to the agreement made between a committee representing the secession pressmen's union and the international. The following propositions will be submitted: 1. All pressmen shall immediately re-affiliate with the international.

'BIG SIX' STANDS PAT ON '44-50' DEMAND. Printers, at Meeting, Indorse Union's Fight for Shorter Week and More Pay. TO CONTINUE PARLEYS Publishers Confident They Can Operate Without Strikers; Real Test To-day.

Typographical Union No. 6, "Big Six," met in the Lexington Theatre yesterday afternoon and voted unanimously to stick to the original demand for a forty-four hour week and a $50 wage. The fact that many of the striking pressmen have broken ranks and are returning to work at the old scale will not affect the standard attitude of the typewriter officials of the union said...

Whenever Dudley Field Malone and James H. Maurer found the going a trifle tedious in Madison Square Garden last night and the applause not so vociferous as it should be they resorted to the expedient of jolting the newspaper reporters. The only difference seemed to be that Mr. Maurer, who is president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, and in favor of a general strike in that State, seemed to be quite serious about it.

Mr. Malone was chairman and Mr. Maurer one of the speakers at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, held last night in Madison Square Garden. The meeting was attended by 10,000 well dressed and comfortable looking people and was held under auspices of the People's Freedom Union. Norman Thomas, editor of the "World To-morrow," and Wilfrid Humphries, former editor of the "Rosa Luxemburg," were the other speakers.

When the Russian came to this city naturally sought the settlement where he could find men with whom he could converse. Here the anarchists made their drive. They would befriend the hapless foreigner and before he had time to get on his feet they had introduced him to the society of anarchists, inflated and then finally as the recognition of highest merit would be admitted to the inner circles of men "who stood ready to do any sort of work."

TRAP IS SET HERE TO GET 7,500 REDS. holding of these men and thirty-five other persons were made in Police Headquarters early yesterday morning by Senator Lusk, Samuel E. Berger, Deputy State Attorney-General, Major Fred W. Rich, also of the Attorney-General's office, and Archibald B. Stevenson, attorney for the Lusk Committee.

As rapidly as the persons seized by the officials at the Communist headquarters were taken to Police Headquarters in patrol wagons from various parts of Manhattan, Brooklyn and The Bronx they were arraigned before these officials, who questioned them in the presence of stenographers as to their connection with the Communist party. These examinations lasted all night, and the officials had no time to go into the wagon loads of printed matter, letters, books and miscellaneous papers, which were taken in with the prisoners. There have all been seized under search warrants issued by Magistrate McAdoo and will remain officially in his custody while the investigators go through them. They include many writings of an extremely revolutionary nature and thousands of printed copies of what purport to be appeals addressed to "American workers" by Nicholas Larkin, head of the Russian Soviet Government. The documents are in many languages, Russian and German predominating.

This literature, according to Senator Lusk, is regarded as the most important, as it is expected to provide the basis of wholesale prosecutions in this and other cities. The Lusk Committee is strictly concerned with the prosecution of local revolutionists, as it is purely a State body, but any evidence that it gathered appertaining to Reds outside of this State will be turned over to Chief Flynn of the Department of Justice.

It is believed that many well known "parlor anarchists" have been contributing heavily to the support of the Communist Soviet Government. These wealthy women being among its dupes.

Communists Well Financed. Senator Lusk said last night that the organization had been very well financed, but declined to comment upon the sources of its revenue. It is understood to have received funds from several countries.

It was officially stated that two loaded revolvers and a quantity of chemicals were found in the possession of a man in the premises of which he admitted that he had charge.

It was also stated that a man in possession of a British seaman's passport issued to one "Bernard Sexton" in 1918. The photograph attached to this card showed, according to the police, that the man was none other than Larkin. His reasons for obtaining this card under a false name and the use, if any, to which he put it are not known to the authorities.

Larkin has long been regarded as a radical of the radicals. He has been imprisoned in England for his activities there. The British Consulate recently refused to sanction his return to that country. During the early days of the war he openly advocated the cause of Germany and "The Watch on the Rhine" was sung at meetings where he hurled denunciations at the Kaiser's foes. His arrest was stated by the police yesterday morning as having taken place in Macdougall alley, but that act centre was dissolved later when it was said that this report had been a mistake.

Another radical leader who will be arraigned with Larkin is Benjamin Gitlow, former Socialist Assemblyman of the State who bolted the Socialist party in September to head the local Communists. The examinations which resulted in the holding of these men and thirty-five other persons were made in Police Headquarters early yesterday morning by Senator Lusk, Samuel E. Berger, Deputy State Attorney-General, Major Fred W. Rich, also of the Attorney-General's office, and Archibald B. Stevenson, attorney for the Lusk Committee.

All that our officials need to destroy this menace is proper backing by the Legislature. That they will have is beyond question. Senator Lusk said that the membership of the communist party was said about a week ago to be about 7,500 in this city. It is believed to have increased since then. It is believed that other States will take up the fight against this organization and work for its total extermination.

The Bureau of Immigration will continue to-day its investigations of the sixty-five Reds who were held for deportation after the raids made on Friday night. Chief Flynn visited Police Headquarters in this city yesterday for the purpose of conferring upon the drive with local officials, and his investigators will continue their work to-day of rounding up Reds in other cities. Officials asked yesterday that it be made plain that their action was not taken because of any immediate fear of dangerous uprising. They were merely trying, they said, to rid the United States of a lot of unnecessary trouble makers.

PROPHY FILES PROTEST. Charges Mob Prevented Address at Labor Meeting. CLEVELAND, Pa., Nov. 9.—John Brophy, president of District No. 2, United Mine Workers, left headquarters here to-day for Indianapolis, where district officers and the international executive board are said to have been called for a conference by the acting president, John L. Lewis, regarding the Federal Court order to revoke the strike. Brophy sent to Gov. W. C. Sprunt at Philadelphia the following message: "A mob headed by members of the Chamber of Commerce of Johnstown, apparently with the approval of the city authorities, yesterday prevented organizers of the American Federation of Labor from addressing labor meetings and demanded that these organizers as well as organizers of the United Mine Workers of America leave town on threat of violence. I ask that you, as chief executive of the State, use your authority immediately to issue that constitutional rights of free speech and assembly at Johnstown are maintained and mob rule suppressed."
