NEWSPAPER LAWS.—We would call the special attention of Post Masters and subscribers to the following synopsis of the Newspaper Laws:

1. A Postmaster is required to give notice by return (returning a paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken, and a neglect to do so makes the publisher responsible to the publisher for the payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the Post office, whether directed to his name or otherwise, whether he has subscribed or not is not responsible for the payment.

3. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, or to take it out of the Post Office. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the Post office, or removing and having them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

MONEY ORDERS.—The amount of money sent through the mail by post office money order is increasing at the rate of 100 per cent annually. This year the aggregate foots up $30,000,000, against $16,000,000 last year, and it is estimated that this amount will again double next year.

The South Boston falls, now uncovered and covered by the ebb and flow of the tide, will soon be converted into an extensive district, furnishing additional accommodations for the railroads, and giving a long water front with great commercial facilities. A long sea wall is to be constructed.

The Canadians are troubled by the continued exodus of their French; but the French are not the only people who leave them to seek work and thrift in the United States. Emigrants slip through Canada as through a sieve into our borders. Of 7,091 emigrants who arrived at Toronto during the month of June but 777 remained in Canada.

The order directed against the priesthood in sympathy with the Carlists by Minister Zorilla was an extremely bold one, and it remains to be seen whether it will be effective. It is now clear that the chief strength of Don Carlos lay with the clerical influence of Spain. We can therefore credit the report that his movement started with several millions and a calculation of 60,000 men. It seems to have ended, as usual, in flight and exorcisms.

The Cortes will assemble in October—it may be to elect a king. Castellar does not believe that a king can be chosen, but, writing to a Buenos Ayres newspaper, makes note of the singular assurance of the diplomatist Olazaga that a candidate for the throne, acceptable to everybody, had been found. Since both Prim and Olazaga are reported in favor of Prince Napoleon, it is just possible that he means Napoleon.

A YOUNG lady in New Haven, sixteen years of age, recently met with the total loss of one eye and the serious injury of the other. She had placed a bottle of ammonia in warm water, with the object of loosening the cork. Being heated the natural expansion suddenly forced the cork and liquid from the bottle, the latter fell in her face. The powerful medicine penetrated the eyes, causing intense pain and fearful disfigurement. Skillful surgery has saved one eye, but the other is entirely gone.

JOHN CHINAMAN, who is rapidly becoming a leader of contention between the political parties, is being taken hold of vigorously also by the different religious denominations in California, and we are pleased to learn, with the most gratifying success. The Celestials take very kindly to the religious dogmas of the various churches. Being freed from the severe restraints and penalties which are imposed upon Christian converts in China, the California Chinese appear to have their minds opened to the reception of new ideas and new truths, and the belief is expressed by many, that in a few years after their arrival here, all or nearly all of them will be led to abandon their heathenish mode of worship and adopt Christian principles. We hope so.

The Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company start two trains a day from New York, the one via the New Jersey Central to Harrisburg, and the other via the Cambrian and Amboy to Philadelphia, which carry passengers, without change of cars, to Omaha, Nebraska, a distance of about sixteen hundred miles. This stupendous enterprise is to be followed shortly by improved family cars, equipped with beds, furniture, kitchens, &c., for the accommodation of passengers, and will start at Philadelphia and New York direct for Sacramento, without change, a distance of over thirty three hundred miles. The projector of these moving homes is devoting all his efforts to render them safe and commodious. They will be built of various sizes and capacities. A party or family of fifteen can hire one for the round trip, and can control it as completely during the time they use it as they would a rented tenement.

THE EGG TRADE.—There are very few persons who had an idea of the extent of the value of eggs as an article of commerce. It is said that France alone produces seven to eight billions annually—a quantity which, if blown and strung, would twice encircle the globe. France exports about six millions, chiefly to England. The estimated production of eggs in Great Britain is two billions annually, and yet England pays about $6,000,000 in gold for importations from France, Belgium and Holland. The egg trade in Paris is a very important one, and subject to municipal restraints. They are sold in baskets of 1,040 each. They must not only be whole and fresh, but of a certain size, and officials are appointed by the city government to inspect, not the number and quality, but the size, of the eggs. These inspectors are supplied with a ring, all eggs passing through which are condemned.

COMPETITION tells upon the cost of ocean telegraphy. The new French line begins with a tariff of $10 for ten words, and the old line at once comes down to $7.50 for a message of the same length. We have reason to anticipate an uniform rate of $5.00 for both lines before the end of the present season. The press reports by the new line show an improvement in quality over those which, by its elder rival, have been very regularly one-half trash. With the abandonment of the old prohibitory rates of charge, the business of ocean telegraphy will exhibit a wonderful increase in popularity and profit. It is predicted that several additional cables will be laid across the Atlantic within the ensuing five years.

AN Iron Cylinder Smoke, without any grate, and which consumes its own smoke, has recently been patented in Bavaria. In this the air required in the combustion of the fuel, is introduced through a system of holes two or three inches in diameter just above the bottom. Seven or eight inches above these are attached the same number of tubes of equal width, which are brought to a red heat in the stove, and conduct heated air into the flame charged with the products of combustion. The draught chimney draws the air through the tubes with greater or less intensity, and it enters from all directions into the stove, with considerable rapidity. The flames are thus mixed together and the gases brought into contact, and the current is sufficiently strong to prevent any of the products of combustion from escaping into the room. Owing to the perfect combustion of the fuel only a comparatively small quantity is required, while the room is comfortably heated and well ventilated at the same time.

LAY MY BONES IN THE LAND OF PENN.

Oh! lay my bones in the land of Penn

That old historic State;

That I may die and be buried there

I crave at the hand of Fate.

In some nook or corner of the stone church

yard

Where the daisy and sweetbriar grow;

Where an angel mother hath hallowed the spot,

Oh, there lay me low! lay me low!

This boon I ask—

Oh this my prayer,

In the stone church yard

Lay me there, lay me there!

I care not for a stone to mark the spot,

Nor a mound to rise o'er me;

Neither care I for a slab-carved name;

Let that forgotten be.

But let the grass grow green and rank,

High o'er my slumbering head,

When under the sword of the Stone church

yard

You lay me when I'm dead.

This boon I ask—

Oh! this my prayer,

In the stone church yard

Lay me there, lay me there!

There the shadows deepen in the twilight

gray,

And the dew so gently fall,

And the mountain hard by that old Stone

church

Keeps vigils over all

By the church-yard placidly flows—

Oh! this is the place I desire to sleep—

Oh! there let me sweetly repose.

This boon I ask—

Oh! this my prayer,

In the stone church yard,

Lay me there! lay me there!

And the robin will come in the early light

And carol his morning song,

And late in the day the ring-dove coo,

And the thrush his strain prolong,

And the sweet-scented clover will waft its perfume,

And flowers their fragrance shed,

And the cricket will chirrup for the sleeper

below—

Down, down in his lowly bed,

Oh! this be my boon—

Oh! this is my prayer,

In the stone church yard,

Lay me there! lay me there!

Then back to the soil of my own native Penn.

Give my body when I die;

In the Stone-church yard near by the Bridge

Let me with my kindred lie,

And there I will sleep that "dreamless sleep,"

No more by tempest torn,

In the calm sweet rest of my narrow home

Till the resurrection morn.
