

What is the Future of Austin Mill?

[Coudersport Enterprise.]
A report was sent out to some of the daily newspapers in this section last week that the Goodyear Lumber Company, which has large timber tracts in the Potato Creek region, was preparing to erect a big mill at Liberty in McKean county. However, investigation does not seem to bear out this report.

The Goodyears already have mills at Austin and Keating Summit and are building a railroad down into the Potato Creek section for the purpose of getting its hemlock timber to the above mentioned mills. Frank Greco has the contract for the construction of this extension and has a big force of men hustling the work to completion.

Then again if the company erected a new plant at Liberty it would practically mean idleness for the big plant at Austin. It is understood that people in McKean county have made an offer to the Goodyears for the purchase of the hardwood timber on Potato Creek and if it should be accepted then no doubt the hardwood would be worked up by a new mill placed in the tract, as it could be utilized cheaper there than by shipping it to the plants at Austin or Keating Summit. If the sale does become effective it will be a sad blow to Austin as the big Goodyear mill there would of a necessity have to close down inside of two years for lack of timber to work. Then it is claimed that there is a possibility that the hemlock would also be worked up at the McKean county plant rather than at Austin.

Lane-Hughes.
Edward Hughes stole a march on his many friends at this place, by quietly stealing away, the last of the week, and taking unto himself a wife, in the person of Miss Avis Lane, of Mason Hill. Mr. Hughes left Emporium on Friday afternoon and went to Driftwood where he was joined by his future wife and Miss Rotha Kreider, of Driftwood, and Mr. Smithers, of Renovo. The party left Driftwood on the early flyer on Saturday morning and went to Niagara Falls and were quietly married on the Canadian side of the Falls on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Hughes is a young lady of Sterling worth and has been a successful teacher in Cameron county for several years and is sure to be a true helpmate to the husband of her choice. "Ed." as he is familiarly known, is one of one of our enterprising business men, enjoying a lucrative business at this place. It is a lucky thing for Ed. and his wife that the "Rambler" did not know anything of his approaching wedding or he certainly would have received all that was coming to him; as it is, they must abide their time and get even. The PRESS joins with Mr. and Mrs. Hughes' many friends at Emporium and vicinity in wishing them a life full of happiness.

Terrible Sufferer.

Total Loss.
We regret exceedingly to learn that Associate Judge Wyckoff's loss by the late fire, reported in last week's PRESS, was a total loss, he not having any insurance. This is a terrible misfortune to Judge Wyckoff in his old age. We are informed that very little furniture was saved from his residence.

A Bloody Riot.

A terrible riot and pitched battle took place last Sunday night at McKees Rocks, between the strikers and State Constabulary, resulting in the death and injury of thirty or forty men—both troopers and strikers. The troopers, although their ranks were thinned, stood their ground until assistance arrived. Forty more Troopers are now located at McKees Rocks, No business is transacted in the town, all stores being closed and under guard. This is a terrible situation.

Lively Ride.

Iron Master Mr. Andrew Brady, last Sunday took a party of friends composed of Messrs. Thos. Gallagher, Frank Gallagher of Philadelphia and Bert Forbes on a lively ride to the ice cave, near Coudersport. They made a dandy run, spinning to Keating Summit in thirty minutes and returning, made the run from Austin in forty minutes. Frank Gallagher, who meets some speedy autos at Bellevue-Stratford, says he never had a fast ride until last Sunday.

To the Readers of the Press:

We desire to announce to the people of Emporium and vicinity, that we have recently taken over the drug business heretofore carried on by Mrs. M. A. Rockwell in the post office building and have thoroughly overhauled and restocked the store in every line, so that you will not find in this section a more complete store, and invite your inspection and patronage.

The business will be known in the future as the Emporium Drug Co., and will say as an index to future policies of the store, that it will be built upon honor, fair dealing, polite attention, and liberal business methods.

It will be our constant aim to please every patron and special attention to children whom are sent upon errands and no sale will be considered complete without entire satisfaction.

From an economical standpoint, our prices speak volumes since every article in the store is of highest obtainable quality and guaranteed to you under the Pure Food and Drugs Act.

We would particularly remind you that our prescription department is stocked with the best known lines and highest quality products of drugs and chemicals: Merks, Wyeths, Parke, Davis. Pharmaceuticals are under supervision of a competent graduate of Pharmacy.

Burglary at Cameron.

An Italian called at the P. R. R. Italian shanty, west of Cameron depot Monday evening about seven o'clock, and asked for supper and lodging, which was freely given him. But when they woke up Tuesday morning, they discovered their countryman missing, also a gold watch and $13.00 in money. The watch was later found on the ground outside the shanty. He either lost it or dropped it intentionally. The man was very dark, with black curly hair hanging down over one eye, he was 5ft 5 inches tall, wore a light suit, pants lighter in color than the coat and wore tan shoes. Sheriff Norris and posse are on his trail and his arrest is momentarily expected.

Wedded Last Sunday.

J. A. Lesser 344 Metoxet street, by the Rev. Albert H. Keck, of Scenery Hill, Pa. Mr. Keck had come here to conduct the regular services in the First Evangelical Lutheran church and after services in the church he was requested to visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lesser. The reverend gentleman readily complied and performed the services which made the happy young couple one. Mr. and Mrs. Bente are among the popular young people of Emporium and after a brief wedding tour they will take up their permanent residence there.—Monday's Ridgway Daily Record, 23d.

Sheiff Norris was called to Cameron on Monday to quell trouble at the Valley House. Sidney Bunce, who has worked as cook for Robert Graham, proprietor of the Valley House for the past three weeks, claiming Mr. Graham did not pay him his salary and upon demand was refused.

Later developments caused destruction to the Valley House, a window and two doors being broken. There was also quite a number taken along by sheriff as witnesses.

Handsome Appearance.

John Cummings, Ex-County Treasurer, has not only one of the best gardeners in Emporium but the most tasty and beautiful flower gardens and lawn. We were greatly impressed with the beauty of the scene. However, we are positive the beautiful lawn and flowers is due to the taste of John's energetic better half. Let other property owners take pattern after them.

The Editor's Kick.

A lawyer charges a man $10 for 10 minutes' conversation—the man insists on paying it. A doctor charges $1 for a prescription and the patient says: "Oh, pshaw—is that enough? An undertaker charges $100 for conducting a funeral and he is perfectly lovely with everybody inside and outside the family. A man buys a gold brick and apologises for not having bitten before. An editor walks a mile in the hot sun to get the facts of a death, or wedding function and spends three hours writing it up and tells lies praising people until he hates himself. Then if he makes an insignificant omission, or charges 5 cents straight for three extra copies he is stingy, careless, good-for-nothing old cuss, who never gets anything right and charges four times the price of city papers twice as large.—Marion (Ga) Record
