O. B. Tanner's Home Destroyed

Our citizens will be pained to learn that O. B. Tanner's residence on Mason Hill in Gibson township was destroyed by fire early last Wednesday morning. O. B. Tanner and B. J. Duell, who are engaged on a tie contract left for their work early and hardly commented when they heard screams in the neighborhood of Mr. Duell's home, which is within one-fourth mile from the Tanner place. Knowing that something serious was the matter, they started for their homes, and when they had gone but a short distance they were told that "Bert Tanner's house is on fire." Rushing to the scene, the worried father was glad to see his motherless children standing under a shed. Bert rushed into the burning building, hoping to save his pocket book, containing $140 and valuable papers, but the flames drove him back. Neighbors saved some furniture but most of which was scorched and ruined. All of their bedding and clothing was destroyed. It is a total loss and a terrible blow to the more than unfortunate citizen. The loss on house and furniture is about $2,000 with no insurance. Mr. Tanner was at Emporium last Saturday and is at a loss what to do. We sincerely sympathize with him, as do all our people, but what good does that do. It will not rebuild his home, neither will it clothe his children. But, friend Tanner is full of grit and hard work and will not sit down and "cry over spilled milk."

The Best Outdone.

Emporium's Greatest Store, under the energetic and careful supervision of Mr. R. Kuehne, who has had many years experience in the largest city establishments, continues to grow in favor with not only the people in Cameron county, but a wide scope of country—even extending to different states. His plan of conducting a straight-forward business, or money refunded, has established a name for this popular store.

The Easter Opening this year far surpasses any previous effort and the beautiful attractions in every department, from the finest drapery in choice laces, hand-made and imported, at popular prices, within the reach of the rich and the poor. We noticed hundreds of rich goods we feel certain will please the ladies, especially the very large line of trimmed and untrimmed Hats in the Millinery Department, under the management of their expert Trimmer, Miss Rose Cypher, who has been with this firm for two or three seasons. You certainly would be hard to please if you could not be suited or failed to find you style. A glance at the large line of ladies coats, opera capes, and suits, in all the popular styles, at popular prices will meet your pocket books. This is a beautiful line and must be seen to be appreciated. Those new exquisite Lace Scarfs, ranging in prices from $3.00 to $25.00 are of the handsomest creations and will make the loveliest Easter Gift for your wife, daughter or best girl. We might rattle for an hour, telling you what you may see by calling. That's what you want to do—call at once and see the handsomest display of goods in this section of the State. It would be hard to excel outside of the larger cities.

The Great Event.

The annual Ball and Reception to be given by Emporium Council, No. 990, at opera house, Tuesday evening, March 29th. For weeks a committee, composed of Thos. E. Law, Jas. Kearney and C. Harold Seger, have been working like beavers to make this event the occasion of the season. The Germania Orchestra, of Lock Haven, have been engaged for occasion and a program, (a neat design, from the Press job rooms,) of especially selected music for the occasion, has been selected. While this ball is an invitation dance, it is very evident from the fact that every dressmaker in town, as well as many other places, have been busy on swell gowns for the occasion. There will be a very large attendance.

Those fortunate enough to be favored with an invitation should be there early. Dancing commences at 8:45. Mr. Thos. E. Law will be the master of ceremonies and has a specially prepared Japanese program for the occasion, in fact he has been sitting up very late studying the language. Messrs. Herbert E. Vogt, John H. Stephens, Leo T. Hayes will be the reception committee on the pleasant occasion. We hear it said that the ball room will be a dream of beauty, as far as the illuminations are concerned.

The committee respectfully requests their friends to be prompt.

A Joy Ride.

Last Friday evening, a party of young folks, numbering twenty, accompanied by Miss Alice Quigley as chaperon, enjoyed a straw ride to Canoe Run, where they were very pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Webster and daughter Irene. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games, after which a most delightful lunch was served. They returned home in the "wee sma' hours," voting it one of "The Nights."

Shaffer & Burke.

This bustling firm of civil engineers, with offices in both Ridgway and Johnstown, are in Emporium, making preliminary surveys of Broad street, before the contract will be let for paving. This work should have all been completed during the winter months, thereby enabling this much needed work to be early completed.

Elaborate Easter Dinner.

Mine host H. W. Smith, of Hotel Warner, has made elaborate preparations for Easter dinner, next Sunday, from 1:00 to 2:30. The well known reputation of Hotel Warner for excellent dinners, especially upon stated occasions, is popularly commented upon. Both Mr. Smith and his able assistant, Mr. E. E. Breene, are uniting in their efforts to please the public and it is certainly remarkable how they can, for fifty cents, serve a meal after the following:

A False Report-- Mildred Green Safe

A report was received here on Tuesday from Cleveland stating that Mildred Green adopted daughter of Mrs. M. A. Rockwell, had been killed on Euclid Avenue by an automobile. Mrs. Rockwell, accompanied by Dr. W. H. Bush, left here yesterday morning for Cleveland. Mrs. Rockwell wired this Thursday morning, "Mildred Safe; home this p.m." After Mrs. Rockwell left Emporium for Cleveland, friends here got into communication with the wholesale millinery store where the young lady was employed and received an answer that "Miss Green had been sick and they knew of no accident."

Proposed Hospital Well Received.

The PRESS is pleased to hear so many favorable comments on the proposed general hospital for Emporium. All realize the dire necessity for such an institution in our county and we firmly believe if a suitable building can be secured for the purpose that liberal hearted ladies and gentlemen would see to it that the necessary support was forth coming.

We have a private letter from the general manager of the E. I. duPont de Nemours Powder Company, Wilmington, Del., in which they offer to sell the large building on Sixth street, admirably fitted for a hospital, and writes in reply to our request for a price on the above property: "However, if it was to be for a public institution, I have every reason to believe that our Company would make a division of a certain amount and if there could be a reasonable amount raised we would try to meet your ideas on the line."

Now, people, it is up to you. As we said in last week's PRESS we are willing, and gladly, to give of our time and means to make the proposed hospital a success but we must depend upon your cordial assistance—especially the several physicians of the county. Let us be up and stirring.

We have received numerous cheering encouragement from our townspeople, as well as outsiders, and quote a few as follows:

FIGHT FOR IT.

I saw in the PRESS, last week, that we need a general hospital at Emporium. Why of course we do and ought to have one, by all means. I will give my mite as soon as anyone starts it. So, let us have it. Almost every man and woman in Cameron County would give what they could. Too much money goes out of the county that would be kept at home if we had a hospital. Keep up the fight until we get it; you will have lots of help, as far as I have seen and by what they say.

Enjoyed His Visits.

Ye editor has certainly enjoyed the visits of Hon. Geo. J. LaBar to our sanctum since his return of a Tour of the World, covering a period of almost four months. The Judge is a keen observer and what he saw he can describe in such a manner that you imagine you are one of the party. During his tour he tried to give the Press readers an minute account of all he saw in an abbreviated form in several letters, which were eagerly watched for and enjoyed by all. In addition to his letter he mailed thousands of post cards and papers from every port to all friends he could think of and regrets he did not have the initials of many friends he had to miss. The Judge roots at the idea of Japan preparing a for war with the United States and as sample of the greetings the Americans received in Japan he handed us the following, which we copy from a Japan paper—printed one-half in English—which expresses his idea of the true sentiment of the Japs:

We, the Nagasaki Shimpo, have this day the honor of extending the heartiest welcome of the 170,000 citizens of Nagasaki to the American ladies and gentlemen on board the s. s. Cleveland, known as the Clark's Tourist Party. Long before the doors of the Rising Sun Empire were thrown open to foreign countries for free intercourse, Nagasaki was opened for foreign trade, and she has the historical honor of being for centuries the only mouth through which Occidental civilization was imported into the Empire. Consequently we, the citizens of Nagasaki, are proud of ourselves in respect of cherishing a deeper, stronger and warmer good feeling toward friends from America, Europe and all the countries abroad, than that of our brethren in other parts of the Empire.

It is our pleasant and grateful remembrance that you, the Americans, were very kind in awaking us from our long dream of isolation and introducing our country into the circle of foreign nations, and that since you have been always true friends toward us. The whole nation of Yamato is deeply impressed and greatly pleased with the way America entertained so courteously and generously the party of our representative business men who visited your country recently, and we hereby take this opportunity to express our heartfelt gratitude to you.

We are very glad to have you visit this place to-day; and in expressing our joy at seeing you, and our high appreciation of your constant kindness to us, we are doing our best to welcome you to this city with our heartiest and sincerest good wishes. It is, however, our deepest regret that we are not quite advanced in our arrangements for receiving such a large party, to make your stay here really comfortable and homelike. Moreover this is the busiest time of the year with us, as it is our custom to close all business accounts by the end of the year and commence everything anew on New Year's day; we must therefore beg your pardon if we lack anything in courtesy or entertainment to make you happy and joyful during your visit in this town.

In the end we wish you a very happy sojourn in our country, and hope most sincerely that when you reach your homeland after a pleasant and peaceful voyage, you will be kind enough to make your fellow countrymen convinced that we, the nation of Dai Nippon, have always the most true, warm and grateful feelings toward all Americans.—Nagasaki Shimpo.

Our genial friend is considering a more complete account of his tour to be published in pamphlet form, which no doubt will be interesting and instructive.

Hon. Josiah Howard at Home.

Hon. Josiah Howard returned home Tuesday afternoon, after "rusticating" in Dr. Nutt's private hospital, at Williamsport, for two weeks. His numerous friends are pleased to see him once more on his feet and rapidly recovering from his affliction.

To The Editor:—I hereby announce myself a candidate for Congress in the 21st Pennsylvania district, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries to be held June 10, 1910. I make this announcement and enter the contest in compliance with the earnest requests of many prominent members of the party in the district and also because I believe that in Congress, if elected, I would be in a position to effectively advocate those principles and measures of good government, which now more than ever, should be embodied in Federal legislation. I believe in clean politics and progressive Roosevelt policies. And to the end that I may serve their best interests, I ask the support of the Republicans of this district.

Glorious Climate This.

We enjoyed an excellent cigar on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown's beautiful daughter, who recently made its advent in their home at Wiley's Addition. Of course there is joy in that household over the birth of their first child. This is a glorious climate; friend Brown are you not glad you came here?

Down in West Virginia.

W. A. Dalrymple, of this place, while writing to have his Press mailed to him at Meadow Creek, W. Va., where he is assisting in the erection of a large saw mill, says: "Please send the Press to me at this address—like to hear and know what is going on in Emporium. We are twenty miles from the C. & O. R. R., and back in the woods. The railroad in here climbs 1700 feet in eleven miles, with five switch backs. We are 2,523 feet above the sea level, at head of Sewell Creek. The timber here is the finest of oak, hemlock, hickory, whitewood and basswood. We had a snow storm here and ten inches of snow fell in about four hours. Will write some more when I see a little more of the country."
