DEATH CALLS

JOHN G. CARLISLE

Former Secretary of the Treasury Passes Away in New York.

NEW YORK, JULY 31.—John G. Carlisle, former secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland, who has been critically ill for the past two days, died at his apartments in New York at 10:50 to-night of heart failure, accompanied by oedema of the lungs.

John Griffin Carlisle was born in Newton county, Ky., on September 5, 1835. He was educated in the public schools, later studied law and was admitted to the bar. Always a consistent Democrat and interested in public affairs as a young man, he rose from the Kentucky House of Representatives to the Senate, served as lieutenant governor and finally graduated into national affairs.

From 1857 to 1890 he was a member of the National House, and from 1883 to 1889 was Speaker of the House. He resigned to fill the unexpired term of James M. Beck in the United States Senate from which he again resigned in 1893 to become secretary of the treasury under President Grover Cleveland.

Public Notice to Parents.

A certain class of would be "smart" young sons of Emporium parents, ranging from twelve to about eighteen years of age, have been making disturbances during and after Sabbath evening services for some of the congregations of the town.

At one service, recently, they quietly congregated in the entrance to the church, and in the midst of the discourse ran, stamping their feet, like a lot of livery horses with the evident purpose of disturbing the services.

At another service, they waited outside and as the congregation was retiring from the services, one of the hoodlums used a squirt gun full of muddy water and destroyed a fine new dress worn by one of the congregation.

At another place, complaint comes of this same class using the floor for a spittoon for tobacco spit and the corner of the church seats for a depository for cigarette stumps.

The names of all the parties are known, and we wish to give a note of warning to parents to take charge of these "candidates for trouble," or the strong arm of the law will certainly deal with them.

Some of the parents have already been notified that their children are among the offenders and declare that "just as sure as their boys get into trouble" they will have to suffer the penalty, and it is to be hoped that the "otherwise" will take warning and not have to suffer the result of a farther demonstration of their "ignorance of the requirements of common decency."

The law on disturbing a religious meetings is quite severe. Boys, be manly; don't be hair brained nuisances.

Store Sold.

Yesterday the deal was closed for the purchase of the grocery store and meat market of Mr. Edward Hughes, by Messrs. Robert Clark and Walter Morrison. The gentlemen took possession this (Thursday) morning. Mr. Hughes will retire from the mercantile business, as his health is not the best. He has not decided just what he will do for the present. The new proprietors are both hustlers and will make the business boom. The PRESS wishes them success.

County Convention of Sunday Schools.

The convention of the Sunday schools of Cameron county will be held in Emporium, Tuesday and Wednesday and Wednesday, Aug. 23 and 24. It is expected that Mrs. Baldwin and Mr. Eldridge, who were in attendance last year will again be present. On Sunday evening preceding, there will be a union rally service at which time all the churches in Emporium will join. This service as well as the convention will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Austin Mill.

The air is full of reports relative to moving the Austin mill to Liberty, Clermont and the heart of the new Goodyear lumbering operations. Why not locate at Emporium, gentlemen, where you would have railroad facilities.

Will Open September 6.

Westbrook Academy will begin its 25th year September 6.

Keystone State Still Solid.

The optimistic view taken by Chairman Walton, of the Republican State Committee, concerning the prospect of the party in the coming campaign and the result of the election in Pennsylvania in November next, is fully justified by all the facts and the existing conditions, rightly declares the Philadelphia Evening Star.

For some years past it has been customary immediately after the Republican State Convention had placed its candidates in the field for the Chairman of the State Committee to call upon the Chairmen of the various County Committees to have canvasses made of their respective localities, and send preliminary reports to headquarters showing the actual political conditions as they exist, together with suggestions as to points at which the party lines may need strengthening, factional difficulties smoothed out, and any other means that should be adopted for starting in on the campaign in a well-ordered manner.

These reports have been received from nearly all of the sixty-seven counties of the State, and in none of them is the slightest cause for apprehension on the part of the Republicans shown. On the other hand, the Chairmen of the various County Committees state that the conditions are better than they have ever been before, and the reports indicate that the Republican Party of the old Keystone Commonwealth is lined up in force, ready to score an old-fashioned victory at the November polling.

When it is taken into consideration that the ticket named by the State Convention at Harrisburg on June 22, is made up of strong and sturdy stalwarts, of men whose political and personal standing are of the highest and that these candidates, who are well known and properly appreciated not only in the communities in which they live, but throughout the entire State, there is no reason for surprise at the fact that the party voters are enthusiastic.

Chairman Walton was afforded opportunity to come into contact with some of the enthusiasts when he went to Pittsburg to be on hand for the notification of gubernatorial nominee Tener and his associates on the ticket, and he correctly sized it up when he said:

"There is reason for general congratulations over the enthusiasm evinced at the notification of the State candidates of the Republican Party and the large number of active Republicans from every section of the State in attendance at the ceremonies.

"From personal contact with some of the best informed men in the State, I am safe in predicting that there will be an unprecedented large vote polled for the Republican State ticket this fall.

"The party is harmonious and the candidates are men who will appeal to the voters of every class. Mr. Tener has made for himself a platform such as any business man with patriotism and public spirit would favor, and upon every hand it is manifest that the people have confidence in his sincerity and ability to do what he proposes."

To put the situation in a nutshell, the Republicans of Pennsylvania have a splendid State ticket for the coming campaign, and they propose to line up and support it in vigorous fashion to the end that it shall be triumphantly successful.

Death of Former Emporium Boy.

From the Smethport Democrat of July 28, 1910, we note the death of Chas. B. Goodrich, a former Emporium boy, who will be remembered by many as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Goodrich: "Word was received in Smethport Wednesday morning of the death of Charles B. Goodrich, which occurred at his home in Rochester, N. Y., Tuesday night. We understand that Mr. Goodrich has been in poor health during the past two years, but it was not generally known in this borough that his condition was serious, and the announcement of his death was the first intimation that his friends had of the critical nature of his ailment, and his death was a shock to his relatives and friends. Mr. Goodrich was well known to the older residents of Smethport, where he resided for a number of years. The deceased was in his 48th year, and is survived by his widow and the following sisters, Mesdames O. T. Chase, James McGuire and Miss Lulu Goodrich, of Smethport, Mrs. Frank Rowlee, of Pottsville, and Mrs. Sherry Rightmyer, of Port Jervis, N. Y. The Democrat extends its sincere sympathy to the stricken relatives.

The funeral will be held in Rochester tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

CRIPPEN AND GIRL ARE CAUGHT

WIRELESS HUNT ENDS

Scotland Yard Sleuth Identifies Pair on Montrose at Fathers Point, Quebec.

QUEBEC, QUE., JULY 31—"Crippen, I want you," said Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard to a man on the deck of the steamer Montrose at Father's Point to-day. The man recoiled, a deathly pallor spread over his face, his breath came short and fast and he tried to speak, but his throat only gurgled incoherently. Then:

"Thank God, the suspense is over, and I am glad."

Thus ended the world's most dramatic criminal hunt—the wireless pursuit of Dr. Harvey Hawley Crippen of London, England, and his typist, Miss Ethel Clare Laneve. They fled from London on July 9 when the police took up the search for the missing "Belle Elmore," Dr. Crippen's wife.

And the credit for their capture is due to Capt. Kendall and a steward of the steamer Montrose whose sharp eyes penetrated the disguise of the pair who booked passage as "The Rev. John Robinson and son," with Miss Laneve dressed as a boy.

GIRL BREAKS DOWN. Miss Laneve collapsed in her state room when the police arrested her. Crippen, was broken in spirit, but mentally relieved by the relaxed tension. The young woman, garbed in boy's clothes, sobbed hysterically.

They were guarded closely as the Montrose continued her voyage from Father's Point in Quebec, and during the 150-mile trip were allowed to see each other. Miss Laneve recovered her composure rapidly and Crippen was almost cheerful as the liner plowed through the waters.

The identification of the long sought fugitives on board the fog-shrouded steamer, by the English detectives, who had raced across the Atlantic ahead of the Montrose, marked the close of one of the most sensational flights in recent criminal annals. Accompanied by two Canadian officers, Inspector Dew boarded the Montrose at 8:30 o'clock, this morning and 15 minutes later both man and girl were locked in their state rooms.

CHARGE IS MURDER.

After brief delay, the Montrose continued her 150-mile journey up the river toward Quebec where jail awaited the pair. Crippen is charged with the murder of an unknown woman, believed to have been his actress wife. The girl is held as an accessory. In charge of Inspector Dew they will be taken back to England for trial on the Royal line steamer Royal George, leaving Quebec on Thursday next.

Seldom has there been a scene surrounding the pursuit of a criminal so pregnant with dramatic features as that enacted off Father's Point this morning. Inspector Dew spent a sleepless night at the Marconi operator's side, communicating through the fog, with the liner that bore the man and woman he sought.

The man had lied to him in London by fleeing the city with the mystery of Belle Elmore's disappearance unsolved and a strong personal feeling entered into the case, accentuating the detective's desire to carry out the task assigned to him by Scotland Yard.

Public Address.

Mrs. Adda Boileau Parsels, of Philadelphia, Pa., will give an address on the street, at the corner of Broad and Main street, Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the interest of civic reform. Mrs. Parsels is one of the best of Pennsylvania's women speakers. Remember the hour. Cordial invitation to all.

Qualified Assistant.

Mr. C. Harold Seger, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Charles Seger, has received the necessary papers, qualifying him to act as assistant postmaster during the absence of his father. We hope the appointment will hold good, as Harold is an alright young man and is very popular with all. He is "a chip off the old block," always ready to please and to render any assistance to the patrons of the office.

Lawn Social.

The Sunday School Class of Miss Lena Evans will conduct a lawn social at the Methodist Episcopal Church in the evening of August 9th. Ice cream and cake will be served. Help a good cause and attend this social.

J. B. Meisel Sells His Business.

J. B. Meisel, who has successfully conducted the confectionery and ice cream parlors, next door to the post office, has disposed of his business to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seger, who have taken possession of this popular store. Mr. Meisel was compelled to retire owing to poor health and hopes to take a long rest. During their business career in Emporium both Mr. and Mrs. Meisel having been untiring in their efforts to please the public, thereby building up a large trade. Their successors, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seger, are both popular young people and shall be untiring in their zeal to maintain the popularity of this establishment. They will continue the high character and reputation of the store by keeping only the choicest of confections, fruits and creams, especially the celebrated I. X. L. ice cream, having the exclusive agency for the latter in Emporium. Orders are solicited for every variety of flavors, as well as ices and sherbets. Call and see them.

The New Rector.

Rev. M. L. Tate and family, the new Rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, arrived in Emporium last Friday and entered upon the discharge of his duties, delivering two able sermons last Sunday morning and evening, to good sized congregations. Extensive repairs having been completed, except the heating system, in the Rectory, the Rev. and his family are now getting settled in their new home. We believe Rev. Tate will after getting acquainted with the people, be a careful, energetic and faithful Rector. We hope all will extend to him the hand of good-fellowship.

Why?

If a Protective Tariff is responsible for high prices, what is accountable for the increase in England, which has no Protective Tariff. The London Graphic has been looking the matter up and finds that in 1909 Free Trade England paid $36,000,000 more for four articles of food than the same products cost in 1908. These four commodities were wheat, bacon, eggs and mutton, and the Graphic particularizes the advance in each case. What's the answer? There will be more from that class of shallow thinkers who have a parrot-like facility for putting every thing up to the Tariff.—Troy Times.

Well Earned Vacation.

Postmaster Chas. Seger, accompanied by his excellent wife left yesterday on a ten day vacation, taking the popular St. Lawrence, Quebec and Montreal trip. They expect to be absent ten days. Mr. Seger has been closely confined for a long time and richly deserves a rest and a little recreation. Hope he may return feeling completely rested and ready to answer to any call of his patrons or Uncle Sam.

A few minutes before leaving, Mr. Seger changed his route, deciding to take steamer from Quebec direct to New York city.

Taking Vacation.

Fred J. Keim, Jr., manager of the Emporium Drug Company's store, departed on Wednesday for a trip which includes Buffalo, Rochester and the St. Lawrence River. Mr. Keim will be absent about one month. During his absence the store will be conducted by Mr. Earl MacAbee, of Oil City, Pa., formerly assistant manager of the Central Drug Store at St. Marys. Mr. MacAbee is a very pleasant gentleman and is a competent druggist.

A Word to the Wise.

The state through its normal schools offers unusual advantages to young men and women. The Clarion State Normal School with its present equipment has no superior. It opens the doors of opportunity by giving the finest educational advantages at a very low cost. The entire year's expense including board, room rent, light, heat and laundry is only $151. Write for illustrated catalog to J. George Becht, Principal, Clarion, Pa.

Church Repaired.

The lecture room and the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church has been newly papered, which makes the church rooms appear very light and pretty.

Ice Cream Social.

An ice cream and cake social will be held at the home of Miss Vina Murray, Sixth street, Saturday evening, Aug. 6th. Everybody come.

An Old Miltonian Here.

Mrs. Mary Shadman, relict of the late Samuel Shadman a veteran of the Mexican and Civil Wars, now residing at Emporium, Pa., is visiting among relatives and old friends in Milton and vicinity. Her husband, who will be remembered by our older citizens, resided in Milton at the time of the Mexican war and recruited and drilled a company in this place which was sent to the front for active service. Mr. Shadman served through the war with distinction participating in seven of the hardest fought battles, and when peace was declared he returned to Milton where he was tendered a brilliant reception by our citizens in honor of his services and loyal devotion to country. He also served an enlistment during the war of the Rebellion. He was considered a musician of rare ability, having been leader of the old Milton Band for a number of years.—Miltonian, Milton, Pa.

Base Ball Notes.

Last Saturday afternoon, the Keystone Nationals again crossed bats with the Athletics at Keystone Park. The game resulted in the score of nine to one in favor of the Nationals. Although a little one-sided was a good one. Mr. Frank McCloskey and Mr. Lawrence Fisk acted as umpires during the game. The members of the Keystone Nationals, while they have only played a few games together, put up a remarkably good game and are on a fair road to success. The Athletics, also a home team, are all good players and with practice will become a strong aggregation. Emporium should have enough base ball, with two excellent teams in the field.

Changes at Tannery.

Messrs. T. A. and W. A. Flynn, who have been managing the tannery at this place, since the first of the year, have resigned their positions and have returned to Allegany, N. Y. Mr. T. A. Flynn has purchased a large interest in the Kenley tannery at Olean, N. Y., where he, with the assistance of Mr. W. A. Flynn, will conduct the same. Both gentlemen have made many friends in Emporium during the few months they have lived here and we regret to see them leave and the best wishes of all go with them in the new enterprise. Mr. J. H. Herbaugh, of Olean, has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the tannery at this place. The Messrs. Flynn will keep in touch with their Emporium friends, by reading the PRESS each week.

Young Men's Republican Club.

All young Republicans are requested to meet at Republican Headquarters, this (Friday) evening, for the purpose of re-organizing the League Club. Let every young man who believes in the principles of the Republican Party attend. "Old Boys" can attend, also, if they wish and will be welcomed. The State League of Republican Clubs meets next month at Pottsville and we should send a full delegation. Come!

Getting Settled.

Hon. G. W. Huntley and his pleasant daughter, Miss Nellie, have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Williams of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Chas. L. Garrison of Pittsburg—the latter ladies being daughters and sister—at their North Broad street residence this week. They expect to have their new home in apple pie order within a short time.

The Lock Haven State Normal School has had gratifying success, both as a Training School for teachers and as a preparatory school for such students as desire to go to college. Its home life is particularly attractive to its students and patrons. Probably no other feature has contributed so much to its success. Parents realize that their children are well taken care of, both morally and educationally. Reference is made to this fact because the burning question with most parents is chiefly bearing upon the advantages any school offers in the way of safe guarding and developing the characters of its pupils. The splendid patronage that this ideally located school now has is the best assurance of its worth as an institution of learning. It issues a beautiful catalog which will be sent free to any one writing for it. Rooms are now being reserved for the fall term beginning September 6th.

A Good Show.

Frank A. Robbins' circus, which exhibited here Aug. 2nd, gave excellent satisfaction and was well patronized. It was one of the best ever and we did not hear one unfavorable criticism. We are pleased to recommend them to the public as a circus that does more than they advertise and strives to please. They are all to the good.

Hustling Representative.

J. H. Hughes, press representative of Robbins' circus was a welcome Press visitor on Tuesday. Mr. H. is fully up with the craft, being a practical printer and a son of the foreman of D. Appleton Art Publishing Co., of New York.
