

"JUST PLAIN REPUBLICANISM."

This is the Kind of Talk Vice-President Sherman Thinks the Country Ought to Have.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "Just plain Republicanism," was Vice-President Sherman's answer when asked what particular points he would emphasize in his speech in Guthrie. His audience showed, too, that this was the sort of talk, which it wanted. In its partisan sense the word Republicanism ought to be descriptive enough to tell what it means, without any explanations. In these days, however, the country is listening to talk in different directions from persons calling themselves Republicans which deserve some other name. But the kind which Guthrie heard from Vice-President Sherman and ex-Representative James E. Watson of Indiana needed no qualifications or modifications to enable it to come under that classification. They told the benefits which the Payne Tariff is conferring upon the country, mentioned the aid which the postal savings bank is likely to bring to the smaller communities of the West and Southwest, and warned their hearers against the apathy or the folly which would permit the Democrats to carry the country in November.

Guthrie is a stalwart Republican center, just as every other community in Oklahoma is in which the Vice-President spoke. The same is true of the points at which he has appeared in Illinois and Missouri. Those three states take their Republicanism straight. While they are in the insurgent belt, they are not hospitable to Insurgency. The Republican members of Congress from Missouri and Oklahoma were on the orthodox side in every division of the special and the regular sessions of the sixty-first Congress. The same is true of the Illinois Republican members, except in a few cases. No Republican need be ashamed of the position which the members of his party in Congress from Missouri and Oklahoma took on the leading issues of the period which has elapsed since the Sixty-first Congress assembled in extra session at the middle of March 1909. And a large majority of the Illinois members have also been on the right side on all the important questions. In no community in which the Vice-President has spoken while on his tour have the Republican masses been called upon to apologize for anything which their representatives in Congress have said or done.

It will be well for the Republicans of the rest of the country to understand that Insurgency has not so much of a hold on the West as is popularly supposed. That fad has captured Indiana, Kansas and Iowa, but it has not gone much further. It won only a fictitious victory in Nebraska, where the Republicans have re-nominated Senator Burkett, a stalwart.

Representative Tanney, the only stalwart in the Minnesota delegation, was marked for retirement by some of the pseudo-Republicans of his district, but there can be no reasonable doubt that he will get a re-nomination. He has been an alert, faithful and industrious member of the party, and Republicans all over the country hope that he will win at the primary. In the coming Congress the Republican party will need all the loyal representatives whom it can get. Many important questions which will be presented in the short session in December of this year will have to be handed over to the long session of the new Congress. On this account there is an especial incentive for the nomination and election of men whose Republicanism will need no explanations or apologies. The canvass for such Republicans will be aided by the kind of speeches which Mr. Sherman has been making. The Republican Congressional Committee made no mistake when it sent the Vice-President on his speaking tour through this region. At every point on the Republican line stalwarts should be placed on guard.

Pic-Nic Supper.

The members of the Union Friendly Society and a few invited guests enjoyed a most delightful pic-nic supper at Keystone Park last Thursday evening. Nineteen persons were present. An elaborate menu, prepared by the young ladies, was served, after which the evening was devoted to a general good time. This popular society has been organized for one year, and the members have heartily enjoyed the good times that they had, and look forward to another year with much anticipation of pleasure. A big time is being planned for the anniversary night which will be held on the evening of the 11th of October.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

GREEN.

It is our painful duty to again announce the death of another respected Emporium lady. MRS. MARY MARGARET LYNCH-GREEN, aged 65, wife of Hon. B. W. GREEN, passed away at one o'clock this (Thursday) morning, surrounded by her kind and faithful husband, daughter, Miss Alice and two sisters.

Feb. 25th, last, Mrs. Green, who had always been a robust and energetic lady, was taken sick and continued to grow worse, baffling the skill of the best physicians in Emporium, Williamsport and Philadelphia, having but recently returned from a second visit to the Methodist Hospital, and rapidly grew worse, until this morning, when she peacefully passed to her reward. During her long and painful illness everything that money and skill could command was lovingly and patiently procured.

Deceased was born at Towanda, Pa., and located in Emporium in 1869; on Dec. 16th 1886, she was married to Hon. B. W. Green.

In addition to the bereaved husband and niece, Miss Alice Montgomery Green, (legally adopted daughter of both Mr. and Mrs. Green), who has made her home with them since childhood; Mrs. Lizzie Conley, Antrim, Pa., Miss Ellen Lynch, Towanda, and one brother, Mr. James Lynch, of Towanda, Pa., are left to mourn her death—the sisters being at the bedside when her spirit took its flight to a better world.

The grim monster, death, has invaded many homes in Emporium during the past few months and called many of our neighbors and friends, but in no instance will the vacancy be more regretted than in the home of our friends and neighbors. "Aunt Mattie," who always had a cheerful word for her friends, leaves a void in that pleasant home and family, the church and the community, long to be revered. Would that time would permit of a more extended obituary, but that is impossible at this late hour.

Always of a domestic nature and never given much to society, yet she delighted to entertain her friends and neighbors. Being a model wife and excellent entertainer it was very many social functions that were given at their comfortable residence on Sixth street, many of those pleasant occasions it having been our honor to attend, as the guest of Judge Green and wife. Mrs. Green, who was well known to a majority of the citizens of this county, was always liberal to a fault and was ever ready to aid and assist the needy and afflicted, aiding all churches and societies when called upon. Respected by all, the death of this lady is deeply regretted and the afflicted husband and niece, who patiently ministered to her every want during the long ordeal of illness, have the profound sympathy of our citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Green were confirmed as members of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, on October 21, 1888, by the Rev. Rev. Cortland Whitehead, Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, assisted by the then Rector, Rev. F. W. White; the deceased being very punctual and faithful in the discharge of her vows; ever ready and willing to assist in the church work, as a member of the Ladies Sewing Society, or any duty that would further the good work. She will be missed in more ways than one—in the home, the church and by our citizens generally.

The funeral will be held from the family residence Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, the religious services to be conducted by the Rev. M. L. Tate, Rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Taking on New Life.

William H. Logue, of Huntley, was in Emporium last Saturday attending to business. Mr. Logue informed us editor that Huntley will take on new life in the very near future. Phillips & Co., will erect a saw mill for the manufacture of the timber on the Logue tracts. Also another firm are negotiating for site for a pulp manufactory. Good for Huntley.

Variety Shower.

Last Thursday evening, the members of the Girl's Sewing Club, held a variety shower, at the home of Misses "Budd" and "Doll" Hogan. The shower was given in honor of Miss Lena Coyle, who will become the bride of Mr. Edward Foster, in the near future. Miss Coyle was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts. She has resigned her position in the department store of Mr. K. Kuehne, last Saturday being her last day in the store. Miss Dorothy Nelson has accepted the vacancy in the store.

REV. M. L. TATE, M. A., RECTOR

On Tuesday evening, the ladies of Emmanuel Episcopal Parish, gave a reception at the Parish House, to the in honor of new Rector, the Rev. M. L. Tate. About one hundred persons were present. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the Church, assisted by several young ladies and gentlemen. The reception was attended by many friends of the several other denominations.

WEDNESDAY'S SERVICES.

The services on Wednesday were begun by a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at seven o'clock, a. m., with the Ven. Reginald S. Radcliffe, Archdeacon of Erie and Rector of Grace Church at Ridgway, as Celebrant. The main service of the day started at ten o'clock, a. m. The procession formed at the Parish House and was composed of a choir of eighteen voices, the Rev. Mr. VanDyke, Rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, at Smethport, the Rev. Mr. Henry Mitchell, Rector of St. Agnes Episcopal Church, at St. Marys, the Rev. Dr. Jones, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at Erie, Rev. M. L. Tate accompanied by the Hon. Josiah Howard and H. H. Mullin, and the Ven. R. S. Radcliffe, Archdeacon of Erie. The procedural hymn was "Rejoice Ye Pure in Heart." Rev. Mr. VanDyke conducted the office of Morning Prayer and the Rev. Mr. Mitchell read the lessons. After the office of Morning Prayer was said, the office of Institution of the Rev. Martin Luther Tate, M. A., was commenced. The Archdeacon made the opening remarks and prayers, which were followed by a letter of Institution, signed and sealed by the Rt. Rev. Cortland Whitehead, Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, empowering the Archdeacon to hold the Institution, was read by the Hon. Josiah Howard, The Hon. H. H. Mullin, acting in the absence of Hon. B. W. Green, as Senior Warden, of the Parish, presented the keys of the Parish to Rev. Tate and they were accepted by him. Rev. Tate was then received into the Chancel by the Archdeacon, who in turn presented him with the books of the Church, after which he pronounced his benediction. Rev. Dr. Jones was the preacher of the day and preached a very able sermon, taking as his text, Phil. 2:18, which reads "Holding Forth of the Word of Life." A short sketch of the sermon which he delivered to the newly instituted Rector is as follows: "My Brother, the Rev. Martin Luther Tate, M. A., we welcome you into the pastoral relation in the Parish of Godly people. We are more than glad that you have come at this time when we are on the eve of erecting a new Diocese. I have felt that as 'Holding Forth of the Word of Life' has been encouraged and blessed with a large, beautiful and prayerful ministry in this place. So shall it be in your hands. Emporium will always rank high in the appreciation of us all, not only for its personal worth, but because of the indomitable spirit and faithful purpose and toil. We want for this proposed new diocese, a Bishop who is essentially one who over this work and this people, one who can be at home with the humblest as well as the most polished members of society—a countryman and a citizen—a man in every whit a man—a true Christian gentleman. When you and I, and your people and my people, because they are the people of God, will be blessed both in time and eternity through the 'Holding Forth of the Word of Life.' During the receiving of the offertory, the Choir rendered an anthem 'Oh How Amiable are Thy Dwellings.' This was followed by the celebration of the Holy Eucharist, the Rev. Martin Luther Tate, M. A., being the Celebrant, assisted by the visiting priests and the Archdeacon. The recessional hymn was 'Onward Ever Onward.' Mrs. E. Mead Floyd presided at the organ during these services and Mr. W. S. Storer was the music director. Following were the members of the Choir: Mrs. M. L. App, of Port Allegany, Miss Hazel Floyd, Olean, N. Y., Misses Carolyn Moore, Ina Hopple, Margaret Crandell, Jennie Craven, Minnie Bargeult, Ethel Fisher, Elizabeth Crandell, Belle Campbell, Mable Foster, Elizabeth Ludlam, Mrs. Guy S. Felt and Messrs. Geo. A. Walker, Charles E. Leutz, Robert Kaye and Arthur R. Catlin. The Church was very tastefully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. All the services were very largely attended.

Cameron County Lady Farmer.

Miss Margaret S. Farley, of Mason Hill, came to Emporium on Saturday to transact business and while in town made our sanctum a social and business visit, renewing her PRESS well into 1911. Miss Farley, who was a professional nurse and graduate from one of Pennsylvania's foremost institutions, gave up her chosen profession to assist her father, our old friend and stalwart Republican, Jos. Farley, with his farm. Upon the death of her father she continued to reside on the farm and has successfully conducted the farm to the present time, contented and happy. There is no more economical and successful farmer in Cameron county than this excellent lady.

United Irish League.

Chas. L. Butler, proprietor of Commercial Hotel at this place, accompanied by the silver tongued orator, Mr. P. B. McNulty, of Ridgway, are attending the great meeting of the United Irish League at Buffalo this week both being enthusiastic members. Buffalo, is bedecked in grand style in honor of the occasion and is without a doubt the greenest city in the world to-day. Not a yard of yellow ribbon is in sight in Buffalo, even the ladies are wearing green sash ribbon.

Opera House.

John T. Howard has placed a new $400 piano in the opera house and we are glad to note, manifests a disposition to either fit up that place of amusement, or dispose of the same to parties who will do so. Emporium certainly deserves a more modern and up-to-date theatre, in keeping with the rapid advancement of our town, conceded to be one of the best show towns in this section. We certainly hope Mr. Howard will seriously consider this matter and give the amusement loving public what we greatly need.

Popular Clergyman.

The Venerable Archdeacon Radcliffe, of Ridgway, who is a great favorite with all who know him, was a very welcome PRESS visitor yesterday. The Rev. gentleman conducted the installation services at Emmanuel Church yesterday morning, assisted by other Priests.

Monument Dedication.

Over 20,000 old Vets and their wives assembled on the Gettysburg battlefield on Monday to witness the unveiling of the monument erected by the State of Pennsylvania, at a cost of $175,000. Congressman Barclay and Capt. J. C. Johnson witnessed the ceremony. It was a beautiful sight. We wish every reader of the PRESS could visit this battlefield. Capt. Barclay and Capt. Johnson were captured on this field and passed several months in the rebel pens.

New York Republicans.

The Old Guard and ex-President Theodore Roosevelt crossed bats in New York Republican Convention. Roosevelt was elected temporary president, defeating Vice President Sherman by 101 votes. We reserve our opinion of the fight.

Passing of the Once Despised Hemlock.

Justice of the Peace W. E. Barr, of Hicks Run, was an agreeable PRESS visitor on Monday. Squire Barr says many of the young men have left that place for western points, on account of the DuBois mill being reduced to day trick only.

The DuBois Express, published at Mr. DuBois' home, says:

For several years the big saw mill of J. E. DuBois at Hicks Run was run both night and day, turning out the finished lumber at a fast slip, but about three weeks ago the night shift was taken off, so that the mill is turning out just about half the aggregate product at the present time. Although the big operation has been eating up the trees at a rapid pace, it is stated that there is still sufficient timber to keep the mill running for the next two years steadily. When this tract of timber is finished up, it will mean that the last big section in this neighborhood has been sawed, there remaining for consumption the Goodyear tracts and the Central Lumber company tracts, both of which will be finished in short order. The nearest big tract is the Goodyear holdings on Potato Creek.

When the operation at Hicks Run is finished up the entire equipment together with the working force, will probably be moved to the Pacific coast, where Mr. DuBois has extensive holdings, he being rated as the largest individual holder of timber in the United States. It is not likely that the holdings on the western slope will be extensively worked until after the opening of the Panama canal when the eastern markets will be of easy access by boat, thus cutting down traffic charges.

Public Orchard Meetings.

Results of the year's work to be studied in the State Model Orchards.

There will be a public meeting in the orchard of F. X. Blumie, near Emporium, on Thursday, Oct. 6th, 1910, for the purpose of showing the benefits resulting from improved methods in use in the Model Orchards conducted under the co-operation of the Division of Zoology of the State Department of Agriculture.

This is one of a series of Fall Meetings held throughout the State at this season. At these meetings treated trees will be compared with those not treated, and sprayed fruit shown beside unsprayed grown under the same conditions.

Lectures will be delivered by experts from the Department, and an opportunity given for asking questions. Determinations of specimens will be made, and growers are invited to bring twigs of diseased or infested trees for identification.

The Model Orchard Movement was inaugurated several years ago by Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist, for the purpose of familiarizing the farmer and fruit grower with the best practical measures available for the control of destructive pests, and in order to show how well these operations have succeeded meetings are held in the orchards where both fruits and trees can be examined by all who attend.

The session begins at one o'clock, P. M. The State's representatives will be presents rain or shine.

Making Good.

Claude E. Rantz, former y of this place, is making good as a mechanical draftsman and has secured a good position with the Pittsburg Valve, Foundry and Construction Company, at that place. Claude will also take instruction in the night classes at the Carnegie Technical School, this being the beginning of his third term at the school. He has been employed in the offices of the West Penn Railways Company at Connellsville, Pa., during the summer months and had a flattering offer to remain with the company. Claude is bound to make good and we wish him all kinds of success. He keeps posted on the doings of his Emporium friends by reading the PRESS every week.

"Billy, the Kid."

The popular Western Melodrama, "Billy, the Kid," which will be the next attraction at the Opera House has been seen several times during the past seasons in New York and is said to have proven eminently satisfactory to the melodramatic audiences who have seen it. The plot of the story revolves about Billy, whose father has been murdered. Billy takes an oath to avenge his death and in the ensuing complications becomes an outlaw. There is much good comedy introduced to lighten up the more strenuous portions of the plot, and a pretty love story runs through the entire four acts. The scenic settings are unique in the naturalness represented, and the supporting company is highly spoken of. At Opera House next Monday, Oct. 3.

Where Labor Lacks Protection.

Troublesome times for capital and labor have developed in Free Trade England.

Disputes in various branches of industry, which seem to have passed beyond the possibility of settlement by arbitration, threaten to precipitate, very shortly, a lockout that will affect employees of railroads, shipyards, mines and cotton mills to the number of 650,000.

The London Spectator says that this unrest in the industrial world may conceivably be due to the Socialist propaganda which teaches that the employer is the natural enemy of his employees, preaches always the doctrine of discontent, and advocate political action by organized labor. Whatever may be the various causes that combine to produce the disturbed condition, the fact that it exists in a country in which labor has not the benefit of a Protective Tariff stands out conspicuously against the contention of American advocates of Tariff reduction that adoption of their policy would improve the condition of the wage workers.—Albany Journal.

Delightful Entertainment.

A few months ago the church going people of our community were delightfully entertained at the Baptist Church on Sunday evening when the regular service gave way for a special service entitled, "The Pink Rose." The story and music were well rendered and another such service was asked for. Next Sunday evening a similar service, entitled "His Mother's Sermon," will be rendered by the choir. The story is laid in Old Scotland where a young Theologian is called to fill the pulpit of the Free Kirk in Drumtackly. The author of the story, the late "Ian Maclaren" was one of the most eminent platform men of late years and a writer of great ability. We are sure that a large audience will turn for out this service.
