AS EASY AS FALLING OFF A HEMLOCK LOG.

Charles E. Patton Safe

Extensive Employer of Labor Who Never Had a Strike.

FARMER, CONTRACTOR, BUILDER.

Who, With His Ancestors, Has Done Much Towards Developing Pennsylvania's Natural Resources. A Man of Varied Experience and Undisputed Integrity.

The people of this Congressional District, comprising Clearfield, Centre, McKean and Cameron counties, are enthusiastic over the candidacy and dead sure of his election, having only a feeble opposition. The people living therein are substantial business men and farmers who go to the polls each year and vote for the men they believe in. They have long believed in Mr. Patton for he has been among them since his birth, has lived their life and has dealt with them in business. His worst enemy, if he had one sufficiently antagonistic to him to be characterized as "worst" could not even hint that Charles E. Patton was not an upright and honest man. He has the quality that wins admiration from the men who know him, and respect from all those with whom he comes in contact, both in a business way and socially.

While in Emporium last week, with the Republican spellbinders, Mr. Patton met very many acquaintances and made many more. Our county is well satisfied with Mr. Patton as successor to our worthy Congressman, Mr. Barclay, who will, with his friends loyally support Mr. Patton.

Mr. Patton is of a family that was early settlers in Philadelphia and whose men took prominent part in the affairs of the State and Nation. His great-grandfather, General John Patton, came to this country from Ireland, 1765 and settled in Pennsylvania. He was Colonel of the Sixteenth Continental Regiment of Pennsylvania during the Revolutionary War and contributed 2,000 pounds sterling towards the support of the colonial forces. He moved to Centre county in 1789 and in 1791 he built Centre Furnace in partnership with Colonel Miles, the founder of Mifflinburg. He was a Major General of the Pennsylvania Militia at the time of his death in 1804. His son, Captain John Patton, was an officer in the United States Navy up to the time he resigned in 1810. He settled in Centre county and engaged in business at Tussey Furnace. In 1817 he moved to Tioga county, where he became the first Prothonotary of the county. In 1820 he moved to Lawrence Township and died in Curwensville in 1848. His son, General John Patton, the father of the subject of this sketch, was born in Tioga county. In 1852 he was a delegate to the Whig National Convention that nominated General Scott for the Presidency, and in 1860 he was a member of the Convention that made Abraham Lincoln the standard bearer of the Republican Party. In the same year he was elected a Congressman from the Twenty-fourth district and carried Clearfield county, which was then Democratic, two to one. In 1876 he was elected to Congress from the Twentieth District in the face of an adverse majority of 3,000.

Mr. Patton was born in Curwens-ville, where he now resides, July 5, 1859. He received his early education in the common schools of his native place and later attended the Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport. He started business as a dry goods merchant but later he branched out in various lines and won general success in business. He took farming as an avocation and was so successful that he was admitted to the Grange and became one of its most valued speakers. His experiments in farming have been of great importance. Mr. Patton also dealt in coal and lumber, but his greatest business success has been in the engineering and contracting line. He started this business in a small way and it grew apace until now he is one of the largest contractors of his kind in the State. He employs a great many men and it is said of him that he has never had a strike nor a serious dispute with his employees. He is fair to his dealings with the men who work for him and besides being just and fair he takes a very active interest in their general welfare.

Mr. Patton aided largely in the construction and engineering of the West Branch Valley Railroad and has undertaken and carried to completion many other important works.

Mr. Patton is identified with many of the most important business ventures of the community in which he resides. He is prominent in banking circles, a stockholder in the Curwensville Light and Power Company, the Avenue Theatre Company, of DuBois, Pa., and is connected with many other enterprises having to do with the public service.

Mr. Patton has always been an ardent Republican, following the footsteps of his father, who was one of the first members of that party. His election is considered a foregone conclusion.

Has Moved Restaurant.
The White Palace Restaurant, that has been located in the Johnson building, on Broad Street, for the past two years, has moved to the Spring property on Fourth Street. Mr. Anderson, the proprietor, has made many friends in Emporium during his short stay here and has worked up a good trade. The new location is fine and he will conduct an up-to-date eating house. Miss Margaret Kelly, of Coudersport, who conducted the restaurant during the absence of Mr. Anderson through the summer months, is again spending a short time in town, assisting in arranging the new place.

Growing Worse.
Robt. C. Dodson, who has been very sick for several weeks, we regret to learn is worse, his ailment apparently puzzling the physicians.

Arm in Sling.
While untending some vegetables at his home, last Saturday, O. J. Nangle fell from his wagon, fracturing his left wrist. Dr. H. S. Falk placed his arm in splints and now "Oney" is taking a little rest.

Bride and Groom Here.
Mr. and Mrs. James H. McInnes, of Cory, who were married on the 19th, visited in Emporium on Tuesday, guests of Mrs. Helen Taggart and family. We had the pleasure of meeting the happy couple. The bride is a daughter of our old friend Capt. J. F. Austin, Cory's popular postmaster; a very pleasant little lady.

Work to be Pushed.
Mr. E. D. White has returned from a business trip to Pittsburg and Buffalo, on business for the Iron Company. We understand work will be pushed to completion on the Furnace and that the whistle will "toot" ere many weeks. The furnace will be equal to the best in the country and then some.

Good Citizen Leaves.
We regret exceedingly to learn that Mr. C. R. Kline who has for many years been a resident of Beechwood, leaves to-day for Reading, his former home, where he has purchased a property and expects to pass his remaining years. We deeply deplore this fact. Mr. C. R. Kline, an upright, genial gentleman, had so long been identified with our county that his departure will be sorely felt. We understand he has disposed of all interests in this county.

Gone to Binghamton.
Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Loucks, of this place, where Prize visitors yesterday just as they were about to take the flyer for Binghamton, N. Y., where they have purchased a grocery and fruit store. Their sister, Miss Emma, and brother, Mark, Jr., are now at Binghamton in charge of the business until they arrive. Their many Emporium friends with their fondest hopes may be realized.

Best Ever.
The Teacher's Institute is the most successful ever held in Cameron county. Miss Collins has certainly earned the hearty thanks of all, and she has that.

Handsome Team.
William Clark went to Olean, last week, and purchased a handsome team of horses, paying $900 for them.

Whom should we elect this fall?
Hon. Josiah Howard.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

HACKENBERG.
After months of terrible suffering, William Hackenberg passed away this (Wednesday) morning at two o'clock, surrounded by his faithful ones. When stricken he was taken to Buffalo, where painful operations were performed but of no avail. His death is a great loss to our town, where he has for so many years resided and been universally respected.

The family have the sympathy of the Press as well as the entire community. While searching for data to prepare an appropriate obituary for this issue, his pastor Rev. R. H. Bent, kindly handed us the following:
"Wm. Hackenberg was born 22nd April, 1836, at Presburg, Pa. His parents removed to McEwenville when he was a child. Later he went into business with his father at White Pigeon, Mich., coming to the east the family lived at Watsonstown, St. Marys and Drifwood. Mr. Hackenberg came to Emporium, with his wife and daughters, in 1877. He was to live here the remaining years of his life. Here his wife of blessed memory was to die, and here he was to marry the Christian lady that mourns his death to-day.

The life of Mr. Hackenberg is an open book; unassuming, courteous, pure and upright, an ornament to the community, blessing to the home. His daughters call him blessed. The woman he loved weeps for a true lover, and the church of God has lost its officer and efficient helper."

The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at two o'clock, from the family residence on East Fifth Street.

INGRAM.

Another of our old landmarks was tenderly laid away in the Silent City, last Monday afternoon. Mrs. ISABELLA F. INGRAM, aged 69 years, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Wright, at Oil City, last Friday, her remains arriving here on noon flyer, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Wright, Lee Ingram, wife and son, Oil City; Mrs. Belle Averill, (daughter) Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Marie Minard-Pierce, Oil City. The remains were met at Broad Street Station by Rev. J. F. Anderson, pastor of M. E. Church, of which she had so many years been a faithful member, several relatives and a number of friends and taken to the church to await the last and rites at two o'clock.

Although many of the friends of the family were not aware of the death of Mrs. Ingram, there was quite a goodly number of relatives and old neighbors in attendance at the church. Rev. J. F. Anderson, the pastor of the church, where she had attended so many years, spoke words of comfort to the afflicted family. Interment was made in the family plot in Newton Cemetery.

Deceased leaves to mourn her death in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright, of Oil City, (with whom she made her home for many years) one daughter and one son, and three sisters, the latter being Mrs. Lucretia Lockwood, Mrs. Amanda Wright, and Mrs. Matilda Newton, all of whom were in attendance at the funeral. Her husband, Capt. Jas. W. Ingram died a number of years ago. About one year ago, Mrs. Ingram had a stroke of paralysis but seemed to recover to a certain extent, yet when she visited here last she expressed a fear that she would be the next member of the family to answer the call. Born in Rich Valley and having resided here all her life until she moved to other places with her children, she had many friends who will be pained to learn of her death. We knew her since boyhood, and remember her as a bright, jolly pleasant lady, ever ready to assist and aid the sick and afflicted. The Press extends its sympathy to the bereaved one.

O'MALLEY.

Last Monday morning, a one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter O'Malley, of East Fifth St., was buried from St. Mark's Church. This family has been sorely afflicted—first their home was destroyed by fire, now they lose their youngest child. Troubles never come singly.

The Champion Cook.

W. Murrell Swartz, after a nice visit at his comfortable residence, West Allegheny Avenue, has returned to Lumber City, where he is head cook at the big lumber camp of Mr. Lyons on Potato Creek. His good wife has made so many improvements during his absence in camp that Mr. Swartz disliked to return to the woods, when he thought of the howling cold nights and then of his cozy home. Our genial good friend, whom we are pleased to meet, passed an hour at our sanctum when we were here last. His good cheer does a fellow good.

Pleasant Visitors.

Dr. Oasian Lang, of New York, accompanied by Mr. R. Kuehne, our enterprising merchant, were Press callers on Tuesday. Dr. Lang is guest of Mr. K. Kuehne and family while he is in Emporium, being among the Institute instructors. His able addresses delivered at each session are full of meat for thought and please his audience. The Dr. is one of the most practical Institute workers in the country.

Will Take Bride.

Mr. Pompey Scott, one of Emporium's industrious colored boys, will next Monday take unto himself a wife in the person of Miss Anna Woodson, at Kane. The bridal party will arrive in Emporium on Monday when a reception will be given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scott, at their residence West Fifth street.

Glorious Record! 1860--Lincoln to Taft--1910.

LINCOLN I don't know much about the tariff, but I know this much: When we buy manufactured goods abroad we get the goods and the foreigner gets the money. When we buy the manufactured goods at home we get both the goods and the money. The American system of locating manufacturing next to the plow and the pasture has produced a result noticeable by the intelligent GRANT portion of all commercial nations. The more work there is to do in this country the higher the wages that will be paid for doing it. That policy which secures the largest amount of work to be done at home is the policy which will secure to our laboring men steady employment at the best wages. The Republican Party stands for honest money and the M'KINLEY chance to earn it by honest toil. Protection has vindicated itself. It cannot be helped by eulogy or hurt by defamations; it has worked its own demonstration and it presents in the sight of the world its matchless trophies.

ROOSEVELT This country has and this country needs better paid, better educated, better fed and better clothed workmen, of a higher type than are to be found in any foreign country. It has and it needs a higher, more vigorous and more prosperous type of tillers of the soil than is possessed by any other country.

The present business system of the country rests on the protective TAFT tariff and any attempt to change it to a Free Trade basis will certainly lead to disaster. It is important that all Republicans who believe in the party principles as declared in the national platform of 1896 should give the candidates loyal and effective support. If this is done there will be no doubt of a Republican majority. The only alternative is a Democratic victory.

Gov. Stuart Heartily Endorses Tener, Tener Enters Suit Against His Traducer

TENER WORTHY TO WIN, SAYS GOV. STUART

Audience Cheers When the Chief Executive Indorses Nominee at Harrisburg.

HAS FAITH IN HIM

Knows the Man and Approves Him in Introducing Him at a Large Meeting.

MURPHY ANSWERS OPPOSITION

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 24.—

Gov. Edwin Stuart to-night wrote his O. K. on the gubernatorial candidacy of John K. Tener. He did it before a great audience that packed the Dauphin county court room and overflowed into the streets. His utterances were received with tumultuous applause. A mighty cheer went up as he took the next governor by the hand and presented him to the applauding hundreds. The speech was brief, but to the point. Here it is: "I appreciate as a very great honor the privilege of presiding over this meeting to-night in the city of Harrisburg. I came here four years ago and when I return to my home which will be very shortly, the most pleasant recollections I will carry with me of my stay in Harrisburg will be the kindness of all the people and their kindness to me while I have been a resident among you.

TENER UNDER NO OBLIGATIONS.

I am here to-night as a Republican in favor of the candidates of the Republican party. We have our nominee for Congress in this district here to-night and that is one of the many important things in the campaign; but I am here to-night to preside and introduce to you, among the other candidates, the candidate of the Republican party for governor of the state of Pennsylvania.

I had to-day a very frank and manly talk with the candidate and he assures me that he understands thoroughly the responsibilities of the great office for which he is a candidate and if he is elected to that office his only ambition will be to give an honorable administration in the interest and for the benefit of all the people of Pennsylvania.

He assures me that there are no other obligations to ask him or to make him do anything else—and the one thing he desires and the one thing he will do, is that on every question coming before him for his approval or action, he will use his judgement and be guided by what he thinks is for the best benefit of Pennsylvania and her people.

WILL DO WHAT HE PROMISES.

I am very glad to say that four years ago he was a very loyal friend and supporter of myself in that celebrated campaign and I take great pleasure in introducing to you the man who is the candidate of the Republican party and the man who I am satisfied will do what he promises you he will do if elected to that high and honorable office. I say that with all sincerity, and I now take great pleasure in introducing to you the honorable John K. Tener, the candidate of the Republican party for governor of Pennsylvania."

When Gov. Stuart to-day read the manly statement of Mr. Tener in answer to his traducers, like thousands of other men throughout the commonwealth, he was satisfied that the Republican nominee has nothing to be ashamed of, nothing for which he need apologize. This morning the executive was one of the first men to call at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia to congratulate Mr. Tener. They talked for over an hour. At the close of the conversation, Gov. Stuart let it be known that he would to-night preside over the Harrisburg meeting and speak for the whole ticket. On Friday night he will make an address in Philadelphia from the same platform with Mr. Tener.

TENER'S STATEMENT HAS GOOD EFFECT.

The Tener statement is what the people wanted. They had a right to receive a specific denial of the charges. To-night every fair-minded man is satisfied. Any doubts he may have entertained have vanished, and he is jubilant and determined to vote and work for the Republican ticket. This knowledge could be gleaned to-day on the streets of Philadelphia and Harrisburg. The only topic of conversation was the Tener statement. It met every expectation. From now until November 8, it will be but a question of majority.

Harrisburg has witnessed some big political demonstrations, but it never saw a larger campaign opening than the one to-night.

What our county needs is a larger variety of industries, so that laboring men may have a better chance to develop themselves. Vote for Hon. Josiah Howard, who is progressive, honest and capable and is helping to establish steady pay-rolls for men, women and young ladies.

Father Preacher a Missionary.

Rev. Father Meagher, Rector of St. Leo's Roman Catholic Church at Ridgeway, formerly Rector of St. Mark's Church at this place, was this (Thursday) morning, during the celebration of High Mass, made a Missionary. The Rev. gentleman has many friends in Emporium and is very popular. Rev. Father T. R. Dawson, of this place, is in attendance at the ceremony. About eighty visiting priests and the bishop of the Diocese assisted in the services.

Who thinks regular pay rolls help a county?

Hon. Josiah Howard.

"Ozone a Form of Oxygen."

Recently I added, at considerable expense, to my office equipment an apparatus for the generation of electricity and the administration of ozone. As is well known, oxygen is the life-giving principle, without which we could not exist beyond a few moments. It is the "chief nourisher of life's feast." The air is composed of two parts oxygen and one part nitrogen and is a comparatively stable compound. Ozone has three parts oxygen and one part nitrogen and is unstable,—the extra part of oxygen ever reaching out to form a new affinity. Consequently when ozone is inhaled this extra element of oxygen enters the blood stream and combines with whatever non-oxidized material is in the system. It thus revitalizes the entire human organism. Ozone, in its pure state, is too irritating for direct inhalation. In order to overcome this it is passed through a light volatile oil of the pinus group, such as contain pine, cypress, camphene, eucalyptol, etc., forming a new compound variously designated by different authors as "Oxoline," "Oxyoline," "Terpene Peroxide" and "Terpoxidized Oxygen," and which constitute an exceptionally agreeable and effective inhalant. Only an infinitesimal part of the extra oxygen element is consumed by this combination, the rest is left free in its non-irritating condition to enter blood stream. This is the modern treatment in all suitable cases of blood and nervous disease, where there is sub-oxidation or low vitality, and particularly in all chronic lung diseases and affections of the air passages.
