

DEFERRED NEWS ITEMS.

It is intimated that the head of the Radical tariff business, Congressman Morrill, has come back from Europe a free-trader. Two St. Louis Radical war preachers lately went to see the Black Crook, (to get a good tax, of course,) but they acted so strangely that the police arrested them. A barrel of new cider in a state of fermentation exploded in a store in Paris, Ill., the other day, knocking one man eight or ten feet, bursting the barrel into fragments, and scattering the contents in every direction. A new feature is about to be introduced in New York journalism. It is to be a critique of all the clergymen of any note in the metropolis. Their matter and manner are to be as coldly and impartially judged as they would be were they actors. A terrapin was found in Chesterfield County, Va., a few days ago, with the inscription "1775—W. W." upon his shell. After submitting to a rigid inspection from his finder, the venerable animal walked away with the slow step of age, and has since been a constant source of pain. On Tuesday night, after annoying the girl three years, the button came out of her nostril, greatly to the relief of the girl and her parents, who had doubted about its being there. A Richmond paper speaks of a girl thirteen years old who committed fifteen hundred consecutive verses of the New Testament in one week, wearied out several teachers in reciting her lesson, and had brain fever next day. The Hartford Times says that a girl of sixteen is dying in that city from the effects of a disease caused by over study at school. And the Boston Traveller notices the case of a young lady who recently died in a suburban town, and her physician says that her death was undoubtedly caused by hard study. A hotel keeper at Lancaster, Pa., recently learned something in this wise: Two countrymen took lodgings at his place, and fared sumptuously, drinking three bottles of wine daily. The last day, and before they had settled their bill, a dispute arose about the speed of their horses. They at last settled upon a race, and appointed the landlord judge. When they were ready, the judge, like those of the Olympian games, gave the word—one, two, three, and go. Away they went, and have neither been seen or heard of since.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

A SPECIFIC.—The medical profession are generally severe on specifics, yet sometimes recommend them. The London Scalpel, the highest medical authority in the world, gives the following as an infallible cure for small pox and scarlet fever: Sulphate of zinc, one grain; foxglove (digitalis), one grain; half a teaspoonful of water. Take a spoonful every hour. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child smaller doses, according to age. It is stated that if countries will compel their doctors to use this there would be no need of pest houses. To EXTERMINATE RATS.—We find the following going the rounds of our exchanges: "Take a bunch of matches and soak them over night in a teacupful of water; then take out the matches and thicken the water with Indian meal to a thick dough, adding a spoonful of sugar and a little lard. Lay about the premises where the rats are and nothing else will get it. It is decidedly the best exterminator known." Give it a trial. REMEDY FOR EAR-ACHE.—My wife was once suffering intense pain from ear-ache caused by a tumor inside, and after our remedies all failed to give relief I called in a neighbor, who poured vinegar upon a hot brick, and with a funnel conducted the steam into the ear. Relief was quick and permanent. A REMEDY FOR TOOTHACHE.—One drachm of alum reduced to an impalpable powder, three drachms of nitrous spirit or ether; mix, and apply to the tooth on cotton.
