

Cambria Freeman

EBENSBURG, PA. SATURDAY MORNING, : JUNE 17, 1871.

Democratic State Nominations.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: GENERAL WILLIAM M'CANDESS, OF Philadelphia.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL: CAPTAIN JAMES H. COOPER, OF Lawrence County.

In another column of our paper will be found an act of Assembly, passed by the last Legislature for the regulation of boroughs.

Last week two of the Commissioners of Allegheny county, Neely, Republican, and McGee, Democrat, who were indicted for accepting bribes in granting tavern licenses, pleaded guilty and were sentenced by the court to pay a fine of two thousand dollars and to undergo an imprisonment in the county workhouse for one year.

Mr. H. Rose, Esq., our representative at Harrisburg, was in town last week attending court. We paid close attention to Mr. Rose's course in the legislature during the late session and found nothing in it which did not meet our approval.

At the election in New Hampshire, which took place last March, there was no election of Governor by the people, and therefore, under a provision of the constitution of the State, the election of that officer devolved upon the legislature.

CALL FOR A LABOR CONVENTION.—We cheerfully give place to the following call for a convention of the workmen of this State, and trust that the movement, should it prove worthy of it, as we have no doubt it will, may be a complete success.

IRKING THE LABOR UNION, NO—DANVILLE, PA., May 15, 1871.—To All Trade Unions. Believing the time has come to effect a thorough organization of the workmen of Pennsylvania, under the platform of the National Labor Union, has arrived, by the power vested in me by R. F. Trevelick, President of the National Labor Union of the United States, authorizing and directing me to call together without delay delegates from all trades unions or labor associations throughout this state.

Sherman and the Presidency. The following letter coming from a true and tried soldier like Sherman, is directly to the question and fairly hits the mark.

It is something as new as it is remarkable, in the political movements of the country, to see so distinguished a man as Sherman thus deliberately but firmly putting aside all attempts to induce him to become a candidate for the Presidency.

PORT SILL, COMANCHE RESERVATION, May 25, 1871. To the Editor of the Herald—I have been skirting the Texas frontier for the past month, and here for the first time I meet files of Eastern papers, by which I see quite an unnecessary fuss has been raised by a purported speech made by me at a supper of the Union League Club of New Orleans the night preceding my departure from that city.

scorn not to understand me, I hereby state, and mean all that I say that I never have been and never will be a candidate for President; and if nominated by either party, I should peremptorily decline, and even if unanimously elected, I should decline to serve.

Jefferson Davis.

The radical press has been thrown into a high fever of loyalty in consequence of certain utterances of Jefferson Davis, contained in a speech which he lately delivered at Atlanta, Georgia.

It is a well known fact that, as President of the southern confederacy, Jefferson Davis was unpopular with his own people. His administration was weak and unsatisfactory, and utterly failed to impress the Southern mind with any strong belief in his capacity as a leader.

Radicalism, just now, is sorely in need of a war cry. Its old shibboleths of "traitor," "copperhead," and "sympathizer with rebellion," having had their day and fallen into contempt, something else must be substituted to answer if possible the same purpose.

THE SACRILEGIOUS OUTRAGES IN PARIS.—Detail through the correspondence, one of the horrible doings of the revolutionists in Paris during the reign of the Commune.

THROWN INTO THE AIR BY A FAST LINE.—On Saturday morning last, between six and seven o'clock, a train was passing Marysville station, the fast line east came dashing along and struck the wagon, breaking it into innumerable fragments and sending one of the occupants, a boy named Isaac Metz, aged about ten years, into the air about twenty-five feet, and hurling him a distance of fifty feet from the spot where the collision occurred.

HORACE GREELY denies emphatically that he ever wrote to a man in Missouri that he must feed his cow on Rhode Island greenings, if he would have in the cream a large amount of apple butter.

Political and News Items.

Members of the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1855 were not extravagantly fixed up nor lived as scrupulously as those of 1871, as will be seen by the following resolution passed in the former year.

Some girls never will learn to restrain the natural impulses of their nature. A minister was baptizing a girl at Ripon, Wisconsin and when he had submerged her, and came out of the water, he asked her how she felt in her mind.

A man recently died in Indiana from a wound received at the battle of Queenstons, Indiana, in 1812. An ounce musket ball which had remained imbedded in the bones of his face over fifty-eight years ulcerated its way into his mouth and was spit out.

An official notice, issued to ladies, prompted more attention to a higher style of dress at Queen Victoria's recent drawing room reception. The note read: "The Lord Chamberlain has been commanded to give notice that the high square-cut gowns which have lately been occasionally worn by ladies attending Her Majesty's courts and drawing rooms can not be admitted on these occasions."

A Chicago man bets with a human being from somewhere else that he can stand an egg "right on the floor and you can't break it with a half bushel measure." The bet is taken, and the fiend in human shape puts the egg precisely in the corner, and if you wish to know how it is yourself, you would do well to try the experiment.

Mr. John Satterfield, of Easton, Md., has a cow—a grade—half Alderney and half Ayrshire, ten years old this summer, and has at her side now her tenth calf, having had three calves in the last eleven months all living and doing well.

The Ravenshoe (Ohio) Democrat puts on record the following style of butter making: "A few days since, Mrs. Mary M. Hughes put about a quart of cream in a cloth bag, and buried it about two feet deep in the earth where it remained three days, when she discovered it, and found it transformed into pure, sweet, yellow butter, with not a drop of buttermilk to be seen."

The Buffalo paper prints the following letter from one of its old and prompt paying patrons: "Please discontinue my paper from the time I have paid up to it. I do not stop the paper because I do not want it, but to get rid of an intolerable old bore that intrudes himself in my house, regardless of time or circumstances, to sit for an hour or two, three or four times a week, to read my papers, and who is a thousand times more able to take a dozen papers for himself than I am to take one. If the nuisance is stopped I shall send for the paper again."

Next to the carpet-bagger the negro plagues are the most abhorred of things at the South. One came into Marietta, Ga., the other day, beating drums and blowing horns, and marched to the grove, where they fiddled, danced, drank whiskey, and fought nobly the livelong summer's day.

Judge Chase, according to a correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, "approves the platform recently adopted by the Conventions in South Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, except the financial feature of the Ohio platform, which, he thinks, might well have been omitted; first, because it was unnecessary to provoke discussion on that subject; and second, because it creates a misapprehension as to the relative interests of capital and labor."

Most ingenious invention is in practical use at Ford's new opera house, on Fayette street, near Eutaw, raising bricks and mortar to the upper stories. It is in the form of the endless iron ladder, made with links revolving around cylinders above and below, worked by a crank and cog-wheels.

Mines in this State, having but one shaft, are not allowed, by the law of 1870, to employ more than twenty persons. This is to insure their safety against accidents.

A SEA OF ALLIGATORS.—A Steamer stopped by the Monsters.—Several Negroes Drowned.—A gentleman who has been stopping in our midst for some time gives an account of one of the most terrible scenes recorded in the annals of this country.

THE NEW DEPARTURE.—The New York Herald dashed at the situation in the following style: "The Pennsylvania Democracy have entered the field for the fall campaign with drums beating and colors flying."
