-Joseph Pattia, of Benscreek, who got a "skate" on Monday and paid a $10 line Tuesday, left the same day for New York. He celebrated his arrival there with a dounk, and when he "came to" he was penniless. He had started to visit his old home in Italy, but thirst for stimulants was so costly that he had to postpoue his visit. He arrived in Altoona on Pacific yesterday morning. He will go back to Benscreek again and dig coal -Altoona | Adams, $.026.

-The persistent rumor that the Pennsylvania Railroad company intends to abolish the Harrisburg or Middle division of the road, and make Lewistown the only terminal point between Pittsburg and Philadelphia, is officially denied. Altoona and Harrisburg are natural terminal points and always will be. The rumor has caused much uneasiness in Altoona and Harrisburg. How it originated is not known. but the railroad officials are not responsi-

-A dispatch from Bremen, Ind., says: 'A man was found in a freight car here on Saturday morning in a dying condition. He gave the name of August Wenzel, and said he was from Altoona, Pa. He said he had boarded the train at Altoona to go to Pittsburg. He was imprisoned in the car, and for seventy hoursuffered the tortures of hunger and thirst His condition is such that recovery is improbable. Friends in Altoona have been advised of his condition."

-John Fennin, aged 74 years was struck by Main L ne Express at Packsaddle Saturday foremoon while the train was run ning at the rate of 50 miles an hour, says the Greensburg Tribune. He was hurled in the ditch, but strange to say was not injured, and when the trainmen ran back be was brushing the dust off his clothes and corsing in no mild manner. He was taken to Bolivar where he got off and $1. cursed the trainmen for hauling him back over the route he had just traveled. The old man's miraculous escape from injury is without parallel in railroading.

-Charles Hoyer, a respected German resident, of Altoona, became demented on Sunday and tried to commit suicide by hanging himself at his home. The rope broke, and, angered at his plans being frustrated, he procured an ugiy knife and drave his wife and family out of the house, avowing he would kill them. Kind friends harbored them until they were safe. Heyer terrorized the neighborhood by his actions. The police were notified and arrestel him. Hoyer has been brooding lately over the fact that he has very little work and that is supposed to have made

- Dwight Wilson, formerly of Aurora, N. Y died from the effects of a gunshot wound late Saturday night, near DuBois, Bearfield county, and there is a suspicion that he was murdered. Two weeks ago Wilson made his home with a man and the new grange hall near D. Fultz's, in woman at Rathmel, near DuBois. Saturday night the three were at Reynoldsville, a physician was called to attend Wilson, of Ebensburg, delivered an address to the and found him lying in front of the house assemblage. His subject was emoluments the chest. He was taken to his with a bullet hole in his head and a gun of county and state officers and the manby his side. The couple declare that he has in which he served than had shot himself. An inquest is being pisure of the large fees they receive out of -A terrific storm, which develoyed north of Huntingdon, Pa., swept through the people present. That his address was ap Juniata Valley Monday evening, doing immense destruction to outstanding crops and property. The fall force of the storm centered at Mount Union, twelve miles east of Huntingdon, where the East Broad Pop ratiroad company's engine house was demalished and the borough, brick, school house building was partially blown down Orchards, were leveled and the growing oats and corn ruined in many localities West of Huntingdon the telegraph and teleph me lines were blown down, suspendng all communication.

-The thirty two suits against Duncan. Spangler and the Nicholsons, at Hastings, o recover pay for coal taken from the men by the "lifth car" system, were heard before 'Squire Anna, at Hastings, on Saturday. Each man has sued for about $10 F. A. Shoemaker, Esq. of Ebensburg, represented the miners, and Mr. Zeigler, of Phillipsburg, the operators. The latter made no defence whatever, but refused to produce their books, and Justice Anna reerved his decision. The men then instituted new suits to recover coal dog from the 1st to the 15th of July. These are of the same nature as those which were heard

-Good lemonade, says an experienced writer, is one of the most perfect drin s ever devised. I can hardly understand why it is not in daily use in place of tea or soffee and why it does not drive out every dind of alcholic drink. Perfect lemonade s made as follows: For a quart take the pice of three lemons, using the rind of one of them. Carefully peel the rind very thin, getting just the yellow outside; cut this into pieces and put the juice and powdered sugar, of which use two ounces to the quart, in a jug or jar with a cover. When the water is just at the boiling, pour t over the lemon and sugar, cover at once, and let it get co'd. Try this way once and see if it is not delicious.

Post Office Robbed.

A burglary without a parallel in the criminal annals of Blair county, was committed at an early hour on Tuesday morning. when the Hollidaysburg postoflice was entered by three masked men. Postmaster Gibson Barr, who was sleeping on a cot beside the government safe, was gagged, choked and beaten with clubs. The rob pers tortured the official in order to get him to open the safe. Failing in this, they employed dynamite to blow the safe door

They took alarm at the approach of the light watchman and fled, leaving behind a tin box under the postmaster's cot, containing $1,300 in government bonds. The outrage moved the Hollidaysburg ouncil on Tuesday morning to offer $500 reward for the perpetrators of the crime. The government has a standing reward of Robbery at Barnesboro. About 3 o'clock on Thursday morning the postoffice at Barnesboro was entered by turglars who blew open the safe and secured in money and stamps about $111 The threves gained an entrance to the postmaster's residence which is in the same building and in the rear of the office through a back window. After getting in to the house they proceeded through to the office, fastening the doors behind them an opened the front door of the office. They then drilled the safe and blew it open with powder. The postmaster was awakened by the explosion and rushed down stairs but in trying to get to the office found the doors locked. By the time he had got on of the house and around to the front the robbers had gathered up their booty and fled. There had been several suspicious characters lurking around the vicinity and it may be possible that they are the guilty

Ontrage in Monster.

On Friday night, about 9 o'clock, four masked men, all wearing black cloths over their faces, visited the farm house of Messrs, Philip and John Dever, in Munster township, and after demanding money and being refused, seized and bound the two brothers as well as their nephew, James W. Dever, of Altoona, who was here on a visit.

Phillip Dever is 78 years of age and his brother, John is 61. Philip is helpless, having had a paralytic stroke several years ago and since that time has had no use of his lower limbs. John is a well preserved man for his years, and the nephew, James W., is about 30 years of

The other three went to the next room where John and James were sleeping. John grappelled with the first to enter but was soon overpowered and he and his nephew were brought out into the room with Philip. There another demand for their money ook place, the Devers contending that they had none while the robbers wanted to the money for their coal right and that it would not be due until October. They then tied Philip to the bed where he was lying and seizing John, bound his hands and feet and tied him to a stove, They then bound the hands and feet of James W., and after placing a gag in his mouth and blindfolding his eyes, pushed him back on the bed with Philip, with his back on the bed and his feet on the floor in which position they securely tied him. While lying on the bed James made some effort to free himself, when one of the nen struck him in the face with a revolver, knocking out several of his teeth, cuting the jaw bone. They then proceeded leisurely to ransack the house, visiting every part of it from the cellar to the garret, emptying out drawers, bureaus, cupboards and in fact turning over everything that would be a likely place to conceal money. They were unsuccessful, however, in finding anything except two silver watches belonging to the two elder men and their two pocketbooks which contained only a small amount of cing an ugly gash in his face and shatter-

One of the men then took a small stick and lighting the end of it held it under Philip's feet until they were blistered, but the old man still insisted that he had no money. They then took a lighted candle and bolding it under John's arm; burned it until it was in blisters, causing him to cry out with agony and pain. To stifle his cries they stuck rags in his mouth, and held candles to different portions of his body but without learning the whereabouts of any money. The robbers then took their departure, leaving their victims tied as before mentioned. Philip, in the course of an hour, succeeded in loosing one of the ropes that bound his nephew, who was on the bed with him, and he then succeeded in getting entirely free and loosened the others.

They however, gave no alarm that night and can give no description of the men except that one was about 5 feet 10 inches in heighth and of slender build, while the others were shorter and heaver. They kept their masks on during their entire stay in the house, which was about two
