

The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. MORTIMER, EDITOR.

LEHIGHTON, PA.
SATURDAY MORNING MAY 2, 1874.

The Democratic State Central committee met in Philadelphia on Monday night, 4th inst., and reconsidered the resolution adopted on the 23rd March, fixing the time and place of holding the next State convention. A resolution was adopted fixing upon Pittsburg as the place, and Wednesday, August 26th as the time for holding the convention.

The Senate Finance Committee Tuesday took further action on the House Currency bill, and by a majority vote agreed to recommend the incorporation in it of the following provisions: The maximum greenback circulation to be $382,000,000. New national bank notes to be issued to the amount of $164,000,000, provided that for each million of such new notes issued there shall be $300,000 of greenbacks retired until the total greenback circulation shall have been reduced to $300,000,000. The committee voted to fix January 1, 1877, as the date at which specie payment should be resumed, but did not reach a conclusion as to what system should be employed for that purpose, whether of interchangeable bonds or by means of any of the other plans proposed.

Wood's Household Magazine, for May, has an abundance of excellent reading.—There is the real go-ahead snap to this periodical which entitles it to much credit, and we cannot name one that will afford an equal amount of entertainment and instruction for so little money. The number before us contains among other articles a paper entitled "Poor Jack," by F. W. Holland, in the interest of seamen; "The Child in the Church," by Mary Hartwell; "Kin and Kad," by H. V. Osborne; "Dumb Days," by Caroline B. LeRow, and some good poetry. There are several illustrated articles, the New York Fashions, Architectural Designs, &c., &c. The illustration on Decoration Day is just the thing. Price of Magazine one dollar per year. Address, Wood's Household Magazine, Newburg, N. Y.

Philadelphia Letter.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2, 1874.

CREMATION.
This ancient practice has been recently revived, and like every new idea, it is rapidly recruiting many adherents. In our own country, societies are in process of formation, and gas ovens are constructed to promote the perfect burning of the dead. Some persons believe that the prayer-book alludes to cremation, and thus sanctions it, in the words of the burial service: "Ashes to ashes, dust to dust." This certainly has a remarkably appearance in the present excitement.

The widest reports are now put in circulation, and it has been asserted that some persons in this city have been burned. Of course, this is untrue, for the law prohibits such a procedure. If cremation should become universal, what an impressive arrangement could be made of the urns or jars in which are collected the cinerated remains of the departed. For instance, we might inform our sympathizing friends that the ashes of Julia Maria, aged 13, are deposited in the third pickle jar on the right of the shelf, and dear little Tommy reposes on the extreme verge of the mantel. We need not now bury our dead out of our sight, but we can always carry them with us. If a man cannot earn his living in this world, he may be able to live in the next. Cremation is spreading and the undertakers are indignant and alarmed at the prospect of losing their trade. We will soon have an exciting time over the subject.

THE DELAWARE.
The Indiana, on her last voyage from Liverpool was struck by a heavy sea off the banks of Newfoundland, and the Captain and the Quartermaster made a narrow escape from being washed overboard. The Captain is still suffering from the effects of the injuries received. The steamer Mediator, of Lorillard's, New York and Boston line, caught fire on Wednesday night, while lying at the company's wharf, and before the flames could be checked the vessel and cargo were partially destroyed. The vessel was insured, but the cargo was not, and involves a loss of 200,000.

THE SCHUYLKILL.
The coal oil trade on this river is rapidly increasing, and at present the largest ship, except the Cathedral, that ever came to Philadelphia, is now loading with coal oil at Chestnut street wharf on the Schuylkill. Some four years ago, the Cathedral was shipped to New York, and the water at that port not being deep enough, she was brought to the Delaware, and unloaded at this port. Last week a million and a half gallons of coal oil were exported, and the Schuylkill looks like commerce with the many ships that are now anchored at the wharves.

The South street bridge is expected to be finished in July. One of the piers was placed in the channel, and thus constructed the course of vessels, as well as being contrary to the laws of the United States. This difficulty is now being obviated by blasting the rocks that are near the place and in this way forming a deep channel. When this bridge is completed, it will form the avenue of travel from the southern part of the city to the Park, and it may be the means of more rapidly removing the Alms-house from its present location to some place "out of town."

MARKET SHEETS.

The war against these relics of antiquity has been revived, and now a fierce battle is raging in our very streets. Philadelphia has many wide avenues, and it was formerly the custom to block them up with long rows of sheds which were used for selling marketing to our good people. On account of the once famous traffic in meat, fruit, vegetables and other productions necessary for the existence of the inhabitants, which was extensively carried on in High street—the name very naturally soon ran into Market, and so it has remained until the present day. The project was started to demolish these sheds, and at once a violent opposition sprang up. Meetings were held, resolutions were passed, and fiery speeches belabored forth. All to no purpose, however, and to-day Market street is the finest thoroughfare in this city.

Callowhill street is at present the grand central point of attack, and the same programme is adopted in its case as in that of Market street. This is a progressive age, and the relics of the honored past are rapidly disappearing from among us. In due course of time not a street will have a market shed in it, and houses will instantly spring up that will not only fully accommodate our people, but also be an ornament to the neighborhood in which they are erected. Philadelphia can truthfully boast of having the most beautiful market houses on the face of the earth, and soon may we not see again the eye-sores of sheds in our streets.

The old name of the Quaker City has been laid aside, and we are becoming more modernized in our ideas. There was a time when whole blocks of houses were built of red brick and the inevitable white shutters, so that a stranger might truly say that when he had seen one street, he had seen all the city. We are now using different colored stones and having a darker shade upon the shutters, thus relieving the oppressive monotony of the past style of architecture. After a while, our city will contain quite a pleasing variety of buildings, and the old Quaker plainness will be buried among the things of the past.

THE SPRING FASHIONS.
The young ladies are appearing with their Spring bonnets, and the streets are becoming very gay. We know that all young ladies are fond of dress, and that they will not be displeased at our giving them a description of some beautiful styles. Suits can be had for all prices, ranging from $10 upward to any figure, the difference being in the quality of the material and the more elaborate ornamentation.

We saw a very stylish suit in silver gray ponce. The lower skirt was made demi-train, ornamented with a flounce of medium depth, turned up on the right side against a narrow fold, and had a deep shirred heading. The design of the polonaise is known as the Leonie. It is quite simple, the fronts being plain and tight fitting, and fastened three fourths of the way down with handsome buttons; the back is very narrow in the French cut, and draped below the waist in a novel manner, which gives the effect of a broad boxplait falling below the point of looping. The tout ensemble is thoroughly artistic, and forms a charming street or reception toilette. This is a favorite one this season, and is shown in all the different shades of material.

Another more dressy is made in two shades of Beseda gray French poplin. The lower skirt of the darker tint is trimmed with a deep flounce, bound with the lighter color, and beaded with a shirred puff; above is a flat float piper on each side, and above that a narrow knife plaiting with a fold and plaiting. The overskirt is the lone pattern, with square breadth back, and pointed fronts ornamented with plaits and ruffles. The costume is completed by a Henry Trois basque, made en veston in the two shades, and a handsomely trimmed amoussiere at the side.

Yours truly, Modoc.

Philadelphia Markets.

Friday Evening, May 1st. The money market continues easy, while Foreign Exchange and Gold are higher. The latter receded for a few days following the veto message to Congress, but it subsequently rallied and closed at 113. Exchange has been higher than for many weeks past, owing to the demand to meet May payments, and the scarcity of prime bills. Call loans run at 4 to 5 per cent. First class commercial paper ranges from 6 to 7 per cent. per annum.

The stock market was moderately active, and prices generally were higher. Government securities were in air demand at about former rates.

The United States Treasury has already commenced the payment of the semi-annual interest on $414,250,350 of the 6 per cent. per annum 5 20 bonds maturing on the 1st of May, and will at the same time pay the quarterly interest of 5 per cent. per annum on $314,416,150 of funded loan of 1881.

The Flour market has been rather dull during the week, and prices are maintained. Superfine $5.50 to 5.75; extras, $6 to $6.50. Spring Wheat, extra family, $7.00 to $8; and high grades at $8.02 1/2 to $10.50. Wheat has been dull, and prices favor buyers. Western Red, $1.55 to $1.63; Penna. Red, $1.70 to $1.72; Western White, $1.85 to $1.86; No. 1 Spring, $1.60. Corn is steady. New mixed, 85 1/2; new Penna. 85c to 90c. Oats are in fair demand, Western white 62 to 65, Penna. White, 62c to 63, mixed, 60 to 62c. Bye, $1.00.

Cloverseed is dull. Sales at 8 1/2 to 10c., the latter for choice. Timothy sold at $2.75. The butter market is dull, but prices steady. Western Choice Dairy, 34 to 35c. do. fresh firkin 35c. Penna. Glades Choice Dairies, 35c.; do. good to prime, 30c. medium, 18 to 20c. Lard, Western kettles rendered, 10 1/2 to 11c. Eggs sell at 18 to 21c. a dozen.

Hay, prime Timothy, $1.35 to $1.45; mixed Timothy, $1.25 to $1.35. Straw, 90c to $1.05.

The Comptroller of the Currency has called upon the national banks for reports exhibiting their condition at the close of business, on Friday, May 1,

Philadelphia, May 7.—The argument in the case of Snyder vs. the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, were concluded yesterday, in the U. S. Circuit Court. After Judge Cadwalader had charged the jury, they retired for consultation at 1 o'clock. This morning they came into Court again, and rendered a verdict for the claimants, $10,000 for the widow, Anna Snyder, and $31,200 for the son, Lewis M. Snyder; in all amounting to $41,200, that being the full amount of insurance, with one year's interest.

An Englishman said a few days ago in the office of a friend in Hyde Park, that he had thoroughly tried both a temperate and intemperate life. He said, upon a wager, he once drank a keg of beer and four gallons of whiskey in one week. He knew all the joys and sorrows of drunkenness, and his family had suffered much. Three years ago last December he commenced life anew, and has not drunk any intoxicating liquors since that time. He has saved for the comfort of his family more than four hundred dollars during the time, and intends to remain a temperate man during his natural life. Drinking cheap, go thou and do likewise.

$1000 REWARD for an incurable case of Catarrh. After having suffered, deluged, gargled, hawked, spit and gagged to your entire satisfaction, your useless endeavors to get relief from catarrh, use Briggs' Alleviator according to directions. The filthy mass of mucus will be immediately expelled, and the inflamed surface soothed, the eyes sparkle with delight, the head feels natural again; hope revives, for a cure is sure to follow the use of this agreeable, scientific and reliable remedy.

Coughs! MUCH has been said and written, and many remedies are offered for the relief of acute or chronic and lung diseases, but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

Corns! THE excruciating pain produced by corns, the unnecessary twinging from Bunions, the most excruciating, external, and itching piles, piercing, distressing pain from ingrowing nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are so acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and justify merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment, and it will positively cure the most cases of festering corns, inflamed and ulcerated bunions, the most in-pain, the largest and severest blisters, the most excruciating callouses on the soles or heels of the foot, squawled in the care of children, or on the feet. The Alleviator for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known. Ask for Briggs' Remedies. Take no other.

Piles! IT'S ALL VERY WELL, does not trouble to think it is nothing to have Piles. For this reason, the unfortunate sufferer gets very little sympathy. The agony of Piles is not or cannot be much more than the torture endured by millions who are troubled with internal bleeding, external, and itching piles. Glad Tidings for sufferers. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Corns! ARE THE MOST PLEASANT kind of grain in the market. Every one has a supply, from the three year old child to the grandiose verging on a hundred; stylish, handsome young ladies who desire to wear fashionable resorts; middle aged matrons; old maids, dressed up to appear young and gay; dancing, with their partners, and inevitable walking with the dandy, merchant, clerk, artisan, and mechanic, of all ages and stations, have a full supply of corns, bunions, and nails, and other blemishes of the feet, all of which are banished and cured by the use of Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies, Alleviator and Curative. Sold by A. J. DURLING, Druggist, Lehighon, Pa. May 9.—1874 ly.
