SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1884.

Only $10.00 cash for an all-wool suit at H. H. Peters', Post-office building, Lehigh.

White Peter Madden, Michael Donohue and James Boyle were taking out of a mountain brook near Central, Thursday last week, a large bank of earth that had undermined a way, burying the three men under it and injuring them seriously.

W. L. Beaver, an old and respected citizen of Trexler, died at the residence of his son in Catawissa, on Wednesday last week, of miners' asthma with which he had been afflicted for a long time. Deceased was 59 years of age, and leaves a wife, five sons and two daughters to mourn an affectionate husband and father.

Mr. Hohl has a much larger and handsomer stock than he ever kept here before. We think if you will see a better selection anywhere in the State. He is certainly the Workman in Carbon county, in the jewelry line.

The hunters of Pike county have filed a complaint against the managers of the Blooming Grove Park Association for allowing their dogs to chase deer outside of the Park limits. The three threats to be a good deal trouble. The dogs are in the hands of the hunters and they will kill them if they come outside of the Park preserves.

Electric light has been successfully introduced in Hazleton. Many business houses are using it, and some people are thinking of lighting their dwellings with it. The company guarantees that the cost of the light will be but one cent and a quarter per hour for gas and candle burner, which is less than the price of gas.

Those of our readers who may have an idea of changing their residence for another State, will do well to read the advertisement elsewhere headed "North Carolina offers Extraordinary Inducements to those Seeking Homes," and then communicate with John P. Patrick, Esq., U. S. State Immigration Bureau, Raleigh, N. C.

During Sunday night about four inches of snow fell in this section, followed by warm rain Monday night, Tuesday and Wednesday, pretty thoroughly clearing off the snow and the first snow of December. The water in the Lehigh is well up, but the river is not so high as it was last year, for any fear that the valley will suffer from a drought.

John W. Newell, a carpenter, employed at Buck Ridge Colliery, near Shamokin, says that for seven years he has purposely lived on bread and hot water at a cost of forty cents a week. He is now a well-to-do man, and his wife is well and healthy. He is in good health, works hard and steadily and claims that he will live to be 125 years old.

George Halseid, of Matly, a small village about six miles from Wilkesbarre, visited his brother-in-law, William Helder, at Sturtevant, a few miles distant, to talk over some business matters, when an altercation ensued. Helder seized a club and struck Halseid, a portion of the former taking effect in the head. The doctor says that it is a matter of a few days that it will prove a fatal wound. Helder gave himself up.

FEN AND CANDY.—It is impossible to have more fun than long evenings than by making candy at home. We have a recipe to make every kind of the candy at the best confectionery stores in the city, from that valuable loaf, "How to Make Candy," to the most delicate and refined. Sent postpaid for 25c. (in one or two stamps). Address, THE HOUSEKEEPER, Lehigh, N. Y.

On the 22d of last December Howard McIntyre, a young, unmarried W. H. Hildebrand, Justice of the Peace, of Easton, broke his nose and laid him up for four weeks. At first it was feared Mr. Hildebrand would die. He brought out McIntyre and on Tuesday the latter was conveyed by a conveyer and set to bed for a few days. The cause of the assault was because "the Spirit interfered" while McIntyre was testing a small boy.

Joseph Jones announces in today's Advocate that he has leased Ober's store-room, on Bank street, this borough, and that for ten days, commencing March 2nd next, he will offer the people of this section such unheard-of bargains in Dry Goods, Clothing, Carpet, etc., as were never before had off—In fact, he will offer 50,000 worth of these goods at your own price. You should not fail to take advantage of this offer, for the sale will positively close on March 14.

H. H. Peters, at the Post-office building, Lehigh, will make you an all-wool suit for only $10 cash, if you order now.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Fyne, of New York, have given $100,000 to the Taylor Hospital to be erected at Scranton for the benefit of miners and railroad laborers in that section. Mr. Fyne is the largest stockholder in the Delaware, Lehigh and Western Railroad Company, and his wife is the daughter of the late George Taylor, of New York. The hospital will cost $250,000 over two years ago for the erection of the hospital. It is thought that the building will be erected at once.

A fire which broke out in an abandoned gangway in the Broken Coal Company's drifts at Sheehyville, three weeks ago, sometimes to burn furiously, but by closing up the air passages it is expected to overcome the flames by smothering them. So far the fire has been confined to the gangway in which it originated, but the loss would be almost incalculable were it to spread to the main shaft.

The great effort now is to keep the flames from getting into any other workings, as in an event of this kind the mine will have to be abandoned and flooded to extinguish them.

On Thursday evening of last week the ceremonies consequent upon the opening of the new Masonic Temple in Easton were observed at a union meeting. Alfred Lodge, No. 206, and Easton Lodge, No. 152, of Free and Accepted Masons, the exercises were attended only by Masons. Guests were present from Philadelphia, Lancaster, New York, Allentown, Hollerstown, Bethlehem and various other points. After the customary extensions the Masons, under the leadership of their Grand Master, the number of two hundred, returned to the United States Hotel and partook of a banquet.

A heavy fall of ten feet occurred in the Red Ash slope of the Empire Mine, Wilkesbarre, Wednesday afternoon. A mass of coal fell upon William C. O'Connell, 73 years of age, who was killed. The fallen miner was a native of Ireland and had been working at the mine for twenty years. He had traveled 162,500 miles over four times the distance around the earth.

John Nicholson, of Weisport, died last week, very suddenly of typhoid fever, leaving a wife and two children in very distressed circumstances—both children being very low with fever. Betsy Harp has been soliciting aid for them, and up to yesterday (Thursday) had collected a total of $12.20. The charitable will find this an excellent opportunity to indulge in a great charity virtue.—He that giveth to the poor doeth well to his Lord.

The Philadelphia Record of Thursday says: "The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has about consummated negotiations with the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for the lease of the latter line to the former. These negotiations have been pending for nearly a year, but were not sooner completed because of the ill health of the late President Parker and the inability to reach satisfactory terms."

A patent paper arrester is being applied to every locomotive of the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad, in the shops at Ashley.

The fourth annual Grand Military and Civic Ball, of the Stargis Rifles, will take place in their Armory on Friday evening, Feb. 22, at 8 o'clock.

Bliss Thomas Bowman will preach in the Evangelical church, of this borough, to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock. All are welcome.

Public Sales to Come Off.

The following sales, advertised in the Advocate, or for which bills have been printed at this office, will take place as follows:

March 1st, at 11 a. m.—An improved farm with 200 acres of woodland, in East Penn township, property of Gibson Peter, dec'd.

March 5th, at 12 m.—Horses, cows, pigs, buggies, sleighs and a variety of farming tools, property of Geo. Barger & Son, in Mahoning town.

March 8th, at 1 p. m.—Horses, cows, farming stock and furniture, property of Adam Beck, Franklin town, about two miles from Weisport.

President Parker's Successor.

The Board of Directors of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company met Tuesday in Philadelphia, and adopted a minute in regard to the death of President Parker, after which Elisha P. Wilbur was elected president of the Company. The new president was for many years a director of the company. He is a trustee of the Assa Packery estate, and his election is construed as an assurance that the stock will be held in one block, according to the provisions of the will, which will prevent its sale for many years.

The Democrats.

Will meet at the "Carbon House," this (Saturday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock, and place in nomination persons to fill the following offices:

1. Justice of the Peace.
2. Burgess.
3. Town Councilmen.
4. School Directors.
5. Constable.
6. Overseers of the Poor.
7. Judge of Elections.
8. Inspectors of Elections.
9. Assessors.

The election will be held on Tuesday next, the 19th inst.

The Thomas Iron Company.

The Thomas Iron Company has advanced rates on pig iron 50 cents per ton—to $19.50 and $20.50, President Clark says: "There is an excellent demand for iron. The company's sales last month were larger than any previous January during thirty years. They exceeded the sales of the first six months of last year. We start up a new furnace this week, and will start another next week." The Thomas Iron Company was the first among the leading iron companies last fall to reduce its price. It is the first now to advance them. People who have been disappointed in the drop ought to see at least a small promise of better times in the advance.—Allentown Democrat.

Follies Red Hot in Allentown.

The Republicans of Allentown assembled in the Court House, at that place, on Monday night and nominated their candidates for Mayor and City Treasurer. There were two candidates for Mayor, both eminent citizens, E. S. Shiner, a carpet merchant, and W. F. Yeager, a builder and contractor. The first and only ballot resulted in Shiner receiving 50 votes and Yeager 25. Lewis C. Bate was nominated by acclamation for City Treasurer. There is every prospect that the campaign will be close and exciting. The Democrats have announced that they want their man elected because the Democratic State Convention meets there in April, and the Republicans are bent on putting their man in for the same reason.

Condition of the Slate Trade.

The Slate Exchange of Lehigh and Northampton counties met at Easton in special session Monday afternoon and decided to make no changes in the prices of roofing slate for 1884. Prices were slightly adjusted in a few instances, however. The slate men report the prospects of the coming season for ahead of what they were a few days ago. They say that last year they manufactured thirty-two thousand more squares than the preceding year, and this season they will produce fifty thousand more than in 1883. One of the most important rumors was that a party representing President Miller of the Bangor Road, and John I. Blair, the capitalist, had bought sixty acres of slate land from Jory & Co., for $80,000.

They Eloped.

Allentown Daily Critic: Some time ago a man named Harry Clark, alias "Berwick Kid," eloped with Townsend Beideman's wife. Beideman is a character well known throughout the Lehigh Valley and upon hearing of the runaway match, followed them up and found them at Leesport, Berks county, secured his wife and returning to this city, lived in the family of H. Scholl, in the Sixth Ward. Clark in the meantime determined to have Beideman's wife and coming to this city Tuesday proceeded to Scholl's residence. Mr. Scholl saw Clark coming and picking up a basin of scalding water threw it in his face. But undaunted Clark entered the house, induced Beideman's wife to accompany him and the pair left for parts unknown.

Lower Townsmen Squib.

Mrs. Ramaly, of this place, has been visiting her brother in Mahoning during the past week.

John Muehleisen, supervisor, passed Lodge, No. 206, and Easton Lodge, No. 152, of Free and Accepted Masons, the exercises were attended only by Masons. Guests were present from Philadelphia, Lancaster, New York, Allentown, Hollerstown, Bethlehem and various other points. Lehigh Gap Items.

All are pleased that the ice left off the river without backing up the water—thus saving the people much work and expense.

Mr. L. E. Kern is busy selling sewing machines and argues he has sold quite a number of them this winter. Mr. Kern is a good arguer, which helps him much in selling them.

Col. John Craig's new blacksmith shop is quite an improvement to the Gap. Mr. Getz, the blacksmith, handles the hammer well for a young beginner, stick to it Getz will soon make a first class blacksmith.

Mr. Wash Snyder is out for Assembly—no doubt he will be elected.

We are glad to say that we have good very good schools this winter. Miss Smith and Miss Leutz are both good teachers—they know just how to conduct a school.

Wm. J. Schreiber, who has been much indisposed for some time past is on a fair way to recovery.

A. W. Anthony, son of Mr. B. H. Anthony, proprietor of Craig's Hotel, is still confined to the house.

The entertainment given in the Lehigh Gap school house, the other evening, was well attended. All in attendance took a hearty good old laugh.

Diem.—Mr. George Souders died, aged 21 years, 1 month and 14 days, of typhoid fever. He was loved by all who knew him. He was a kind young man—on account of his suffering and unconquered, he left on special leave from his work at the Lehigh Gap school, but he was at ways kind and tried to please all, and attended Sunday school and church, which gives ample assurance of his final triumph. He was patient in affliction and resigned to the will of God. He has gone to live with Christ. A father and mother, four brothers and two sisters are left to mourn their loss. Funeral took place on Feb. 13th, Rev. J. E. Freeman officiating. FRESTOS.

Scientific Prizes.

It is a gratifying fact that more astronomical discoveries, and those of more importance, have been made by Americans during the past few years, than by all of the rest of the world combined. That this has been due, largely, to the impetus given by competition for the honors and prizes awarded to discoverers cannot be denied, and in order that this interest may be continued and sustained, I offer the following prizes for 1884:—Two hundred dollars for each and every discovery of a new comet made during the year, subject to the following conditions:—

1. It must be discovered in the United States or Canada, either by the naked eye or telescope, and it must be unexpected.
2. The discoverer must telegraph immediately to Dr. Lewis Swift, Director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y., giving the exact time of discovery, the position and direction of motion, with sufficient exactness, if possible, to enable at least one other observer to find it.
3. This intelligence must not be communicated to any other party or parties, either by letter, telegraph or otherwise, until such time as a telegraphic acknowledgment has been received by the discoverer from Dr. Swift. Great care should be taken regarding this condition, as it is essential to the proper transmission of the discovery, together with the name of the discoverer, to the various parts of the world, which will be immediately done by Dr. Swift.
4. Three disinterested astronomers will be selected to decide all disputed questions. I. H. Warner, Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 8th, 1884.

What the M. E. Churches Have Done in 1883.

At the last Methodist Episcopal General Conference, held in 1883, a resolution was passed requesting all the Churches in the United States to pay off as much of their debts as possible before the meeting of the next General Conference, to be held at Philadelphia, in May, 1884, so as to make a good showing in the centennial year of 1884, as possible. It is not possible to get an absolutely correct statement of the total amount paid off in response to this appeal. Last year the "Sifting Conference," which is mostly the conferences situated in the East, paid off $1,000,000 of church debt and improved their church property to the extent of $1,225,000. The "Fall Conference" of 1882 paid off $725,000 of church debt. It is probably an underestimate to say that in the four years the churches have paid off $2,725,000 of debt, and probably improved their property to the extent of $2,950,000. This total of $5,675,000 for the entire country. This does not include either the Methodist Protestants or the Methodist Episcopal Church South.—Ph. Record.

Death in a Dentist's Chair.

Mrs. James Stevenson, of the First ward, Scranton, died in a dentist's chair Thursday of last week. She had been in the dentist's office for a terrible ailment in her dentistry. She was accompanied to the dentist's office by her family physician, Dr. A. Strang, who had administered the anesthetic in equal quantities of chloroform and ether. After the first was given two teeth were pulled; then another dose was given and nine teeth were extracted, after which a third was administered and five more teeth were taken. The frightened dentist then realized that his patient was dead and had been for several seconds before the last tooth had been taken out. Efforts were made to restore her, but they were useless. Mrs. Stevenson was forty years old and the mother of seven children, the youngest being four months old. The treatment she received in the dentist's chair is the subject of severe comment.

A Decision in Favor of Taxpayers.

A decision in the suit of George Geyer and Oliver Cressman vs. The County of Pike, where the plaintiffs appealed from the Auditor's Report of 1883 as to the payment of $75 of the county funds to G. G. Walker, Esq., for legal services in the suit of Taxpayers vs. Commissioners (which suit resulted in favor of the Commissioners) was rendered Jan. 14, 1884, by Judge McCollum of Susquehanna county, in favor of the defendants.

At the close of the quite lengthy decision Judge McCollum says: "We are of opinion that when County Commissioners make a claim upon the county, or resist a claim of the county upon them, they are in the position of a party, and that they cannot appropriate the moneys of the county to pay their own claim in such contests."

A Madman's Fatal Leap.

Thomas Miller, of Nantuxke, a single man of about forty years of age, deliberately jumped from the railroad bridge at that place on last Wednesday, a distance of about fifty feet, and sustained injuries that will prove fatal. About two years ago he became a victim of the graveyard mania and lost considerable money in his investments. This he tried to pay off by selling his house and other property, but he was unable to do so, and he was driven to this desperate step. His reason, he said, for attempting to end his life by a fall instead of shooting was that he wanted "to jump square into the other world."

What the M. E. Churches Have Done in 1883.

At the last Methodist Episcopal General Conference, held in 1883, a resolution was passed requesting all the Churches in the United States to pay off as much of their debts as possible before the meeting of the next General Conference, to be held at Philadelphia, in May, 1884, so as to make a good showing in the centennial year of 1884, as possible. It is not possible to get an absolutely correct statement of the total amount paid off in response to this appeal. Last year the "Sifting Conference," which is mostly the conferences situated in the East, paid off $1,000,000 of church debt and improved their church property to the extent of $1,225,000. The "Fall Conference" of 1882 paid off $725,000 of church debt. It is probably an underestimate to say that in the four years the churches have paid off $2,725,000 of debt, and probably improved their property to the extent of $2,950,000. This total of $5,675,000 for the entire country. This does not include either the Methodist Protestants or the Methodist Episcopal Church South.—Ph. Record.

Death in a Dentist's Chair.

Mrs. James Stevenson, of the First ward, Scranton, died in a dentist's chair Thursday of last week. She had been in the dentist's office for a terrible ailment in her dentistry. She was accompanied to the dentist's office by her family physician, Dr. A. Strang, who had administered the anesthetic in equal quantities of chloroform and ether. After the first was given two teeth were pulled; then another dose was given and nine teeth were extracted, after which a third was administered and five more teeth were taken. The frightened dentist then realized that his patient was dead and had been for several seconds before the last tooth had been taken out. Efforts were made to restore her, but they were useless. Mrs. Stevenson was forty years old and the mother of seven children, the youngest being four months old. The treatment she received in the dentist's chair is the subject of severe comment.

A Decision in Favor of Taxpayers.

A decision in the suit of George Geyer and Oliver Cressman vs. The County of Pike, where the plaintiffs appealed from the Auditor's Report of 1883 as to the payment of $75 of the county funds to G. G. Walker, Esq., for legal services in the suit of Taxpayers vs. Commissioners (which suit resulted in favor of the Commissioners) was rendered Jan. 14, 1884, by Judge McCollum of Susquehanna county, in favor of the defendants.

At the close of the quite lengthy decision Judge McCollum says: "We are of opinion that when County Commissioners make a claim upon the county, or resist a claim of the county upon them, they are in the position of a party, and that they cannot appropriate the moneys of the county to pay their own claim in such contests."

A Madman's Fatal Leap.

Thomas Miller, of Nantuxke, a single man of about forty years of age, deliberately jumped from the railroad bridge at that place on last Wednesday, a distance of about fifty feet, and sustained injuries that will prove fatal. About two years ago he became a victim of the graveyard mania and lost considerable money in his investments. This he tried to pay off by selling his house and other property, but he was unable to do so, and he was driven to this desperate step. His reason, he said, for attempting to end his life by a fall instead of shooting was that he wanted "to jump square into the other world."

Lehigh Gap Items.

All are pleased that the ice left off the river without backing up the water—thus saving the people much work and expense.

Mr. L. E. Kern is busy selling sewing machines and argues he has sold quite a number of them this winter. Mr. Kern is a good arguer, which helps him much in selling them.

Col. John Craig's new blacksmith shop is quite an improvement to the Gap. Mr. Getz, the blacksmith, handles the hammer well for a young beginner, stick to it Getz will soon make a first class blacksmith.

Mr. Wash Snyder is out for Assembly—no doubt he will be elected.

We are glad to say that we have good very good schools this winter. Miss Smith and Miss Leutz are both good teachers—they know just how to conduct a school.

Wm. J. Schreiber, who has been much indisposed for some time past is on a fair way to recovery.

A. W. Anthony, son of Mr. B. H. Anthony, proprietor of Craig's Hotel, is still confined to the house.

The entertainment given in the Lehigh Gap school house, the other evening, was well attended. All in attendance took a hearty good old laugh.

Diem.—Mr. George Souders died, aged 21 years, 1 month and 14 days, of typhoid fever. He was loved by all who knew him. He was a kind young man—on account of his suffering and unconquered, he left on special leave from his work at the Lehigh Gap school, but he was at ways kind and tried to please all, and attended Sunday school and church, which gives ample assurance of his final triumph. He was patient in affliction and resigned to the will of God. He has gone to live with Christ. A father and mother, four brothers and two sisters are left to mourn their loss. Funeral took place on Feb. 13th, Rev. J. E. Freeman officiating. FRESTOS.

Scientific Prizes.

It is a gratifying fact that more astronomical discoveries, and those of more importance, have been made by Americans during the past few years, than by all of the rest of the world combined. That this has been due, largely, to the impetus given by competition for the honors and prizes awarded to discoverers cannot be denied, and in order that this interest may be continued and sustained, I offer the following prizes for 1884:—Two hundred dollars for each and every discovery of a new comet made during the year, subject to the following conditions:—

1. It must be discovered in the United States or Canada, either by the naked eye or telescope, and it must be unexpected.
2. The discoverer must telegraph immediately to Dr. Lewis Swift, Director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y., giving the exact time of discovery, the position and direction of motion, with sufficient exactness, if possible, to enable at least one other observer to find it.
3. This intelligence must not be communicated to any other party or parties, either by letter, telegraph or otherwise, until such time as a telegraphic acknowledgment has been received by the discoverer from Dr. Swift. Great care should be taken regarding this condition, as it is essential to the proper transmission of the discovery, together with the name of the discoverer, to the various parts of the world, which will be immediately done by Dr. Swift.
