To Delinquents.

You get the Carbon Advocate by mail, just look at the direction tab on your paper, and you will see just how much you are indebted for the paper. We need the money—a dollar or two to each is not much, the aggregate to amounts to hundreds of dollars. Come, gentlemen, pay up.

H. V. MORTIMER, Prop., Lehighton, Pa.

NOTICE TO DEMOCRATS.

There will be a meeting of the Carbon County Democratic Committee at the Court House, Mauch Chunk, Pa., on Saturday July 10th, 1892, at 1 o'clock P. M. All the members of the County Committee, and Democrats generally are requested to be present, as business of importance is to be transacted. FRANK P. SHERKEY, Chairman Carbon Co. Dem. Committee.

It is said that Hon. Michael Cassidy is a candidate for Congress. We simply suggest that Mike come in out of the rain—He might get wet.

Those people who are kicking about high taxes this year don't want to blame council. The borough taxes have been reduced two mills, but the five mills extra tax ordered by the Court to pay for first street is what causes the raise.

LEHIGHTON will exempt from a tax, for ten years, all manufacturing industries desiring to locate here. This shows enterprise. Now keep your eye open for some industry that wants a good location, then freeze 'em to it.

The Special Centennial edition of the Bethlehem Times shows just what kind of stuff that institution is composed of. It beats anything of the kind ever turned out of a printing house in the Lehigh Valley, or we might go farther without exaggeration and say the Keystone State. The issue is well printed and very valuable.

While in Philadelphia the other day we had the pleasure of an hour's conversation with the irrepresible J. D. Barnes, Grand Master of Records of the K. O. E., and editor of the publication of "Knights of the Golden Eagle," the brightest and best secret society paper published in this country. Jay De is a hustler all the way through, and does more work for the good of the Order than any Sir Knight living. Live in Barnes!

The Democratic Party in Carbon County seems to be just about as wide apart as it was during last fall—but to be particular, not the Democratic party, but the leaders of the two factions. Now, whilst the Carbon Advocate was in the thickest of the fight it does not propose to sanction any effort to keep up the disgraceful discord that threatens to disrupt the party in the future. We believe that now is the time to get together, to organize and cement all past difficulties, so that we can go into the November county battle and win by our own time majority. We have all along suggested methods of peace—the two factions appoint committees, get together and fix up things as they should be. It won't do to hold out too long unless there is a trick back of it somewhere. Get together.

SECRET SOCIETY Gossip.

Society 310-105 of Interest to the Members of the Fraternity.

* H. V. Mortimer, Jr., of the Carbon Advocate, Lehighton, after filing for three terms the office of District Grand Chief of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, was reappointed to the position and is also a candidate for Grand Sir Herald of the Grand Chapter. Being well qualified and an enthusiastic worker, and personally known to us, we are assured the prospects of his election are very bright. We take pleasure in the fact that the qualities of a newspaper man are thus being suitably rewarded.—Mauch Chunk Progress.

The Odd Fellows Home, at Philadelphia, is being improved by the addition of an annex of three stories and a basement. It has a frontage on Tenth street of 285 feet, and on Smedley street of 37 feet. There will be a new laundry and kitchen in the basement, and the dining room will be enlarged.

* On December 31, 1891, there were 107,491 Juniors; amount of money received by subordinate councils, $74,483.21; sick benefits paid, $229,811.50; increase in treasury, $787,282.12; increase in membership, 30,221; of which Pennsylvania contributed 20,720 and New Jersey 3,880. Deducing the withdrawals, suspended and deceased members the net increase was 23,860; 2,256 were reinstated and admitted by card.

Look Out for this Twelvener.

A Pottsville paper says a hypocrite wearing a benignant smile and Philadelphia clothes was in Pottsville the other day. She pretends to represent a Philadelphia dry goods house and was getting up a list of subscribers to purchasers—for the house. It cost but $1 to join this wonderful charity organization which would sell goods at half price to those selected and goods looking indifferently. It wasn't a free-for-all either. Only the elite, two and a half dozen in number, would be permitted to join. Her scheme works well and after visiting quite a number she skipped out, up the road.

Subscribers Now.

With their usual appreciation of the demands of their patrons, Messrs. Mortimer & Co. are still working hard to further improve their Carbon Advocate and to give their subscribers the best of both worlds. It is their aim to give the Carbon Advocate the best of both worlds. It is their aim to give the Carbon Advocate the best of both worlds. THE CANDIDATES

Brief Sketches of the Lives of Grover Cleveland and A. A. McLeod.

Grover Cleveland, the twenty-second President of the United States, was born in Caldwell, Essex county, N. J., March 18, 1837, but on the paternal side he is of English origin. His father, Richard Falgout Cleveland, graduated at Yale College in 1829, and the same year married Anne Neal, daughter of a Baltimore merchant of Irish birth. The Presbyterian parsonage at Caldwell, where the future President was born, was first occupied by the Rev. Stephen Crozer, in whose honor he was named, but the first name was clearly dropped, and he has been known from his boyhood as Grover Cleveland. When he was 4 years old his father accepted a call to Pottsville, near Syracuse, where Grover and his academy schooling, and afterward was a clerk in a country store. The removal of the family to Clinton, Oneida county, gave Grover additional educational advantages. In his 17th year he became a clerk and an assistant teacher in the New York Institution for the Blind in New York city, in which his elder brother William was then a teacher. In 1855 Grover started from Holland Patent, in Oneida county, where his mother then resided, to go West in search of employment. On the way he stopped at Black Rock, now a part of Buffalo, and called on his uncle, Lewis F. Allen, who induced him to remain and assist him in the compilation of a volume of the "American Ford Book" receiving for six weeks' service $30.

In August, 1855, he secured a place as clerk and copyist for the law firm of Rogers, Bowen & Rogers, in Buffalo, began the study of law and in the autumn of that year was reading $3 a week for his clerk. Admitted to the bar in 1859, but remained three years longer with the Rogers firm. He was appointed Assistant District Attorney of Erie county January 1, 1863, and held the office for three years. In 1865, at the age of 28, he was Democratic candidate for District Attorney, but was beaten by the Republican candidate, his intimate friend, Lyman K. Bass. Mr. Cleveland then became a law partner of Ex-State Treasurer Isaac V. Vanderbilt and continued a successful practice (till 1878), when he was elected Sheriff of Erie county. In 1873 he formed a law partnership with Lyman K. Bass, the firm being Bass, Cleveland & Bassell, and later Mr. Bass retired. The firm was prosperous and Mr. Cleveland attained high rank as a lawyer, noted for the simplicity and directness of his logic and expression.

In the autumn of 1881 he was nominated Democratic candidate for Mayor of Buffalo and was elected by 3420 majority the largest ever given. The same year the Republican State ticket had 1,900 majority in Buffalo. He soon became known as the "Veto Mayor," saving the city $1,000,000 in the first six months of his term by setting aside extravagant appropriations. On the second day of the State Democratic Convention, at Syracuse, September 22, 1882, on the third ballot, by a vote of 211 out of 282, Mr. Cleveland was nominated for Governor in opposition to Charles J. Folger, then Secretary of the Treasury. In a total vote of 918, 894 Cleveland received a plurality of 192,854 over Folger and a majority over all of 151,742. On the last day of December he went to Albany, and January 1, 1883, dispensing with the usual parade, he walked with friends through the streets from the Executive Mansion to the Capitol and took the oath of office.

The National Democratic Convention met at Chicago, July 8, 1884, the meeting of July 7th vote was taken, in which, out of 820 votes, Grover Cleveland received 382. A two-third vote, 537, was necessary to a nomination. July 11, in the morning, on the first ballot—the second for the convention—he received 383 votes. In the election following Mr. Cleveland had 219 votes in the Electoral College to 182 for James G. Blaine, and on the popular vote had 4,874,986 Democratic to 4,851,961 Republican. His administration was remarkable in many respects, his message to Congress in December, 1887, devoted exclusively to tariff reform, reviewing the issue and platform of the Democratic party at St. Louis re-nominating him unanimously for President. He was defeated by Benjamin Harrison, who had 233 votes in the Electoral College to 108 for Mr. Cleveland. On the aggregate popular vote the Democrats cast 5,234,108, and the Republicans, 5,457,282.

Mr. Stevenson was born in 1835 in Christian county, Ky. His parents removed from North Carolina to Kentucky, one of his ancestors being a signer of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. At 20 years of age Mr. Stevenson graduated from Centre College, Kentucky, and married Miss Lettie Green, daughter of the president of that institution. Among his classmates were Senator Blackburn, Senator Davidson, of Florida; Ex-Governor McCree and many other distinguished men.

Soon after graduating Mr. Stevenson removed to Illinois, where he studied law with the late David Davis and was admitted to the bar at Bloomington. He rose rapidly in his profession and was elected Prosecuting Attorney of McLean county. He was a Presidential elector in 1860 and was twice elected to the House of Representatives as a Democrat from a district largely Republican. He was appointed First Assistant Postmaster General by Mr. Cleveland July 6, 1885.

One of the last official acts of Mr. Cleveland was to nominate Mr. Stevenson for Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, but the Republican Senate failed to set up his nomination. Since his retirement from the Post Office Department he has been engaged in the practice of law at Bloomington, Ill.

ESTATE NOTICE.

In a branch of practice case, the other day, the lady on the stand said that when a friend suggested that she would make him a good wife, he answered: "Hem!" "Did he really say 'Hem!' inquires the counsel for the defense. "He did," she averred, "or something of that kind." This reminds one of the accurate witness who swore that some one had called over the banisters, "Tom, Tom," or words to that effect.—San Francisco Argonaut.

THE THUMB AS INDEX TO CHARACTER.

The way in which the thumb is held is a true sign of character. The man who turns it in under his fingers is always weak. That is the position in which it is always held by a child. The thumb of great men are large and point out conspicuously from their fellow members.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
