MUD TURTLES VS. POLYPS. Discussing a New Enterprise for Utilizing North Queen Street.

Last night a very large and enthusiastic meeting convened on the roof of a chicken coop in the suburbs of Lancaster city, to discuss the practicability of utilizing North Queen street as a proper place to cultivate mud-turtles. Jedediah Toodles was called to the chair and Tomew Verdigris was appointed secretary. There were two opposng parties present, namely the Mud-Turtlers and Polypers. Some opposition was manifested against Mr. Verdigris, on the ground is an Italian, and knows no more about mud-turtles than an old musket does about the gutter for "contempt of court" the the 30th inst., at 10 o'clock a. m. its business. The first resolve was unanimous, and this produced harmony for the time being. It was voted without a dissenting voice, that the project of converting North Queen street into an inland ship navigation be entirely abandoned. It was for such a purpose was not practicable without a lock at the crossing of Orange street, and this would be too expensive "to pay," for such a limited trade as it could command.

But now came the "tug of war," in which there were belligerent demonstrations between Greek and Greek. Although the meeting was a unit in deciding what they didn't want, it was about forty in attempting to decide what they did want. The Mud Turtlers had the largest vote, and if there hadn't been so many "scattering" they would have carried their point. They argued that the street was only fit for a mud turtle pond, and nothing else that there was mud there at any time and always; that mud turtles would find a ready sale at paying prices, and that they coull remain there and multiply without danger of being disturbed by the municipal authorities. This was rebutted by the Polypers on the ground that although the city government might vouchsafe them the undisputed freedom of the street, yet the horses of the Millersville street cars would "smash 'em," and thus the enterprise would prove a dead less to the stockholders. They further alleged that if the aforesaid horses should inadvertently tramp a polyp to pieces, each piece would. by a peculiar habit of the animal, soon form the character and proportions of a separate and district polyp, and this would appreciate rather than depreciate the value of the enterprise. The Polypers seemed to be gaining ground, but just at this juncture a "nincompoop in a corner," asked "what use could be made of seemed to be able to answer. At length old Mr. Sniffpeck rose to his feet and remarked that polyps contained a large amount of jelly, and could from elation, drowsiness, or a loss of equilibrium, fell off the coop, and cried replied that he "denied the corn;" when the president retorted that he l-d, for he wasn't "corned"-"hardly ever" had been-except once, and then he was only cornered. To cut short the personal colloguy between Billy and the president, Mr. Sniffpeck moved the previous question and called for the "yeas and nays," which resulted as follows: For a ship canal, 2; a mud turtle pond, 5; polyp pike, 1; a Belgian block pavement, 2, and | be paid by such complainant. a buggy race course 1, with 1 scattering. Mr. Domphool moved for a re-ballot, on the ground that he had forgotten to vote, but just at the moment the secretary began to call the roll, the roof caved in, and he fell down among a dozen exasperated Shanghais and was nearly ruined by two ferocious roosters who were about dividwill thus be lost to posterity. The people were looking with almost breathless anxpointed to find that all ended in "fuss and feathers," leaving them in a "mess" of interminable mud. Post Scriptum.—After the great body of the meeting had retired to their "little beds," a few of the scattering votes assembled around a fire-plug and voted unanimously to have a ferry established at some point on North Queen street, but they could not agree exactly where, as every one wanted it immediately in front of his own domicile. It is a pity that such a roof of a chicken coop) for the want of them: unity; for there were scores of men standing around with their pockets full of "rocks," either to subscribe liberally to the stock, or engage in a "free fight," as the exigencies of the occasion might require.

Next day Mr. Toodles came out in a "poster," denouncing this adjourned meeting as a "bogus" concern, and admonished | tion. his friends to "wait awhile," as an idea occurred to him that it might be a good thing to organize a gondola club to navigate North Oueen street, as well as some other streets not far behind it in mud and water facilities. MEDICAL.

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those af-

Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive we pre-sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe-cially those afflicted with that miserable dis-ease Dysnepsia a specific remoder which ease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY,

Sold by our enterprising young friend, H. E. SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for TRADE MARK. years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies, no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases. In proof of the curative powers of

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numi-bers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:—

A hard-working farmer had been affic 6d with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations e ne-tantly—one appetite—in fact he was obliger. kind of food; he had sour eructations e nestantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliges to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bre d, and as a beverage he used McGrann's R of Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as n w, preached at times, and in his discourses of en declaimed earnestly against all kinds of streng drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy.

but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.
