THE SILENT MAN.

He Finds Voice to Make a Pretty Speech.—Gen. Grant at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 3.—Gen. Grant was met yesterday at Merriam Park by about 15,000 people. In his speech he said: "It has been my effort in the position I have held to render the very best services in my power for the whole people, without respect to race, color, previous condition or political affiliation. [Great applause.] I am not aware of having committed an act in my life, or saying a word which has injured my own standing one way or the other, and certainly not in a political way. I have, indeed, belonged to one of the greatest political parties of the country, because on the whole I believe it much nearer right than the other. [Applause.] But I claim to have as much good feeling and friendship for the party opposed to me as to the party which has heretofore conferred honors upon me. I have always believed that what was best for the entire country was going to help both the political parties in the end. For we are citizens in common of one great nation, and the greatest nation that the sun shines upon to day."

OVERFLOW OF THE RESERVOIR.

The Result of Malicious Mischief.

This morning about 2 o'clock George Mowery, who lives on East Orange street, near the reservoir, discovered that the west reservoir was full and overflowing. He at once notified Constable Cramer, who in turn notified Superintendent Kitch, and that officer sent a fire messenger to the water works to have the pumps stopped.

The overflow was over the north wall of the basin. It did no damage to the inside wall nor to the footway on top of the embankment, but several cartloads of soil and earth were washed away from the Orange street slope.

The accident was caused by the breaking of the wires of the electric bell connecting the reservoir with the water works on the Conestoga. This bell is in the engine room of the water works and is so connected that whenever the reservoir is as full as it is safe to have it, it sounds an alarm and continues to ring until the water has fallen sufficiently to break the electric current. As long as the bell does not ring, the engineer continues to work the pumps. When it rings he stops one or more of the pumps as may be necessary to reduce the height of the water, always keeping the water at a little below the ringing point.

An examination of the bell and its connections leaves no doubt that they were maliciously tampered with for the purpose probably of injuring the reservoirs and bringing discredit on the officers in charge of the water works. On several previous occasions the electric bell has been so much injured that it would not work. Only last Sunday the large ice-house on the reservoir grounds was burned down. On Monday the privy was set on fire and burned, together with several pounds of fence. On several occasions the stakes driven in the bottom of the east reservoir (now undergoing repairs) as a guide to the workmen in leveling the bottom, have been pulled out or driven in too deeply, thus rendering them useless, while barrows and other tools have been injured or destroyed, and various other acts of vandalism have been perpetrated in and about the reservoir. One of the prison watchmen says that while on duty last night he saw men either wading or swimming in the reservoir not far from the electric bell. These several acts prove that some one or more persons are engaged in them and that they are actuated by malice or revenge which they hold against the present officials. It is a question whether both economy and the safety of the reservoirs do not demand the employment of a night watchman to guard them.

As long ago as last April Mayor MacGonigle proposed that a waste pipe be laid, leading from near the surface of the east basin to the Groffstown road, so as to carry off the surplus water in case the reservoir should from any cause become too full; and to have the east and west reservoirs connected by a pipe near the top of the wall which separates them. This improvement was sanctioned by council, and will be added as soon as the repairs now being made shall be finished.

When "the Fourth" Falls on Sunday.

The Fourth of July this year falls on Sunday, a happening that will not repeat itself again until 1897. The Fourth only occurs on Sunday when the Dominical or Sunday letter for July happens to be C, which takes place on the second, eighth, thirteenth and nineteenth years of each solar cycle. This cycle is a period of twenty-eight years, during which the days of the month of each year return to the same days of the week as in a corresponding year of a preceding cycle, and the same connection is observed between the changes of the day of the week in passing from one year to the next. It is true that the same day of the month falls on the same day of the week four times during this cycle, but the same regular session is not preserved in the intervening years. Hence the entire period of twenty-eight years is required to regulate the calendar. A new cycle commences in 1896, and the Fourth of July falls on Sunday in 1897, 1902, 1908 and 1814.

A RABBIT CASE.

Prosecutor Locked Up and Defendants Discharged.

Some weeks ago L. B. Clark, of Martie, made complaint against Joseph Hankin and Eli Warfel, of Martie, and Frank Jones, of Columbia, charging them with violating the game laws by hunting rabbits with a ferret and hunting on Sunday. To-day the case was heard before Alderman Spurrier. Several witnesses were examined, but none of them gave any testimony against the defendants who were thereupon discharged. The prosecutor was not present, but was afterwards picked up very drunk in an alley by Officer Titus who took him to the lockup to await a hearing for drunken and disorderly conduct.

A Little More Census.

The enumerators of Earl township have made their returns. The population is set down at 3,542. In 1870 it was 2,975—increase 567.

Strasburg township is returned at 2,011. In 1870 it was 1894—increase 147.

Our figures for Conoy, yesterday (3,121), were about 1,000 higher—the enumeration made $1,251, but the revision of his book will reduce the figures a little, perhaps to 2,100. In 1870 the population was 1984. There has been a slight increase in the township, but a decided decrease in the village of Bainbridge—the population of which in 1870 was 762, and is now only 688.

Let His Discharge Be Had.

Geo. Heiner, an old soldier, who draws a pension, left his discharge lying in the prothonotary's office, a few days ago, while arranging his pension papers. It was taken in charge by the clerks of the office, who are holding it for the owner.

Legs Amputated.

Charles Glenn, the conductor who was injured at Harrisburg yesterday morning, had both legs amputated below the knees after being taken to the hospital. He was visited yesterday by his father and other members of his family. He is in good spirits and will recover.

Be Careful, Boys.

Boys should be careful not to build large bonfires in the streets as they may be the cause of a great conflagration. The police have been ordered not to allow the one which was to be built in the street on South Duke street, unless the size is greatly reduced.

In Town.

Alexander Duncan, Burgess of York, is registered at the Grape hotel to-day.

The Drunken Man's Favorite Amusement.

This afternoon a drunken man named Buckius, from Mount Joy, attempted to get on a western-bound train, at the Pennsylvania depot. He caught hold of the handles of the caboose, but lost his foothold and was dragged for a long distance. While he was hanging to the caboose, Baggage Master Clinton ran to his rescue, and catching hold of him, attempted to pull him from the car. The train was running quite fast at the time, and Mr. Clinton was thrown down and had his pantaloons badly torn. Buckius by this time had lost his hold on the car, and he fell off, escaping with but a few bruises.

Arm Dislocated.

On Tuesday Mary Killinger, a ten-year-old daughter of Officer Killinger, fell and dislocated her arm. It was first believed that it was merely a sprain, but as it did not seem to improve, Dr. Boyd was called in yesterday and he attended the wounded limb.

Spindle Broken.

Last evening a young man named Snyder was driving on East Orange street. When near Ann street the spindle of his buggy broke. Mr. Snyder and a lady who accompanied him jumped out and were not injured.

Rather Ambiguous.

LIABILITY OF THE COUNTY FOR COSTS.

Fees of the Mayor, Aldermen, Justices of the Peace, Postoffice and Constables in Prosecutions for Trespassing Upon Railroad Trains, etc.

The following opinion of County Solicitor Hugh R. Fulton, esq., given to the commissioners on Thursday last, will inaugurate considerable of a change in the matter of the payment of costs by the county to magistrates, constables and the city police:

To the Commissioners of Lancaster County. GENTLEMEN: In reference to the disputed fees, I submit the following:

I. Trespassing Upon Railway Trains.

By a recent decision of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, published in the Lancaster Bee, June 26, 1889, the county is not liable for and cannot hereafter pay either magistrates or constables costs in prosecutions for trespassing upon railway trains.

II. County Not Liable Unless Defendant Sentenced to Hard Labor.

By the same decision and that of Judge Harding published in the Legal Intelligencer, September 13, 1876, the county is not liable for the costs of any conviction before a justice of the peace, unless it is expressly required by statute or the defendant is sentenced to hard labor and commitment follows the sentence.
