

POLITICAL POLES.

A Circus Tent in the Sixth Ward. John Spangler got tired having his wagon lying out on the Millersville turnpike with the remains of the Republican Eighth ward pole on it, so the broken stick was dumped into the dirt as its party will be in November.

In the Sixth Ward. The best Republican workers of the Sixth ward went to the country a few days ago and cut a pole which they left lying in the gutter at the corner of Walnut street and Cherry alley. The stick, which is as "crooked" as some of those who handled it, measures 65 or 70 feet, and after several announcements it was arranged that it should be erected last evening. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a crowd of boys and a few men, including George Shay, G. Washington Jack, esq., Geo. W. Gerber, John H. Bowman, the standing candidate for constable of the Sixth ward, (he is called the "standing" candidate because he does not run well), Thomas C. Wiley and several others, gathered at the spot. After a great deal of noise, most of which was made by G. Washington Jack, and some work, the pole was placed in position and at last accounts it was still standing. It did not require a derrick to erect the stick, which is not much longer than a telegraph pole, and is not nearly as large as the poles which the Democratic boys erect in different parts of the city every night. There was no enthusiasm when the pole was up, and the entire affair was very tame. A flag will be put on the pole shortly, provided Tom Wiley purchases it as he promised.

In the vacant lot where the pole stands the Republicans have erected a tent which closely resembles that by showmen who have big snakes, Australian children, fat women and living skeletons to exhibit. There are no banners on the outside of the tent as yet. It would be an excellent idea for the Republicans of this ward to give this tent to J. Bowman, G. Washington Jack and his friends, and allow them to give exhibitions in it. There are many well known Republican performers living in that ward who might draw a large audience by appearing in some of their original but well worn acts. Chief Clerk of the Senate Corbett has been expected to look after the plumbing, linoleum, soap and carpets. Postmaster Marshall might do his famous political performance of riding two horses at the same time, going in opposite directions; Tom Davis can give the boys some rare juggling, and if Cam Mulhengen could be prevailed on to stay in town he could exhibit the little joker, to the universal delight of J. W. Johnson.

Democratic Poles. One of the very prettiest poles in the city was put up by the Democratic boys of the east end of the Sixth ward last evening. It stands on the property of John Heidig, near the corner of Walnut and Fulton streets, a short distance east of the Penn iron works. The pole is 117 feet in length, as straight as an Indian arrow, and away up at the very top of it is perched a gamecock, with head erect and crowing. A streamer, an American flag and a board bearing the names of "Hancock and English" are also borne aloft by the superb hickory. The boys put it up in exactly 18 minutes and had a good time afterwards. Especial praise is due to the Heidig boys, Mike and Andy, for the expedition with which the pole was raised.

The Hancock boys of the Seventh ward who recently erected a fine hickory pole at the corner of Fryberg and Locust streets, received to-day from New York a handsome bunting flag, 6 by 10 feet, which will be flung to the breeze to-morrow.

Uncle Ad. Dietrich gave the Democratic boys of the Eighth ward a fine pole 85 feet high, and in about ten minutes last evening they raised it on Manor street, opposite the corner of Durward.

Serenaded by the Leidekrantz. Last evening the members of the Lancaster Leidekrantz met in their hall above the Schiller house and proceeded in a body to the saloon of John Spangler, the president of the organization. They gave Mr. Spangler a fine serenade. A number of songs were sung and different musical instruments were played upon. Mr. Spangler had an excellent collection prepared to which the singers sat down. The evening was very pleasantly spent and the party broke up at a seasonable hour.

More Railroad Rumors. A West Chester paper says: "Within the past few days a prominent citizen of Lancaster city visited Wilmington, Del., and had an interview with a well known railroad man of that place, in reference to the proposed extension of the Wilmington and Western railroad to connect with the Lancaster and Quarryville railroad, which would pass through Kimberville, and thence to Oxford. If this link should be made, it will be of very great benefit to the lower section of the county, and all the people resident along the route which it would traverse, in cheapening their coal, enabling them to erect manufactories, and give them a new outlet to a country to which they now have no access."

Sight Fire This Morning. This forenoon the chicken house and wood shed of Lawrence Falek, who resides on South Prince street, below Conestoga, caught fire in some manner. There were considerable wood and shavings in the wood house and a portion were burned. The building was partially damaged. The fire was extinguished with buckets of water by Mr. Falek and his family, assisted by his neighbors.

The Excursion. The excursion of the Y. M. C. A. to Cape May left Lancaster at 6 o'clock this morning taking about 300 people from this city. The train was very long and when it arrived here there were a number of people on board from Columbia, York and other places.

Stoverdale Campmeeting. The sunshine and favorable location of the grounds have already relieved the Stoverdale campmeeting from the ill effects of the wet spell. In addition to those mentioned yesterday, the following ministers have made their appearance: Revs. D. D. Delong, president of Lebanon Valley college; J. Leaser, S. L. Swartz and J. X. Quigley, making the number present about twenty-five.

Ex-Bishop Erb preached yesterday in German; Rev. M. P. Doyle, of Mt. J. H. Albright, of Spring Garden, in the evening, followed by an exhortation by President Delong. The audiences were large throughout the entire day, and the interest in the services is increasing. Families from Mount Joy, Columbia, Mountville, Marietta, Highspire and other parts of Lancaster county are tenting, making the western portion of the county well represented. The steamboat Columbia runs three times a day between Middletown and the camp under the direction of Amos Simmons, of Columbia.

Death of Ex-Gov. Curtin's Sister. Mrs. Martha Irbin, who has resided in this city 2 1/2 some months past, died at 11 o'clock this morning. Since last winter she has been the guest of Mrs. Frazier, 38 North Lima street, and returned on last Saturday after an absence of some weeks from Lancaster. She had been in an invalid for quite a period, but only last night her condition became more serious. Medical attendance was promptly summoned and her relatives were advised by telegraph, but she grew weaker and died at 11 a. m. She was the widow of the late Dr. Irbin, of Centre county, and sister of ex-Gov. A. G. Curtin. Deceased was about 65 years of age. The immediate cause of her death was inflammation of the bowels. Her friends are expected to arrive in Lancaster this afternoon to remove the remains to Centre county for interment.

The Beaver Street Lamp. Courant O'ann, who lives two doors from the lamp on Beaver, between Conestoga and Andrew streets, says that he knows the street lamp was lit on Wednesday night, on which night the Examiner says it was not lit. If at any time during the night it was not lit, it was either blown out by the wind or put out by some unauthorized person. Mr. O'ann says this much in justice to Mr. Frederick Shroad, who has the contract for lighting the lamps in this section. He says the lamp is lit every night regularly, and not "half the time" as the Examiner has said.

A Wayward Boy. Willie Enly, a little boy, whose father formerly resided in this city, but now lives in Harrisburg, ran off from his home in that city on Wednesday and came to Lancaster. Word was sent to the police by his father to arrest him and the parent came down yesterday afternoon. He caught his son on North Queen street and took him home. This is the same boy whose disappearance from this city some years ago, and with a tramp created so much alarm. He was also tried for horse stealing in the court here, but acquitted when it was shown that he had only rode to town on a visit with the horse of a farmer with whom he was living.

The York County Physiciana. At a meeting of the York county medical society yesterday a committee was appointed to confer with the Lancaster county medical society in reference to the publication of a Medical Journal.

Dr. McKinnon read a paper on "When to Amputate in Fenilo Gangrene," and the secretary was instructed to forward it, and one read by Dr. Meisenholder at Orsen's Glen on "Diaphragmatic Pleurisy," to the medical society of Lancaster city and county for publication in the Quarterly Transactions published by said society.

Tried Once in Reading. It has been discovered that some forty-three years ago a Quaker named James of Reading concluded that it was his duty to fast forty days. After an experience of thirty days without food he desired something to eat, and requested a fry cracker be given him. The doctor told him if he ate one he would very soon be a dead man. But, contrary to the dictate of common sense and medical advice, he partook of the forbidden food and passed away, leaving a wife and a number of children.

St. Luke's Mission Picnic. The Sunday school of St. Luke's Reformed mission on Marietta avenue, held their annual picnic on the college campus yesterday. The afternoon was spent delightfully in games of all sorts. In the evening there was a narrow escape of what might have been a serious accident in the breaking of a huge limb, as two young men were swinging. But all voted the picnic a success, and it ended with three hearty cheers for St. Luke's picnic.

A Go-Away-You-Please at the Depot. This morning a man from Bird-in-Hand, reached the depot in time to see the 6:40 departs. He had great confidence in his legs, however, and started to run. He followed the train to the old match factory where he gave up the chase in disgust. He is a good runner but is not fast enough for a train.

Coup's Circus. The circus of W. C. Coup arrived in Columbia this morning. They gave an entertainment this afternoon, and will give another this evening. A number of Lancaster people will go to Columbia for this evening's performance.

Pet Dog Shot. A few days ago a beautiful little Italian greyhound belonging to Amos Lee, was bitten by another dog. The animal showed no sign of hydrophobia but fearing that it might, Mr. Lee had Officer Sween to shoot the animal this morning.

Two Dogs Found on the street without muzzles have been "arrested" by the police, for violation of the mayor's proclamation, and confined in the lockup, where they will be kept for 48 hours and then killed, unless reclaimed by their owners. A vacant room in a building on Christian street near Grant has been secured as a dog pound.

Loose Dogs. During the hot and sultry weather an unusual amount of disease prevails in every community, especially among females and children, caused by the fermenting miasma (gas or nitrogenous matter) floating in the air, arising from decaying vegetation. This bad air affects everything we eat, and engenders in it a semi-fermentation, which, when taken in the system is like leaven, and operates on the whole, starting in the bowels and soon producing a violent fermentation, causing diarrhoea and dysentery. It has been found that the use of Spear's old Port Grape Wine of New Jersey has an extraordinary effect in checking this fermentation and restoring the system to its original purity. It has been found that the most nutritious and strengthening tonic in the market, and the greatest help in resisting the poisonous effects of the vitiated atmosphere. This wine, so long established, has become the standard wine upon which physicians rely as the most rich in body and genuine in character, containing the greatest amount of medicinal properties with the least intoxicating qualities. Spear's vineyards produce a larger yield this year than usual, and he has reduced the price of this wine to such an extent that it is now purchased by druggists for a few cents. None of this wine is bottled until it is four years old. -Gazette.

A MOTHER'S AWFUL CRIME. Morphia Administered to Herself and Nine Children. The Father's Dreadful Discovery - Death of the Perpetrator and Three of the Little Ones. Woodson L. Gunnells is a farmer who resides in Webster county, Ga., twenty miles west of Americus. Returning on Wednesday night from a visit to a sick neighbor, he found his wife and nine of his ten small children in a horrible sleep from the effects of morphia administered in lemonade by Mrs. Gunnells. There is no doubt that she prepared the fatal beverage and administered it to the children and drank of it herself with fatal intent. Mr. Gunnells was married to this, his second wife, about seven years ago, and has by her four children. The other six are by a previous wife, and, as far as is known the step-mother, had been a dutiful and kind parent to them. Mrs. Gunnells was the daughter of Dr. Talbot, of the same county, and is of a highly respectable family.

A note in the handwriting of Mrs. Gunnells was found under a morphia bottle on a table, in which she stated that she had deliberately administered morphia to the children and herself, with the intention of destroying them all and that she was not actuated by any domestic trouble. Owing to the lapse of time before medical aid arrived Mrs. Gunnells' case was hopeless. She lay on her back on the bed in the unnatural sleep produced by the fatal drug, and all efforts of the physicians and sympathizing friends to restore her were futile. She died in four hours. Three of the children are likely to die; the others may recover. The whole tragedy is utterly inexplicable.

TANNER'S HONEYMOON GOOD. "For His Ownself Bath Sold It." NEW YORK, August 6. -Tanner entered upon the last day of his fast, suffering intensely. He walks around the enclosure every hour unassisted so that the spectators may see him, but every more he makes prostrate pain. During the morning he was very low, but recited the proposition to put a mustard plaster on his stomach and said nothing would benefit him now but beef, wine and iron.

At noon he declared his condition "good." A chemical analysis of the fluid from his stomach shows that the fast has been honestly conducted. Two proposals of marriage and an offer from Chicago to lecture throughout the West, were in his morning mail.
