

SALT MOUNTAINS IN SOUTHERN NEVADA

Beginning six miles up the Virgin river, mountains of salt extend for thirty or more miles up the Virgin and Muddy rivers, in Nevada. There are openings now made from six to twenty miles up, the openings uncover a species of dark gray salt, ninety-two per cent pure, presenting to the casual observer the appearance of common, coarse gray granite. These openings are all on the east side of the Virgin river, from one-fourth to one-half mile from the banks. From a point twenty miles up the river, and on its western side, is a mountain of pure white crystallized salt, white as the driven snow and transparent almost as glass.

It is at once a pleasing and interesting spectacle to see the great masses of crystal like salt, thrown out by a three or four foot blast. These pure and beautiful blocks resemble somewhat blocks of the purest ice when prepared for the ice-house. On placing a mass six inches thick over a column of the CHRONICLE, the fine print could be read easily. The formation of the salt deposit is no doubt very ancient, dating back in years beyond computation. Long since the deposit was made the great upheavals and earthquake era have occurred which have changed the whole appearance of the country for great distances around. These salt bluffs or mountains can be identified for a long distance by the peculiar color of the surface, which is of a reddish or orange color. Underneath this formation, as well as in it, is a peculiar kind of micaceous sedimentary granite.

Another very interesting natural curiosity visited and examined here is a natural salt well, a mile north west of the ferry. It is on a kind of mesa, which extends up and down the river on its northern bank. This mesa is a drift formation, formed of small pebbles and boulders mixed with earthy matter. The well is a large circular opening in the mesa, some 300 feet in circumference, with abrupt descent to the surface of the well which is 50 feet below the surface. The water is exceedingly salt, far more so than any spring, and has been sounded to the depth of 150 feet. It is a splendid natural salt bath, in which the bather floats almost as buoyantly as cork upon a pool of water.—SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE.

MARK TWAIN'S INDIAN TREATMENT.

When Mark Twain, in 1867, resigned his clerkship to the United States Senate Committee on Conchology, it was partly caused by his tender of the following advice concerning the treatment of the Indians in the West: "I next went to see the Secretary of War, who was not inclined to see me at first, until he found that I was connected with the Government. If I had not been on important business, I suppose I would not have got in. I asked for a light, (he was smoking at the time), and then told him I had no fault to find with his defending the parole stipulations of General Lee and his comrades in arms, but that I could not approve of his method of fighting with the Indians on the plains. I said he fought too scattering. He ought to get them more together—get them together in some convenient place, where he should have provisions enough for both parties, and then have a general massacre. I said there was nothing so convincing to an Indian as a general massacre. If he could not approve of the massacre, I said the next best thing for an Indian was soap and education. Soap and education are not as sudden as a massacre, but they are more deadly in the long run; because a half massacred Indian may recover, but if you educate him and wash him it is bound to finish him some time or other. It undermines his constitution; it strikes at the foundation of his being. 'Sir,' I said, 'the time has come when blood-curdling cruelty has become unnecessary. Inflict soap and a spelling book on every Indian that ravages the plains, and let them die.'

WHAT MAKES THE DIFFERENCE?

Did you ever notice the difference between the appearance of a man and a woman on a hot summer day? It is one of the strangest things in nature. You meet a man and you see him mopping the sweat from his forehead, which in color would shame a beet, digging the dirt from his eyes, his collar wetted, his coat wet through, and in answer to his inquiry, he says: "Hot! I should rather think so." And then he proceeds to regard you with a history of his troubles—how the rubber in his suspenders has melted and run down his back—how he could wring barrels of perspiration from his shirt—how his flesh is evaporating like dew from the flowers—how he has been sleeping on the grass—how the very pavements have scorched his boots, parboiled his feet, and finally winds up by exclaiming he "never saw anything like it."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption. The reputation it has attained in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to its medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, nauclages are rescued and restored to health. This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

People about seeking the Black Hills to wrest fortunes from the earth should consider the cost of the process. Already the sum of $600,000 has been expended in opening the Summer Mine, near Kernville, California, and $600,000 more are needed to secure the necessary machinery. SENBURN is now the cause assigned for a red nose.

How warm a red-headed man looks, such weather as this?

The man who attempts to pull down the American eagle should be shot somewhere.

Why is the absence of the letter 'm' like the presence of a hand-organ? Because it makes us sick of music.

JOHN CHISHAM says to-day: "Let me make the firecrackers of a country and I care not who makes its laws."

"Do you love me still, John?" whispered a sensible wife to her husband. "Of course I do—the stiller the better," answered the stupid husband.

A BRICK in your hat is not the best safeguard against sun-stroke. A cabbage leaf is better.

JOKING (says Josh Billings) is a risky business; just for the sake of a second class joke many a man has lost a first class friend.

"I am afraid, my dear, that while I am gone, absence will conquer love."

"Oh, you needn't fear for me," said his wife, "the longer you shall stay away the better I shall like you."

THERE'S a man in Williamsburg who carries an India-rubber contrivance he calls a "temper-preserver."

He uses it to chew on when his wife's voice rises to the factory-whistle pitch.

"Day ain't no niggers on de top side of keration," said a colored man the other day, putting his hand to his bandaged head, "what can sing a hymn an' put de gear on a kickin' mule at de same time?"

A BARBER left in charge of a telegraph office while the operator went to dinner, heard some one "call" over the wires, and began shouting at the instrument, "De operator isn't yere!"

SHE was a young lady from New York, and he asked her if she would partake of an ice-cream, and she gently answered: "If it's good square confectioner's cream I'm there, but if it's a church fair or a strawberry festival slush count me out."

HE THOUGHT IT WAS DELIRIUM TREMENS. Sniffles brought his two weeks' spree to a close on Thursday night. He lay on a lounge when something in the corner of the room attracted his attention. Raising on his elbow he gazed steadily at it. Rubbing his eyes, he started again, and as he started his terror grew. Calling his wife, he asked hoarsely:

"Marinda, what is that?"

"What's what, Likey?"

"Sniffles name is Lycurgus, and his wife calls him Likey for short and sweet."

"Why that—that—thing in the corner," said the frightened man, pointing at it with a hand shaking like a politician.

"Liky, dear, I see nothing," replied the woman.

"What, you don't see it?" shrieked he. "Then I've got 'em. Oh, Heavens! bring me the Bible, Marinda, bring it quick! Here, here on this sacred book I swear never to touch a drop of whisky. If I break my vow, may my right hand cleave to the roof of my mouth, and—"

Here caught another glimpse of the terrible object he clutched his wife and begging in piteous tones:

"Don't leave me—don't leave your Likey," and burying his face in the folds of her dress, he sobbed himself into a comical sleep.

Then his wife stole gently to the corner, picked up the toy snake, and threw it into the stove.

Now set out a centennial tree. Set one out. Don't fail. If you have no tree buy one. If you have no money borrow it. It makes no difference what sort of a tree. If you had no land set it out in the street. Show your grit. If the police interfere tell them it is a centennial tree, and if they haul it down shoot 'em on the spot. Think of James Hillhouse and his elms. Think of G. Washington and his immortal choke-cherry tree. Think of Locke and his moon-oaks. Think of Newton and his apple-tree. Think of the phoenix and its ash. Think of Milton and his birch. Set out a tree, and future generations, coming home late at night, and leaning against that tree to "git their bearings," will rise up and call you blessed.—N. J. Graphic.

CENTAUUR LINIMENTS.

White, for the Human Family. Yellow, for Horses and Animals.

The Centaur Liniments are simply the wonder of the world. The effects are little less than marvellous. At times are some things which they will not do. They will cure cancer or mend broken bones, but they will always kill rats. They have straightened fingers, cured chronic rheumatism of many years standing, and taken the pains from terrible burns and scalds, which has never been done by any other article. The White Liniment is for the human family. It will drive rheumatism, neuralgia and neuritis from the system; cure Lumbago, Catarrhs, Pains, Head, and most instances of Rheumatism; it extracts frost from frozen hands and feet; relieves the poison and stings and stings of venomous reptiles; it soothes swellings and alleviates pain of every kind. For sprains or bruises it is the most potent remedy ever discovered. The Centaur Liniment is used with great efficacy for Sore Throat, Toothache, Caked Breasts, Karache, and Weak Back. The following is but a sample of numerous testimonials: "I have used your Centaur Liniment for many years, and I have suffered much with swollen feet and shingles. I have not been free from these swellings in eight years. Now I can perfectly walk, thanks to the Centaur Liniment. The Liniment ought to be applied with a brush. It is better than any other. It is cheap, and every family should have it. It is used with great efficacy for Sore Throat, Toothache, Caked Breasts, Karache, and Weak Back.
