

FOR PRESIDENT, ABRAHAM LINCOLN, OF ILLINOIS. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, ANDREW JOHNSON, OF TENNESSEE.

The Work of the Baltimore Convention. The National Union Convention has done its work and concluded its session.

After all, the duty of the Convention was by no means a difficult one. Never did a political gathering convene whose course of action, in all essential matters, was so clearly pointed out beforehand.

The only matter of real importance for the people are very careful of such formal and trifling matters as the right of Smith or Jones or Brown to a seat in the Convention—the only matter of real importance was the selection of a platform.

The document is given in full in yesterday morning's issue of the LEADER. It pledges the Union party to aid the government in quelling the rebellion and in bringing rebels and traitors to punishment.

The new two-cent coin is now in limited circulation in some of the eastern cities. It is about one-eighth of an inch larger in diameter than the now one-cent coin.

John George, Chevalier de Holsman, for years Charge d'Affaires and Minister Resident from Austria in Washington, died on the 8th of March, at the age of 64 years.

The Independence Bells (no French bells) were taken such a liberty of speculation upon the character of Napoleon I. being erected by his son, the Emperor being in his eightieth year, and the boy in his ninth year.

General Fremont's Letter. The letter of General Fremont accepting the nomination of the Convention is the most unfortunate document ever put forth by that gentleman.

At the dinner of the Royal Library Fund in London, Earl Russell, in proposing "Prosperity to English Literature," it is an abuse to compare with this toast the name of Mr. Anthony Trollope.

At the last meeting of the Archeological Institute, Mr. Bacon exhibited a portion of the most remarkable work by Charles the First at his execution. It is of fine cambric, beautifully worked.

THE GOLD HARBOR BATTLES.

Full and Interesting Details.

The Battle of June First—A fierce Contest—Victory Won—The Night Work—Necessitous Charges—Union Losses—Highly Interesting.

The series of flank and strategic movements executed by the Lieutenant General since the opening of this campaign, which has not yet reached its apex, will stand among the most brilliant that ever have or will adorn the pages of history.

The influence of Ohio in the Convention is due not merely to her services and sacrifices for the country, in the camp, in the Cabinet and in Congress—not merely to her splendid record and devoted patriotism—but to the high and influential character of the delegation which represented her.

The Plain Dealer has been endeavoring for a day or two to make it appear that the Baltimore Convention was a very weak affair, deficient in numbers, enthusiasm and harmony.

General News Items. Mrs. General Banks is at attendance at the St. Louis Sanitary Fair. There is a woman twenty eight years of age now on exhibition at Montreal.

Brigadier-General B. O. Tyler, who was wounded in the battle of Friday, has arrived at Philadelphia from Washington, and is at his brother's residence.

Robert J. Walker is reported to be suffering from feeble health caused by the effects of an extensive balloon excursion taken in London in October last.

TESTIMONIALS. FROM THE REV. FRED. S. JEWELL, PROFESSOR OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ALBANY, N. Y.

This may certify that I have been, since 1844, afflicted by a highly inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the ear.

Under these circumstances I was led, some five months ago, to make a trial of Dr. Lighthill's treatment.

Under the treatment of Dr. Lighthill, I have been enabled to perform my duties as a teacher, and to enjoy the same amount of ease and comfort as before.
