CALL FOR A CIRCULAR DE-SCRIRING ALL SYMPTOMS.

SYMPTOMS: The symptoms of Catarrh, as they generally appear, are at first very slight. Fersons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the change of temperature. In this condition, the new may be dry, or a slight dischare, the and acred accreases becoming In this condition, the new may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and sorid, arterwards becoming this and adhesive, As he decase becomes chronic the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy and are hawaed or coughed off. The secretious are offensive, causing a had breath; the voice is thick and assait; the eyes are week; the some or the smell is insected or destroyed; desfnoss frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Catarrh in, that the person is obliged to dear his threat in the morning of a thick or slimy mucus, which has fallow down from the head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to this lungs, and eliculd loss no time in arresting it.

The above are but for of the many Chiarrh symptoms.

"BYE-AND-BYE." is a storm of tear-drups failing
From a face all sad and white?
Thinh not of it, in the future
Calmer, fairer days are nigh;
Gane not backward, but look onwardFor a sunny "bye-and-bye."

Were some whispered words too cherished? Was the touch of lips too sweet?
Are two souls once linked together
Never, never more to meet?
Never, never more to meet?
Never, never more to meet?
Never here, earth's poor, vain passion,
Slowly smouldering out, must dis,
Builto ashes shall return you
Something pure. "bys-and-bye,"

Was the priceless love you isvished Sought for, played with, and then slain Were its crushed and quiv'ring romans.
Calmly thrown you back again?
Calmly to the remnante gather,
Bring them some without a vigib,
Ewest returns they yet shall bring you
In a coming "bye-and-bye."

is your frail boat tossed and battered, With its sails all torn and wet, Crossing o'er a wante of waters. Over which your can has set? To the shoure all calm and sunlit, To the smooth and warm and dry, Parru shall bear your shattered vessel Eafely, surely, "bye-and-bye."

Are the cyclide very sumry,

Does the tired head long for rest,
Are the tempire hot and throbbing,
And the heads together pressed?

Hornshall my you on her becom,
Goo! the poor lips parched and dry,
And shall whisper, "Best is coming,
Best for ever, "bys-and-eye."

And when calmed and cheered and freshened
By her saut impliring voice,
Then look up, the heavens are bright ning,
Coase your waiting and rejoice;
Cry not out for days departed,
None will hear your, none reply;
But look on where light is breaking
O'er a brighter "bye-and-bye."

Cover up with earnest strivings
All the wayward, wasted Past;
Raise a torn and blood stained bear
Over a victory won at last.
Fold your wet and weary pinions,
Hash your ussless sob and sight: Rest ye, rest ye, from your troubles In the thought of "bye-and-bye," Once a Week.

A BLAST FROM THE RICHMOND EXAM-INER OF THE 30th.

The Horrors of Submission Portrayed. The Richmond Examiner of the 30th has long and loud blast of war. The article s so significant that we extract the follow-

There are several erroneous impres stroad, bearing upon this matter, which it would be as well to dispose of. People say and report to one another, rubbing their hands with innocent glee, that there must have been some intimation conveyed to Seward from Europe, which makes the Seward from Europe, which makes the en-emy so eager now to wind up the war; in fact that England and France might, could, would or should have informed Lincoln that if, on the 4th of March next, he is not to be inaugurated President of the whole of the old States, they, England and France will recognize him only as President of those States which concurred in his elecion. There is not the slightest evidence or foundation of fact for this or any kindred rumor. It is a blunder altogether. Not only is there no single symptom that these European powers are changing their poli-cy in a manner favorable to us, but no cocasion will arrive on the 4th of next March for the recognition of any portion or any thing. The European powers know nothing about the 4th of March. They don't encw their recognition of the United States on the inauguration of a new President Beautiful a big fete day, and to commence Lincoln's new term punctually at midnight of the 3d with a triumphant bell-ringing, and can-non salutes, over a restored Union. Another reason, and mere pressing still, is that they understand perfectly well that they are at the end of their resources if we hoose to hold out in resistance; that both in money and men their means are exhausted; that their present armies in the field are their last. Yet for all that, it is not so much to con Sade a peace they send their commissioners and their snam negotithey move forward toward the final inis offered, the terms of it will be as above stated. How will the army like it? Do Confederate soldiers, indeed, confess them-solves so utterly beaten, that, after the perder a flag that is now renowned by land an sea, they would yield up the whole cause for which they have fought, the sovreign right of the nation and States, to the control over their own institutions, to the possession of the right of property, and the inheritance of their own children? Our soldiers, who have served throughout the war, have ever cherished the thought that when the struggle is over, and our independence won, they will some time wear the grey confederate uniform, and hard won insignia of their rank, and tell y preserves with fond pride the sword of their last brother or son, to attest in future generations how their kindred blood flowed o, for Southern independence. But now, now could it be, if such peace really fell upon us? Hide, burn every shred of the Confederate cloth, rip off the stars and bars and bury them, so that no eye shall see t Dare not to show the souvetheir names. Let every vestige and reminiscence of the army that fought with Le and Jackson sink out of sight, and sternal silence rest over all that department of memory. There is no need to speculate in the possibility of such infamy. It was wrong; it was weak beyond measure t rmit the journeyings to and fro of secret esengers without credentials, at the iment risk of everything, and the militaspirit of the country, by turning men's coughts to dreams and visions of peace, at the very moment when every energy ought to be strung and braced for the However, as it has begun, let us hope that this last step may be the last. All the peace party of the South protests that it will in nowise have a peace of subnission and abolition. The parties who have gone to Washington are men of unierstanding, and they may, on their re-iers, be able to make plain to the hum-blest intellect that no other peace than that is to be obtained, and silence all dis putes, and produce a desirable unanimity and so explode forever all schemes an projets unworthy a gallant people. It may be hoped, then, to see an end of the feeble kind of management of our public Mairs. With Lee as Generalissimo, wielding uncontrolled power over all our armies, and all our Generals, and Breckinridge a the War Department, we trust the resi names of the country will have some banes of being attended to, and the real business of the country is, for the present, war, and not peace." ADIES WRAFFERS AND DRAWERS, TAYLOB, OBISWOLD & CO.
