CLEVELAND, WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1865

VOL. XIX.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 15, 1965.

The New Hampshire Election. The telegraph brings us the news this norning of a gratifying and unexpectedly decisive Union victory in New Hampshire. We had looked, of course, for the success of the Union ticket in that State, but had not expected one-half the glorious majority of 6,000 which it has given for Governor Smythe. This a is bandsome increase on the Union majority for President last fall, and is, if we mistake not, the largest 280 and 132 Water St., Cleveland, O., cast for any party for years. The result in the election of Congressmen is not known, but if the majority in the State be as large as reported, the election of all three of the Union candidates is secured. This will be a Union gain of one-Gilman Marston (Union) in place of Daniel Marcy (Dem., in the lat District. The State Senate and TME PANIC IN RICHMOND House are of course Union by overwhelming majorities. Thus the first State election of 1865 results in a yet higher triumph than ever for the Union party. The suc cess of our arms in the field meets with this gratifying response at home.

LATER.-The latest dispatches, which will be found in our special report, confirm the election of all three of the Union candidates for Congress, and increase the reported majority for the State ticke!:

The Gold Tumble.

Gold 1782! What terrors that announcement will bring to the semi-rebel gold operators of Wall stret! The tumble in gold has commenced most indubitably.-The news from Sheridan, the metamo phosis of defeat into victory at Kinston the advance of Sherman, the probability point will soon be reached and passed, in the downward progress. But in March, 1864 prices were going up steadily, and on the first of July 280 was reached. Everything looked gloomy. People doubted and trembled. Now CENT. in cash upon the sained premium prices are going down steadily. Gold has for the year 1801 has been declared upon all participating policies, payable on or af er May lat. day of July, 1864. The currency is being contracted. The war is being pushed to a close. The end of the rebellion is visible. Everything else is going down with gold! 35,548 12 A pleasant prospect for the country, truly, 57,000 to but a black one to rebels and gold specu-10,000 to lators.

Another Panic in Richmond. The rebels in Richmond have had an other terrible scare-and Indeed are probably still shaking with alarm. "Sheridan, Sheridan, galloping Sheridan," has dashed up to within twenty miles of the Confederate capital, carrying havor with him, and utterly destroying the James River canal for a distance of more than a hundred miles. At this point, where he was last heard from, he was demolishing the TAPAN TEA. - Good qualities and Beaver Dam aqueduct of the canal, a magallicent and costly structure, which it will of the State was passed. take long months to rebuild. This account lends additional credibility to the rumor that our forces have taken Burk's Station, destroying the Richmond and Danville and Petersburg and Lynchburg roads. Sheridan will find no difficulty in continuing his gallop to Grant's left, at Hatcher's Run. The Richmond papers, which make it a rule of late not to mention a single Confederate defeat, have been very reticent about Sheridan's movements, but this proves nothing except that he has met with no disaster. If this movement is successful it will necessitate the evacuation of Richmond, and indeed the rebels seem to from Sherman, the rate gradually fell to be preparing for that movement, if they have not already commenced it.

The troopers of the Second Ohio Cavalry are with Sheridan in his glorious gallop across Virginia.

The country will learn with deep regre that President Lincoln is confined to his bed by illness, and their anxiety lest his indisposition may prove serious will be great. The life of the President has been esteemed of priceless value by the people, but the recent "illness" of the Vice President has made Mr. Lincoln's good health still more desirable than ever.

The State of New York held an election yesterday to ratify the Constitutional Amendment appointing Commissioners of the Court of Appeals. It was adopted by the Court of Appeals. It was adopted by cargo of cotton bagging, liquors and ropes a vote of two to one. Not one twentieth She cleared from Matsmoras for Havana of the voters cast their ballots.

Libby Prison and Belle Isie Emptied. It will be a matter of sincere rejoicing exchange of prisoners at least two of the W. W. Fowler; Assistant Paymaster, G. rebel charnel-houses have been cleaned out. The horrors of Libby and Belle Isle are, we now trust and believe, things of the past. Once emptied, the progress of our arms and the rapid conveyance of our forces upon Richmond, will prevent their ever being filled again. The Richmond Examiner, of the 10th, has the following: hundred six and wounded Yankeeprisoners gathered from the Bichmond hospitals.
