Mobile Ours, The telegraph to-night removes the last vertige of doubt as to the possession of Mobile. Official dispatches from General FUN Canby to the War Department are published, giving account of the capture of Spanish Fort and Blakely, with prisoners amounting in the aggregate to over three thousand. This of itself would involve the immediate reduction of the city, as these fortifications are its only defences on the eastern side and completely command.

the city is in our possession and that the Stars and Stripes wave over it. the South, and the last rebel sea-port east of Texas. Thus falls, too, the army which garrisoned Mobile, for one-third of it has already been captured in Blakely, and the rest has doubtless ere this laid down its arms. Outside of Johnston's army, therefore, the only forces leit in the Confederacy east of the Mississippi, are a few roving guerrilla bands.

Mobile was one of the most strengly fortified, munitioned and garrisoned pisces in the South. The rebels had ample time | They offer $10,000 for his Arrest to prepare it against our attack. Its fortiloations, its guns, its stores of ammunitions and provisions were complete and perfect. And yet it fell. The very fact shows how little energy and courage is felt by the rebel soldiers in sustaining the last

But as soon as men had ceive that the death even of our greatest and best citizen could not check the onward march of the republic, gold went down. It now stands at former agures.

Thus is the strength of our form of govrnment demonstrated. In other countries the assassination of a ruler in times of civil it sas stood the other assembts of rebellion Mobile: and treason-unharmed. This fact, like all the other (vents of the last few years, proves to the world the grandeur and power of republican institutions.

An Unexpected and Graceful Act. The proclamation of the Mayor of Montreal calling upon the citizens of that place to close their places of businesss after twelve o clock to-day, in respect to the nemory of Abraham Lincoln, is an unexness of the fallen President, which we had rom Montreal. The decisions of Justices | than I now believe them to be Coursel and Smith, delivered there, and the demonstrations of sympathy with the South and haired of the North there manifested, had not given us any reason, for looking to it for any fairness or courtesy. They are authorized to arrange time tables with the respective Railroads, and to regulate all things for sale and appropriate transportation.

It was stated in a former dispatch that the person arrested this morning as the person who attempted to take the life of the Secretary of State, was supposed to be Surratt, bus there is reason to believe that the desperado is no other than Thomas, the so-called French lady, who, it will be remembered, captured the steamer St. Nicholas in 1861, and was subsequently apprehend, tried, convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary, from which by some means he was released. Nothing positive, however is known on the subject.
