Surprise. 'Twas the style in old Orange some time ago, When a friend was leaving, some gift to bestow. That all could have a chance, and some tribute prepare. A quilt was proposed, and each did their share.

But since many deemed it nonsense, and laid on the shelf, I did not think of, nor expect it myself. But to my surprise, after five months or more, I am kindly remembered by ladies—thirty-four.

The gift is more valued as it came from my home. There my infant feet were taught early, and till lately did roam. From my own native home, "twas received with much pleasure. And the same shall be kept as a very choice treasure.

These friends of my youth, and schoolmates so dear, I shall ever remember, and oft wish you were here. While those of ripe years and more distant away. 'Tis also remember, and just thank you to-day. Wooster Ohio. MATTIE A. WHITE.
