News by the Ocean Cable.

First Despatch over the Ocean Telegraph for the press, was received on the 25th ult. One or two items of the news may be considered important, but the great gratification among the members of the press more especially, arises from the fact, which is in itself an earnest of the speedy adoption of a regular system of reciprocal communication to the press, respectively of the old and new worlds.

The following is the dispatch which we put on record, not only for the use of the present, but as an evidence of the inauguration of a system to which generations in the far distant future will revert with special interest.

A treaty of peace has been concluded with China, in which indemnification has been secured to England and France.

Later India news has been received, Bombay dates to 10th July having reached England. The mutiny in that country was being rapidly quelled.

The steamships North American, with the Canadian, and the Asia, with the Boston mail, sail from Liverpool on this day, Saturday. The steamer Fulton leaves Southampton for New York the same day.

Speech of Hon. John Fremont. We are by the courtesy of the editors of the Western Reserve Chronicle, enabled to lay before our readers, the speech of Mr. Fremont, the nominal leader of the late convention at Warren, accepting that nomination. It is a straight forward, manly affair, an index of the man who is to represent a district, which above all others, occupies the attitude of defiance to the aggressions of slavery, and which stands committed against any policy or machinery that may be forced upon the country, in which the rights of humanity, and the honor and dignity of free labor shall be prejudiced or imperiled.

The Trustees of the Lake Erie Female Seminary have secured the services of C. S. Martindale, Esq., of Cleveland, as an Associate Agent, with Rev. Mr. Hawkes, for that Institution. Mr. Martindale was formerly the Managing Agent of the Cleveland Female Seminary and is a gentleman most admirably fitted for such work. The Seminary building is being pushed ahead with all dispatch, and we trust we shall have the opening on an early day of announcing the pleasure of the School.

Blows, whose failure to secure a Canadian Ministry, led to the resignation of his seat in Parliament, has been returned by his constituents.

The Cable Celebration in N. Y. on Wednesday, was probably the most brilliant and imposing affair that ever took place in that city. The programme, in liberal expenditure, and extent of design, has had no parallel in that unparalleled city. It was altogether too extensive for us to give even an abstract of it. We were enabled, through the aid of our Park street friend and electrician, who sent us a couple of bottles of very excellent Catawba, to get up a very fair amount of enthusiasm in honor of the occasion. The gyrations of old ad as it went into the hole, was not a little amusing.

The celebration on Tuesday night generally passed off very well, but we have to announce the melancholy fact that several women were probably consumed in the large boulevards in the Second ward. We rode by shortly afterwards and saw the remains of the boulevards. Louisville (Ky.) Journal.

The Victories of Science. No such Word as Incurable. "Your system is breaking up," says the sentimental practitioner, who sees the bodily strength of his patient sinking day by day, and has administered all his hackneyed stimulants in vain. This is Sir Crocker's ultimatum, and he leaves the victim of debility, like a stranded steamer, to sink or swim, survive or perish, as fate may determine. But let the invalid, though abandoned by professional experimentals, be of good cheer. It is in such crises as these that the restorative power of Holloway's Purgative is most triumphantly demonstrated. No matter from what cause the prostration may arise, whether it be the consequence of specific disease, or merely symptoms of its approach, Holloway's Pills will arrest the evil. The system does not break up spontaneously. Mordant humors are at work, secretaries in the vital organs, and wherever they may be in ambush this searching remedy will work its way to them and neutralize them.

It is unnecessary to describe the terrible mental depression which accompanies great bodily weakness and debility. Acute pain is more tolerable; for the physical and mental energies fail to meet it; but when the muscular and nervous systems are completely relaxed, the appetite gone, and the very principles of vitality seem to be departing, the mind sinks into despondency and despair. In such an exigent, immediate relief may be invariably derived from a course of Holloway's Pills. Their effect is not merely to reconstitute the physical powers, but to repair and renovate the system constitutionally. In India, where the climate and luxuriant diet tend to produce premature decay, both among the European residents and the native population, the restorative action of the Pills is powerful, and in this country they have been pronounced by high medical authority the best remedy for general weakness and debility that has yet been offered to mankind. N. Y. Med. Pol. Gazette.

Considerable excitement exists in Kansas in consequence of new and favorable reports from the gold regions of Pike's Peak, in the extreme western portion of the Territory.

The Cabinet at Washington are busy with arrangements for the expedition to Paraguay, which, it is said, will be more formidable than heretofore reported.

Speech of Hon. J. B. Giddings at Warren. This speech will be found on the fourth page of the Western Reserve Chronicle, received since our last issue. The spirit and drift of it is decidedly good, not it will be read with much satisfaction and interest. The natural effect of the sentiment which runs through it, will be to temper and soften any feeling of opposition to its venerable author, and to increase the respect and veneration of his numerous friends.

The Illinois Contest.—Douglas and Lincoln, the Illinois rivals, had the first of their open-air debates at Ottawa, Saturday the 21st. The talk on both sides was mostly personal.—A Douglas account says, "Douglas was borne off in triumph, leaving Lincoln paralyzed on the stand, with his mouth open, and that feeling, being unable to walk, he was carried away." A republican report says "it is acknowledged universally that Douglas is a great man,—"that Lincoln showed him up completely," and that Douglas hastened out of town by the earliest train, while Owen Lovejoy "directed himself by his cravat and collar, opened his vest and shirt," and "saluted the democratic bill by the horns, and administered to him a terrible flogellation," "every sentence fell hissing hot upon the conscience of his Douglas listeners." If our readers cannot understand the merits of the debate from these particulars, says the Springfield Republican, we will add, after having read the speeches of both Douglas and Lincoln, that the former seems to us the best arguer and most ardently conceived, and the latter to have the most truth in it. Douglas was smart but mighty unfair. Lincoln was entertaining, had the most friends in the crowd, and defended himself handsomely from the attacks of his opponent, but did not press home upon him the points which he should have done.

A Case.—A trace has been found to the mysterious fate of Mrs. Brennan, wife of Capt. Brennan, of Staten Island, whose disappearance, as was supposed, from the most public street in N. Y. City, in open daylight, was not a thing to be wondered at, in the papers of that city. It has been ascertained that she crossed the ferry, procured a carriage and driver at a lively stable, and set off about 7 o'clock in the evening. A man was seen to take a seat in the carriage with her, but whether as an attendant or not, is not known. The police are ferreting the matter, and do not, according to the Tribune, disclose all they know. The probability seems to be, that the lady was the victim of lust, with murder, superadded for concealment.

SLAVER CAPTURED.—The brig Becho, of Baltimore, entered Charleston harbor on the 27th ult., with 300 Africans on board. She was captured five days previous off the north coast of Cuba by the United States brig Dolphin. The cargo was landed at Castle Pinckney and placed in charge of the U. S. Marshal. The affair has created much excitement.

Dispatches have been forwarded to the U. S. Marshall at Charleston to more the recently captured slaves to Fort Sumpter, about five miles from Charleston. Arrangements, it is said, will soon be made by Government to send the unfortunate back to Africa. They are in a deplorable condition, many of them suffering from dysentery, and twelve have already died since the capture of the Putnam. The Charleston Courier says the negroes are mostly young, apparently not more than fifteen years of age.

The Trustees of the Lake Erie Female Seminary have secured the services of C. S. Martindale, Esq., of Cleveland, as an Associate Agent, with Rev. Mr. Hawkes, for that Institution. Mr. Martindale was formerly the Managing Agent of the Cleveland Female Seminary and is a gentleman most admirably fitted for such work. Resignation.—Recent news from Europe announces the resignation of...

Deaths, Arabia, was bombarded by the British steamer Cyclops, in consequence, it is said of the delay of the Turkish authorities in granting reparations for the recent massacre there of the English Consul and others. The Cyclops shelled the town for five days when Ismael Pasha the Turkish Commissioner, finally made his appearance in the place and promised to arrange the matter. He subsequently executed eleven of the murders and sent four to Constantinople to be dealt with by the Sultan. The Cyclops then took her departure.

From the Cleveland Press. Cleveland Vessels Abroad. By letters received from Col. STANBARD, we learn that the Correspondent left Liverpool on the 12th inst. with 300 tons salt for Cleveland. The Harrow sailed on the 11th for Montreal. Mr. HANBY will, with the D. B. Saxon to Captain Pierce for $8,000, half cash and half in six months. Capt. Pierce has chartered the Sexton and the Kerzack for South America. Col. STANBARD and Mr. HANBY left for Paris on the 12th inst., where the latter would remain until the first of September. Col. STANBARD was to leave for home on Thursday last.

The following extract from the London Times' account of the Agamemnon's Cable trip show a Cleveland vessel came near spoiling the laying of the Cable. At noon on Monday, August the 2nd, observations showed us to be in lat. 52 deg. 35 min. N., long. 19 deg. 45 min. W., having made good 127 1/2 miles since noon of the previous day, and completed more than the half way to our ultimate destination.—During the afternoon an American three-masted schooner, which afterwards proved to be the Chieflain, was seen standing from the eastwards towards us. No notice was taken of her at first, but when she was within about half a mile of the Agamemnon she altered her course and bore right down across our bows. A collision, which might have proved fatal to the cable, now seemed inevitable, or could be avoided by the equally hazardous expedient of altering the Agamemnon's course. The Valorous steamed ahead, and fired a gun for her to heave to, which, as she did not appear to take much notice of, was quickly followed by another from the bows of the Agamemnon and a second third from the Valorous; but still the vessel held her course, and as the only resource left to avoid a collision was the course of the Agamemnon altered just in time to pass within a few rods of her. It was evident that our proceedings were a source of the greatest possible astonishment to them, for all her crew crowded upon her deck and rigging. At length they evidently discovered who we were, and what we were doing, for the crew gave us three hearty cheers. Though the Agamemnon was obliged to acknowledge these congratulations in due form, the feelings of annoyance with which we regarded the vessel which, either by the stupidity or carelessness of those on board, was so near adding a fatal and unexpected mishap to the long chapter of accidents which had already been encountered, may easily be imagined. To those below, who of course did not see the ship approaching, the sound of the first gun, came like a signal of thunder-bolt, for all took it as a signal of the breaking of the cable. The dinner tables were deserted in a moment, and a general rush made up the hatches to the deck, but before reaching it their fears were quickly banished by the report of succeeding gun, which all new well could only be caused by a ship on our way or a man overboard.

Dry Goods. Business increases moderately. The new goods of present importation are in fair request, and as the supply is not in excess, prices are steady. There is a fair business going in all desirable goods at private sales, though little has yet been done by auction. The opening sale of French merinos, bombazines, delaines, etc., took place last week. Many duplettes were sold, and the bulk of the catalogue was disposed of satisfactorily, and above the cost of reproduction and importation, though not at high prices.—High prices are out of date just now.—Foreign woolen goods are in great over-supply, and prices are heavy. The receipts of domestic fabrics are large. The demand at present is hardly equal to the Business altogether is tame. The sales are mostly small parcels, buyers laying in stock with the utmost caution, and with the greatest self-restraint, fearful that the consumption of the country will be restricted by the necessity of the times. Brown sheetings and shirtings have declined a little. Prints and delaines are more steady in price, with a moderate demand, but the supply is kept up by continual receipts.—The general depression rather works in favor of home-made fabrics, and in disfavour of those of foreign manufacture, from their greater cheapness, uniting the reduced means of the consumer; and this is aided by the improvement making by our home manufacturers in the styles of their goods. Low grades of cassimeres are over-abundant, and sell low; but the demand for the best qualities of fancy styles is maintained at good prices. Woollens otherwise are dull at declining prices. N. Y. Wm. W. Warren, late Treasurer of the County, who recently removed to Kansas, was killed, died in that Territory on the 13th ult. His decease was through Fever, of which some of his beloved family were said to have been suffering.—The faults of the deceased, were such as spring from a too generous heart. His demeanor would do well to emulate his virtues, but add to these virtues knowledge, and temper that knowledge with decision.

PARISH OF A CATHOLIC KING.—The King of Portugal has recently issued a decree by which slavery is at once abolished at Alagoas and in the African province of Angola. This prospectively is all the remainder of the Portuguese colonies. The children of female slaves hereafter born, were declared to be entitled to their freedom on reaching the age of twenty years. Some of our Protestant "southern doctors of divinity" should be sent to instruct his Catholic majesty better as to his duties to black men.
