The tridge at Chaffer,s Mills, Morgan, is in a state of forwardness and will be open for travel in the course of a few days. So we are informed by contractor Brown. The work was not taken, as stated by Brown & Stewart, but by Mr. Brown.

FINE SITE.-Mr. F. HARRINGTON, of Rock Creek, is putting up a house upon the nev street to the Station, on the north side, a little west of the Walnut grove. There are no prettiest sites in that burg, than those lying along from the grove to the corner.

BEFOGGED .- We met an old acquaintance the other day, from Kingsville, who wanted to know how he should vote this fall. He had been an old Republican, and was fooled away after the ignis fatuus of Greelyism, and became so befooled and beforged, that he has not been REUNION 10TH O. V. C .- The 10th O. V. Cavalry will hold a reunion in the city of Sandusky, on the 17th and 18th days of Sept. Preparations are being made for a grand, good time, and all comrades are earnestly invited to be present, or write to the Corresponding Secretary at Geneva, Ohio, that the address of each comrade may be known by the associa-C. Good Chopping .- Our friend and patron, PERRY PARKER, of North Kingsville, is one of the most thorough farmers of the region. His farm, dwelling and out-houses, all show that. He practices upon the precept that what ever is worth doing, is worth doing well. The Reporter informs us that Mr. Parker raised the present season a field of oats that yielded 62 bushels to the acre, and his wheat ranged from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre.

NOTEWORTHY .- A call to the mammoth Furniture Establishment of James Morjarity, 280 and 282 Superior St., Cleveland, Ohio, satisfles us that this Is "headquarters" for furniture. Having just removed from his old stand into his magnificent structure, he has facilities for doing business, and a line of goods not equaled by any in the city. A commodious steam elevator ready at all times to convey visitors from one story to another. Persons visiting Cleveland should not fail to call. See advertisement

Our enterprising friends of the Times announce that that paper is to appear on the 18th inst, in a new dress throughout, enlarged and printed upon a new power press. This is indicative prosperity, well earned. The Times outbid us on that press, but we hope to be able to go into a similar arrangement of enlarging the year. We trust that both papers will be better fitted to fill their mission, and prove, grade of sidewalks on Main street between as intimated by our cotemporary, deserving of a full measure of success.

BURGLARY .- The house of DWIGHT FAULE-MER of this village, was entered on Friday night of last week, sometime after ntidnight, and a valuable gold watch and $5 or $6 in currency, contained in a wallet in his panta loons pocket. The burglars entered at a side door after unlocking it by the use of nippers. An unsuccessful effort was first made at the front door The pants were removed to the yard for rifling where they were found in the morning together with the papers that were in the wallet. It is somewhat nausual for professional burglars to confine their enterprise to a single case of this kind, and where, too, so little booty is obtained.

PROP. HAMLEN'S CONCERT OF Tuesday evening, called out a very fair house-not as full a one, perhaps, as the character of the entertalument deserved. The music, both instru-mental and vocal, was unusally fine. Miss Palmer, on the plano, was the star of the company, and yet Miss Wyman's performance was highly meritorious, and met the expectations of the audience. Perhaps the length of the pieces would admit of a criticism. In the vocal department, the Professor is always happy in his readerings, and on this possion he did not fall belief his best efforts. Miss Anderson did berieff much credit, and secured to be out a second time. The applause was bois-terous and determined. We think we have had no performance from these porities that

ERIE COSPERENCE of the Methodist annual session at Brookville , Pa., on Tues ay norning last, Bishop G. Haven pres ded .ome of the appointments within our localiy for the year are as follows :

Rev. A. D. Morton remains Pastor of the hurch in Ashtabula.

Darius Smith soes to the East Village Geo. Staples to Kingaville; R. F. Keeler to Baker to Geneva; Rev. Rowland to Jefferson. Rev. D. C. Osborn is the Presiding Elder of he Cleveland Dis., which is now very large and extends from Conneaut to Cleveland.

EQUINE .- Another good stepper-a six year by Mr. A. C. Fisk. His stock is not known. He is large and rangy, and his action is bold, open and vigorous. As he is green—never having been handled, as is said—he promises a good gait. He is an addition to our small tock of superior roadsters.

BLAIR's stallion, though large and heavy of build, shows himself capable of considerable good action. Accepting an invitation of the elder Blair, a day or two since, we took a seat | ed. in his buggy to witness his performance, and found him a much more speedy traveler than was expected. He strikes a square, honest gait, and no urging with the voice or whip, produces a break, and he could, without much discipline, be got down, we judge, to a three minute guit. He does his work handsomely. and his style is good. He has given some superior specimens of stock, and the pair of bay our year olds, at the Blair stables, spoken of

The robbery of Mr. SIMEON KEITH, at Cleveand, has been alluded to. The amount taken and been carefully gathered, under great discouragements, and was intended to provide or the wants of a meritorious family, as the fall and winter approached. The family are not only left destitute, but Mr. Keith has been brought to Ashtabula, more helpless and feeble than usual, and as the attention and strength of Mrs. K. is thus severely taxed, the resources of the family are entirely cut off. Rooms have been secured and an effort is being made for gathering the means of comfortable housekeeping. Some have already contributed the more useful articles of house keeping, but many more are wanted. A field is, therefore, offered for donations of house-keeping articles. or money, as may be most convenient, where t will not only do good, but where it is absoutely demanded. NORTHERN OHIO FAIR .- We invite attention to the advertisement of the Northern Ohio Fair, which appears in another column. The fourth of these Fairs will take place in the city of Cleveland on the 29th of Sept. and Ladder Company had their annual parade continue five days. The extensive grounds as the most beautiful in the country. The permanent buildings have been increased in capacity, affording to exhibitors, this season over 60,000 square feet of room in which to display their articles. These immense structures will be filled with the most rare and curious, as well as the most valuable products of skill and labor from all parts of the country. All the railroads leading to the city will carry passengers at half fare and for those who arrive from the West or South, ample facilities for reaching the grounds are provided by the third track which has been laid upon the L. S. & M. S. R. R. and the double track upon the St. Clair Street R. R. The grounds of the Association being immediately adjacent to the L. S. & M. S. R. R. a track has been extended into the park so that the stock and heavy articles of machinery can be easily and readily unloaded. Arrangements have been made to furnish cheap and substantial meals for 75,000 daily, at the dining balls thickly clustered in the groves, which comprise a feature of the grounds, and nothing has been omitted which can add to the comfort or convenience of visitors. Races will be held each day, and we understand that the Directors of the Association, with commendable liberality, give admission to both fair races for the single price of fifty cents. The entries so far are extensive, as might be easily expected in view of the liberal premiums aggregating $35,000, and our readers can rest assured that they will be well repaid by a visit to Forest City during the five days on which the grand exhibition is

ASHTABULA, S. ot. 9th, 1873. Editor Telegraph :- There are two noisances present to your notice and that of your subscribers. ASHTABULA, Sept. 11th, 1873. Editor Telegraph :- Because of the sensation created by the appearance of a Mr. Brown laiming a legal interest in the land known is the old Strong farm, lately sold by me to Pittsburgh parties, and also in view of the aproaching sale of a portion of the same land, ow owned by Messrs. M'Creery and others of Pittsburgh, I desire, at the request of Mr. Mc-Creery's friends, to publish, through your valnamed piece of land, that his title may not depreciated, or his sale injured by the of the claimant. The facts are these:

Nehemiah Hubbard purchased of the state of Connecticut, in the year 1804, two or three townships of land of which the farm in controversy is a part. Connecticut held it by charter from the crown of Great Britain, it be ing a part of the land known as the Connecticut Western Reserve. My grand-father, Sala Blakesler, purchased it of Nehemish Hubbard A. D. 1815; my lather, Jabez Strong, purchased it of Sala Blakeslee A. BINGSVILLE. Editor Telegraph :- The Baptist and Metho dist church buildings are being very much mproved in every respect, as you have been advised of late; the former has been receiving some new, more modern style windows-being great improvement. The past two Sabbaths the pastor, Rev. Hough, has occupied the desk of the Presbyterian church, and some very practical and effective discourses have been furnished, well suited to all.

The Baptist Sunday-school some days since repaired to Ashtabula harbor, accompanied by the Kingsville Band, taking a ride on the lake upon one of the steam tugs. The day was marked as one of showery propensities, and we understand that, with the motto "any port in a storm," they on being overtaken with one, took refuge in a barn, at or near Mr-Landon's on the south ridge, and with the inflexible will to be, do, and suffer if need be, so that enjoyment may come out of it, they all went in, determined to "make the best of everything." Ere long, Mrs. Landon called on them and insisted on all hands coming into he house. The kind invitation was accepted, and all went merry as a marriage-bell. Many thanks are due Mr. and Mrs. Landon for their very generous hospitality. It was after the weather had cleared away, and the "inner man" had been provided for that the trip to to educate, to send at once for a catalogue of the lake was made. All came back fully satisfied with the day's doings.

The Methodist and Presbyterian Sundayschools will probably unite in a picnic, or some sort of an expedition through which the children may have some extra recreation.

Rev. Hickok, of the Presbyterian church, is still away, and we learn that Chautauqua Lake, N. Y., this year, has lost its usual effect in preventing the return of his disease-"Hay Fever"-he not receiving much if any benefit at this time.
