PROSPECTUS

For the continuation of the CARROLL FREE PRESS.

The interest of William Johnston, Esq. in this establishment, having been transferred to John Christy, the Free Press will in future be conducted by PEARCE & CHRISTY. The political complexion of this paper will not be changed—the editors being firm in their determination to preserve its neutral character. The transfer from Mr. Johnston to Christy, has been made with the hope of ensuring the continuation of a newspaper in Carrollton: And with this view, the editors appeal to the people of the county for a patronage equal to the merits and importance of their enterprise. One of the editors being a practical printer, and having determined to devote his time exclusively to the interest of the paper, it is confidently hoped that, with a reasonable increase of their subscription list, the Carroll Free Press may be continued to the mutual advantage of both subscribers and publishers.

Of the convenience and necessity of a public Journal, published at the county seat, every citizen of the county must be convinced; and the editors trust that the people of Carroll will sustain them in their efforts to promote public good, and to secure an honest administration.

TERMS.—The Free Press will be published every Friday morning, at Two Dollars per annum, payable half yearly in advance. If payment be delayed until after the end of the year, $2.50 will be required. But as payment in advance is for the interest of all parties, this mode is respectfully recommended.

Advertisements inserted at the usual rate. All communications addressed to the Editors must be post paid.

PROPOSAL FOR PUBLICATION OF THE OHIO STATE JOURNAL, TWICE A WEEK TILL DEC. 1, 1836

To be edited by J. Bailhache.

The high importance of disseminating correct information among the great body of the American people at the present alarming crisis in our national affairs, being universally admitted, it is deemed unnecessary to assign at length the reasons which seem to require the publication of a semi-weekly newspaper at the seat of government of this great State; at least until the coming struggle for the next Presidency shall have been brought to a close. Suffice it to observe, that a weekly journal, however capacious, must necessarily be too contracted, as well as too tardy in its operations, to meet the exigencies of the times. Two regular numbers per week, it is believed, will in a great measure, supply the acknowledged deficiency. In order, therefore, to insure a large circulation to the proposed publication, and place it within the reach of every one who prizes of subscription has been brought down to the lowest possible rate.

As the political opinions of the Editors are not unknown in Ohio, it is deemed unnecessary to give any other pledge of the course he intends to pursue, than to observe that, being fully persuaded the election of MARTIN VAN BUREN to the next Presidency must prove highly detrimental to the public interest, as well as imminent danger to the liberties of the citizens, he will zealously labor to prevent so deplorable a result, by affording an active, and so far as may depend upon him, an efficient support to THE CANDIDATE OF THE PEOPLE. From Maine to Georgia, the freemen of the United States are rushing to the rescue of the country with a spirit worthy of the days of '76. Nothing more is therefore necessary to secure to them an easy and complete triumph over the office-holders, than a perfect organization.—To effect this, on honorable and lasting principles, shall be a leading object of the Journal; and while most cordially respecting to the recent enthusiastic demonstrations of public sentiment in favor of our distinguished fellow-citizen, WM. HENRY HARRISON, as Gen. Jackson's successor, it will treat with true fraternal kindness all those who, concurring with us in uncompromising opposition to Mr. Van Buren, may nevertheless deem Daniel Webster, or Hugh L. White, entitled to the preference. In other respects, the semi-weekly Journal will contain the current news of the day, and such other matters as shall be thought interesting or instructive; and nothing will be omitted, on the part of the Editor and Publishers, to render it worthy of an extensive and liberal patronage.

CONDITIONS.

THE OHIO STATE JOURNAL will be published on a large and handsome imperial sheet, twice a week, from the termination of the present Session of the General Assembly until the first day of December next, at the low rate of Three Dollars for each individual subscriber; but County Committee, or individuals desirous of procuring extra numbers for distribution, may obtain ten copies for Twenty-five Dollars, twenty for Forty-five Dollars, or fifty for One hundred Dollars—payment in all cases to be made in advance.

The weekly Journal will be issued as formerly; but such of the present subscribers as may be desirous of receiving the semi-weekly in its place, will obtain the same upon the payment in advance of one dollar, in addition to their present subscription. Columbus, Feb. 29, (March 5) 1836.

SEVENTH VOLUME OF THE KNICKERBOCKER MAGAZINE.

The January number of the Knickerbocker, or New-York Monthly Magazine, commences a new volume, and will form the twenty-first number issued under the supervision of its present Proprietors and Editors. In the brief Advertisement by which the new series was introduced to the public whose patronage was only so far solicited, as it should seem to be deserved,—that the assistance of some of the ablest pens in the country had been secured in behalf of the work, and that, as it was thereafter to depend rather upon its merits, than upon frequent announcements of the future excellences to which it was to attain; it was submitted to its readers with the confident hope that it would prove deserving of the public favor. This hope has not been disappointed. Up to the present moment, the Journals of the different States in the Union, (to the number of more than six hundred,) and that silent but convincing sign, a steady increase of patronage, have borne testimony, that the labors of the many eminent writers presented to the public thro' the medium of this periodical have not been undervalued. While, therefore, the publishers acknowledge with gratitude the kindness with which their exertions have been received, they would take this occasion to repeat, that their efforts will be unintermitting, and that in a ratio with the enhancement of their ability, through the liberality of the public, will be their endeavors—without regard to labor or expense—to enter acceptably for the various literary appetites of a wide National community. The subjoined is a brief plan of the work. Its Original papers will be so varied as to form a combination of the Useful with the Entertaining and the Agreeable. These will embrace the departments of Useful science, Essays, Tales and Poetry which may deserve the name. The Literary Notices will comprise summary and candid reviews of new works, with such extracts, when practicable, as may be necessary to evince the justice of the accompanying criticisms.—The Editor's Tables will be devoted to the familiar discussion of local and general matters,—including the Drama, the Fine Arts, etc. The publishers design to make the Magazine agreeable to the old and young—to the sedate and the gay,—to all parties in politics,—(a subject from which, being non-partizans, they stand aloof)—to mingle the valuable with the amusing,—and to pursue the tenor of their way, with cordial feelings towards all contemporaries. The work will contain between 80 and 90 pages, of a close and beautiful type, per month,—making two volumes, of upward of a thousand pages, at the end of the year. And the proprietors believe they may safely affirm that, as regards beauty of execution the Knickerbocker Magazine will not suffer in comparison with any similar publication foreign or domestic. It may not be amiss to say in addition to many contributors whose merits are incontestable, and whose talents are honorable to the country, this Magazine will be found, before the close of the seventh vol., to contain articles from the pens of James K. Paulding, W. C. Bryant, the Rev. Timothy Flint, H. W. Longfellow, author of "Quaker Mer," Dr R. M. Bird, author of "Peter Simple," Jacob Faithful, "Japhet in search of a Father," etc.; William Leggett, author of "Naval Stories," E. L. Bulwer, author of "Pelham," Devereux," etc. James G. Percival, Esq.; William A. Duer, LL. D., President of Columbia College, William L. Stone, Rev. Walter Colton, author of "Ship and Shore," Matthew Carey, Esq. Miss Fanny Kemble, (Mrs. Butler), Geo. H. phia, Mary Howit, England, I. M. Lellan Jr. Esq. Boston, Rev. W. T. Brantley, Philadelphia, Hon. W. H. Seaward, Rev. Orville Dewey John P. Throop, Martin, and many other writers whose contribution to the quarterly reviews and other eminent publications, have won deserved encomiums. The foregoing facts; in relation to this Magazine, since it came into the hands of its present Proprietors, are given not in a vain and boasting spirit, but to show the course which is intended to be pursued, and the means which are at command to effect the fulfilment of the promise assumed by the work, and so liberally commended by the public.

THIRD VOLUME OF THE OHIO FARMER AND WESTERN HORTICULTURIST.

In presenting a prospectus for the third volume of the Ohio Farmer to the public, the Editor conceives it unnecessary to enter into a minute detail of its character and object. There has been clearly evinced since its commencement, and from the high testimonials received from Agriculturists and Horticulturists of the first standing and intelligence, he is not without a hope that his labors have been of some service to the cause of Western Agriculture, and that there has been, at least partial satisfaction to those who patronize the work.

There was never a period of deeper interest to the cultivators of the soil in the great valley of the Mississippi than the present. There never was a time when intelligence could be put to better uses—when knowledge was of greater advantage. It is the era of advancement in the art and science of the cultivation of the earth, and the improvement of useful animals. And he who refuses to keep pace with the times, by informing himself of what is transpiring around him, will lose more than half the pleasures and advantages of his own age.—The certainty of a ready market and a rich reward for all the productions of the earth should be a double stimulant to increase the quantity.

The OHIO FARMER will be devoted to ORIGINAL ESSAYS, and articles selected from the best works, and occasionally illustrated by ENGRAVINGS. No agricultural work ever published in the West has been so liberally supplied with original articles, the most of which have been copied and received a wide circulation in other papers. The culture of soil—improvement of manures of garden vegetables—of Agricultural implements, and Geology Botany, Chemistry, &c. &c. will receive due attention.

SILK—As the culture of this new article of wealth and industry, is exciting universal interest through the whole country, we contemplate devoting a sufficient portion of the Volume of the Farmer to this subject, to give all new beginners a fair start, who may wish to enter into the business, either on a large or a small scale, from the sowing of the mulberry seed to the reeling and manufacturing of the cocoons, colouring &c.

Each Volume of this paper is furnished with a Title Page and Index, express for binding, and will make about 200 pages. The first number of the Third Volume will be published on the 1st day of January, 1836

CONDITIONS.

The Farmer is published twice a month at $1.00 in advance. All notes on solvent Banks received. Payment may be made at our risk, free of postage. Persons obtaining 5 subscribers and forwarding the money, shall receive a copy for their trouble.

Editors, who wish to receive the Third Volume will please publish the above, and forward their papers for exchange. Columbus, Ohio, November, 1835.
