THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1907.

They are about to abolish the guillotine in Paris, and thus will the official headsman be officially beheaded.

It looks now as though the deliberations of the Peace Congress will have to be put in the "purely academic" class.

So far as heard from, the American sufferers of Iloilo have not had to repulse any offers of assistance from the British Asiatic squadron.

Harry Thaw's lawyers are looking for a change of venue for the next trial. They might get Lieut. Peary to see if he cannot empanel a jury when he reaches the pole.

There is a growing conviction in the minds of most people who have read the Thaw case, that the "unwritten law" remains unwritten because it is unfit to write.

Mr. Harriman says that he would rather go to the penitentiary than to the poorhouse. He seems to be making strong efforts to keep out of the one by qualifying for the other.

Senator Perkins says that President Roosevelt talks too much. What some of the callers at the White House object to is not so much the quantity of his conversation as the quality of it.

A Colorado man has just been jailed for salting a $50,000 gold mine. Serves him right. The law is hard on pickers in any walk of criminality. He ought to have gone after a transcontinental road or something else worth while.

Our New Spring Shirts, Gloves, Underwear, Hosiery, White and Fancy Vests are ready for your inspection.

THE PROGRESS.

Gettysburg.

The two lower rooms of our school closed last Friday, and so did about all the schools of the township district. The small boy can now kill time herding the cow, or go fishing.

Hazel Nease has been the victim of a cutaneous affection that proved quite serious. She is recovering.

W. E. Penney and wife of Lima were visitors here for a few days among relatives.

Mrs. M. J. Coburn was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Susan Moore, at Pikeville last week.

J. L. Nease suspended ditch work this week on account of indisposition.

Those of us who have been contemplating the California trip starting in about two weeks, are planning our business to be on time when the "smoke wagon" thitherward bound passes this way. How many or who may go is not definitely settled, but one thing seems pretty sure, and that is, ye scribe's absence will, without doubt, be conspicuous in that crowd. It seems to be a matter inexplicable, that when good things come around ye scribe's dish is turned upside down, and he falls short in securing his share of good things. It is a long lane that has no turning and without yielding to discouragements the hope is indulged that the time may come when he will have part and lot in the enjoyments of such like excursions. For the time being let all go who find leisure and "greenback" plentiful for such occasions.

Usually about this time of year some progressive farmer will have some corn planted, but this year the amount planted is quite small, if any at all, on account of the failure of spring weather to arrive. It is hoped, however, that the weather will be seasonable and that farm work will be pushed with vigor. Plowing is well along, and as soon as can be the planting will be done speedily. Just now the landscape presents an attractive appearance. Peach, cherry, pear and apple blossoms are very much in evidence to charm and cheer us and especially those of us who are optimistically inclined.

Oddie Horner and wife of the city visited relatives and attended divine services here yesterday in our M. E. church.

Modern Criminals.

In extension of the failure of the present New York detective bureau to run down present day big cases, a retired detective sergeant declared a few days ago that the criminal of today was a better educated, more cunning and more clever man than the malefactor of twenty-five years ago. "Detective work is a dozen times harder today than it was twenty-five or thirty years ago," he said. "The thieves, for one thing, are now much better educated than they were. A new generation of daring and clever crooks has sprung up, and they are very smart. Therefore a detective has to work much harder to catch them than we did when I first started out."

A Curious Band.

Probably the most extraordinary band on earth is that which is stationed in the Imperial palace at Moscow. A famous composer was recently taken into a darkened room to hear one of his new compositions played by this band. The composer was mystified until the lights were raised, when 200 soldiers were revealed, each with a horn or trumpet in his hand varying in size from one and one-half inches to twenty feet. Each instrument and each performer produced only a single note, but the playing was so perfect that the sound was just as if from one grand instrument played upon by a master hand.

A Motor Toll Road.

With a few exceptions, the toll road in this country is a thing of the past. A project, however, is now on foot to construct the greatest toll road in the world between New York and Chicago for the use of automobiles. If built it will have a roadway sixty-six feet wide, cost $10,000,000 and be the most perfect road in the world. Motorists would pay a toll of 1 cent per mile, or $10 for the round trip, and motor cars in which the public may ride as passengers would run daily between stated points for fare.—Argonaut.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Suggestions as to the Proper Garnishing of Various Dishes.

In garnishing food one may exercise as much originality and ingenuity as one is capable of. There are only one or two limitations to this rule. One is that a certain harmony of colors and flavors should be observed. The other is that the overfanciful in the way of food ornamentation should be avoided.

Here are a few suggestions as to the appropriate garnishes for different dishes: With fish use lemon or parsley and potatoes cut in balls or latticed and fried. A platter of cold meat may be garnished with cubes of tomato aspic, parsley, crescents or thin slices of lemon. For fried foods lemon and parsley make the most attractive garnishes, while celery tops, stuffed olives and slices of raw tomato are also desirable. For lamb chops green peas are the usual garnish and are generally arranged in a border around the meat. Radishes cut in slices or in fancy shapes add to the attractiveness of a platter of steak, while creamed dishes or dishes au gratin hard boiled eggs may be used in some form. Desserts may be garnished with nuts, candied fruits and bottled cherries.

To Clear Soup.

To clear soup put the stock to be cleared in a stewpan, allowing the white and shell of one egg to each quart of stock. Beat the white of egg slightly and add to the stock with the shell broken in small pieces. Place on the front of the range and stir constantly until the boiling point is reached; then let boil without stirring for two minutes. Set on the back of the range, where it may simmer for twenty minutes. Remove the scum and strain through a double thickness of cheesecloth placed over a fine strainer.—Woman's Home Companion.

Uses of Onions.

Onions chopped in small pieces and laid between thin slices of bread or crackers and eaten as a sandwich are most soothing and effective for insomnia. Raw onions are more digestible than cooked ones and are especially good for complexion, liver and kidney troubles. A small quantity of onion is a decided improvement to baked tomatoes and squash, and an onion boiled with macaroni removes the pasty taste.

Herring Salad.

Herring salad is a veritable tidbit to those who like the fish flavor. Take two skinned, sound, boned herrings (smoked, of course). Cut into quarter inch squares. Mix lightly in a bowl with two cold boiled eggs and one pickled red beet, all cut in dice. Pour French salad dressing over this mixture, mix lightly, but thoroughly, and serve at once ice cold.

To Restore Gray Hair.

For restoring gray hair the following is recommended: Half a dram of sulphate of iron, half an ounce each of fluid extract of jaborandi and glycerin, quarter of an ounce of sulphure, two drams of extract of rosemary, the same of extract of thyme, half an ounce of rectified spirits and a quarter pint of elderflower water. Apply nightly to the scalp with massage.

A Remedy.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

The Vowel Game is Interesting and Instructive For Young Folks.

So far as the editor knows, there are only two words in the English language that contain all the vowels in their order. They are "abstemious" and "facetious," but there are a good many that contain all the vowels in irregular order, and the game that the editor suggests is to have the different members of a company see how many words of this kind they can name, with a suitable prize to the one who names the most. It would be well for the leader of the game to prepare in advance a list of the words or of as many as he can discover, and use that list when examining the work of the players. Here are some of which the editor suggests, every one of which contains the vowels a, e, i, o, u in irregular order: Authoritative, disadvantageous, encouraging, efficacious, instantaneous, importunate, mendacious, nefarious, unobjectionable, precarious, pertinacious, sacrilegious, simultaneous, tenacious, unintentional, unequivocal, undiscoverable, vexatious.—Chicago News.

Conundrums.

Why is a young lady like a sheaf of wheat? First she is cradled, then thrashed, and finally she becomes the flower of the family.

Why is a duel quickly managed? Because it takes only two seconds to arrange it.

Why is an engraver fearless of drowning? Because he is accustomed to die sinking.

What lesson of life can the small boy learn from the fire engine? It must work or it can't play.

Who is it that always has a number of movements on foot for making money? A dancing master.

Six Things a Boy Should Know.

First, that a quiet voice, courtesy and kind acts are essential to a gentleman; second, that roughness, blustering and foolhardiness are not manliness; third, that muscular strength is not health; fourth, that a brain crammed only with facts is not necessarily a wise one; fifth, that the labor impossible to the boy of fourteen will be easy to the man of twenty; sixth, that the best capital for a boy is not money, but a love of work, simple tastes and a heart loyal to his friends.

Geographical Anagrams.

1. Star mad me.—The capital of a country in Europe. It is built almost entirely on piles.

2. Rob one.—An island in the Indian archipelago, one of the largest in the world.

3. Ha tan man T.—An important island in America.

4. O pac Tom.—An important river in America.

1. Amsterdam. 2. Borneo. 3. Manhattan. 4. Potomac.

About Diamonds.

A diamond is nothing but carbon, almost absolutely pure. If a diamond be raised to a white heat in the absence of oxygen it turns into a black mass, which is virtually the same as a piece of charcoal. Diamonds which are not absolutely white owe their tinge of color to the presence of oxides of various metals, such as iron.

Couldn't See It.

Willie (who was traveling alone for the first time, to conductor)—What is the meaning of "W" and "R" on the signposts along the road?

Conductor—Ring and whistle. Willie (after a pause)—I can see how "W" stands for writing, but I'm blessed if I can see how "R" stands for whistle.
