The baseball season is over and the football season is at hand. Parents should take time by the forelock and lay in ample supplies of splints, arnica and sticking plaster.

Since Great Britain issued its imperial edict forbidding New Foundland to interfere with the American fishing vessels, Premier Bond must know how it feels to be properly spanked.

The army is anxious to show the President an exhibition of long range shooting at Fort Monroe. The President has been carried away with the prowess of the navy, and the army thinks it is its turn next.

President Roosevelt is varying his favorite occupation of hunting otocapuses by hunting bears. If he gets no more bears than he did in the Mississippi canebrakes, he may conclude that he had better stick to his last and devote himself exclusively to trust hunting.

The political situation continues to be fraught with interest. No Republican candidate can make much headway because of the feeling that the President may be induced to run again. The President is enjoying this situation to the utmost, both because there is only one candidate whom he desires to make headway and because he foresees an opportunity at the proper minute to turn his own popularity to the good of that candidate. When the proper time comes, Mr. Roosevelt will "sidestep", but he will do it in such a way that the mantle of his strength will most probably fall gracefully on to the broad shoulders of William H. Taft.

It is one of the significant characteristics of the Japanese that no nation, unless possibly it be England, has profited from the important lessons which must have been afforded by the recent Russo-Japanese war. One of the most important questions which has confronted army and navy officers for a long time is the comparative effect of different styles of projectiles on the armor of battleships. The Japanese enjoyed ample opportunity to learn the effect of their explosive shells and armor-piercing projectiles in the late war and they doubtless acquired invaluable knowledge, but they have been careful not to impart any information on the subject worth having to the United States, or in fact, to any other nation, unless possibly it be Great Britain.

The President, during his recent brief stay in the national capital, stated with characteristic firmness that the battleship fleet would make the proposed cruise to the Pacific. The President's purpose in making the announcement so forcefully was obviously to set at rest the scolding and speculation of certain newspapers regarding the coming cruise. The announcement has, however, failed of its purpose and the papers the President had in mind have only begun more vehemently to voice their protests and demands that "an indignant public" join them in their feeble clamor against a move which is regarded by a majority of Americans as a wise one. One newspaper, the "common scold of New York City", has undertaken to demonstrate the extent to which the prospective cruise is condemned by conducting a poll of members of Congress on the subject. Thus far, about one-fourth of the membership of the House has been heard from and there is hardly a dissenting voice in the number. Even the Democrats are awake to the benefits which will result from the cruise and for once refuse to be led into a ridiculous position. A prominent naval officer has recently called attention to the fact that not a cross word has been heard from Japan since the purpose of the President in sending the fleet to the Pacific has become known, and as it is more than likely that the diplomacy of the Administration will soon be taxed to the utmost to secure a Japanese exclusion treaty, the forceful effect of the fleet in Pacific waters may prove of incalculable aid.

There is every reason to expect the most gratifying results from the current trips of Secretary Taft and Secretary Root. In Japan, Secretary Taft is carrying out the policy of the Administration with that rare tact and good humor which constitute one of his greatest faculties, demonstrating to the Japanese that the United States entertains the friendliest feelings toward the flowery kingdom, despite the fact that this country cannot accommodate great numbers of Japanese laborers without upsetting local labor conditions. No nation on earth would be willing to permit great influxes of foreign labor, disturbing home conditions and antagonizing her own workmen, regardless of the extent of friendly feeling which she might entertain for the country from which that labor came, and the United States is no exception to the rule. In Mexico, Secretary Root is making a host of friends and doing everything possible to cement the friendly relations which already exist between the United States and her little sister republic to the south. The combined influence of the two nations is potent for good, as is shown by the responses of the Central American republics to the tender of good offices which came from Presidents Roosevelt and Diaz, and there can be no question in the minds of persons who look at the situation without prejudice that the stronger bond of friendship which must follow from Mr. Root's visit will make for even greater good in the future.

FASHIONS IN NEW YORK

The never-to-be-settled question of skirts comes up each season, and while the plaited skirt still holds good, all the imported costumes have gored or circular skirts. This is more in accordance with the ideas of the fashionable dressmaker, as manufacturers turned out the plaited skirt by the thousand, and with a shirt waist, the ordinary mortal was almost independent of dressmakers. The skirts of dresses from across the water are longer, but the American women having experienced the comfort and convenience of short skirts, may not welcome this innovation. Trimmings.—Braid and braiding are equally stylish and appropriate to almost any and all garments. Many skirts are entirely without ornamentation, or fancy braid may be used to a moderate extent. On a champagne-colored broadcloth, the waist, a species of blouse, opens down the front with a short skirt at back and front confined by a passementerie belt, and the entire jacket is covered by edge-wise braiding in self-color, offering a decided contrast to the perfectly plain skirt. Lace fronts or yokes and lace sleeves seem to have settled down for a permanency equal to that of the shirt-waist. The Surplice Front.—While this attractive style is prominent on domestic and imported costumes, a band of handsome trimming placed across the front, gives the square neck effect, which is the latest Parisian touch. With some black broadcloth costumes, the surplice idea is attained by three or four broadcloth folds lapping at the front, and a Persian band across the white lace yoke, and sometimes carried up the sides, is very effective. A new idea from abroad is a dark-hued broadcloth skirt, and a black jacket braided in the same color as the skirt. Another Parisian design for a skirt trimming, appropriate to broadcloth, is of striped silk in two colors, put on as lengthwise niture, but the price of handsome feathers is now prohibitive, except to persons of considerable means. Banks of roses are an effective trimming, and lately, fringed taffeta silk in two colors has been introduced, and the soft, silken threads floating together, with two or three large roses at the front, is peculiarly attractive. The ultra-fashionable hat is sometimes eighteen to twenty inches across, these, however, are only suitable for carriage wear. An Old Style Revived.—Sleeves of contrasting material will be seen this winter, a most economical fashion, and far-seeing mortals predict that fur will be largely used for this purpose. The sleeve often makes or mars the costume, and if renewed by some handsome fabric, all is well. The rage for filet lace shows no sign of abatement. This is simply square-mesh netting with colored embroidery in small designs in equal repute.

A Distinction With a Difference.
A man may rant and a man may rail
When a honk-honk honks at him;
A man may pant and a man may wail
As the honk-honk-honk grows dim;
But the same man smirks and the same man smiles
And to honk-honk-honk is prone—
See the same man's quirk and the same man's wiles
When he gets a honk-honk of his own!

Studying Singing Abroad.
August Spanuth tells a sad series of tales of American girls who go abroad to study singing. He thinks they take too many chances, and, if he is to be believed, they do. According to Mr. Spanuth they reach Milan, or wherever they intend to study, not only without any definite ideas as to a teacher, but without knowing where they are to board. When they get settled their first question to the landlady is "Who is the best teacher for me?" Needless to say, many are disappointed in the teachers they "select" in this manner.

Puzzled.
"Do you think you will learn to like your titled son-in-law?"
"I don't know," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I can't quite tell where to place him in my expense account. He is neither a recreation nor an investment."—Washington Star.

PHYSICIANS.

DR. KUTCHIN
EX. U. S. EXAMINING SURGEON,

Specialist for the Treatment and Cure of all Long-Standing and Difficult Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Blood and Nervous System.
Will meet his many patients in this county every month for the next year, and examine all afflicted free. Ohio office, Columbus, Ohio.
Dr. Kutchin has been visiting this County every four weeks for fifteen years.

CHRONIC DISEASES.
The Doctor treats no acute diseases, but makes a specialty of chronic and long-standing diseases. Cases given up by other doctors and pronounced incurable he most desires to see. Dr. Kutchin has treated many cases in Ohio in the last fifteen years, many of which had been given up as incurable, some to be blind, others deaf, and a Large Number to be Invalids for Life. Now they See and Hear, and many are on the high road to Health.
The Doctor is surrounded with a fine collection of instruments for examining and treating all chronic diseases of the Head, Face, Eye, Ear, Throat, Heart, Lungs, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bladder, Skin, Brain and Nervous System, Cancer, Tumors, Piles, Swellings, Old Sores, Fits, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gout, Sick Headache, Debility, Depression of Spirits, Diseases of Children, Hereditary Diseases, etc., and, in fact, all long-standing and chronic diseases. All surgical operations performed.

EXAMINATIONS FREE TO ALL.
Whenever it is known that Dr. Kutchin is stopping at a place, many consult him, and it is not to be wondered at when it is remembered that in diagnosing a disease he describes the different diseases better than the sick can themselves, a wonderful gift for anyone to possess, and Dr. Kutchin's diagnostic powers have created wonder.
He adopted the following plan, which is peculiar to the large hospitals, and is not and never has been the practice of country doctors, viz: he carefully notes the symptoms of the patient and ascertains the condition of the internal organs with which he carefully records in his register for future reference. In this way he ascertains the true nature of the disease and its cause. When sick people consult him, he readily tells them whether he can cure or help them, or whether they are beyond hope.

HIS IMPROVED METHODS OF TREATMENT
Are mild and pleasant, agree perfectly with the most delicate Lady or Child, do not require strength; can be used while at work and give the greatest possible benefit in the shortest possible time. Patients can consult him or communicate with him as often as they choose, during the whole time required for the cure, without regard to where they may be, and without extra charge, thus rendering the treatment as successful and satisfactory as though they were living next door to each other.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.
Such as have baffled the skill of other physicians and remedies. Dr. Kutchin quickly cures Cancer, Tumors, Fibroid and Polybroid. Growths cured without the use of the knife. No cutting, no pain, no danger.

A LIFE OF EXPERIENCE.
The Doctor has had a whole life of study and experience in his profession, and enjoys advantages which fall to the lot of but few. After attending his Full Course in the Medical Colleges, and graduating with the highest honors, he was not content to stop there, but has since attended other Colleges, and several times reviewed the whole profession; has also traveled extensively for the purpose of improvement, having visited the best Medical Colleges, Hospitals, Dispensaries, Eye, Ear, Lung and other Medical and Surgical Institutions of Europe, improving every advantage within his command, and devoting the best years of his life to become thoroughly familiar with his profession in all its branches.

LATEST DISCOVERIES AND IMPROVEMENTS.
There are many diseases which physicians in common practice do not usually treat, and are therefore seldom prepared with necessary and costly outfit to examine correctly, or treat with success. Such cases, therefore, would do well to call on and learn their true condition, and whether the doors of Hope are yet open, or forever closed against them.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS.
Are you afflicted? Your case may now be perfectly curable, but remember, every moment of neglect brings you nearer its incurable stages, when, perhaps, the most skillful physician can render you no assistance. The present is ours, the future may be Too Late.
Free Examination of the Urine.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring 2 to 4 ounces of urine, which will receive a careful examination. Persons unskillfully treated by ignorant pretenders who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should call and see the Doctor.
Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of the United States. Correspondence with invalids solicited. All letters with stamps enclosed answered free.
Call and be examined and at least learn the cause of your disease, and if it can be cured. Tape Worms removed in from three to five hours without starvation, and remedies for the whole course of treatment are furnished from the Office, all at once or by the month.

America's Greatest Weekly.
THE
Toledo Blade
Toledo, Ohio.
The Best Known Newspaper in the United States.
Circulation 180,000
Popular in Every State.

In many respects the Toledo Blade is the most remarkable weekly newspaper published in the United States. It is the only newspaper especially edited for National circulation. It has had the largest circulation for more years than any newspaper printed in America. Furthermore, it is the cheapest newspaper in the world, as will be explained to any person who will write as for terms. The News of the World so arranged that busy people can more easily comprehend it, thus reaching enormous columns of readers. All current topics are plain in each issue by special editorial matter written from inception down to date. The only paper published especially for people who do or do not read daily newspapers, and yet first for plain facts. That this kind of a newspaper is popular, is proven by the fact that the Toledo Blade now has over 180,000 yearly subscribers, and is circulated in all parts of the U. S. In addition to the news, the Blade publishes short and serial stories, and many departments of matter suited to every member of the family. Only one dollar a year. Write for free specimen copy.
