Jacob Cable, 80 years old, residing with his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Christopher, on the Fort Jefferson pike, suffered a stroke of paralysis last Saturday while walking along the roadway and was found in an unconscious condition by his son some time afterward. Owing to his advanced age his condition is critical.

Harry N., fourteen-year-old son of James Walker and wife, residing on the Gettysburg pike, died of lung pneumonia at an early hour Monday morning, after an extended illness, he having been somewhat of an invalid for some time. Funeral services were held in the Zion church Wednesday and burial made in Greenville cemetery.

The fire department was called out for the second time Saturday, when a fire was discovered in the basement of Muggs McGriff's saloon about 11 o'clock that night. The blaze was soon extinguished and was no doubt started by a lighted cigarette stump that had been thrown on the floor and found its way through a crevice in the flooring.

The township trustees and city council held a joint meeting Wednesday evening of last week and elected a board of trustees for Greenville cemetery. Burr Evans of the city council was elected for a term of one year; J. E. Folkert of the township trustees for two years; and Walter Meeker for three years. Some changes in the rules governing the cemetery will no doubt be made by this board to the betterment of the grounds and convenience of the public.

The stockholders of the Greenville Home Telephone Co. held their annual election Tuesday. The following board of directors was elected: C. R. Leftwich, J. A. Ries, G. F. Schermund, S. A. Hostetter, Louis George, Conrad Kipp, B. P. Conkling and H. A. Rush, the latter being a new member. The board organized by electing C. R. Leftwich, president; J. A. Ries, vice president; G. F. Schermund, treasurer; Conrad Kipp, secretary and general manager.

Judge Jones of Troy has overruled the demurrers of the defendants in the injunction suit of Charles R. Kemble versus the City Board of Education. The demurrers were to the effect that the facts set out in plaintiff's petition were not sufficient to constitute a defense or entitle plaintiff to the relief prayed for. This suit was brought to stop the board of education from using the St. Clair Memorial Hall as a public theatre for gain, the petitioner alleging it was contrary to the wish of the late Henry St. Clair as designated by his will. The case will now be tried on its merits, if tried at all.

The explosion of a gasoline stove in one of Martin B. Trainor's dwellings in Minatown, occupied by a family named Reed, called the fire department out about 3:30 Sunday afternoon. Before the blaze could be extinguished the interior of the kitchen was badly burned and was fast communicating to the rest of the building. Loss on building, between $100 and $200, and to the tenant the loss was heavy, he behaving a poor, but hardworking man, employed at the Standard Oil yards nearby. This was the third fire in this city within twenty-four hours, but by prompt action and work of the department the losses were not heavy in either case.

Archie Shuttleworth, and his wife, May Shuttleworth, have sued Dr. A. C. Buell of Red River for damages sustained by injuries received when, on November 15 last, the Doctor's son Roger ran into their horse and buggy while driving an automobile, throwing both out, injuring the horse and damaging the buggy. They claim young Buell was driving the machine recklessly and without lights or signal. Mr. Shuttleworth says he was laid up for a long time with his injuries and asks damages in the sum of $1065; Mrs. Shuttleworth claims that in being thrown from the buggy she received injuries about the head and a wound in her side which is a permanent one. She asks for $2000 damages.

Dr. Hawes' automobile, which was stolen on December 8 last, was recovered last week and Reginald Buell, son of Dr. A. C. Buell of Red River, was placed under arrest, charged with the theft of the machine. The auto was found in the barn on Dr. Buell's premises, but young Buell claims he bought it of a stranger in Dayton, Ohio, for $260, giving his unsecured note for it. When found the machine was without tires, and on the officers inquiring for them another son of the Doctor's went to the hayloft and rolled them down. Dr. Hawes had his name on two of the tires, and there was evidence that a name had been burned off them. The car has been brought back to the city. Young Buell was bound over to the grand jury and being unable to give $500 bond, was placed in jail.

Mrs. Amanda G. Jones, wife of L. E. Jones, retired farmer and minister, died in their home on East Main street last Thursday evening, due to a complication of ailments of long standing. She was 79 years, 11 months and 6 days old at the time of her death. Mr. and Mrs. Jones celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on September 20, 1915, and have resided in Greenville for a number of years, moving here from Oak Grove. For many years Mr. Jones was a regular writer for the Journal, under the nom de plume of "Leo." The deceased leaves her aged husband, her sister, Mrs. C. W. Rarick, and a host of friends and acquaintances. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. C. C. McKinney, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Monday afternoon at the residence and burial was made in Greenville cemetery.

A dangerous fire broke out Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock in a rear room of Attorney Billingsley's office in the St. Clair block, in which the Journal office is located, which for a time looked quite threatening for the entire building. The fire started from some unknown cause in a closet under a stairway that leads up into the Journal office, and when located the firemen did good and effective work and soon had it extinguished. Not a great deal of damage was done by the blaze, yet the inside woodwork of the closet and a portion of the stairway was burned. The most damage was done by water, which had to be thrown, it being an impossibility to get near it to use the chemical. Mr. Billingsley's
