

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as the kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uric acid poisoning occurs, and the person dies and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a large trial package of "Anuric"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. When you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his

BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK 'CASCARETS'

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

Chic Blouse of Wash Fabrics

The better grades in cotton voiles, marquisettes, organdie and other sheer stuffs have proved themselves surprisingly durable and are like crepe de chine and crepe georgette in this respect. They look as fragile as flower petals but wear as stanchly as Scotch madras or any other of the dependable weaves that are relied upon for the practical everyday blouse. They are all in the running now that the time is here for making up blouses for the oncoming season.

With the trend of the public's taste constantly turned toward thin and sheer fabrics for all purposes, and the demand for things washable, cotton voile is likely to stand near the head of the list as a material wanted for spring blouses. It is shown in many patterns employing color. In figures or stripes, on a white ground. These are either woven or printed in, with increasing demand developing for the woven-in designs.

In blouses, as in dresses, there is a fancy for combining materials of two different kinds in one garment. By means of hemstitching, bands of colored organdie are stitched to the collar or cuffs to form a border, in white blouses, and a little embroidery, like the bands in color, provides a relief to the plain body of white. Voiles, with colored dots in graduated sizes, and scalloped edges, finished with buttons, are also popular.

tonhole stitching, are among the prettiest of spring offerings. The dots are in rose color, maize, blue, and lavender, and occasionally a light brown or green makes the choice more varied.

The chic tailored blouse pictured here is made of voile with dotted stripes in a deep tan shade on a white ground. Between these are narrow stripes of white satin dots. The back extends over the shoulders, forming a shallow yoke at the front, and all seams are set together with a narrow piping in white. The fronts are cut to form a narrow panel in white down the center, with a double row of pearl buttons as a decorative feature. In this blouse snap fasteners and a fly make it possible to dispense with buttonholes if desired.

The sleeves are finished with deep cuffs of the voile. A removable collar and cuffs of white hemstitched organdie are the final touches in a design that betrays careful planning. It is a model that may be copied easily in any of the spring wash fabrics.

Skirts of checked wool velours have belts and pocket flaps cut in one.

Fashions of the Hour in Bags

Bags of embossed leather in oriental colorings and figures made their entry in the arena of fashions just before the holidays. They made an instant success, sharing the favor given to novelties in silk bags, and nothing more beautiful is likely to replace them for some time.

They are called Tokyo bags and are made in various colored leathers having Chinese or Japanese figures wrought in many rich and harmonizing colors on a solid ground. They follow the mode in the matters of size and shape, as set forth by plain leather or moire silk. After these concessions to western needs their allegiance returns to the Orient in the matter of handles. Anything less beautiful than the strands of silver beads and the ivory and silver knobs would be too tame to harmonize with them, and their handles are an indispensable fascination.

Fashions of the hour in handbags make them delight to the orderly soul. There is a place for everything in them, and everything in its place, as in a watch or a kodak. Compartments for the card case, the notebook, the coin purse and a place for the pocket checkbook or letter or memorandum are all provided. A convenient outside place for the handkerchief and a convenient inside place for the tiny powder box and mirror make the up-to-date handbag a marvel of compact arrangement. There is no reason for a scrap-heap appearance of the belongings which are carried in a handbag these days.

Cape Effects.

An important feature of many afternoon gowns is the cape effect. While this adds a quaint touch to a woman's appearance, one must use judgment in using this feature. On some figures it may be very unbecoming. For instance, the woman who is inclined to stoop or have very round shoulders would appear unbecomingly frocked in a gown made with a cape. The short woman who may have a very graceful carriage should avoid the feature, also, unless she modifies it to such an extent that the cape measures only a few inches wide.

One of great width would do much to decrease the wearer's height.

PEASANT WITH TRUE VISION

Traveler Heard Robert Burns Praise Washington, the American, for His Patriotism.

A traveler exploring the wild beauty of the Caves of Colzean in Scotland met a young peasant, who astonished him by his poetic description of the scene, according to Hugh Miller's "Tales and Sketches" published in Boston half a century ago. A discussion of literature and philosophy, as well as nature, is concluded as follows, an exchange remarks:

"Man," said my companion, "should love his species at all times, but it is ill with him if in times like these he loves not his country more. The spirit of war and aggression is yet abroad; there are laws to be established, rights to be defended, invaders to be repulsed, tyrants to be deposed. And who but the patriot is equal to these things? We are not yet done with the Bruce, the Wallace, the Tells, the Washingtons—yes, the Washingtons, whether they fight for us or against us—we are not done with them. But we are getting ashamed of our country, of our language, our manners, our music, our literature; nor shall we have enough of the old spirit left us to assert our liberties or fight our battles. Oh, for some Barbour or Blind Harry of the present day, to make us once more proud of our country!"

I quoted the famous saying of Fletcher of Saltoun, "Let me make the songs of a country, and I will let you make its laws."

"But here," I said, "is our lugger stealing round Turnberry Head. We shall soon part, perhaps forever, and I would fain know with whom I have spent an hour so agreeably, and have some name to know him by. My own name is Matthew Lindsay. I am a native of Irvine."

"And I," said the young man, rising and cordially grasping the proffered hand, "am a native of Ayr. My name is Robert Burns."

WONDERFUL INSECT IS FLY

Nuisance, and a Menace to Human Life, but Well Worth the Most Careful Study.

Kill a fly, but study him. He is a wonderful creature, though a menace and a nuisance, writes Garrett P. Serviss. His muscles are as strong as steel; his nerve action is as quick as lightning. If you were proportionately as strong as a fly you could seize a beam over your head with your hands, and with two tons of iron fastened to your feet, easily raise yourself, together with the attached weight, from the floor.

This calculation is no mere guess; it is based upon experiments made by the Belgian naturalist, Felix Plateau, who harnessed insects and small animals of many kinds, in very ingenious ways, to ascertain their strength.

Likewise, if a fly were as big as a man, and retained his relative strength, he could kill tigers with his hands and split asunder the jaws of lions with much more ease than Samson did.

If you were as quick as a fly you could let an oncoming express train, traveling a mile a minute, come within a foot of your nose and then dodge it. Strike at a fly that is lazily circling with a playmate before your eyes and observe with what nonchalant ease he avoids your blow and instantly returns to his play.

Time Lock Universal.

Practically all the modern safe deposits possess time locks. These timepieces operate from one hour to three days. When the doors are closed the timepiece is set, and on no account can the doors be reopened until the clock has run its allotted time. The other week a clerk overwound the timepiece at a well-known safe deposit, with the result that the renters could not gain access to their safes until late in the afternoon.

Anyone, of course, can hire a safe in a public safe deposit by paying the necessary rent. Each renter is supplied with his own key, and if he loses it his safe has to be broken open, for the company does not possess duplicate keys.

New Discovery in Iron.

Very pure iron in tubes and other forms is a French factory's electrolytic product from a basis of ordinary cast-iron. To cause a deposition of iron on the surface, the negative pole is rotated in a solution of ferrous salt, which is kept neutral by iron turnings placed at the bottom of the tank, and by adding iron oxide as depolarizer. The electrolytic iron deposited, very hard at first, becomes soft and malleable, with the giving off of some gas, on annealing. A rod being used as core, iron pipes are produced direct, and the production of sheet iron, without rolling, is expected and is looked upon as very valuable for electrical machinery.

Mysterious Vanished Race.

All that is ever likely to be known of the aborigines of Newfoundland has been printed by an antiquarian who has made these vanished people the study of his life. These mysterious people were, it appears, not Eskimos like some of the tribes in "Doctor Grenwell's parish," across the strait in Labrador. The Eskimo has a squat body, a flat face and a nose hardly large enough to be called such. But this race was tall and long limbed, while such skulls as have been preserved show the bones of noses rather of the Roman than the Tartar sort.

Best-Paying Cow.

It is much cheaper to milk and care for one cow giving 300 pounds of butterfat in a year than it is to milk and care for three cows giving 100 pounds of butterfat each and if the 300-pound cow is heavily fed she will not eat as much as the three 100-pound cows.

Place for Milk Goat.

The milk goat seems to have a place on the backyard farm, but it should be remembered that in most cases a liking for goat's milk must be acquired.

To women who are suffering from some form of woman's special ills, and have a constant fear of breaking down, the three following letters ought to bring hope:—

North Crandon, Wis.—"When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement and ulcers, and would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. MARY ANN ABRAHAM, North Crandon, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla.—"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tired easily and had headaches much of the time and was irregular. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to ailing women because it has done so much for me."—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 509 Have St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.

Roxbury, Mass.—"I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down pains, backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has cured me and I am pleased to be in my usual good health by using it and highly recommend it."—Mrs. B. M. OSGOOD, 1 Haynes Park, Roxbury, Mass.

Ozark Mothers Used To Be Afraid To Go To Bed At Night

Now Sleep Soundly Since They Have Found a Sure Preventive For Croup.

Many mothers, besides those of Ozark, Mo., have been afraid to sleep at night for fear of being awakened by that dread croupy cough. Mrs. H. H. Givan and Mrs. J. J. Cave, both of Ozark, have found, in common with many other Missouri mothers, that a jar of Vap-O-Rub in the house insures a good night's sleep.

Vap-O-Rub is the external treatment for all forms of croup or cold troubles, introduced here from the South last winter. It is in salve form and you just rub it over the throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. The body warmth releases antiseptic vapors that are inhaled with each breath, loosening the phlegm, and, in addition, Vicks' is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, relieving the tightness and soreness. Croup is usually relieved in fifteen minutes, and a good application at night will, in almost every case, prevent a night attack.

But let Mrs. Givan speak for herself. She writes: "I have used Vicks' Vap-O-Rub on my little girl for croup, and it is just splendid, and I wasn't afraid to go to bed at night."

Mrs. Cave says—"I find Vap-O-Rub the best thing I have ever used for colds, sore throat, croup and all kinds of skin troubles for children. I could not do without it now, as it saves calling a doctor."

The penetrative quality of Vicks' makes it excellent also for inflammations of the skin, such as burns, bruises, itching, piles and muscular soreness. In these cases, particularly in cases of burns, it seems to draw out the inflammation and has a de-lightfully cooling effect. Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00. ## Three Hundred Million Bushel Crop in 1915

Farmers pay for their land with one year's crop and prosperity was never so great.

Regarding Western Canada as a grain producer, a prominent business man says: "Canada's position today is sounder than ever. There is more wheat, more oats, more grain for feed, 20% more cattle than last year and more hogs. The war market in Europe needs our surplus. As for the wheat crop, it is marvelous and a monument of strength for business confidence to build upon, exceeding the most optimistic predictions."

Wheat averaged in 1915 over 25 bushels per acre
Oats averaged in 1915 over 45 bushels per acre
Barley averaged in 1915 over 40 bushels per acre

Prices are high, markets convenient, excellent land, low in price either improved or otherwise, ranging from $12 to $30 per acre. Free homestead lands are plentiful and not far from railway lines and convenient to good schools and churches. The climate is healthful.

There is no war tax on land, nor is there any conscription. For complete information as to best locations for settlement, reduced railroad rates and descriptive illustrated pamphlet, address Superintendent Immigration, Ottawa, or
