Gettysburg. Easter was duly celebrated with new gowns and headgear.

C. J. Miller erected a very nice bird house on a pole on his premises, with more than one hundred compartments. The birds are receiving kind treatment from him, and ought to favor him with kind cheer and delightful music as a reward for his consideration.

Our fellow-citizen, Ray Zimmerman, was courting most of last week in the Troy Common Pleas court. He won out and feels correspondingly happy.

Our M. E. Sunday school had an attendance yesterday of 161 and a missionary collection of more than $40 in response to the self-denial week preceding the day.

Harry Leiter, wife and children, of Lewisburg, visited here over yesterday, returning home today.

While attendance did not reach 200 yesterday at our M. E. Sunday school, Supt. P. B. Moul gave notice that the effort to reach that number until Christmas would be made, confidently believing that by that time the goal would be reached.

Installation of Rev. L. E. Carr as pastor of our Presbyterian church will take place this week in due form and ceremony.

A goodly number of our higher order of Masons attended the meeting of the order held at the hub today.

Mesdames Robert and Melvin Russel returned yesterday from a visit at Union City, Ind., to which place the latter family will remove this week.

Our hotel people, J. E. Miller and wife, have quit that business and removed to the building of F. P. Lehman, where they will conduct a boarding house.

Mac Horner and his sister Hazel are now duly installed in the bakery business in the Lehman building.

Rev. J. O. Hillery filled the M. E. pulpit Sunday evening, delivering an appropriate sermon for the occasion.

The grand jurors from here returned home today after completing the duties of their office in one day, establishing a precedent for large accomplishment. April 24. XOB

Watch Child's Cough.

Colds, running of nose, continued irritation of the mucous membrane if neglected may mean Catarrh later. Don't take the chances—do something for your child! Children will not take every medicine, but they will take Dr. King's New Discovery and without bribing or teasing. It's a sweet pleasant Tar Syrup and so effective. Just laxative enough to eliminate the waste poisons. Almost the first dose helps. Always prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for Dr. King's New Discovery. It will safeguard your child against serious ailments resulting from colds. —Adv

Savona. The unfavorable weather conditions of the past week have retarded farming operations very much, but notwithstanding these conditions the farmers of this vicinity have their spring work well in hand. Oats nearly, if not quite, all sown and many have all their corn ground broken. Wheat is not looking as well as it should, and many fields are being prepared for other crops.

Harold Viets, one of our high school boys, had the misfortune to get an arm broken while attempting to crank an automobile last Wednesday by the engine back-firing.

Charles Fry received a shipment of fertilizer last week, which is to be distributed to his farmer patrons.

We notice a case or two of the disease called automobilitis in town, but do not think there will be any serious consequences arise as one of the patients has taken a large dose of prevention—a Ford—and is now on the high road to rapid recovery, and a Studebaker salesman from Arcanum is doing all in his power to cure the other one.

It seems that several of our young bloods are developing a mania for deviltry that may lead to serious consequences if persisted in. Already some have reaped as they have sown, and the rod of correction has fallen on the guilty, but there are more serious consequences in store for those who break the glass insulators on telegraph poles, break drain tile and tear down lawn fence if the proper questions are put to certain parties. Better take warning and go slow, boys, as you are known!

J. C. Cole and family motored to Union City Sunday to spend Easter with Mr. Cole's mother.

Sylvester Lawrence and family entertained company Sunday.

Our Sunday school observed Easter by a short service of appropriate songs and declamations at the close of the session, after which the Pastor delivered an able and appropriate sermon, followed by communion services.

This part of the morning service was very sacred and breathed the very spirit of the Christ spirit.

We are glad to note the many features of improvement that are being introduced into the Sunday school, for which the community is indebted to the untiring energy of the superintendent, Mr. Browder, who is entitled to, and should have, the support of everyone in the community—old and young, great and small.

The baccalaureate address Sunday night was delivered by Prof. Roehm from I Timothy, chapter 4, verse 16: "Take heed to thyself." It was an address well worth hearing and worthy to profit thereby. The graduates present were Messrs. Carl Mills, I. McCown, Carl Puterbaugh, Misses Lucille Manuel and May Mills. Miss Annice Mason was not present. Miss Olga Jones was also present.

The Disciple Sunday school will observe Mothers' Day May 14, April 24. FROM PALESTINE.

French Helmets.

Sixtyfour distinct operations are necessary in turning out one of the plain steel helmets worn by the French soldiers. The first step is stamping out discs from large sheets of steel. A special machine is used for this purpose, exerting a pressure of 150 tons and capable of cutting out 5,000 steel discs a day. Each disc is placed under a shaping machine, which presses the disc into the form of a helmet with a broad rim. Polishing and cutting machines remove all irregularities in the helmet, after which holes are punched in the crown, some for ventilation purposes, others for fastening on the regimental crest. Each helmet is cleaned and dipped in a special mixture, which makes it a dull, inconspicuous bluish gray. A lining and leather chin straps are then fastened on and the helmet is complete. Since the French army has been protected with the helmets the number of deaths due to wounds in the head has decreased to a remarkable extent. —Pearson's Weekly.

ALCOHOL AND THE MEDICAL PROFESSION

THE medical profession as a whole for many decades, at least, has opposed the use of alcohol in health. The last Pharmacopoeia of the United States omits alcohol altogether from the list of drugs used in the treatment of disease. Therefore, the American medical profession as a whole condemns the use of alcohol as a food or beverage and looks with disfavor upon its employment even for medicinal purposes by the medical profession itself. It is hardly worth while at this date to go into any minutiae concerning the ill effects of alcohol. Poverty, crime and disease mark its use throughout the world.—V. C. OHIO WORKMEN WHO MAKE LIQUOR

Number Little in Excess of Six Thousand.

STATE COMMISSION FIGURES

Do Not Tally With Claims of Liquor Men Last Fall That Liquor Manufacturers of Ohio Employ More Than One Hundred Thousand Wage-Earners—Liquor Industry of State Stands at Foot of List of Twenty-six Industries.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—Some interesting figures showing the relation of the liquor industry of Ohio to the other industries of the state are taken from a recent report of the Ohio industrial commission.

Under the law, the industrial commission receives sworn statements of all industries in the state in regard to the number of wage-earners employed, wages paid, etc. Industries employing five or more persons are covered.

According to the report of this commission, 282 persons are employed in the distilled liquor establishments in the state and 5,792 in the malt liquor industries. This is a total of 6,074. The number employed in the manufacture of vinous liquor is not reported, but, according to the government figures, this number does not exceed 150. This makes a grand total of 6,224 wage-earners in all the liquor manufacturing establishments in the state.

The official argument against prohibition, which, under the law, was mailed to all the voters of the state last fall, set forth that the number of wage-earners in Ohio engaged in the manufacture of liquor exceeds 100,000. This statement does not correspond with the report of the liquor manufacturers themselves made under oath to the state industrial commission. The question is, where are the other 94,000 wage-earners employed in the manufacture of liquor?

An analysis of the report of the industrial commission shows the liquor industry pays but one-seventy-sixth of the total wages paid by the total industries of the state. In wages paid the liquor industry stands at the foot of a list of 26 industries. One-third of all persons employed in the liquor industries in Ohio live in Hamilton county.

WHY HE FIGHTS LIQUOR

Grand Chief of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Speaks.

Cleveland, O.—(Special.)—In a letter recently made public, Mr. W. S. Stone of this city, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has this to say concerning the position of his organization on the liquor question:

"We fight the liquor evil perhaps as hard as any of the churches. Liquor has no place in our modern railroad. I never expect to be manager of a railroad, but if I were, a man could not work for me who did take a drink of liquor either on or off duty. I would not make a difference between the two, because a man who will drink off duty is not fit to go on duty when the time comes. I fail to understand why our men do not come out in the open in certain localities and fight this enemy. It tends to destroy the home life, to lower the tone of the citizenship of the community and the morals of the individual as well, to say nothing of his mental and physical health."

THIS IS INTERESTING

Effects of Prohibition in America's Largest Dry City.

Seattle is America's largest dry city. It has been without saloons since the first of January. The number of arrests for all causes in February, 1915, under license, was 1,433. Arrests for all causes in February, 1916, under prohibition were 791. Arrests for drunkenness in February of last year under license, 415. This year under prohibition, 117.

The records show that during February this year there was only about 1 per cent of the normal liquor consumption. The net results of the Prohibition law in Seattle for the month of February show a reduction of 99 per cent in liquor purchases, and a reduction of 73 per cent in arrests for drunkenness.

Evidently Expects Something. August Busch, the big St. Louis brewer, says prohibition does not scare him, not that he thinks it will not come, but says his brewery plant will make one of the greatest packing houses in the west. He evidently is expecting something to happen.
