

Congress.—The near approach of the close of the present session seems to have taken the members up to the necessity of taking hold of business in earnest, and the daily proceedings begin to show signs of the hurry and feverish anxiety which always characterize the last few weeks of short sessions. Among the important measures discussed in the Senate during the past week, was the bill from the House making large grants of land to the several States for the purpose of establishing Agricultural Colleges; upon which, at date of last advice, there had been no decisive action. In the House an effort to force the French Spoliation bill through by means of the previous question was frustrated, and under a decision of the chair it was referred to the committee of the whole on the subject of the Union, where it is subject to discussion; this action, at the late day of the session, is regarded as an indication of its defeat. The bill appropriates about five million of dollars to go into the pockets of the speculators who have bought the claims up for a mere song, and the members of the lobby who have been for years in the employ of the Government. On the 21st, the House passed a resolution by a vote of 120 to 76, which provides that any person who is the head of a family over twenty years of age, and a citizen of the United States, who has filed his intention to become a citizen, shall be entitled to enter a quarter section of any vacant or unappropriated land, and hold the same on condition of actual settlement and cultivation.

The Democratic Legislature of the State of Delaware has just passed a bill granting to E. Francis, of Baltimore, the exclusive privilege of drawing lotteries and selling lottery tickets, in that State, for the period of twenty years, for which privilege Francis pays a bonus of $750,000. A bill has also been introduced to repeal the law prohibiting citizens of Delaware from buying or selling slaves outside the State limits, which, judging from the action in reference to lotteries, will probably also pass. Both acts are very unpopular, with that portion of the citizens not identified with the Democratic party, and the Wilmington Journal, their principal organ, denounced the lottery bill in unmeasured terms, and is equally hostile to the slave bill, both of which it justly regards as disgraceful to the State and a reproach to the intelligence and virtue of the people.

The veteran Republican member of the House from the Adirondack district, Hon. J. R. Granger, will close his long and eventful Congressional career on the 4th of next month, and in order to evince their personal esteem and appreciation of his services in the cause of free labor, his Republican friends in the Senate and House have raised by subscription about six hundred dollars, which is to be invested in a service of silver plate, to be appropriately inscribed, and presented to Mr. G. Several of the anti-slavery Democratic members joined in the testimonial.

The Pacific Railroad bill has been virtually killed in the U. S. Senate, and that too by the decisive vote of 38 to 20, both the House and Senate voting in the negative. The vote was so striking on all but the casting vote of the President, which requires the Secretary of the Interior to advertise for proposals to construct a road on two different routes, and report results to the next Congress. The friends of the bill regard this as equivalent to its defeat, though it was subsequently passed after being thus cut down.

Four men have been arrested on suspicion of having been engaged in the late robbery of the Cashier's Office of the Commercial Bank of the City of New York, and taken to that place for examination. One of them was arrested in Zanesville, one in Columbus, one in Dayton and one in Eaton—two of whom are said to be men of desperate character, former inmates of the Penitentiary, and are known to have been in Ohio at the time the robbery was committed. Three men, residents of a neighboring county, are also suspected, and officers are on the lookout for the purpose of arresting them. It is to be hoped the guilty parties will be secured and receive their deserts.

Treasury robbery is becoming somewhat common of late. In addition to the Cashier's Office robbery, efforts have recently been made to rob the Treasurer of Monroe and Summit counties. The following are the particulars of the attempt in Summit county, copied from the State Journal, of Tuesday:

We are indebted to Mr. Ashmun, Senator from Summit county, for the particulars of a daring attempt to rob the Treasury of that county on Sunday evening. A school teacher and a man named [redacted] of the county, who was armed with a revolver, accompanied by a few others, proceeded to the Treasury building, and immediately drew all the money out of the safe, and fled with it. The money was found to be $10,000. The school teacher was arrested, and the other man is still at large. The school teacher was arrested, and the other man is still at large.

The latest advices from Europe, note rumors of trouble brewing among some of the prominent continental powers, including France and Austria. Italy is the subject of dispute and cause of the commotion. In summing up the news, the New York Tribune says:

Rumors of war continue to be rife on the Continent, and the lands have suffered great fluctuations, but were better when the Arabi sailed. The total depreciation is estimated at sixty million pounds sterling. The speech of the King of Sardinia at the opening of the Chambers smacked of war. It is stated that orders have been given by Louis Napoleon for the preparation of 100 transports to convey 30,000 men from the African continent to Italy. On the 18th inst. Prince Napoleon left Turin, where he was to expose the daughter of the King of Sardinia—a significant movement. On the other hand, Austria, in whose dominions there was much excitement, was concentrating more troops in Italy.

Are the Ohio Democracy in favor of the re-opening of the African slave trade? The answer by members of the party generally would doubtless be no—but a recent vote by several of their Representatives indicates that whatever may be the sentiments of their constituents, they at least are not particularly averse to the nefarious project, which has become a portion of the political creed of their ultra brethren of the South. On the 31st ult. Mr. Kilgour, of Md., asked for a suspension of the rules in order to introduce a preamble and resolutions against the re-opening of the slave trade, which failed by a vote of 115 to 84, an affirmative vote of two-thirds being necessary to the success of a motion to suspend. Among those who voted in the negative were seventeen Northern Democratic members, five of whom, (Cox, Burns, Hall, Miller and Valandigham), are from Ohio. Seven Southern members, five from Maryland, one from North Carolina, and one from Kentucky, voted in the affirmative. The following are the preamble and resolutions referred to:

Whereas, the laws prohibiting the African slave trade have become a topic of discussion with newspaper writers and political agitators, many of them boldly denouncing these laws as unwarranted, and suggesting in their provisions, and insisting on the justice and propriety of their repeal and the revival of the odious traffic in African slaves, and whereas, recent demonstrations and insurrections in the West Indies, and the violation openly committed and encouraged by a portion of the citizens of some of the States of the Union, and whereas, it is proper, in view of said facts, that the sentiments of the people of the State of Ohio in Congress should be made public in relation thereto, therefore,

Resolved, That while we recognize our right on the part of the federal government, or any other law making power, to interfere with or disturb the institution of domestic slavery, where it is established and protected by State legislation, we do hold that Congress has the power to prohibit foreign trade in African slaves, and that any legislative act, though it may be passed by a majority of two-thirds, which shall be known to the catalogue of modern public crime, be to be viewed as a disgraceful and dishonorable act.

Resolved, That the laws in force against the African slave trade, and which are the principles of philanthropy, religion and humanity, and which should remain unchanged, except so far as legislation may be needed to render them more efficient, and that they should be faithfully and promptly executed by our government, and respected by all good citizens.

Resolved, That the Executive should be sustained and commended for any proper efforts whenever and wherever made to enforce the said laws, and to suppress and punish any and all violations thereof, and their aiders and abettors.

Mr. Eaton's—My former proposition was to suggest a plan to improve our County Agricultural Society so as to make its annual fair more interesting and enhance its pecuniary resources. The interest of Agriculture is paramount to all other interests, and being a former by occupation and feeling much interested in the success and permanence of our Society, my plan for advancing its interests is comprised in the following suggestions:—First, that we should to the previous instrument are, 1st. That some much prominence has been given to running horses, horse racing and agriculture are two distinct interests and ought not to be blended. 2d. There has not been in the past speaking enough of the importance of agriculture. What we have had generally been given by members of the legal profession and city editors imported from abroad, who probably never held a plow in their lives, and of the details of practical husbandry know about as much as the members of the Society. The speaker's stand ought to be kept occupied from the commencement to the close of the fair by intelligent and experienced Farmers, which our County can furnish in abundance. In the instance of N. Dustin, David Bush, John Cunningham, Wm. Williams, H. McStevens, R. Wilson, Geo. Atkinson, Z. Stevens, J. McCammon, H. Moore, and many others that might be named, men of age and experience, of practical husbandry, and whose statements would be both reliable and valuable. The Board should select such men the winter as speakers for the next fair, give each a distinct subject for discussion, and my word for it you will give us something worth listening to. The importance of agriculture to the great interests of agriculture. I learn that there is at present a handsome unexpended balance in the treasury of the Society, and would suggest that it be expended in the purchase of a few acres of land, to be divided into two or three lots, and to be sold to the present fair grounds—fence it off, and after preparing a suitable border fence, the entire lot to be planted with grain, and the whole to be left to grow, which will keep well until the next fair, and will give us a great deal of interest in the appearance of the inclosure in the course of a few years; will afford an abundant supply of good fruit, to be eaten by the public during the fair. I would suggest that a premium be offered for the cheapest and best Straw Extractor, and that it be necessary to prepare our grounds for agricultural machinery; the extractors are to be exhibited on our new premises, in taking out the stumps—then plow the land on the days of the fair, harrow it, sow it, and sow one part to wheat and one part to corn. Give premiums to best plowers, harrowers, rollers, grain drills, and seed sowers, or to the implements used in sowing the grain and grass seed during the exhibition. The best and greatest to be used in the improved reapers and mowers during the next harvest. The hay is to be used to feed the stock during the fair—the wheat is to be threshed on the ground during the fair by improved threshing machines; the straw to be used to feed the stock, and the corn to be sown, and the best to be taken to town, floured, baked and brought back in the shape of good fresh bread, to be eaten by the public. Plant in the spring one acre or more to Sorghum or Chinese Sugar Cane, and have it cultivated the same as the sorghum, and the crop to be taken to town, and the best to be taken to town, and the best to be taken to town.

Admission fee, for if my plan is carried out it will make it equal to the garden of Eden, and go to the people most and will.

At a meeting of the students of Union University, Murfreesboro, Tenn., a committee was appointed to prepare resolutions in relation to the death of Dr. Eaton, L. D. President of the University, who died January 12th, 1859—aged 46 years.

Whereas, the afflicting hand of an almighty Providence rests heavily upon us; our hearts have been saddened by an order of His dispensation, sorrow has almost overwhelmed us in consequence of our bereavement, and we are made to mourn the loss of our most devoted and beloved President. In doing in humble submission to what is laid upon us, we acknowledge the hand of God doing all things well, and thus have a small portion of our respect and of the grief of our souls by the adoption of the following resolutions:

First, That in the death of Dr. Eaton, the Institution has lost its founder and most devoted instructor, the community its best ornament and its chief reliance, the Church her most zealous supporter and financial pillar, the student a friend, a father, a most laborious and successful instructor and most worthy exemplar, and his family its great attraction, and earthly source of comfort.

Second, That in him we recognize a man unsurpassed in the benevolent disposition of his heart, the sympathetic feelings of his soul, the kindness of his feelings and unreserved confidence of his mind, and mind to uphold his best Institutions, and the cause of his beloved Savior, that he relaxed not his efforts to prepare the young men under his charge for useful stations in life, and for making them ornaments to their country and benefactors to the world.

Resolved, That the Executive should be sustained and commended for any proper efforts whenever and wherever made to enforce the said laws, and to suppress and punish any and all violations thereof, and their aiders and abettors.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to appreciate his labors, and imitate his examples, and as we relied upon him, and heeded his admonitions, we will now listen to his warning voice from the tomb and strive to live as he lived, and die as he died, O sincere Christian.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to appreciate his labors, and imitate his examples, and as we relied upon him, and heeded his admonitions, we will now listen to his warning voice from the tomb and strive to live as he lived, and die as he died, O sincere Christian.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to appreciate his labors, and imitate his examples, and as we relied upon him, and heeded his admonitions, we will now listen to his warning voice from the tomb and strive to live as he lived, and die as he died, O sincere Christian.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to appreciate his labors, and imitate his examples, and as we relied upon him, and heeded his admonitions, we will now listen to his warning voice from the tomb and strive to live as he lived, and die as he died, O sincere Christian.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to appreciate his labors, and imitate his examples, and as we relied upon him, and heeded his admonitions, we will now listen to his warning voice from the tomb and strive to live as he lived, and die as he died, O sincere Christian.

At a meeting of the students of Union University, Murfreesboro, Tenn., a committee was appointed to prepare resolutions in relation to the death of Dr. Eaton, L. D. President of the University, who died January 12th, 1859—aged 46 years.

Whereas, the afflicting hand of an almighty Providence rests heavily upon us; our hearts have been saddened by an order of His dispensation, sorrow has almost overwhelmed us in consequence of our bereavement, and we are made to mourn the loss of our most devoted and beloved President. In doing in humble submission to what is laid upon us, we acknowledge the hand of God doing all things well, and thus have a small portion of our respect and of the grief of our souls by the adoption of the following resolutions:

First, That in the death of Dr. Eaton, the Institution has lost its founder and most devoted instructor, the community its best ornament and its chief reliance, the Church her most zealous supporter and financial pillar, the student a friend, a father, a most laborious and successful instructor and most worthy exemplar, and his family its great attraction, and earthly source of comfort.

Second, That in him we recognize a man unsurpassed in the benevolent disposition of his heart, the sympathetic feelings of his soul, the kindness of his feelings and unreserved confidence of his mind, and mind to uphold his best Institutions, and the cause of his beloved Savior, that he relaxed not his efforts to prepare the young men under his charge for useful stations in life, and for making them ornaments to their country and benefactors to the world.

Resolved, That the Executive should be sustained and commended for any proper efforts whenever and wherever made to enforce the said laws, and to suppress and punish any and all violations thereof, and their aiders and abettors.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to appreciate his labors, and imitate his examples, and as we relied upon him, and heeded his admonitions, we will now listen to his warning voice from the tomb and strive to live as he lived, and die as he died, O sincere Christian.
