

FREE SILVER.

[Tune, Marching Trough Georgia,]

Dig the good old metal, boys, bring it right along;
Bring it as you used to bring it, many millions strong,
And join in with the chorus, free silver is our song,
While we are marching to victory.

[CHORUS]

Hurrah! Hurrah! we'll make its coinage free,
Hurrah! Hurrah! it's just the stuff for me.

So we'll sing its praises across from sea to sea,
While we are marching to victory.

[CHORUS]

There were many mining lads, who wept with joyful tears,
For their way seemed brighter than it had for many years,
Hardly can they be restrained from pulling Shylock's ears,
While we are marching to victory.

[CHORUS]

The brand-new silver party, boys, will never gain the day,
So the saucy gold-bugs said, but they'd forgot to say,
"The north and south and solid west were joining in the fray,"
While we are marching to victory.

[CHORUS]

Free silver'll be the battle cry we'll sound from sea to sea,
If Johnny Bull don't like our plans, he'd better let them be,
For we intend to mine it now and make its coinage free,
While we are marching to victory.

[CHORUS]

For it will pay the laboring man, who toils from day to day,
And it will help the farmers, too, who raise the corn and hay;
The mortgage on your house and land you easily can pay,
While we are coining free silver.

[CHORUS]

While the "jingle" of Brother White's song is pleasant to the ear, he is "off" in his reference to the "brand-new silver party," unless he meant the People's party.—Eo.]

Prefer Slavery.

Boston Herald published a special dispatch the day before the Fourth, from Spring Valley, Ill., which said: "Three hundred coal miners have caused great excitement here by offering to go into voluntary slavery if guaranteed, for themselves and families, comfortable houses, plenty fuel, food and serviceable clothing. They represent the best element among the miners, and are willing to thus serve without a cent of wages. They will sign an iron-clad contract. They say that it will prove that the present trouble, which threatens a strike, is not of their own seeking. During the last three years they say they have often suffered for the necessities of life, and that rather than see their families suffer, any more they will become serfs." Here is a state of affairs that ought to make honest men think!—The Cleveland Citizen.

What is to be thought of a lawmaker who, like Representative Eckstein, of Wichita, will publicly advocate disregard of the laws already on the statute books? If Mr. Eckstein didn't like the prohibitory law, why didn't he introduce a bill to repeal last winter, when he had the opportunity? He knew the law and was doubtless conversant with the sentiments of his constituents on that subject.—State Journal.

A silver dollar in 1873 was worth one hundred cents in gold. If it is a "fifty-cent dollar" now, somebody has been robbed. The two old parties have been in power ever since 1873. Will some old party newspaper or politician please tell us who was the robber?—John P. St. John.

As to Fusion.

If the Populists and Democrats of Kansas ever had any principles they seem to have abandoned them entirely this year and gone for the offices. In every county heard from so far, where either party has held a convention, a fusion ticket has been nominated.—Topeka State Journal.

The Populist and Republican leaders of Alabama have agreed upon the terms of fusion, the Republicans to have governor and the Populists the balance of the ticket.—Holton Signal.

It depends on which ox is gored in the deal, you know. It is all right for Republicans to fuse with Pops, but when it comes to Democrats and Pops doubling up, it is perfectly awful.—Council Grove Courier.

It is not all right for "Republicans to fuse with Pops" in Alabama or any other place. Any temporary advantage they gain will be lost later on. It is not right for any party whose principles are at variance with those of another party to fuse with that party. It will destroy any party that does it, and ought to.—Topeka State Journal.

The British Wonders At It.—The recent supreme court decision on the income tax shows us so much farther advanced in monarchical ways than they expected that the British themselves are astonished at the decision. The London Times, the leading paper of the empire, says: "The practical result is that direct taxation must fall on the citizen in direct proportion to his voting power, without reference to the amount of his property." The London Chronicle says: "The loss of £6,000,000 must still further derange American finance, but the millionaires have escaped the net, and the people generally will be compelled to make up the deficit. It is a strange comment on American democracy, and on the limitations of the American Constitution."

When we can surprise the British by our plutocratic ways, we have gone considerable lengths, sure enough.—Progressive Farmer.

There never has been and never will be a greater question before any people than the question of human liberty. This country is rapidly drifting into a condition of slavery tenfold worse than that of ante-bellum days. The masses of the people, including the great middle-class, are deprived of the result of their labor without their consent and this is the essence of slavery. Great multitudes are reduced to the condition where they must do the bidding of a master or starve. This is slavery. And the proportion who are in this condition is increasing every day.—New Era.

One of the most infamous ideas which has gained credence among the people is that the right exists to bind unborn generations with a bonded debt. The time will come when such a thought will not be tolerated; when every bond will be wiped out of existence; never until then will we have a free people.—Chicago Express.

Governor Morrill has not only ordered the state board of charities to investigate the causes and circumstances attending the death of Gust Maurer at the Topeka insane asylum, but he has ordered the attorney general to look after the case. The Governor's action was caused by a petition signed by over 200 citizens of Ellis county asking for an investigation.—State Journal.

If we had free coinage of silver, thus enabling any person possessed of bullion to take it to the mint, and for every 371 1/4 grains of pure silver get a legal tender standard dollar, is anybody fool enough to suppose that the market value of the bullion in a silver dollar would be sold for fifty cents or, any other sum less than coin value?—John P. St. John.

There is just the same reason for intrinsic value, as a medium of exchange, that there is for a baggage check or a railroad ticket to be made of gold; and the fact that over 94 per cent of the business transacted without any cash medium, except in name, is an evidence of this fact.—Chicago Express.

Many who regard the saloon as bad on Sunday think it good enough for week days. Now comes Mr. Wanamaker with the opinion that religion is good for Sunday, but is unsuited for the other six days:

John Wanamaker, whom many of the gods continue to stuff with eloquence and inaction, presents the pathetic spectacle of a righteous man who cannot afford to be truly good more than one day in the week. In the April number of Today, he makes the sad admission that if he were to conduct his business on the principle of Brotherly Love—the principle he promulgates so sweetly and so smoothly every Sunday—he would be in the sheriff's hands before the next slaughter sale in summer underwear could roll around.—Exchange.

A "Middle-of-the-road" Reformer.

The Southern Mercury, published at Dallas Texas, is one of the oldest reform papers in the land. It came into existence with the birth of the Farmers' Alliance in 1880, and has kept pace with the reform movement ever since. It is now recognized as the leading reform paper in the land, and circulates from Maine to California.

While it is the duty of every good citizen to patronize his home paper first, it is not possible to keep pace with the rapid growth of the great reform movement without reading one or more of the leading educators in the movement. We would suggest the Southern Mercury as one of the best and most reliable reform papers in the land. The Mercury hews to the line, calls things by their right name, and is loaded with hot shot for plutocracy each issue. It is in touch with the common people, and hence is al- consistent and sound, logical and forcible. It is on the watch tower, and sounds the warning promptly. The Mercury is one dollar per year. Address, SOUTHERN MERCURY, Dallas, Texas.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dis- ead disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrah. Hall's Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrah being a constitutional disease, requires a constitu- tional remedy. Hall's Catarrah Cure is tak- en internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, there by destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHERRY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.
