

THE WORLD AT LARGE.

Summary of the Daily News.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Senate met on the 4th, and as soon as the journal was read Senator Cullom announced the death of Senator Logan, and on his motion out of respect to the memory of the deceased the Senate adjourned.

In the Senate on the 5th Mr. Mitchell, of Pennsylvania, reporting a pension of $2,000 a year to the widow of General Logan. Mr. McPherson offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for a statement of the indebtedness of the Pacific railroads to the Government January 1, 1887, which brought on quite a debate, and was finally passed over.

The conference report on the Interstate Commerce bill was then taken up and debated until adjournment. In the House the Indian Appropriation bill was finally passed. It appropriates $3,115,000. The Military Academy bill also passed. The Speaker laid before the House the resignation of James W. Reid, of the Fifth North Carolina district. The House then, in Committee of the Whole on the Resolutions of the certain bureaus of the Navy Department and then adjourned.

In the Senate on the 6th Mr. Manderson stated that a stronger and more urgent demand should be made for the resignation of Captain Crawford while in pursuit of Geromero and introduced a bill for the relief of Crawford's heirs. The Senate then took up and agreed to Mr. Manderson's resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for a statement of the indebtedness of the Pacific railroads, and then passed the bill granting a pension of $2,000 to the widow of General Logan. A bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

The statement of the National debt for December showed a total debt of $1,738,083,692, less cash items, available for reduction, of $341,992,564, making the total debt $1,396,091,128. The decrease for December was $8,358,302. The total cash in the treasury December 31 was $444,915,788.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

Persons were afloat recently of a disposition among General Logan's friends to impute the cause of his very unexpected death to some mistake of the doctors. The blunt statement was made that he was killed by the administration of arsenic or morphine or both. There is promise of a medical dispute. But the family were perfectly satisfied with the medical treatment.

The President recently approved the bill to extend the term of delivery of the Post-office Department to modify the postal money order system; also the act providing for a public building at Springfield, Mass., and the act for the relief of the survivors and relatives of victims of the Jeannette Arctic expedition.

The Governor and Council at Boston, Mass., recently completed the sale of the Hoosac tunnel, with its accompanying forty-four miles of railroad, to the Pittsburg Railroad Company. The State is to receive $5,000,000 in fifty-year bonds, paying interest at three per cent. for five years, three and a half per cent. for the next five, and four per cent. thereafter and $5,000,000 in common stock.

A CHAMBER in the Peerless slope portion of the Henry Clay colliery, owned by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company, was discovered to be burning on the 6th. The fire was increasing rapidly and defied all efforts to get it under control. Frequent explosions of gas were occurring. Four men had been severely burned. The loss has not yet been estimated.

HARLAN H. WELLS, assignee of Martin Kalbfleisch & Sons, of New York, filed the schedules of the firm a short time ago in the Court of Common Pleas. They show liabilities of $278,116, with contingent liabilities of $97,483, or a total of $375,600 with nominal assets amounting to $78,880.

A STRIKE was recently threatened on the lines of the Brooklyn City and the Broadway street railway lines, owing to the position taken by Presidents Lewis and Boers in the matter of time tables.

Tax wages question at the Edgar Thompson steel works at Pittsburgh, Pa., has been finally settled by the arbitration committee, and work will be resumed in all departments. The new scale advances wages on a general average ten per cent. These works employ over 3,000 men.

RECENTLY four armed men visited the stations of El Rito and Santa Jose, thirty-five miles west of Albuquerque, N. M., on the Atlantic & Pacific road and robbed the agent of $400.

GREAT excitement was caused recently at Albuquerque, N. M., by the announcement that Charles Rosa, the murderer of Marshal McGuire and Officer Henry, had broken jail and escaped.

The grand jury at St. Louis on the 4th returned true bills against Wittrock, Weaver and Haight, the express robbers, charging them with larceny from a railroad car. The defendants pleaded guilty and Wittrock and Haight were sentenced to seven years and Weaver to five years in the penitentiary.

A WATERMAN, a boy of seventeen, employed by Jacob Poole, printer of Cincinnati, O., as collector, was recently charged by his employer with having embezzled money. The boy acknowledged it and asked that his father be sent for to make it good. While waiting for the father to come, Mr. Poole having left the office, young Watkins swallowed prussic acid and in less than two minutes was dead.

ON the 4th a fast train on the Baltimore & Ohio railway, which left New York for Chicago, collided with an eastern-bound freight eleven miles east of Tiffin, O. Fire broke out in the wreck and the screams of the wounded and dying were terrible. At least seven persons were killed or burned to death.

A SPECIAL from Chicago on the 4th said that a frightful accident occurred near Pawnee that evening. The east-bound passenger train, which arrives at six o'clock, which passes the mammoth ice house which borders Pawnee lake at this point, ran into a sleigh of ice men, and instantly killed three and fatally injured several others.

PROMPTLY at twelve o'clock on the 4th the twentieth session of the Nebraska Legislature was inaugurated. In the Senate George D. Mickeljohn, Republican, of Fullerton, was elected President without opposition. In the House N. V. Harlan, of York, was elected Speaker by a vote of 71 to 12. Matt Miller, the Democratic candidate.

The Nebraska Legislature had a very quiet day on the 5th. The organization was completed and subordinate positions filled. Both houses of the Missouri Legislature met at Jefferson City on the 5th. The House elected Dr. E. A. Donelan, of Buchanan, Democrat, temporary Speaker, and Mr. Bentley, of St. Louis, was unanimously sworn in as temporary Chief Clerk. After reading the roll of members-elect and swearing them in the House adjourned. In the Senate the only business done was swearing in the members.

JUDGE SHEPARD, of Chicago, recently enjoined the recorder of Cook County from making abstracts of titles.

A COMMITTEE of Western railway managers was in session at Chicago on the 5th discussing the question of the propriety of what restrictions was to be put upon the issue of passes to merchants, manufacturers and shippers along their several lines.

The north end of the new addition to Pillsbury elevator at Minneapolis, Minn., which has recently been added to the elevator, fell in. Over 40,000 bushels of No. 1 hard wheat was distributed over the Maabota tracks, mixed with splinters and snow. The roof was still hanging. Several men who were working about the elevator escaped without injury.

The Democratic caucus at Jefferson City on the 6th re-nominated Senator Cockrell to be his own successor.

GOVERNOR DAWES, of Nebraska, delivered his biennial message to the Legislature in joint session on the afternoon of the 6th. The present indebtedness of the State is only $450,000.

In the Missouri House of Representatives on the 6th, J. W. Alexander was elected Speaker. After electing a lot of minor officers the House adjourned. The Senate elected D. A. Ball, of Pike, President pro tempore, and J. C. Coker, of Cape Girardeau, Secretary. After electing several subordinate officers, the Senate adjourned without waiting for the Governor's message.

ANNETT & Co., the well known packers of Chicago and Kansas City, through their agent at Washington were recently awarded the contract for furnishing 187,000 pounds of bacon at 12 cents per pound to the Indian Agency at Ft. Verde, Indian Agency at Ft. Verde, Indian Agency at Ft. Verde.

A RECENT special from Detroit, Mich., said that George Weidman, the crack pitcher of the Kansas City base ball club, had been severely bitten by a dog in that city.

THE SOUTH. A late special from New Orleans said that the orange crop of Louisiana was all harvested and marketed, and was as predicted, less than one-tenth of an average crop, and that oranges were retailing at thirty and fifty cents a dozen, against ten to thirty cents the same time last year, and are scarce even at these figures. There will be none for shipment North as usual.

GEORGE HILL, one of the commissioners of La Salle County, Texas, and a leading citizen of the town of Twibig, was assassinated at Cotulla, Tex., recently. Mr. Hill was an important witness at the coroner's inquest on the killing of Sheriff McKinney. He was shot three times, but lived long enough to state that his assassins were Captain Silas Hay and Frank R. Hall. The officers are scouring the country for the murderers.

THERE was a smart shake at Charleston, S. C., on the morning of the 4th, and two sharp shocks at Summerville. No injury, but a number of persons were frightened.

VICTOR TAMBE, a member of the Old Guard of Napsellon, L., died a short time ago in Medina County, Tex., aged ninety.

A CONSTRUCTION train on the Alabama & Great Southern railroad, near Chattanooga, Tenn., recently struck a cow, left the rails, went down an embankment and was wrecked, the engineer and fireman being killed.

The port of Baltimore was virtually closed on the 5th. There had not been an arrival except some day steamboat and a few oyster boats, and none could get through the ice except heavy steamers. The ice extended down the river and into Chesapeake bay, a distance of forty miles.

At a meeting held recently at Annapolis, Md., of the directors of the Chesapeake & Ohio canal, the report showed that the company was in a bad way financially, and that unless aid could be procured from either the State or the Government the canal would have to be closed. The canal runs from Cumberland, Md., to Alexandria, Va., and has never been a paying property.

A BREAST cancer, which Dr. J. S. Roberts, said that Nelson Newman was fatally shot by J. S. Roberts, both prominent planters, residing near Trinity, La. The cause is said to have been an old feud.

A FOUR WORTH, Tex., paper of a recent date made the following estimate of the number of destitute families in the drought-stricken region of Texas: Callahan County, 30; Parker, 100; Taylor, 300; Palopinto, 250; Coleman, 150; Jack, 300; Stephens, 200; Runnels, 300; Jones, 225; Shackelford, 150; Haskell, 30; Young, 150; Brown, 400; Eastland, 500; Comanche, 500; Nolan, 50; Fisher, 100; Fratt, 150; Morton, 10, and Hardeman, 10.

The people of Birmingham, Ala., recently forwarded a memorial to Washington asking for an appropriation to the Colored People's World's Fair to be held at that place in the fall of this year.

GENERAL. It has been stated that the Pope will hold a consistory on the 29th inst., when he will nominate a number of Bishops.

EMERSON WILLIAM on the 1st celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his entrance into the Prussian army by receiving all his commanding Generals, headed by the Crown Prince.

SIX soldiers were killed by the gas explosion at Cambridge barracks, Portsmouth, Eng. Twenty-one were found and extricated from the ruins of the barracks. All the rescued were more or less injured.

TWO thousand extra men were employed in the Berlin post-office for the New Year delivery. The number of letters handled was over 6,000,000.

RUSSIA has concluded arrangements for obtaining from Herzets, of Paris, a loan of 75,000,000 francs. The money is to be expended in constructing a canal from the eastern extremity of the Gulf of Persia, in the Persian Gulf, across the neck of land joining the Crimea to the main land to the sea of Azof, in order to afford a direct water route from the river Don to the Black Sea.

THE losses by fire in the United States for the month of December amounted to $11,300,000, and for the year to $116,600,000. This is larger than ever recorded.

A DESPERATE fight took place recently at New Laredo, Mex., between the guards and about fifty smugglers from the American side conveying about $200,000 worth of goods into the interior. The result was ten dead smugglers and three dead guards, with the goods in the hands of the authorities.

PRATT made her first appearance in the City of Mexico on the night of the 5th and was showered with roses.

An epidemic of typhoid fever was raging at Clermont Ferrand, France, a short time ago. Eighteen hundred persons out of a population of 40,000 had been attacked. It is supposed that the epidemic was started by impure water.

GENERAL BOUTANON, French Minister of War, recently ordered 300,000 new machine shells.

The gate keepers of the military prison at Madrid, Spain, recently decamped with some fugitive sergeants, of whom there were nine. No trace of them can be found. The escape caused a sensation, giving evidence of intrigues by the revolutionary party.

TELEGRAMS of a recent date from Mendoza, Argentine Republic, said that there were four cases of cholera in the city and nineteen in the hospital. The hospital patients are persons from the country. The epidemic continued to decline.

THE LATEST. A WASHINGTON special lately said that the names of Congressmen holding "calls" on Union Pacific would soon be published, and there was much alarm in Chicago. It can be traced to members as having been paid by the railroad to secure the passage of the funding bill. One Congressman is said to have received $250,000.

In the criminal court at St. Louis on the 10th, counsel for Fotheringham applied for a reduction of his client's bond. He was discharged on two charges, and the court fixed the bail in each case at $800. The original amount was $20,000, $10,000 in each case.

A RECENT dispatch said that an epidemic of small-pox was feared in Brooklyn and that a vigorous course of action was being applied.

IT was learned on very good authority at Washington a short time ago that the President had no intention of calling an extra session of Congress.

A RECENT Ottawa, Ont., special said that several important cases of smuggling were being settled by the Minister of Customs. They involved several New York and Chicago houses.

A RECENT case was begun in the Superior Court at Boston on the 7th, being the suit of Maurice S. Fitzgerald, a Catholic clergyman, against Archbishop Williams, to recover damages for being, as he claims, wrongfully deposed from his position. The Archbishop, upon charges of immorality, ordered him into seclusion and excommunication. He declined to obey and was suspended.

IT was officially stated a short time ago that 405 persons were burned to death in the incendiary fire which destroyed the reserved enclosure in the People's Park at Madras, India.

THE Senate on the 7th did not do much business. After passing some minor bills, one of which was to appropriate $300,000 for the widow and daughter of Erskine T. Allen, the inventor of the Springfield brooch-loading musket, Senator Cullom asked that the discussion on the Interstate Commerce bill be postponed till the 10th, which was agreed to and they soon after adjourned.

In the House the Senate bill was passed amending the act for the sale of the Sac and Fox and Iowa Indian reservation in Nebraska and Kansas. At the evening session the House passed forty-two pension bills.

THE lunacy proceedings instituted by Prof. Emmons against Weltha A. Emmons, his wife, were continued in the old circuit court room at Washington on the 7th. There was such a press of admittance that the deputy marshal was obliged to close the doors and refused entrance to all who were not in some way connected with the case.

WILLIAM EARL, proprietor of the largest elder mills in New Jersey, committed suicide recently at his place near Newark, by hanging himself.

THE Democrats of the Ninth Wisconsin district recently nominated Dr. Samuel Johnson for the Senate, and Joseph Bardeen for the short term in Congress, made vacant by Mr. Price's death.

THE ROBBERS SENTENCED.

Wittrock and Haight sentenced to seven years and Weaver to five. St. Louis, Jan. 5.—The probability that Fred Wittrock, the Adams express robber, and his confederates, would be brought into the criminal court yesterday, drew a large number of people to the court room anxious to catch a glimpse of the famous highwayman. At eleven o'clock, the grand jury, which was at that hour expected to be ready to present their indictments, announced that they were ready to report. An adjournment was taken to give them further time to consider the cases and two subsequent adjournments were taken, the last one until two p. m., for the same purpose.

At the latter hour, when Judge Norton had taken his seat, the court room was crowded, the spectators filling the aisles and doorway. The grand jury filed in and took their seats.

"Gentlemen, have you anything to report?" asked the court.

"We have three true bills to return," responded the foreman.

The clerk then read to the judge, who, after looking them over, dismissed the jury. One of them was the joint indictment against Frederick Wittrock, Thomas Weaver and William W. Haight, charging them with larceny from a railroad car, indictment in the first degree, Monday, but the form was changed to the above, so that there might be no difficulty in holding Messenger Fotheringham, for an indictment of robbery in the first degree would be an admission of his innocence. At 2:15 o'clock the prisoners were brought from their cells in the hold-over into court and arraigned at the "if the court please," said Mr. Clover, State attorney, "the defendants in this case desire to plead guilty to the charges in the indictment."

The clerk then asked the defendants if they had heard the charges. They replied in the affirmative, and to the question as to the form they were guilty or not guilty, answered "guilty."

The States attorney recommended that the extreme penalty—seven years in the penitentiary—be meted out to Wittrock and Haight, and that Weaver be given five years. The judge then sentenced them in accordance with the recommendation of the States attorney. Wittrock and Haight took their sentences stoically, the former remarking, "Well, we have made our beds and must lie in them," but Weaver was evidently affected. He could not reconcile himself to the idea of serving a sentence, when Kinney, Moriarty and others who received parts of the stolen money are allowed to go at liberty. After receiving their sentences the prisoners were led back to their cells, where they will remain until to-morrow, when they will be taken to the penitentiary at Jefferson City.

POISONED. A Man With a Faithless Wife Drinks Filled Schnapps and Dies. New York, Jan. 5.—Coroner Messemmer worked until midnight, trying to reach some conclusion as to what killed Wendell Jung, a brewery workman, who died with terrible pains and convulsions, after drinking schnapps from a bottle filled at Frank Egan's saloon. Jung, who was seventy-two years old, lived with his wife at 401 East Fifty-fourth street, further east on the opposite side of the street, lived a son, William Jung, with his wife, Celia. On New Year's day Celia, in obedience to her mother's orders, took a bottle provided by William Jung and went for some schnapps to Egan's saloon. When the bottle came back it was put in a cupboard, and Jung, after a carom game, went to take a drink. One taste of it made her sick, and the bottle was put back. About midnight the old man took a big swallow, and immediately was seized with violent cramps. Two hours later he died. Celia, William's wife, had served for three years in Billy McGilroy's place as one of the attractions. She was seventeen years old and Jung, after a carom game, went to live with her in Mott street. He soon discovered that she already had a husband, whom she had married at the age of fourteen and by whom she had had a child. This disturbed his peace of mind for a time, but he forgave her and all was quiet. Then he found out that she continued to visit McGilroy's place. He reprimanded her and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came home and found his wife bleeding profusely. She told him that some one had stabbed her. A few days later an Italian came into his room during his absence and fired a pistol several times. His wife again confessed that she had been in McGilroy's place, and she cried, and this led to a second quarrel. One day he came