

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS.

Regular Benefits to Be Derived From Proper Treatment of Live-stock.
Let a thorough system of reasoning be commenced in infancy, and by the time mature years have come, all domestic animals will be useful and pleasant co-laborers with us. There is a right and a wrong way to do every thing. When a thing appears reasonable to the understanding of a person or animal, there is generally a free acquiescence. This can best be obtained through kind words and gentle treatment. The horse that understands the words of command is not only trusty but is worth three times as much as one who can be managed only by mechanical means, and that dare not be allowed to take a step unless some one has a hold on him. Besides, he will do his work far more easily, because he does it voluntarily. Who does not admire the team that can be guided and controlled while at work simply by the word of command? How it lessens labor and gives the driver more freedom to attend to his duties. Such a team is far more desirable on the farm than the one that has to be guided every step by rein. The work is easier all around.

A man should talk kindly to his animals, and always tell them to do what he wishes, just as he would his children, and ere long he will notice that they fully understand very many things said to them. Let simplicity govern him, seasoned with good sense, and he will be surprised at the result. I have often astonished my friends with my animals, and they would ask, "how in the world did you teach them to do such things?"

But, of course, it is not every one that can meet with success in teaching, for some people haven't the faculty of the patience to teach. They get mad easily and use a multiplicity of words and oaths which excite and confuse the animal and make what they style blunderhead. Such people should never attempt the education of any thing; it would pay them far better to let others do it, for I contend that the education of our domestic animals is as essential as is the education of our children; i. e., in a pecuniary view. Good feeding, good usage and education will do away with the whip and overhead check rein, to put style and action into man's most valuable and faithful servant. The breeding and education of the horse should lead more in the channel of general purpose. See how the trotting strain has been improved! Does any one doubt that feeding, breeding and training have accomplished the fleetness of the horse? Let the same efforts extend toward general domestic work, and ere long we may have a team capable of doing twice the amount of work in a given time. It is to be regretted that very many blundered old mares are allowed to breed, and thus have a tendency to deteriorate instead of improve. It costs no more to keep a good animal (not so much) than a poor one, and the satisfaction and profit in having the best stock control in this respect.—C. Henry Cook, in Ohio Farmer.

INVASION OF THE SEA.

The Slender Means by Which the Power of the Ocean is Resisted.
There are portions of the land along the sea-coast where the waves are always fighting for dominion. The wearing away of the earth is very rapid unless these places are protected by artificial dykes or by natural embankments of sand. On the east coast of England great changes have been wrought within a few hundred years. Where the old maps of that coast appear in error, showing capes where there are now bays, the want of accuracy to-day is not due to any fault of the maps. The shore-line has greatly changed, and villages and churches have disappeared, or are now to be seen under the waves.

The most wonderful thing about all this is the slender means by which the power of the sea is resisted. A layer of sand of only a few inches thickness, washed up upon the edge of a marsh, will bear all the pounding and beating of the sea in a storm, and be made all the firmer by what it has to endure. And yet the same sand, when it is dry, will drift before the wind like snow, and will seem as poorly fitted for a breakwater as would a snow-bank.

All along our Atlantic coast are to be found beaches like those on the east coast of England, which rest upon soft mud. The means for preserving these are as simple as the nature of the beaches themselves. Grasses that will grow in the sand, and will grow nowhere else, give the only protection that can be found, and in most instances, all the protection that is needed. The variety grown is called Marum grass in England. The name evidently means sea-grass.

This grass was constantly sown by the Dutch on the sand-hills which line; and it is altogether likely that the practice of sowing it was introduced into England from Holland in very early times. There is said to be a widespread notion among the people of Norfolk that some penalty attaches to the gathering of Marum grass for any purpose. This must be a tradition from times when such laws were in force, for there is no law providing a penalty at present. After a great storm, in 1608, commissioners were appointed to preserve the sea-banks on the east coast, and it is likely they made local rules and regulations for the keeping of the grass.

As nature provides very simple means for holding the water and the sand, so the banks are threatened from a quarter from which danger would hardly be expected. When the water is low the rats pierce the banks with their holes, and these quickly enlarge in the soft sand so that a single rat-hole may prove the destruction of miles of embankment. One thing which is not sufficiently taken into account by those who are interested in dyking and reclaiming marshes is that the peaty soil, upon being drained, settles, and brings the surface much lower than before. Artificial dykes need to be made with this result in view.—Youth's Companion.

How to Select a Wife.
Good health, good morals, good sense and good temper, are the four essentials for a good wife. These are the indispensables. After them come the minor advantages of good looks, accomplishments, family position, etc. With the first four, married life will be comfortable and happy. Lacking either, it will be in more or less degree a failure. Upon good health depends largely good temper and good looks, and to some extent good sense also, as the best mind must be affected more or less by the weakness and whims attendant on frail health. Young man, if your wife is falling into a state of invalidism, first of all things try to restore her health. If she is troubled with debilitating female weaknesses, buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will cure her.

As my complexion made Nellie a fright, Her face was all pimply and red, Though her features were good, and her blue eyes were bright, "What a plain girl is Nellie!" they said.

But now, as by magic, plain Nellie has grown As fair as the peach, and called her a fright, Her face is as sweet as a flower new-blown, Her cheeks are like peaches and cream.

As Nellie walks out in the fair morning light, And asks for the peach, she called her a fright, "Why, Nellie is handsome!" they cry.

And the reason of the change is that Nellie took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which regulated her liver, cleared her complexion, made her blood pure, her breath sweet, her face fair and rosy, and removed the defects that had obscured her beauty. Sold by druggists.

BARON VON STEUBEN.

A German Soldier who Rendered Great Service to the Revolutionary Army.

Frederick William Augustus Steuben, Baron, eminent in the service to the American cause, at a time when it needed him from such as he, died near Utica, N. Y., at the age of sixty-four years. Deep affection from every true American is his due, for the order and skill in which he brought the American forces in their great exigency. Like many other foreigners he left home and wealth for the privilege of fighting for the American cause. He was born at Magdeburg, Prussia, November 15, 1730, and received a good education. He entered the military service and soon rose to a position near the King, the Frederick William. He ranked high in the military and court circles of Europe, because of the reputation he had made in the seven years' war. He was not obliged to leave his country but came voluntarily, and upon arrival offered his services to Congress. He was placed with the army at Valley Forge and at once introduced the Prussian drill by adapting it to the American troops. In the brilliant campaign which followed his influence was felt. He wrote a book on military science, in French, at the solicitation of Washington and Congress. He could not use the English language. It was translated and was the only book of the kind accessible to the American soldiers during the revolution. He ultimately became a Major-General and his services can never be over-estimated. He was a fervent Christian, but was possessed of a quick temper, which would manifest itself when he undertook to deal with raw troops. He, however, gained the good will of the soldier, and would often reward the apt scholar out of his own pocket. His life was full of noble and generous acts, and his fortune dwindled away through kindness of heart. In 1790 he was voted by Congress an annuity of $2,500 for life, and land from several States, including 16,000 acres from New York. He retired to a log house on the latter and freely settled some of his old army acquaintances upon the land, which he presented to them. His last years were spent in comparative quiet.—Toledo Blade.

"Well, it ain't so serious. The amount of it'll be that yez'll have to pay a small fine."

"How much will the fine be?"

"That depends on whin ye pay it."

"Oa, when we pay it?"

"Yis sor. If yez wait till tomorry when yer up before the judge it'll be about thirty or forty dollars, but if yez enoose to make a cash transaction ay it an' settle now, it won't be more nor five dollars apiece."

WORDS IN PRAISE

The following words, in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a remedy for those delicate diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women, must be of interest to every sufferer from such maladies. They are fair samples of the spontaneous expressions with which thousands give utterance to their sense of gratitude for the inestimable boon of health which has been restored to them by the use of this world-famed medicine.

TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here or there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their country doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably grows worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complication. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

JEALOUS DOCTORS.

A marvelous cure.—Mrs. G. F. SPAGUET, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., writes: "I took eleven bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of your 'Pills.' I am doing my work, and have been for some time. I have had to employ help for about sixteen years before I commenced taking your medicine. I have had to wear a supporter most of the time; this I have laid aside, and feel as well as I ever did."

Mrs. M. Y. GLEASON, of Union, Otago Co., Mich., writes: "Your 'Favorite Prescription' has worked wonders in my case. Again she writes: 'Having taken several bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I have regained my health wonderfully. A proper treatment of myself and friends. I can now be on my feet all day, attending to the duties of my household.'

THE OUTGROWTH OF A VAST EXPERIENCE.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth of twenty years of research and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have recommended it, have more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most powerful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women.

It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the uterus, or womb and its appendages, in particular. For overworked, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing and restorative tonic. It promotes digestion and assimilation of food, cures nausea, weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating and crampings of gas. As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhoea, or "white," excessive flowing at monthly periods, painful menstruation, unnatural suppurations, prolapsus or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," atony, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat," or "burning" of the vagina.

In pregnancy, "Favorite Prescription" is a "mother's cordial," relieving nausea, sickness of stomach and other distressing symptoms common to that condition. If its use is kept up in the latter months of gestation, it so prepares the system for delivery as to greatly lessen, and many times almost entirely do away with the sufferings of that trying ordeal.
