

THE WORLD AT LARGE.

Summary of the Daily News.

WASHINGTON NOTES. The following consuls have been appointed: Emmons Clark, of New York, at Havre; Archibald J. Sampson, of Colorado, at Annapolis; Rowell G. Horr, of Michigan, at Valparaiso, and James A. Hartigan, of the District of Columbia, at Trieste and all other ports in the Austrian dominions. John J. Chew, of the District of Columbia, has been appointed Secretary of Legation at Vienna. The annual report of the Civil-Service Commission for the period ended June 30, 1888, has been made public. During that period 28 examinations were held in every State and Territory except Colorado and Kansas. The number of applicants examined was 2,699, of which an average of 68 per cent. passed in the common branches and 29 per cent. in the special branches. JUDGE TYNER, Assistant Attorney-General for the Post-office Department, was reported seriously ill with liver trouble. It is generally believed that Congress will meet before December. ADMIRAL GERRARD, U. S. N., cables the Navy Department that all is quiet in Havre, Legitime and Hippolyte both being indisposed to leave Havre. The State Department will make no effort to induce the Persian Minister to withdraw his resignation. DON FERNANDO CRUZ, the new Guatemalan Minister to the United States, was formally presented to President Harrison on the 11th. SECRETARY OF WAR PROCTOR has been quite ill at his home in Rutland, Vt., but is now able to be about. SOME of the Washington butchers who have secured Government contracts have made complaint to the District Attorney, alleging that the agents of Armour & Co., Swift & Co. and two other Chicago dressed beef houses who do a wholesale business there, have combined to injure them by instituting what is practically a boycott. THE Secretary of the Treasury has telegraphed his approval of the course of the Emigrant Commissioners at New York in detaining the emigrants sent to Agent Nally in the Southern Pacific railway, by Wright & Son, of London, and ordered the immediate return of every man sent to Agent Nally, under the law prohibiting the importation of contract laborers. THE President has received a respite till August 9 in the cases of Jack Sparland, Joseph Matin and Elsie Jayne, convicted in the United States court of the Western district of Arkansas of murder in the Indian Territory. TYPHOID fever was reported epidemic at Philadelphia. JOHN KELLY, convicted of the murder of Eleanor O'Shea near Geneva November 6, 1888, was hanged at Canandaigua, N. Y., on the 11th. MARRIED. B. FLYNN, the noted New York City politician, died at Long Branch on the 9th. THE labor troubles at the Homestead steel works at Carnegie, Pa., have taken the shape of the 11th, strikers maltreating an employment agent and three German workmen brought on to take their places. WAR is supposed to be cold, silver and copper ore has been discovered in Warren County, N. Y., in the mountains. FOUR big brewing firms of Brooklyn, N. Y., have been consolidated into a stock company. They are the Ochs, the Freze, the Wetz & Zwick and the Schilz. The company represents a capital of $1,200,000. The breweries do not pass into the hands of English capitalists, but in other respects the scheme resembles those of foreign syndicates. SECRETARY RUSK has protested against the raising of the State quarantine against pleuro-pneumonia in New Jersey. TWO meetings for the purpose of killing were held in a barn ten miles south of Gettysburg, Pa., recently, by a stroke of lightning. The barn was set on fire and destroyed. THE people of the Titusville oil regions of Pennsylvania are making arrangements to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the striking of the first oil well by Colonel Drake in 1859. As the result of an investigation of the post-office at New Haven, Conn., Henry M. Cummings, a carrier, was arrested charged with soliciting political contributions. NINE side-tracked freight cars in Patterson, N. J., ran down a grade suddenly the other day, jumped several switches and collided with an engine and train. One man was drowned while bathing near the foot of Seventy-second street. LATER investigation showed only five persons drowned by the giving way of the bridge at Johnstown, N. Y. THE meeting for the purpose of forming a salt trust, "International in scope" did not take place at New York as proposed, on the 11th, owing to the non-arrival of representatives of the Kansas and Louisiana salt interests. THE latters in the shoe factories of Wolboro, N. H., have struck against a recent adjustment of wages. A NEW YORK man, the 14th Charles Escassi, fourteen years old, and Emanuel Escassi, aged sixteen, were drowned while bathing in the Harlem river. James Montgomery, colored, twenty years of age, was drowned while bathing near the foot of Seventy-second street. HARBEN REIN, a Russian boy of seven years, attempted to steal a piece of ice from a wagon at New York the other day and being surprised by the driver fell against the tongs hanging from the scales. The tongs closed upon him and cut his jugular vein, causing him to bleed to death. In Somerville, near Boston, recently, Augustus Rosenberg killed the woman with whom he was living and her son, also fatally wounding another child and seriously wounding a third. In endeavoring to escape the dead fell over a pile of railroad ties, a spike entering his head and killing him. The strike at Carnegie, Homestead works was settled on the 14th amicably. The terms were not given out, but much satisfaction was expressed at the termination of the troubles which so seriously threatened the peace. THE WEST. Two weeks ago two men became involved in a fight at East Saginaw, Mich., during which William Fisher was bit on the thumb. Subsequently gangrene set in and later he died. He attempted to make an ante mortem statement, but before the name of his assailant passed his lips he ceased to breathe. ROBERT REDBURN, aged eighteen, and Willie Wise, aged seventeen, were drowned near Alton, Ill., the other night while swimming in the river. MARRIED. BURNES, alias Frank Williams, was shot with the Cronin murder, was ordered for extradition at Winnipeg on the 10th. He had fifteen days in which to appeal.

A DISEASE resembling dysentery is epidemic at New Canton, Ill. Seven deaths have already occurred, nearly all among children.

STEAMBOAT Crystal City, plying between St. Louis and Grand Tower, Ill., sank seventy miles below St. Louis the other night. No one was injured. Hon. EDWARD RICE, Representative in the last Congress from the St. Paul district of Minnesota, died recently at White Bear, Minn. In consequence of the action of the Chicago & Alton, withdrawing from the Inter-State Railway association, the presidents of the other Kansas City lines were constituted a committee by the association at Chicago on the 11th, with the power to take such action as they might see proper at any time in protecting their interests against the competition of the Alton. The five members of the "Pentecost" of Chicago, who have been arrested for holding boisterous meetings, they are supposed to be Mormons. EMPLOYEES of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern have been at work surveying a route for their line on the Wisconsin side of the Mississippi river, across that river, westward. The grain elevator men of Minneapolis, Minn., are exceedingly angry because the city authorities have to be paid 5,000,000 bushels of wheat in the elevators. The St. Louis & Chicago railroad will be sold at master's sale in Springfield, Ill., on the 20th under orders of the United States Court. AFTER fifteen months of contention with the union, the employers of Indianapolis stone cutters have acceded to the demand for eight hours a day and a ten-hour day. FIRE starting in a bakery at Fresno, Cal., the other morning, destroyed half a block of brick buildings, causing $200,000 loss. JUDGE HORTON, of Chicago, refused habeas corpus for Lawyer Beggs, charged with complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin. ED FAYET, a laborer, was torn to shreds in a riot in the cable power house at Denver, Col., recently. A JAIL at Jacksonville, Fla., containing three prisoners was discovered to be on fire the other morning and before the coils could be thrown to the street all the prisoners died from suffocation. The origin of the fire is a mystery. To add still further to the railroad complications it was announced at Chicago on the 11th that the Grand Trunk had cut grain rates. DURING a heavy thunder storm at Davenport, Iowa, on the night of the 13th, a foot of water fell in six hours. The Mississippi rose 17 inches. It was feared that much damage had been done to crops. THE falling in of a brick kiln at London, Md., near Gaithersburg, Ill., severely injured several men and it was feared that four or five who were buried under the falling brick were dead. The telegraph line was out of order and only reports from citizens were obtained. The propeller Smith Moore collided with the propeller James Picards near Marquette, Mich., recently. The Moore sank, but her crew was rescued. JUDGE HORTON, of Chicago, refused habeas corpus for Lawyer Beggs, charged with complicity in the murder of Dr. Cronin. THE Sioux Indian Commissioners were given a public reception by the Board of Trade of Pierre, Dak., the other evening. Miss EBERHARDT was killed and Mrs. William Williams was fatally injured at St. Louis, Ill., recently by lightning. By the wrecking of a passenger train near Greenfield, Ill., Miss Eva Davis, of Earlville, Ill., was killed and several other passengers injured. THE SOUTH. By a collision at the depot at Oakdale, Tenn., the other day, two engines and a postal car were wrecked, but no damage was done. GOVERNOR LOWRY, of Mississippi, says that those who are sneering at his attempt to stop the traffic in opium, that he was in earnest before he gets through with them. He intends to prosecute every one connected with the affair, especially general Superintendent Carroll, of the Queen of the South route. To avoid arrest the pugilist Sullivan crossed into Texas. Kilrain, who was reported seriously sick, went North. Mrs. T. Tyler, widow of the President of the United States, died at Richmond, Va., on the 10th. She was about seventy years of age. A NEGRO was lynched by infuriated citizens near Ringgold, Ga., the other day. The victim was a white girl. GOVERNOR FREUGH LEE will accept the superintendency of the Lexington (Va.) Military Institute, which was offered him by the board of visitors at their recent meeting. The Governor is eligible, not eligible until his term of Governor expires, which will be January 1, 1890. DR. CARMICHAEL, of Fredericksburg, Va., was recently called to attend the son of a prominent citizen, who was apparently suffering from a troublesome cough, and upon examining the child's throat found part of a watch chain protruding from the mouth of the child. The next day the chain, about six inches long with an acorn charm attached to one end of it, was taken from the nostril without injuring the nose. JOHN KILLIAN, the pugilist, was arrested on the arrival of his train at Nashville, Tenn., on the 11th to await a requisition from Governor Lowry, of Mississippi. Sullivan attempted resistance, throwing himself into a pugilistic attitude, but a revolver thrust into his face quieted him and he surrendered. Later he was released by an order of the circuit court and received an ovation from an immense crowd of admirers. A SLIGHT shock of earthquake was felt at Charleston, S. C., on the 11th. JOHN MALONE, a prominent citizen of Chattanooga, Tenn., was killed at Rising Fawn, Ga., the other night by being run over by a train on the Great Southern road. DONNEL WILLIAM P. ZOLLINGER, of Baltimore, Md., a well known merchant and broker, a former commander of the Fifth regiment of Maryland, and a leading Confederate shot himself dead recently. The remains of Mrs. Tyler were interred beside those of ex-President Tyler at Richmond, Va. The steel cruiser Baltimore returned to Camp's yard at Baltimore recently after a satisfactory test of sea maneuvering. The engines averaged 19 knots on a development of 5,700 horse power. It was stated that Wiley Matthews, the escaped Bald Knobber, had killed two men in Boone County, Ark., who had attempted his capture. W. E. STANLEY, a Louisiana planter, shot and killed Thomas Corcoran, colored, the other day for having insulted Mrs. Stalwart.

GENERAL.

PARNELL announces that he has decided to form a tenants' defense league, for the purpose of opposing the Irish landlord syndicates. TROOPS have been ordered to Egypt from Malta by the British Government. The lockout against the Glasgow riveters has been withdrawn. In an engagement recently sixty derbies were killed by the Egyptians. The railroads have refused to concede a rate of one cent a mile to the Grand Army Encampment at Milwaukee, Wis., and the meeting has been ordered off. LORD CHARLES BERSFORD has resigned his seat in the British House of Commons in order to resume his position as an officer in the British army. A SENSATIONAL scene occurred in the French Chamber of Deputies on the 11th. M. Le Herisse and M. Laguerre assailing the Government for the arrests at Angoulême. Opposing partisans created disorder outside after adjournment. SEVERAL French newspapers announce that the Chamber of Deputies will not vote a credit for the purchase of "The Angelus" and that the picture will go to Americans who are ready to pay $10,000, the amount for which the picture was sold at auction. Two thousand bakers of Berlin have gone on a strike. The Russian Government has totally suppressed the Lutheran Church. The French Chamber of Deputies has passed a bill for the purpose of giving the form in which it was adopted by the Senate. A TERRIBLE storm raged at Vera Cruz, Mexico, on the 12th, creating much alarm for the safety of shipping. The Magdeburg sugar ring being unable to meet the settlement was compelled to ask a week's grace, which the Sugar Export Association declined to grant. The Illinois caused a fall of four marks in Hamburg. THE Observers Romano say that should the Pope be forced to exile himself from Rome he will not ask sovereignty from any Power, but the request temporary hospitality, as he will certainly return to Rome. THE strike among the sailors of Liverpool, Eng., has collapsed. The men accepting the terms offered by their employers. No disturbances were reported on the Orange celebration of the 12th of July. THE London Standard's Rome correspondent says: "The Italian Cardinals oppose the suggestion of several foreign Cardinals that the election of an American Cardinal as Pope would tend to solve the Roman question. The Pope has asked three Cardinals whether it is advisable that the conclave to elect his successor be held at Rome or elsewhere." ARRANGEMENTS are perfecting to form a leather trust. It has developed that the willow ware manufacturers of the United States are preparing to form a trust. The centennial of the fall of the Bastille was celebrated on the 14th by the French residents of the principal cities of this country as well as in France. In Paris the Boulangerists were the leading element. President Carnot reviewed the troops at Longchamps, receiving a hearty greeting. It is stated that since the Wolgelmuth dispute the Swiss Government has decided to establish embassies at London and St. Petersburg. M. BELLE, a Boulangerist, killed M. Pierrot, an opportunist, in a duel at Marseilles recently. The parliamentary committee investigating the income and wealth of Queen Victoria, it is reported, has found that she is not nearly so wealthy as generally believed. CLEARING house returns for the week ended July 13 showed an average increase of 22.0 compared with the corresponding week of last year. In New York the increase was 24.1. On the London Stock Exchange during the week ended July 13 American securities were fluctuating. English being firm. Prices were weak on the German bourses and in Paris stocks were unsteady. THE LATEST. FORT ROBINSON, Neb., July 13.—Saturday morning just after daylight a cloudburst occurred in the mountains just north of Fort Robinson and Marsh Duncan, a wood chopper, and three of his children are known to have been drowned. The flood swept down Soldier creek six feet high and completely submerged Little valley and great anxiety is felt for people living in the canyon along Soldier creek just north of the post. Duncan and his wife and five children lived in the canyon. Food, money and clothing have been sent to the sufferers. OTTAWA, Ont., July 13.—It is now settled beyond doubt that the Government will grant the application of President Harrison for the extradition of Burke for the alleged murder of Dr. Cronin. The report of Judge Ballou, who is riding in from Winnipeg, and meanwhile it is open for Burke's counsel to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, fifteen days being allowed for that purpose in order that Judge Ballou's decision may be appealed. COLUMBUS, O., July 14.—The Republican State Central Committee has organized with A. T. Brinmade, president, J. W. Krumm, and A. W. Kauler, Dayton, secretary. The State Executive Committee is: A. L. Conger, Akron, chairman; John M. Doane, Columbus, secretary; George W. Brink, Columbus, treasurer; Asa S. Bunnell, Springfield; George K. Nash, Columbus; A. C. Hard, Cleveland; G. H. Ketcham, Toledo; C. L. Maxwell, Xenia; Amos Smith, Cincinnati; S. L. Johnson, Columbus; and G. L. Kurtz, Athens. CLEVELAND, O., July 13.—Thomas Fulton and his cousin, Miss Ella Ault, were killed by a Baltimore & Ohio freight train near the city. The train was riding in a rear cart, the horse becoming frightened and running on the track ahead of the train. Fulton's body was carried nine miles on the pilot of the locomotive because the engineer discovered that there had been an accident. DENVER, Col., July 14.—The jury in the Connors-Marshall conspiracy trial announced that they were unable to agree and were discharged by Judge Allen. It is understood that they stood seven to five for conviction. The case was set for retrial September 28. Marshall will leave for his home in Kansas City. Heavy Hains. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 14.—Heavy rains fell throughout Indiana and Illinois yesterday. In this town serious damage was done to buildings in course of erection. Growing crops throughout the two States suffered considerably. The other evening the seven-year-old only son of ex-Adjutant-General Campbell was killed by a car on the Electric road at Topeka. He attempted to jump from a car when he fell under the wheels and was crushed. The name of the post-office at Gettysburg, Pa., has been changed to Fenwick. An examination will be held at Oswego July 27 for the purpose of examining applicants for the Third Congressional district for appointment to the Military Academy at West Point, there being vacancy from the Third district. On July 8 Rev. Bernard Kelly, of Emporia, was appointed pension agent at Topeka, to succeed ex-Governor Gillet.

KANSAS STATE NEWS.

TOM CAVANAUGH, formerly Secretary of State of Kansas, has been appointed Surveyor-General of Washington Territory. A mortgage for $150,000,000 was recently filed in the recorder's office Wyandotte County. It was executed May 1 by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad to the United States Trust Company of New York. The entire Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul system is placed under mortgage for $150,000,000 for a period of 100 years. The mortgage bonds will be of the denomination of $1,000 and there will be 150,000 of them. The other day 150 men were discharged from the Santa Fe shops at Topeka. The reduction was utterly unexpected, and was made on the strength of a telegram from the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul cut was divided between all the departments, and is supposed to be in the interest of economy. Single men only were discharged. F. PARNELL, a young man twenty-five years old, the other night visited the residence of George B. Callahan, who had recently been married, and while sitting on the porch suddenly drew a pistol and shot Mr. Callahan in the chest. He left and when officers went to arrest him he completed the tragedy by shooting himself. Parnell was rejected by Mrs. Callahan, for whose hand he aspired. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul two months ago he attempted to commit suicide by taking laudanum, but was saved by the timely arrival of physicians. At the time of the killing he appeared to be in friendly terms with the young married couple. The other night John Chambers and John Chessner, two Kansas City crooks, attempted to burglarize the house of Ed. Hyatt, a farmer near Topeka. The crooks, who were the first to enter the house, met with a warm reception in the kitchen from Mr. Hyatt, who fired three shots, two taking effect. The crooks fled, one of them being wounded. Though wounded, he fought desperately, when Mrs. Hyatt went to the assistance of her husband and with a heavy club struck the thief senseless. The crook, who had the name of the other crook made good his escape. The house of William R. Sellers, near Medicine Lodge, was recently struck by lightning and Mrs. D. R. Bailey, who had her baby in her lap, was killed. The child was unharmed. THREE or four negro boys, ranging in age from fifteen to sixteen years, recently went into the river swimming at Kansas City, caught fire and were drowned. It was thought to be an accident, but a day or two later one of the survivors told the story that Bud Patterson, a boy fifteen years old, had held the other boys under the water and drowned them in order to get revenge for Lewis connecting Patterson with a stealing transaction. Patterson was held for trial. It is stated that confidence men are being trained in the city of New York, including them to sign notes under the impression that they are placing their signatures to pension claim papers. INVESTIGATION has been a complete failure in Kansas, where the thieves have all been washed out by the rains. EX-GOVERNOR GLICK advocates, as a means of overcoming the exactions of the State, that the State should be divided into the manufacture of wine in the State penitentiary. JUST before noon the other day the house of H. B. Oney, a Clay Center dentist, was under the water and drowned. His young wife took their two small children to a place of safety and then returned to try and save some of the valuables. She went in and out safety twice, but the third time she was drowned. When assistance arrived the house was too far gone to risk an entrance and Mrs. Oney perished. THE killing of J. H. Wallington, the drummer who persisted in paying attention to his married daughter, resulted in an acquittal by the jury. DEATH was found on the streets of Jacksonville, Fla., the other day, with a bullet in his head and would probably die. From letters found on his person it appeared that he was a well-to-do farmer in Kansas who had been traveling in the States for some time. He was a brother in law of a man who had been insane and preferred to kill himself rather than be sent to a hospital. JAMES COWELL, son of Postmaster Cowell, of Lawrence, Kan., was drowned in a boat on the river. He was about twenty years of age and at intervals since then had been considered of unsound mind. He will be sent to the asylum at Osawatimie, Mo., where he was buried. The body was carried to Lawrence, where it was buried in a casket at Lawrence, which had been traced to him. THE other day Thomas Martin and C. M. Middleton, Pratt County farmers, were charged with the murder of a man who had been killed by a grape vine that had been planted jointly. Martin emptied three barrels of a revolver into Middleton. Death was almost instantaneous. In a speech after the funeral of the man who had been killed, it is alleged that he lived on the proceeds of moonshine whisky which he was making himself. THE Secretary of the Interior has accepted the resignation of O. E. Leonard, superintendent of the Haskell Institute at Lawrence, and has given the Commissioner of Indian Affairs authority to designate another person to fill the place. LOUIS TOUTIER, an old Frenchman, who resided as a hermit on the island south of Arkansas City, was recently found dead in his corn crib with three bullet holes in his body. He was eighty-two years old and somewhat eccentric. It is alleged that he lived on the proceeds of moonshine whisky which he was making himself. THE resignation of the Interior has accepted the resignation of O. E. Leonard, superintendent of the Haskell Institute at Lawrence, and has given the Commissioner of Indian Affairs authority to designate another person to fill the place. LOUIS TOUTIER, an old Frenchman, who resided as a hermit on the island south of Arkansas City, was recently found dead in his corn crib with three bullet holes in his body. He was eighty-two years old and somewhat eccentric. It is alleged that he lived on the proceeds of moonshine whisky which he was making himself. THE Secretary of the Interior has accepted the resignation of O. E. Leonard, superintendent of the Haskell Institute at Lawrence, and has given the Commissioner of Indian Affairs authority to designate another person to fill the place. LOUIS TOUTIER, an old Frenchman, who resided as a hermit on the island south of Arkansas City, was recently found dead in his corn crib with three bullet holes in his body. He was eighty-two years old and somewhat eccentric. It is alleged that he lived on the proceeds of moonshine whisky which he was making himself.

FALL OF THE BASTILLE.

Centennial Observance of This Event. Disturbances in Paris on the Prohibition of a Boulanger Meeting—Boulangerists Threaten a Revolution. PARIS, July 13.—M. Droulede, M. Germain and other Boulangerist members of the French Chamber of Deputies met in the Place de la Concorde before the statue of Strasbourg yesterday, intending to hold a meeting. A crowd of several thousand persons gathered and M. Droulede was about to begin a speech when a police commissary named Clementi forced his way through the crowd and approaching Droulede forbade him to speak. Droulede protested, but the police officer was obdurate. The crowd then began affixing floral wreaths to the railing around the statue, at the same time leading the crowd in shouts of "Vive Boulanger." Clementi tried to arrest Droulede, but the latter stoutly resisted, saying that he had made a speech and had only cheered for Boulanger. He refused to accompany the officer to the police station. Clementi then seized him, but the crowd rushed to his rescue and took him away from the officer who was being roughly handled by the mob, when a large body of police suddenly appeared upon the scene and charged the crowd, driving them in all directions and rescuing the unfortunate commissary. A large number of persons were arrested. Laguerre and Droulede during the scrimmage jumped into a cab and were driven to the police station. The mob gathered and indulged in noisy demonstrations. The police cleared the streets and made many more arrests. The incident has caused a sensation throughout the city and dangerous developments are feared. A band of roughs yesterday in the neighborhood of Navors cafe, in the Rue Royale, attacked a young man who was engaged that they took it down and trampled it in the mud. They then made an attack on the cafe and completely wrecked the place. BOUTANGIST SCHEME. LONDON, July 13.—The adherents of Boulanger who came over from France to take part with their chief in the London celebration of the fall of the Bastille, for the most part, are of a peaceable and sensible disposition. The peaceful solutions of the problems which the French people have before them. They deride the speech of M. Brisson, in which he declares that the people of France often allow themselves to be misled by demagogues, instancing the fact that they once allowed the Republic to be destroyed and succumbed to the Empire, and in which he concluded that the majority should defend the liberties of Frenchmen by force of arms. Notwithstanding their disclaimer of warlike intentions, however, these Boulangerists do not pretend to deny that in the event of their success in the present election they propose to remove President Carnot from his position at the head of the French republic and that this will be done by the force of the bayonet if necessary, unless he yields to the expressed wishes of Boulanger and bows to the expressed will of the people. It can be very easily surmised that in view of these and similar expressions on the part of the Boulangerists and the equally determined tone of their enemies the outlook for October is ominous. Boulanger's assertion in his speech yesterday that his aim was to bring about the strengthening of the Republic is generally accepted as a ruse to divert the threatened alliance between the republicans and the supporters of the Emperor. It is understood that the Boulangerists must prove a death blow to the Boulangerist ambitions. BASTILLE CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE. PARIS, July 13.—The one hundred anniversary of the fall of the Bastille was celebrated by the public meetings and fetes in Paris and throughout the provinces yesterday. Transparencies bearing representations of General Boulanger were displayed in all the public squares. The League of Patriots and other Boulangerist resorts. These devices called forth a few hostings from passers-by, but, with the exception of the disorders in the Place de la Concorde, no serious disturbances occurred, the day passed off without disturbances of any kind. The fire-works at the fetes last evening were somewhat marred by rain, but the display in the Bois de Boulogne, the Bois de Vincennes, the Trocadero palace were a blaze of light. At midnight thousands of persons thronged the Bois de Boulogne and there was no sign of an abatement of the fun. WASHINGTON ON BOULANGER. LONDON, July 13.—M. Waddington, the French Ambassador here, gave a banquet last evening to prominent members of the French colony in appreciation of the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by delegates of the State. Moreover, in America there was no standing army and a coup d'etat was impossible. In a speech after the banquet he declared against Boulangerism. He asserted that the Boulangerist programme had no parallel in America, because in America the President was elected by the people, and not by universal suffrage, but by