OFFICIAL PAPER OF BARTON COUNTY.

VOLUME VI.

GREAT BEND, KANSAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 29, 1889.

By action of the Democratic County Central Committee, at a meeting held in Great Bend, August 17th, 1889, a democratic county convention is hereby called to meet at the court house in Great Bend, on Saturday, September 14th 1889, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the following county offices:

T. H. BUTLER, Chairman.
WILL E. STOKES, Secretary.

The Barton county jail is empty. But all her granaries are full, and new corn cribs are looming up on every quarter section.

The Reno county delinquent tax list only makes 45 1/2 columns in the Hutchinson weekly News. Say, Ralph, hadn't you better raise a bonus and pay your taxes?

RALPH EASLEY of the Hutchinson News calls Major Inman, of the Kansas City News, "A miserable, lying whelp." Now we may look for war between those two good republican brothers.

The Lyons Democrat says there is "trouble in de camp" of the republican party of that county, since the recent county convention. Like Barton, Rice county had too many republicans who wanted the nominations, but could not get them.

ELSEWHERE in this paper will be found Web Wilder's criticism of the late Kansas legislature. And now the republican bosses are trying to remove Wilder from his plain talks. It does seem a hard matter for open and honest men to stay in the g. o. p.

The Ellinwood Advocate has been enlarged to an eight column, folio paper. It continues to grow in all pleasing features, and the town is to be congratulated upon the present management of the publication. "That bad boy, Henry," is doing exceedingly well.

The public debt statement for August 1, 1888, under Cleveland, showed a decrease of $4,137,209; for August 1, 1889, under Harrison, it showed an increase of $1,317,312, and this with increasing revenues, both from internal taxes and customs. It is Corporal Tanner and General Harrison's way of mustering out the surplus.

The Kansas City Times has lost several subscribers here on account of its re-submission boom.—Tribune.

GRACIOUS alive! Can that be possible? What in the world does the Times mean by taking such chances and jeopardizing its subscription list in this city? The Times should be careful how it deals with the prohibition farce; for the fools are not all dead in this town, and that popular Kansas City paper may lose a few more of them.

THE backer and chief wire manipulator of Barton county republican politics, Andy Hoisington, came up from Kansas City last Saturday and was in close communion with G. Wash. Nimicks and Chap. the most of the night. The schemes and jobs that were then and there put up will make themselves known during the next two months. The old ring does not propose to die without a kick. It is stiff in the joints and somewhat bunged up, but it is in the fight.

Does it not look a little queer to see some of our wealthiest people, who could have easily put under way the establishing of a health resort at Great Bend a couple of years ago when the glowing mineral water was found just north of town, patronizing the establishment at Larned? The only reason that Great Bend has not taken advantage of her location and natural resources as a health resort is that the men who are able, and would in the long run receive the most benefits therefrom, have not had the enterprise to make a start. How long will this thing be kept up?

The last report of the State Board of Agricultural gives Kansas 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, and 1,600,000 bushels of oats.—Tribune.

SOMEBODY please hit the editor of the "religious journal" with a stuffed club. The report of the "State Board of Agriculture" never made any such a statement. Read acres for "bushels" and you will get the thing about right; then multiply the acres by thirty and you will have the number of bushels of wheat in Kansas.

A Wild Republican Nigger. "Were you (the whites) to leave the south land, in twenty years it would be one of the grandest sections of the globe. We would show you mossback crackers how to run a country. You would not see convicts half starved, depriving honest workmen of an honest living. It is only a matter of time when through this whole state, affairs will be changed, and I hope to your sorrow. You have predicted that at no very distant day we will have our race war, and we hope, as God intends, that we will be strong enough to whip you out of existence and hardly leave enough of you to tell the story. It is bound to come and just such cranks as the editors of some of our democratic journals are just the right set to hasten it. It is fate."

Thus writes the negro editor of a paper at Selma Alabama. It does not look as though the republican leaders of the south are doing much to put a stop to the race troubles, else they would cut off the wind of such incendiary fellows as the Selma editor.

The World's Exposition—1892. Various cities throughout the land are making efforts to secure the World's Fair in 1892. It will be to the interests of western people to have the fair held as near home as possible, and for one we would like to see Chicago secure the prize. It has all essentials of an eligible location—an abundance of fresh air and pure water—space for all exhibits—and unsurpassed facilities for transportation. Its refrigerator—Lake Michigan—renders the climate, in the summer season, more comfortable than that of any other available city. This immense lake also furnishes an inexhaustible supply of water far superior in quality to that of many other cities in the world. Its railroad facilities, would make the exposition accessible alike to exhibitors and visitors from every quarter of the globe. In this connection, the recent report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission shows that 30 per cent. of the railway mileage of the United States—exclusive of the eastern trunk lines beyond Pittsburg and Buffalo—directly enter Chicago. Chicago is our choice.

Girls, Look Here. What is the use of repining? Gather up your traps and other things and hit thee to that land where there is a great big long felt want. Mayor W. A. Wheelwright, of Tacoma, Washington Territory, has sent an appeal to Mayor Hart, of Boston, to send all the women of marriageable age to Washington Territory and Tacoma City who would like to enter into the bond of matrimony. There is a great scarcity of fairest and best of creation out there. Of course we don't expect Barton county girls to pull up and go to any other country. Our own young men are your best bet. But to the languishing beauties of the "effete east" (which means the land where the girls have big feet) here are opportunities which they should snap up.

Rich Indians. The Osage tribe of Indians is said to be the richest nation in the world—several times as rich as the rest of the American people. By the census of last year there are 1,501 of the Osages, including men, women and children. New they have in the United States treasury $7,758,694 of their own money, drawing 5 per cent. interest. But besides this they have 1,470,000 acres of land, equal to about 1,000 acres. This land is mostly fine and arable, and would sell for an average of $10 an acre or $10,000 for each individual's portion. This makes each individual's Osage Indian worth:

Cash in United States treasury.....$ 317
Value of 1,000 acres of land.....10,000
Wealth of each member of the tribe.....$15,171

This is the average wealth per capita, including children. They are under no necessity of working, and as a matter-of-fact are lazy, indolent and worthless. During the last thirty years the tribe has diminished from 6,720 (in 1858) to 1,501. Their wealth is a curse to them. They have not become civilized and their tribe is dying out.—Guthrie Capital.

"INDEED, you have one of the pleasantest towns I have seen in Kansas," was the remark of a gentleman whose business has all over the state. He further stated that "Great Bend has all the surroundings to make her a town of 15,000 inhabitants within the next ten years."

FROM NEIGHBORING TOWNS.

Hoisington Notes.

A new M. E. church is to be built in Eureka township.

J. C. Dickerson has started a billiard hall in the basement of the Stephens building.

Shortage of cars has caused considerable inconvenience to wheat buyers during the past week.

Nancy A. Wilson to-day brought us in a fine sample of apples grown on her farm seven miles south of town.

The immense crops are causing the merchants to stock up their various lines and it is with pleasure and confidence in a good fall trade that they do so.

A picnic was held at Dalzell's grove near Clafin on last Sunday. Quite a number from Hoisington and Great Bend were in attendance and report having enjoyed the trip and the entertainment. The Hoisington brass band was in attendance and furnished music.

$15000 has been pledged for the erection of the Christian work of worship besides considerable work, stone and the lot on which the building will be erected. This together with the $500 which will be received from the church extension fund will erect a commodious church building.

The butter and cheese factory meeting Wednesday afternoon was quite well attended and considerable enthusiasm manifested. At the close of the meeting $1,800 in stock was subscribed. The representatives of Davis & Rankin are now making a canvass of the territory contiguous to Hoisington securing stock subscriptions.

Pawnee Rock.

About 5000 bushels of wheat came into town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Joseph Hes of Snyder, Ford county, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. L. K. Benefield.

Mr. Joel Miller, of south side, brought us in some fine sweet potatoes on Monday. Four of them weighed over 5 pounds.

The last empty store room in Pawnee Rock was filled this week, and every house that is fit for occupancy has a family in it.

Benfield & Coleman thrashed 1,321 bushels of wheat in one days run last week, on the James McCafferty farm. It took 900 pounds of coal to make the run.

Wheat is turning out even better in this neighborhood than many thought it would. Most of the threshers say they have threshed none that went less than 20 bushels, and most of it runs 30 and 40 bushels to the acre.

J. R. Miller stands nearly a head taller this week than he did last, on account of a big, fat, chubby youngster that arrived at his home a few days ago; but you can see in his eye that he is just the least mite disappointed, as he thought the trap was set for a boy.

Ellinwood Items.

Seventy car loads of wheat were shipped from this place last week. How's this for Ellinwood.

Jno. Herter brought in some extra fine wheat to V. S. Musil this week, the wheat weighing 68 pounds to the bushel.

D. Turrer, of eastern Illinois, arrived with his family this week. Mr. Turrer is a wealthy grain buyer of his state, and he thinks of locating here.

Messrs C. Bock, H. L. Ives and C. Andreae were up to Heizer inspecting the butter and cheese factory which is being erected at that place by the same company which has had agents in this place.

We are indebted to our young friend Ezra Ives, for a branch of crab apples which was raised on his father's farm. There were seventeen apples on one small twig and are some of the nicest we have seen in Kansas.

Franco Kaiser and son, of Grafton, Wis., is in this city visiting old acquaintances and friends, and is also looking at the country in search of a location. Mr. Kaiser likes the country very much and we understand will settle here.

Bro. C. M. Sowell brought us a stock of corn which is fourteen feet in length. It was raised on his patch in the nursery west of town, and is a good sample of our bounteous corn crop this year. It is on exhibition at this office.

Messrs C. A. Voigt and F. E. Linke made this office a pleasant call Thursday. Mr. Linke has just arrived from Dresden, Germany, and thinks of locating in Kansas. He is quite wealthy and the people would be pleased to receive him here as a resident.

Correct You Are.

The newspaper man who wrote the following knew what he was talking about, and as it is general in its application we give it a place in our columns.

"The prosperity of a town is not gauged by the wealth of its inhabitants, but by the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a thousand dollars at his command and a love of his town in his heart, can do more for the building up and the improving of it than the millionaire who locks up his capital and snaps his fingers at home progress."—Sterling Champion.

Insurance Commission. Public documents, although very dry reading as a rule, are handy to have on hand for reference. We have not been fortunate enough to receive a copy of Hon. D. W. Wilder's, so we take it for granted that he is correctly quoted by our exchanges. Here is one extract:

"The good Insurance Companies came to the decision last summer I believe, to pay no attention to the legislation last winter. Sometimes they have committees, in this state and in other states, to watch legislation. Persons having large interests at stake often do so. If the responsible companies had bought a few members last winter unfriendly legislation would have been stopped. But these companies argued, I suppose, that if you buy three men in '89 you didn't buy a half dozen in '91. They didn't buy anybody. Members who came here to be revised had to seek consolation in some other direction—from disreputable companies, and they did."

This goes to show that the Commissioner of Insurance placed a low estimate on the integrity of the legislature and reminds us of a statement made to us, by a well-known Kansan. He said:

"Mr. —, superintendent of the Pullman Car Company, sent me to Topeka to look after a bill that had been introduced by a western member to regulate the company's rates. I went up, looked over the ground, found we had no friends, but soon found money would accomplish a defeat of the bill. I so reported; $40,000 was sent to George R. Peck for distribution and the bill was never heard of after that time."

Take Wilder's report and this gentleman's statement and the conclusion is that the late legislature was a venal one.—Wyandott Herald.

Pinkerton's Activities. The employment, by rich corporations, of armed men under direction of a secret agency is an outrage upon the common right of the people which cannot be excused or tolerated long. There is nothing American about it, and if it is not soon stopped, citizens will take charge of it.

The latest thing of the kind was the unloading of some three car loads of Pinkerton men in uniform with Winchester rifles and revolvers at the Homestead Steel works of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., near Pittsburg, Pa. The workmen were on a strike because of a dispute about wages. The company sent out advertisements for new men and brought the Pinkerton police to protect them. The iron workers at other places in and about Pittsburg held a meeting and resolved that if the Homestead troubles were not settled satisfactorily, and if it was attempted to put the new men at work under the guard of the Pinkerton men, they (the iron workers) would go out in a body and dispose of the Pinkertons. This did the work without the shedding of a drop of blood. As soon as the news reached Homestead, concessions were made and the striker's demands were granted. Mr. Carnegie is in Europe. He doubtless will see the propriety of his associates' change of front.

The law is made for protection. Every political division and subdivision of territory has its peace officers who are ready and equipped to protect citizens in all lawful pursuits. These Pinkerton men are hired murderers—nothing short of that—armed and uniformed, ready to shoot to death any citizen whom they are commanded by their superior to shoot. Their shooting and killing men is murder; they came to do that thing if directed to do it, hence we call them murderers. Some day the slaughter of a hundred or so of them will put an end to the cowardly business.—Kansas Farmer.

New Walks Needed. There are two or three places on our principal streets where the sidewalk is simply horrible. For instance, on the south side of Forest avenue from Main street to the alley, and on Main between Broadway and Forest. At both of these places there should be substantial stone pavements in place of the old, worn out wooden affairs. Other places in the city are in bad shape, and we do not believe the public would think it extravagant of the council to have such places put in better shape.

BARTON county is now the garden spot of Kansas for a certainty. No man can travel over her productive fields and dare to say otherwise.

The Association is now so widely and favorably known that lengthy comment is unnecessary and exhibitors from home and abroad and those who come to see know quite well what to expect. We have just received their 100-page premium list which offers a list of premiums almost double that offered in former years. The speed program shows quite a line of races which will afford abundant amusement for lovers of good racing. The race course is spoken of by horsemen as one of the finest half-mile tracks in the state. Their meeting of last fall was most successful and will be excelled only by that of 1889. Excursion rates during the fair week on all roads to Hutchinson.

Hutchinson Coursing. We are in receipt of circulars announcing the meeting of the National Coursing Association at Hutchinson on the 8th to 12th of October.
