The Kansas Magazine.

The Thanksgiving number of the Kansas Magazine contains the most interesting table of contents ever yet published by that enterprising publication. The following are a few of the leading articles:

"Gratitude," a poem by Henry Van Dyke.

"Kansas Democracy," by Hon. George H. Hodges.

"The Valley of Vision," an excellent short story by Myra Williams Jarrell.

"Cement, Its History," by V. O. Foulke.

"Camping With the Citizen Soldier," a very interesting illustrated sketch describing the annual encampment at Fort Riley, by Z. G. Hopkins.

"Dr. S. J. Crumrine and His Work," a mighty valuable article by Wm. R. Kercher.

"The Homesteader," one of the best western stories ever published, by Devere Helvern.

The cover design is a very artistic Thanksgiving sketch by E. L. Davison, the talented artist, whose work adorns the cover pages of the Goldsmith-Woolard publications.

John Thule and Sigel Boek, of Ellinwood, were here on business Wednesday of this week.

Nic Lichter was here from up near Olmitz Tuesday looking after business matters and visiting with his many friends.

Ed Jordan, a Missouri Pacific special detective, was here Saturday and secured a warrant for the arrest of John Cochran and C. D. Walker, both brakemen with the Pacific, charging them with appropriating to their own use certain articles not belonging to them which they took from a car in transit. Cochran was arrested and brought over here on Monday and his trial held that afternoon. He plead guilty, and was fined $25 and the costs in the case, and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The other man, Walker, has not yet been caught. Among the articles taken were the quarts of whiskey, a pair of pants and several pair of gloves. The booze was probably what they were after, and the other articles taken were merely incidental.

Scott's Emulsion

is a wonderful food-medicine for all ages of mankind. It will make the delicate, sickly baby strong and well—will give the pale, anemic girl rosy cheeks and rich, red blood. It will put flesh on the bones of the tired, overworked, thin man, and will keep the aged man or woman in condition to resist colds or pneumonia in the winter.
