Meat..... 300 lbs.
Milk..... 240 qts.
Butter..... 100 lbs.
Eggs..... 27 doz.
Vegetables..... 500 lbs.

This represents a fair ration for a man for a year.

But some people eat and eat and grow thinner. This means a defective digestion and unsuitable food. A large size bottle of

The Eleventh Volume, Historical Collections.

The eleventh volume of the Kansas Historical Collection reaches a high-water mark in historical publication, for it is the best volume yet published by the Kansas State Historical Society, as well as one of the best state publications ever issued from whatsoever source.

The editorial work has been done with painstaking care, and the footnotes proving or disproving historical statements are in themselves of inestimable value, many coming from original sources drawn from the manuscript and archives collections of the library of the Historical Society.

Every person desiring the book must pay postage or express, the postage being 25 cents. All interested in the book should have a membership in the Society, either active, $1 per year, or a life membership at $10.

The articles are all worthy of special mention, but perhaps the one which will be read with surprise as well as interest is the "History of Manufactures in the Kansas District," by Mr. R. L. Douglas. Few Kansans realize the increasing magnitude of our manufacturing interests, and in this careful compilation will be found a valuable contribution to the history of the state.

"Swedish Settlements in Kansas," by Doctor Bergin, marks an epoch in the life of the state, as also "German-Russian Settlements in Ellis County," written by Rev. Francis S. Laing. Preserving this valuable data before the first generation has entirely passed away is a labor of love and of patriotism, and in the years to come the descendants of these hardy colonists will be grateful to the wisdom that recorded the history of the migrations of their people.

"The Boundary Lines of Kansas" is especially opportune at this time, when Kansas is celebrating her half-century anniversary of statehood, the paper being a historical epitome of the physical making of the state. Much of this history is new to the reader, being from original sources, and in it George W. Martin shows in an inimitable manner the political methods of that day. Considering our boundary line at this late time, we may well rise up and call the Wyandotte Constitution fathers blessed.

The article by Capt. J. G. Waters, "Fifty Years of the Wyandotte Constitution," is of interest, giving the personnel of the convention and the outcome of its deliberations, and while he marks it as a "commonplace document," he shows that it has worn well.

"The First Appearance of Kansas at a National Convention," by A. G. Procter, is a unique bit of history delightfully told. There are still those who do not realize that Kansas, in 1860, was the throbbing heart of the Nation and who will read the story of her sitting as an honored guest in the deliberations of that body with surprise.

Contributions to the military history of the state, prefaced by a patriotic poem by B. B. Smyth, are found in the admirable articles under "Soldiers of Kansas." The military biography of Col. Lewis R. Jewell preserves for all time the gallant deeds of that little know but heroic Kansan. Added luster is reflected upon the glory of the Seventh Kansas in the article by General Fox, and "Memorial Monuments and Tablets" shows the gratitude of a people to their soldiers and heroes.

Daniel Geary's letter, giving "War Incidents at Kansas City," and the "Life of Capt. Marcus D. Tenney" relate something new historically. Judge Stillwell's "Personal Recollections of the Battle of Shiloh" shows us that while "war is hell," yet there is still time in the life of a soldier to note the "Johnny-jump-ups," to hear the whistle of the redbird, and feel the soft spring air.

The Indians receive valuable notice, especially in a most interesting account of "The Sauks and Foxes in Franklin and Osage Counties," by Mrs. Ida M. Ferris. The paper by Rev. John Dunbar is likewise valuable, and the Historical Society is fortunate in being permitted to publish it. It was written when this part of the world was young, and the Indians were not those of today. Papers by Rev. Joseph Romig and Henry C. Heeling are also of much interest.

Probably one of the most readable and detailed accounts of the Villazur expedition of 1720 ever published is in this eleventh volume in a paper by Prof. J. B. Dunbar. Much time and research has been spent upon the subject by the author, and the binding together of the innumerable fragments into a well-told story of this historic expedition was a great labor and one of increasing historical value. Professor Dunbar had much of the detail from the Pawnee Indians themselves, which adds to the life and interest of the narrative.

"The Kansas School System," by Clyde L. King, will be found of value in reference work, beginning with the first efforts of the state toward education and coming down to present day methods.

A paper of exceeding interest is found in J. D. Cruise's "Early Dry on the Union Pacific." Well qualified to write of that first railroad history by reason of his connection with it, the reader is given the benefit of his know-

NOW, OATS DAY.

On January 14, 1911, the Kansas Institute Will Discuss the Oats Question.

Last year Kansas had the best oat crop in many years. Was it an accident or was it due somewhat to better methods or was it due entirely to favorable methods? At any rate, all the members of Farmers' Institutes in Kansas are invited by the Kansas State Agricultural College to meet in their respective places of meeting and discuss the problem of "More Bushels and Better Quality" with the following suggested topics:

- Methods of Preparing the Ground.
- What Crops Should Oats Follow?
- Is It Well to Apply Mature to the Ground in January?
- Experiences with Seeding after One, Two or More Diskings.
- Experiences with Seeding after Early Plowing.
- Experiences with Early Disking and then Plowing, Followed by Proper Working.
- Experiences on Fall Plowed Ground.
- Reports on Varieties.
- Does It Pay to Use the Fanning Mill for Seed?
- Time between First Spring Working and Seeding.
- Reports on Methods of Seeding.
- Reports on Rate of Seeding.
- Reports on Time of Seeding.
- Cutting for Hay.
- Importance of Threshing Soon after Cutting.
- Experience with Sowing Oats and Canada Peas, or, (in West), Colorado Peas for Hay Crop.

Farmers are also requested to send in to the Extension Department of the Kansas State Agricultural College their experiences on any of the above points.

Her Forbidden Marriage.

Alice—Oh, I've made up my mind I shall never marry.

Jane—Indeed, what made you come to that decision?

Alice—Well, I went to the gypsies at Blackpool and one of them told me I should, if ever I married, have ten children.

Jane—And I suppose the prospect of such a family frightened you?

Alice—Oh, no; but if there were ten children, my husband and myself, I should never be able to invite my mother to stay with us, as I could not live with her in the house.

Do It Now.

Do you want a first class daily newspaper for the coming year, and at an exceedingly low rate?

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity? Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that its power dare say to the sick, "It is absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 20 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not do the stomach, or stimulate the brain or kidneys—that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to the source of these ailments—the falling, faltering, unstable or controlling nerves. And this is the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the end of all such sickness.

Some it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Bismuth Remedy—and this remedy is covered by the same identical "No help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are like a gambler, just as you would your home purchase. My advice and the book to buy are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best offer is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Take the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have a honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the 30 day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So write me now and save all delays. Remember, tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Kansas, U.S.A.
