MARKET REPORT.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Feb. 8.—Cattle trade showed some improvement late last week, except on stockers and feeders, which suffered severely from the Kansas sanitary situation. The fact that the Kansas cases of foot and mouth disease seem to be safely confined within the quarantined district, and that only one new case has come to the surface since the original outbreak, is tending to spread confidence. Shipments of stocker and feeder cattle are now permitted to Kansas in cases where the cattle can be traced as originating in clean territory. Otherwise, the quarantine is strict. Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska receive stockers and feeders from here without restriction. The supply today is 8,000 cattle, market steady to 15 higher, than last week. Sales under $7.50 including butcher grades, got the advance, buyers moving slowly when asking price was above $7.50. Some butcher heifers sold at $7.05 and $7.25 that were like heifers last week at $7 or less. Light weight short fed steers at $7 to $7.50 brought a little more than last week's values. While the market was some improvement over last week, it was still a disappointment to most sellers. Runs were moderate at all points, but were composed largely of killing grades, both here and at Chicago. The market situation changes so often, and is subject to so many active influences that commission men hesitate to give advice to shippers, although, their suggestions at the close of last week favored staying off the market with cattle for the present, unless there were urgent reasons for selling.

Hogs sold five to ten higher on the early market, to shippers, top $6.90. Packers bids were steady, and bulk of sales ranged from $6.70 to $6.85. Cheap hogs are blamed for a portion of the depression in cattle prices, but on the other hand, the good demand for pork, resulting from its cheapness makes outlet for more hogs at prevailing prices. Cold weather makes it possible for much hog killing to be done at home, but that works in two ways, cutting down both the supply and demand. Sheep and lambs are weak to 10 lower today, receipts 14,000 head. The market opened slow, with bids sharply lower, but actual sales show only the decline indicated, half a dozen lots of Southern Colorado lambs selling at $8.75, the top. Northern Colorado ewes brought $6.20, weighing 114 and 116 pounds, and some 89 lb. Northern Colorado lambs brought $8.45, good to choice yearlings $7.55, weathers $6.75. In spite of storms, the Northern Roads delivered their stock early today.

WANT PUBLIC BUILDING.

At a mass meeting held at the city hall last night a goodly representation of our citizens were present to discuss the erection of a public building of some sort that would be large enough to hold all public meetings in. N. P. Smith was elected chairman and A. S. Gross, Secretary. The erection of a city hall was discussed. Moved by Dr. Lawrence and seconded that chairman appoint a committee of five to make an investigation of surrounding cities as to method of procedure for procuring city hall and location. Motion carried and chairman appointed committee as follows: O. M. Williamson, A. Dring, John Menzie, Paul Gilbert and Dr. Muir.—Pawnee Rock Herald.

PEANUTS AND PORK

"Please give comparative statement of amount of corn, peanuts and potatoes necessary to produce a pound of pork."—C. R. Valiona, Oklahoma.

The exact amounts of the various foods mentioned that are required to make a pound of pork cannot be stated definitely. Amounts required will vary with the condition. Ordinarily it requires from five to six pounds of corn alone to produce one pound of gain on a shoat weighing about one hundred pounds.

Bulletin No. 143 from the Alabama station, Auburn, states that one acre of good peanuts are equal in feeding value to 3,200 pounds of corn. The pigs used in this experiment were young.

Bulletin No. 54 from the Arkansas Experiment station reports that one acre of peanuts gave 1,252 pounds of gain on pigs, which one acre of corn gave 436 pounds.

The 1890 report from the Copenhagen station states that 4.5 bushels of potatoes are about equal in feeding value to one bushel of corn to growing pigs where the potatoes are cooked.

Where peanuts can be grown to advantage it is the cheapest feed for pork production. Potatoes are too high in price, as a rule to feed to hogs.—W. L. Fowler, Department of Animal Husbandry, Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater.

CATTLE DISEASE WORSE

Authorities Would Postpone Public Sales.

As the result of bringing into Kansas two herds of Wisconsin cows affected with the hoof and mouth disease, a third herd of cattle near Mulvane has become infected. State and federal inspectors say that a part of a herd of 86 cattle belonging to Louis White a farmer about three miles south of Mulvane, are infected. Mr. White discovered that one of his animals was sick, notified Taylor Riddle, state live stock sanitary commissioner at Mulvane. Mr. Riddle sent Dr. Van Vorhees of the state's veterinary staff who made an examination and reported that the case was suspicious. Dr. Marion Imes, federal veterinarian stationed at Wichita, was notified and he sent Dr. Daniel Devine, of the federal staff who confirmed the diagnosis, pronouncing the animal as being afflicted with hoof and mouth disease. The entire herd was at once quarantined. A special quarantine district two and one-half miles square was established around Mr. White's farm. The herd will be appraised and as soon as the regular trenches can be excavated the herd will be shot and buried in quick lime.

Mr. White purchased a load of cattle at the Wichita Union Stock Yards January 21, and shipped them to Mulvane where they were unloaded and placed in the Santa Fe yards. This was several days after N. W. Wheeler shipped his Holstein stock from Wisconsin. These cattle were also placed in the Santa Fe yards. The authorities think that White's cattle were either infected from the Santa Fe yards or perhaps persons who visited the farm of N. W. Wheeler, about six miles from the White farm, carried the infection in their clothing.

Taylor Riddle yesterday appointed Geo. T. Donaldson, of Greensburg, as a deputy state inspector and sent him to Belvidere to inspect three car loads of cattle belonging to Lyon & Steele. These cattle passed through the Mulvane stock yards and are now being held by the sheriff of Kiowa county.

Inspectors have quarantined 100 head of cattle belonging to Osborn & Rawlings, near Valley Center; 129 head of cattle belonging to Ben Tjaden, in Kechi township; 200 head of cattle belonging to William Hooper and J. Argenbright, two miles east of the Wichita Union Stock Yards, and several cattle near the stock yards and belonging to Page House. All these cattle were in the stock yards recently, when Taylor Riddle decided not to allow any more cattle to move out of the yards. The cattle are being isolated in order that their identity may not be lost.

Dr. Hobbs, assistant state veterinarian from Manhattan, was added to the state's staff and was sent to Winfield to relieve Dr. Schoenleber, state veterinarian, who comes to Wichita to assist Taylor Riddle.

H. L. McDonald, a federal expert on disinfecting, has arrived from Ohio to assist Dr. Marion Imes.

Dr. Imes expects other federal inspectors to arrive from the east today, and as soon as they all get here he will organize his field forces and proceed to disinfect the farms of N. W. Wheeler, J. C. Dulaney and Louis White.

Taylor Riddle announced that the quarantine on poultry shipments excepting the vicinity of the quarantined farms had been raised.

A proclamation was issued from the office of Taylor Riddle in Topeka asking that all public sales in the state be discontinued until after the hoof and mouth disease has been stamped out.

Four hogs and a herd of 18 cattle infected with the foot and mouth disease were slaughtered late yesterday on the farm of J. C. Dulaney, near Winfield. This stock was appraised at about $3,600. N. W. Wheeler's herd, near Mulvane, which was shot and buried, was appraised at about $2,500, making a total value of about $6,100.

TIME TO BUY AUTO SUPPLIES.

Now is the time to buy auto supplies. The war has had a different effect on this class of merchandise than on many others. It is held as contraband and the rubber producing countries have been hit pretty hard so far as a market place for their wares are concerned. The result has been that they have had to throw the available supply on the markets and this has knocked the prices, much to the benefit of the automobile owner.

The prices on auto supplies are cut practically in two. The tire that a short time ago cost $29 can now be purchased for $18. Other rubber supplies have dropped in a corresponding measure. Not only have the new supply prices dropped, but the local dealers have received notice that the companies will give them credit for the difference in the present and former prices on all supplies now on hand. While the dealer will get a much lower price for his supplies the change will give an impetus to the automobile business, for the heavy expense of upkeep has made many a man hesitate about owning a machine.

The chances are that this low price is only temporary. When the markets of the world are again open to the rubber producer the prices will probably soar again. In the meantime, however, the automobile owner will probably make hay while the sun shines and lay in a supply.

ANTI-DOPE DRUG BILL.

Topeka, Feb. 6.—A bill to prohibit the sale of habit forming drugs and providing for sending habitual drug users to state institutions for treatment was introduced in the house today by Representative Smith of Seward county. The bill prescribes penalty of $1,000 and one year in jail to any druggist who sells cocaine, morphine, opium, heroin, codeine, or any of the salts or derivatives of them except under strict regulations. Medicines containing not more than two grains of opium, a quarter of a grain of morphine, one-eighth of a grain of heroin or one grain of codeine may be sold.

A physician who gives a prescription for the habit forming drugs and for specific treatments may be punished the same as the druggist who sells, and in addition the license to practice as a physician or as a pharmacist may be revoked. Drug habits are to be taken before the probate court and a jury of physicians examine them. If found to be drug users the patients may be sent to any state or county hospital for treatment.

GOT WHISKY WITH BOGUS COINS.

Dodge City, Kas., Feb. 6.—The government today stopped a trick which some of the young men have been playing on Dodge City bootleggers. The fellows would slip the violator of the Prohibitory law a bogus dollar in a dark alley and get away with a pint of whisky before the bootleggers discovered the deception. Today Frederick M. Tate, head of the Kansas City branch of the United States Secret Service, arrested Calie Hayes, Clarence Baker and Thomas Boyd and charged them with passing counterfeit of government coins. They were taken to Garden City and will be arraigned before Commissioner B. F. Stocks.

They say the coins were found by Hayes along the railroad track and that he gave them to the others. They all deny being implicated in their manufacture. The coins have been in circulation in Dodge City for several weeks, and the officers here first found them in the pockets of suspected bootleggers whom they arrested.

WE HAVE THOSE LIGHTS.

The lights were turned on for trial Friday afternoon and burned the rest of the day save for several short stops. The current was steady as could be desired, the engines working as smoothly as clocks. Mr. Stinson has made a heavy expenditure and is deserving of a liberal patronage. We have heard a number express themselves as to their intention of having the lights installed in their homes, who had not previously used them. These are the indications that point to a bright future for the light plant and its genial proprietor.—Pawnee Rock Herald.
