West of the River.

MARCH 22, 1880.

We do not propose to re-plant our potatoes. Plant them right in the first place and there is no need of re-planting.

Mr. B. F. Campbell is back again to work on the brick yard.

Mrs. Amanda Martin has gone back to Indiana. She was highly pleased with Kansas and has an idea of making this her future home.

Another invoice of Marylanders from Carroll county will start on the 23d for Iola, Kansas, and will likely be here before this is in print.

W. G. Hillbrant, who went on a hunt with D. R. Scott, G. W. Lawyer and E. N. Thomas last fall down to Arkansas, fell in love with one of the fair daughters of Pocahontas, Ark., by the name of Lucy Whittaker and took her unto himself for a wife and went to Bolivar, Mo., and settled down in life. The other three men mentioned hired out to help take a raft of walnut timber to New Orleans. They started on Black River and had 467 logs. The raft was owned by S. M. Markle, of St. Joe, Mo. When they struck the Mississippi River the water being very high the raft was caught in a whirlpool near Bernard's Landing, Ark., on the evening of March 10th and was completely torn to pieces; the logs being severed from each other and was a complete loss. There were fourteen men on the raft at the time it was wrecked and all of them narrowly escaped drowning. A noble steamer, which was passing down the river at the time, sent out her yaws and lifeboats to the rescue and saved them from their perilous position and took them down to Vicksburg free of charge and furnished them clothing and such things that they needed. The loss to the owner of the raft was about fifteen thousand dollars. The above was gleaned from a private letter written by G. W. Lawyer, who says he hopes he may never experience such an adventure again.

One day last week one of Mr. Allenbaugh's little boys thought he would have a little fun, took a match and set the grass on fire near the stable and burned up some hay stacks and fencing.

Rev. Mr. Bartlett preaches at Union school house every third Sunday in each month.

We are informed that the school at Union (Dist. 9) is progressing finely under the supervision of Prof. Morris.

Messrs. Boggs & Jones intend commencing to mould brick next Monday. Several families by the name of Nye of Mo., are tending the J. R. Young farm this season.

Osage Notes.

Osage is still booming. The expansion of civilization is equalled only by the contraction of mild prairie.

D. W. Young was kicked by a horse recently and seriously hurt, but is slowly recovering.

Nilwood school waned and died one month short of the intended term.

Chas. Osborn has rented his farm to Albert Gillespie and will engage in the patent churn enterprise.

Bert O'Neal, Robert Archer, and Mr. Lacy of Montevale, are the parties who smile most pleasantly in this section. Bert's is a boy, also Mr. Archer's, while Mr. Lacy's are too—two.

Leurence school closed last Saturday. Spring Valley one week since and Osage has been closed some weeks.

Some of our Grangers had a kind of farewell supper at the Presbyterian church the 13th.

Beatty brothers are buying young cattle. Calves and yearlings a specialty.

Kit. Bray left this section for Colorado recently.

Fred. Charlett will occupy Mrs. Grey's farm the coming summer.

Ozark mail failed to make its appearance Saturday. Also the eastern division of the Iola and Ft. Scott route.

The eastern section of our township is somewhat worked up over a horse thief case which runs something as follows: Some time during last summer Mr. Stutler had a horse taken, which was lariat on the prairie. Suspicion rested against a person by the name of Coupel who was missing at the time, but who afterward returned and since removed to Missouri.

Recently the stolen property returned, bringing with her two horses belonging to Coupel. Coupel immediately appeared, claimed his horses, but seemed blissfully ignorant of any thing connected with the other. Legal steps were taken for his arrest, but a sharp chase proved him a little too fleet.

Mrs. McGuire has purchased 40 acres of the school section near this place. That section is now all occupied.

Miss Loda Strong closed her school here with an exhibition which as a big thing was a success. Although the weather was very inclement there was a fair crowd in attendance. Miss Strong will teach the summer term.

We spoke some time ago of a subscription being taken to raise money to build a parsonage. The money was raised and the parsonage is now in progress of erection on Mr. Armstrong's farm. Several Iolians donated liberally to the cause, for which they have the heart-felt thanks of the community.

A protracted meeting is in progress at Olive Branch.

S. J. Wise has rented a farm on the Osage where he will remove soon.

Rev. Johnson and family have moved to this place from Salem township.

J. D. Moore has gone to Missouri to buy horses for Wing and Ireland of Iola.

Ora Johnson fell, striking her hand upon the sharp edge of a drawing-knife and inflicting a horrible gash.

Through the carelessness of a young man Dr. Strong lost about ten tons of hay by fire this week.

John Meel is preparing to build a house.

TRAMP.

Scattering Items—Marmaton tp.

MARCH 19, 1880.

Some sickness in this vicinity.

Sunday School was organized last Sunday at Maple Grove. Mr. Garber, Sr., was elected Superintendent; Mr. W. Martin, Assistant Superintendent; Mr. Ferris, Secretary; Miss Lizzie Daughters, Librarian. Sunday School every Sunday at three o'clock. All interested are respectfully invited to come and make our Sunday School as good as possible.

Protracted meeting at Limestone was held this week by the Methodists.

Mr. Hall has arrived from Jackson county, Mo., and has purchased Mr. Norman's place. The latter gentleman is talking of leaving soon.

Prayer meetings have been resumed at Maple Grove, beginning on the evening of March 20.

The Colorado fever prevails to some extent in this vicinity. Several young gentlemen are badly afflicted with it.

Sunday School at Limestone is prospering well under their excellent Superintendent, Mr. Anderson, Sr. It is better now than it has been for some time past.

Maple Grove school will close next week.

We should be pleased to hear of one of some of those Osage correspondents than we do.

Special Correspondence.

FAIR LAWN, March 24, 1880.

James Mead talks of removing to Ft. Scott.

Mr. Billington, of Crawford county, was up here last week. He said that the late snow was one foot deep on the level down there.

In comparing our work of this year with that of last we find that we are as early as we were last year.

Our correspondent to the Independent keeps talking through that organ to the folks of Fair Lawn when he knows that not a person besides himself takes it in Fair Lawn.

Fair Lawn shows no signs of a famine this year, judging from the increase of mouths to feed. John Collett and son have raised 14 lambs from 7 ewes; Nortons have raised 23 lambs from 13 ewes. Other stock are in the same ratio.

A small fire last Monday burned 3 tons of hay for Mr. Norton, and Mr. Thompson, while endeavoring to put it out, breathed in so much flame that we are seriously concerned for him.

Innumerable snakes have arrived and March flowers are in full bloom.

We notice that some of our "prolific" items of Jan. 1st have been copied in Camp's Emigrant Guide in order to puff Allen county. We feel flattered, as we were the only ones in this county copied from.

A large increase of breaking, fencing and the damming up of creeks this year.

Jake Adams is building him a "scotter" cabin two miles from our post office.

Preaching here next Sunday by the M. E. pastor at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Whitfield gave us a lecture on the temperance question to a crowded house last night.

Mrs. Norton has been spending a week with her daughters in Iola.

Charlie Cole planted his castor beans in the first week of February.

Stewart & Rowe want to buy shelled corn.

Mrs. A. E. Fehleisen's brother, who is a grocery man in Cincinnati, sent her some samples of splendid yeast to be distributed among the people of Fairlawn.

I. X. L.

Gen. Hartshorne, of Chanute, was in attendance at District Court this week.

Rose Hill Items.

Weather pleasant and health good.

W. A. Cummings is teaching the spring term of school at Allen Center.

Charles Ohlstedt now has the finest barn in this section of the country.

Frank Travis is afflicted with some half dozen boils on the back of his neck.

That exhibition promises to be a grand success. Thursday evening, April the 22d, is the time. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Rev. D. T. Summerville preached an able sermon last Sunday, to the largest congregation that has adorned the school house for some time.

Emmett Murphy is visiting Mr. Willett's folks.

Flowing again in full blast.

A. E. Wright and T. T. Anderson, accompanied by their families, gave our Sabbath School a pleasant visit last Sunday. Come again.

Mr. Armstrong will cultivate the Watson farm.

J. D. Carter has built a new front yard fence.

Rev. Whitfield delivered a temperance lecture and organized a prohibition club at the school house last Monday, and if the voters of Elm township are generally as strongly in favor of the amendment as those who were present, the temperance people can carry the township by a rousing majority.

ROSALIE.

Savonburg Chips.

MARCH 20, 1880.

Wm. Cross arrived from Stark county Ills. last Tuesday. He lost one of his best horses while on the cars.

Mrs. Sanders, a sister to John Keen, arrived yesterday from Kempton, Indiana. She will occupy Mr. Chandler's house this summer.

We would like to see warm weather soon. Feed for stock is getting scarce.

Milch cows are now in good demand, bringing $25.00 to $30.00.

C. B. Welch has returned from Bunker Hill, Crawford county, where he has been working in the coal business for some time.

Joseph Huff lost his only child last Monday night. It was well as common when retiring at night, and in the morning they found it dead. It was buried at the cemetery at this place last Wednesday.

Rev. J. W. Walker of the Methodist church, who has been laboring with us for the last two years, has been sent on the work for the ensuing year.

A. Linville is now hanging between two opinions as to whether to vote the Democratic or the Greenback ticket.

We think he ought to support Blaine for President.

Daniel Light has an increase in his family. We will venture to say that it is a Republican as its father is one.

Mrs. Kate Huff now resides at Iola. W. E. Osborn was visiting relatives at Uniontown last week.

We would be glad to see our road overseers out fixing some of them mud holes, as there are some almost impassable.

RUNABOUT.

Programme.

The following is the programme for the Literary Union for Friday evening, March 26, 1880:

Music—A. C. Scott, Musical Director.

Original Poem—W. G. McDonald.

Music.

Speech—P. H. Harris.

Music.

Select Reading—W. G. Allison.

Debate, Resolved, That the Bar affords a better opportunity for eloquence than the pulpit. Aff., E. D. Brown, Neg., J. W. Scott.

City election one week from next Monday.

New houses are looming up in all directions.

Mr. Jas. Kilby has erected a new house on Onion Creek.

Miss Lena Allen, of Emporia, is visiting Mrs. C. M. Simpson.

Mr. Perry Stotler has purchased the Bartels' farm across the river.

Mr. Templin has moved to his residence on South Madison avenue.

Chas. DuBois is smiling over the arrival of a boy at his house last Monday.

The meetings at the Presbyterian church this week have been well attended.

The children's mission band meets at the Presbyterian church to-morrow afternoon.

On account of the criminal cases the March term of the District court is an unusually long one.

Mr. Kapp has moved into the second story of the building formerly occupied as the Central House.

Tom Sherman, of the Humboldt Union, sends greeting to his friends this week. He says it is a girl.

G. W. Apple and Charley Steele have put up an attractive sign, embellished with clock, picture frames, etc.

Just remember that this office can't be beat for hand bills and illustrated horse bills. If you have fine stock give us a call.

Last Friday evening the second competitive entertainment of the Iola Literary Union, under a programme arranged by Prof. Harris, was given at the Presbyterian church. The house was densely crowded, every place where a person could stand being occupied.

The entertainment was a good one, creditable alike to the Society and those taking part. The only criticism we would offer is that the exercises were too long, and lacking in variety as compared with the first entertainment.

Various opinions are expressed as to which of the two entertainments was the best, but as they were both good our people generally think the honors should be divided between them.

If any one performance of the two evenings stands out prominent above all the others, it was the oration by A. C. Scott. The music on this as on the first evening shows that the singers of Iola are equal to any occasion.

In mentioning the names of the attorneys in attendance at the present session of the District Court, by a mistake of the printer, quite a number of their names were omitted. The attorneys of the Allen county bar have all been in attendance, and are as follows:

Amos, Bell, Barber Brown, Boyd, Coffin, Fife, Goodin, Keplinger, Murray, McDonald, Richards, Ransom, Slavens, Smith G. P., Smith H. D., Simpson, Thurston. Those in attendance from other counties were Hutchings of Osage Mission, Johnson of Garnett, Kelso of Parsons, and Dickson of Neosho Falls.

The trial of Henry Ames charged with assault with intent to kill was commenced last Wednesday and lasted till late Saturday afternoon when it was submitted to the jury. Sunday morning between three and four o'clock the jury returned a verdict of guilty, but recommended the defendant to the mercy of the court. Murray and Richards conducted the defense and Judge Goodin assisted County Attorney Slavens in the prosecution.

We notice among the items of State news going the rounds of the press an account of a man in Greenwood county killing a hog that weighed when dressed 497 pounds. State items must be getting scarce, for we have in Allen county, Messrs. Monfort, Cook, Dunlap, Boyd, and other breeders of Poland-China hogs who can furnish hogs by the car load as large as the one referred to above.

Mr. M. I. Shockey has purchased Mr. Hall's interest in the store at Ozark and the firm will hereafter be Shockey & Shockey. They expect to keep a full line of goods suitable for a first-class country store, and invite patronage from the surrounding county.

Persons from Osage township, who only come to town once in three or four weeks, say there are so many new farms fenced in and new houses erected during the time intervening their trips that it is difficult for them to find their way.

We have facilities for doing any ordinary kind of job work and would ask a fair trial. Pamphlets, briefs, price lists, hand bills, horse bills, cards, and all kinds of commercial printing neatly, quickly and cheaply done.

If parents do not care enough about the morals of their boys to keep them away from such trials as the one before Justice McDonald last Tuesday evening, our Justice should have the constable put them out of the room.

The State of Kansas vs. Reese Cravens was the title of the case tried before Squire McDonald last Tuesday evening. Reese was indicted for assaulting Wash. Ross. The trial resulted in his acquittal.

Those who attended the Literary entertainment at the Presbyterian church last Friday evening were impressed with the fact that Iola needs a large hall.

New Queensware at Cowan's cheaper than ever. W G 7 inch plates, 45 cts.; W G Teas, 45 cts; plated tea spoons, 30 cts; plated table spoons, 50 cts. Call and see.

Thanks are due our marshal and assistant for the good order preserved at the Literary last Friday evening even among those who were unable
