If some of these cool days had only postponed their engagement until next July or August, they would have been received with considerably more applause.
The Select Knights and the A. O. U. W. have moved their properties into the new hall, and the regular meetings of both orders will hereafter be held there.
Cards were out for an informal hop to be given at the A. O. U. W. Hall last night. The large, well ventilated room certainly furnishes an excellent place for such diversion.
When you get spectacles it is of the highest importance that you get exactly the right ones. Frank Leffler will test your eyes and fit you exactly without extra charge.
The entertainment given by the Mission Band at the Baptist church last Sunday night was of a very pleasing nature and attracted an audience that crowded the church to the doors.
Beautiful ruchings at Rodman's.
Home grown strawberries made their first appearance in our market on Monday. At 20 cents a box they taste so strongly of silver to be acceptable to the palate of the average citizen.
If the National democracy endorse the President's free trade message as unqualifiedly and unequivocally as did the Allen county cohort, the republican party should appoint a day of thanksgiving.
Mr. Smeltzer brought us a bunch of wheat from his farm this week that looks most promising. It stands waist high all over the field and he feels sure that with favorable weather it will yield 25 bushels to the acre.
The deacons of Allen county solemnly resolve that they "view with disgust" the republican endorsement of Senator Ingalls. This disgust will be their approval, compared with the disgust they will experience when the returns come in next November.
The reason why the trade of Cowan, Auschman & Norris has, of late, increased so largely, is that they sell all goods uniformly low, thereby making the occasional buyer a regular customer. They buy lower and their expenses are less than that of anyone else. Try them.
We wish to assure our correspondents that we highly appreciate the very flattering allusions to the editor of this paper contained in a number of their letters. The remarks are stricken out, however, for the reason that we do not want to make the REGISTER a personal organ.
The Commissioners, at their meeting last Saturday, awarded the building of the abutments to the Osgie bridge to Mr. A. D. Gunn, of Rich township, Anderson county, the contract price being $5,350 per cubic yard. Mr. Gunn is an energetic, capable man and will do the work well.
Resolved: That we believe Dan Voorhees told the truth when he said Ingalls was a great liar.—Democratic Pioneer.
In the light of the above resolution we venture to suggest that the democrats of Allen county advocate the following ticket: For President, Dan Voorhees; For Vice-President, Dan Voorhees; Platform, Ingalls is a liar, give the copperheads a chance.
The COURANT has queer ideas about "conducting an argument," remarked a gentleman the other day. "It makes a statement without any proof one week, the REGISTER completely refutes it, but in its next issue the COURANT, without attempting a reply to the REGISTER's argument, calmly repeats its original statement." That is about the size of it.
Mr. W. H. Evans asks us to say that he would like to meet at the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening at 7:30, all who wish to receive instruction in vocal music. He desires that both adults and children should attend this meeting so that the proper division into beginning and more advanced classes can be made without delay. The terms of tuition will also be made known at this meeting.
Mrs. Frank Woodruff decided to go west with her husband instead of east to visit her old home, and accordingly they both started for California last Tuesday. A number of their friends gathered in an informal way at Mr. Harris' on Monday evening to bid them goodbye. Later in the evening the Kickapoo Club called to give them a farewell serenade. The gentlemen were invited in, refreshments were served and the time passed very pleasantly. Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff leave with them the heartiest good wishes of innumerable friends.

Vertell or Vermicelli or some other fellow with an American tongue and an Italian name, gave an exhibition Monday evening on a light rope stretched across the street from the Opera House. He proclaimed in a loud voice that he was ready to carry any man weighing not more than 150 pounds across the street on the rope. There were a number of American citizens present who were ready to refuse a free ride, but on this occasion they modestly declined the offer, assuring the gentleman that if it was all the same to him they would just as lief walk. The exhibition was free and was therefore entirely satisfactory to the immense and enthusiastic audience. The legitimate entertainment in the Opera House that followed was not free and was declared by the few who witnessed it to have been a vile performance. The manager remarked to us pathetically that he had lost in Kansas $10,000, all the money he had saved him right. Kansas has something better to do than to spend her time and her money to see a fellow pull ribbons out of his mouth and half dollars out of his hair. Particularly on a presidential year.
In the society of young people he [a democrat] is often shunned who were once well liked by those who are in reality his inferiors, because he is a democrat.—Courant.
That explains it. We have wondered why it was that handsome and well-mannered gentlemen like Dr. LaFare, Alt Campbell, S. H. Patterson, J. W. Hamm, Jasper Patterson and others were "shunned" by the young people, particularly by the young ladies of our town, why they were never invited to any private gatherings and why, when they appeared in any public company, they were always made "the butt of ridicule." We have even wondered why the gentlemanly editor of the COURANT was never seen in polite society. We understand it all now. It is because these young men are democrats.
Moth proof carpet paper. Patterson's.
Searching through the whole magnificent forest of current politics for a piece of timber that would serve as a part of their political platform, the democrats of Allen county light upon the vile and slanderous phrase of a notorious copperhead, spoken in drunken rage and apologized for even by the vulgar churl who uttered it,—lighting upon this phrase with the chuckling eagerness of a scavenger bird upon a piece of offal, the democrats of Allen county gleefully resolve "That Dan Voorhees told the truth when he said Ingalls was a great liar!" What a vital issue is here presented! What profound statesmanship is here presented! What a far-reaching line of public policy is here indicated!
The editor of this paper went yesterday to Topeka where he joins, by invitation, a party of Kansas editors and their wives who will start this morning by special train on a trip to the City of Mexico, expecting to return the first week in June. Mr. Scott will be accompanied on the journey by his sister, Miss Welch. During his absence the editorial management of the REGISTER is left in the hands of A. C. Scott. The business affairs of the paper are in charge of Mr. E. H. McNeil who has full authority to make contracts, receive money, and in every way act for and in the name of the proprietor.
It is doubtful if any of the humorous propositions lately forwarded by that wildly hilarious journal, the ALLEN COUNTY COURANT, have occasioned more universal amusement than its reference in last week's issue to the "intolerance" of Kansas republicans. What can be more grotesque than such a charge in the columns of a paper that could not pay expenses for the support of these same Kansas Kansas republicans? The COURANT is a great wag.
Straw matting at Patterson's.
Hon. L. U. Humphrey, of Independence, is expected to be present at the next meeting of the Republican Club and deliver an address on the political issues. Mr. Humphrey is not an orator, but he is an able, sensible speaker and, according to the present outlook will be the next governor of Kansas. We trust our people will turn out and give him a rousing reception. We might add that the secretary of the Club has received a number of copies of Senator Plum's able and eloquent speech on the present political situation which will be distributed at the next meeting.
Mr. Chauncey Sawyer and Miss Olive Smith were married last evening at the residence of the bride's mother in Geneva township, Rev. Price, of Wellington, officiating. The groom is one of our most enterprising and prosperous young farmers, while the bride is widely known over the country as a popular and efficient teacher. The REGISTER joins with many friends in extending congratulations and good wishes.
The following is the list of jurors drawn for the June term of Court: J. C. Beatty, Wm. Vandever, Osgie; J. H. Harris, G. W. Ellis, B. F. Clark, D. W. Beyer, R. W. Rose, J. W. Welch, J. P. Gillespie, J. C. Reeder, Elm; C. N. Spencer, Geneva; J. C. Strickler, Carlyle; G. E. Lehman, Humboldt; R. A. Hardy, Deer Creek; Chas. Nelson, Elmour; J. R. McNaught, Marmaton.
Best line of corsets at Rodman's.
R. B. Stevenson tells us he learned recently from good authority that it is the intention of the Santa Fe management to make the Southern Kansas road the main line for their Pan Handle and Texas business. This is another new train and will make the Southern Kansas one of the most important roads in the State. The time of the change has not yet been definitely announced.
John Sherman is quoted recently as having expressed doubt of the ability of the republicans to carry New York this year, and thinks the party should endeavor to win in Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut instead. We are pleased to observe that the Hon. John is evidently a close and attentive reader of the REGISTER.
Best styles shirts at Rodman's.
Our offer to send the Kansas City Journal free until the election to any new subscriber to the REGISTER or to an old subscriber who pays all arrears good for the campaign. But don't you see that the sooner you take advantage of it, the more you will get for the money?
Correspondents located in adjoining neighborhoods sometimes report the same occurrences. In such cases we allow the letter first received to stand and cut out the item from the other so that the same news may not appear twice. This explanation is made so that our reporters may understand why their letters are sometimes omitted.

"That is the first time Cleveland ever got so close to an American flag," remarked an old soldier as he looked at the wagon that brought the Marmaton delegates to the Convention last Saturday.
Good grain and stock farm of 100 acres in Marion county Ill., 70 miles east of St. Louis, with house, barn, sheds, etc., and 20 acres of timber to trade for an Allen county farm. Bostwick & Smeltzer.
The Base Ball Club will give a social and entertainment at the Opera House on Saturday evening May 29, the proceeds to be used in the purchase of uniforms. Further notice will be given next week.
The democrats of Allen county endorse the words of Voorhees, drunk, even after Voorhees, sober, had apologized for them and expunged them, in shame, from the record. And still they prate about "intelligent freedom!"
The entertainment given at the Opera House last Thursday evening under the auspices of the Select Knights attracted a large audience, gave excellent satisfaction, and— which was the principal thing—was a financial success, netting the Legion something over $35.
The base ball boys are skirmishing around for money to purchase uniforms. The REGISTER cheerfully contributes its mite on the express understanding that the boys are to "everlastingly mop the earth," as the Wichita platform has it, with every club that plays them.
We have not yet seen Mr. Funston's speech in full, a synopsis of which is given in the CAPITAL's dispatch published on our last page. But when it comes we will publish it in full if our space allows. Farmer Funston is a chance. My highest ambition will be to vindicate their good opinion."

We ran across another "poor, mortgage laden" farmer this week. Six years ago at the age of 21, he was married. His father gave him a team, an old wagon, a plow, a head of cattle and $88 in money. Adding $14 of his own he made the first payment of $100 on a quarter section of prairie land with no improvements except a house, giving a mortgage of $630 for the deferred payments. Since then he has paid this mortgage, has bought 120 acres more land which is also paid for, has 140 acres in cultivation, the entire farm fenced and cross fenced, with good out-buildings and a large orchard, has 60 head of cattle, 2 horses, all the necessary farming implements, $888 cash in bank, and doesn't owe a cent. Or, to sum it up, this young man, without the help of a dollar from any outside source, except the small start first noted has supported his family and in six years has accumulated property worth at least $5,000 more than his original investment. This is perhaps an exceptional case; but it shows what can be done on a Kansas farm. And we submit that it is an insult to offer a class of men engaged in an occupation that shows such possibilities. And we submit further that an economic system under which such results can be obtained is not very badly out of kilter, however much it may be "depreciated" by the democratic party.
350 parasols received at Rodman's.
The assessors tell us that they find a growing reluctance among the farmers to give the agricultural, stock and dairy statistics which the law requires the assessors to take. This is perhaps not the fault of the stock and produce exchange take advantage of the knowledge afforded them by these statistics to depress prices. There is little doubt that this is true. But even if it were not, it is hard to see in what way these statistics repay the cost of taking them. The assessors tell us that it takes as much time and trouble and therefore costs as much to collect them as it does to assess the property. That is, if it costs $1,000 each year to assess the county, $200 of that amount is paid for taking statistics. And so far as we know they are of no practical value. In the old "boom" days, to be sure, they were a mighty fine thing to help Kansas brag. But Kansas doesn't need that any more. Or at any rate once in five years is often enough, and not once every year. We have not studied all the pros and cons of the matter, but it looks, off-hand, as if the law as it now exists entails a useless expense upon the people,—occasions possibly a great deal of damage also—without yielding any corresponding benefit.
New gloves and mitts at Rodman's.
In half the schools of Kansas taught by males the teacher's antecedents are shown before a contract is signed, and many a deserving young man is turned away from where he may have done excellent work because he is a democrat.—COURANT.
Can the COURANT furnish a single atom of proof of the above assertion? Miss Chittenden's correspondence in this column in support of it has come to her notice since she became County Superintendent. Mr. Henderson says that he never heard of such a case during the four years that he administered the office. We know that the school-board of Iola City, all radical republicans employed a successor to Prof. Olin without having the faintest idea of his political affiliations. Is Allen county an exception to the general rule? Or did the COURANT, in a fit of abstruseness, simply make the statement with out any idea whether it was true or not?
Judging, probably, by a stray copy of the COURANT which fell into his hands, that everybody in Allen county was compelled to borrow money "to keep their families from starving," a general agent of an eastern loan company opened a correspondence with H. L. Henderson recently with a view to establishing an agency at this place. Hearing nothing satisfactory from Mr. H., he came here this week to see him personally. Upon arriving, however, he went first to the records where he found that just two mortgages had been received during the past fifteen days. That settled it. He told Mr. Henderson that he had no use for an agent in a place where people were only placing mortgages at the rate of four a month.
Judge Knox, of Princeton, Ill., is in the county this week and we are informed that he has placed all the land owned here by Bureau county, Ill., men—many thousand acres in all—in the hands of John S. Martin, of Moran, with full authority to treat with the owners of the land, and to sell it as agent for other parties. Mr. Martin has already compromised with a number of the Leaguers and we trust that those who occupy the lands above referred to will be wise enough to accept the generous terms that Mr. Martin is now authorized to give. It will be only the part of good citizenship for them to do so, but it will be money in their pockets in the end.
Three or four weeks ago a young man applied to Judge Arnold for a marriage license. A day or two afterwards he returned with the license and wanted his money back because the intended bride declined at the last moment to become a wife. He wept, but she wouldn't, as it were. This week the young man again appeared at the Propate office, and this time, that there might be no ill, he brought the lady—not the lady who had once declined, but another—with him, and had the Judge tie the knot then and there. When a Kansas man starts out to get married he never lets one little bluff discourage him.
Alonso Burton was arrested in Chanute last Friday on suspicion of having burglarized Anderson & DeClute's store, as noted last week. On being brought before Judge Walters he pleaded guilty, alleging only, by way of extenuation, that he was aided in the crime by a tramp. He was bound over to appear for trial before the District Court, and in default of bail is now lodged in jail. He is a member of the Knights of the Ku Klux and his parents, who are most estimable people, are prostrated with grief over his waywardness.
Talk about political obtuseness: Capt. Thrasher remarked the other day to a delegate to the democratic convention that Voorhees had apologized. "Well he oughtn't to have apologized," said the astute delegate. "I don't think Ingalls, anyway, I haven't any sympathy for him; he deserves all he got!" This reminds us of Artemus Ward's fight when he "got his nose between the other fellow's teeth and just held him right there."
In a private letter to the editor of this paper dated May 9, Senator Ingalls says: "I am under many obligations to the republicans of Allen county for the expressions of their confidence and support. It is not often that a representative is endorsed in advance, and I esteem myself especially fortunate in having established such a reputation that my friends feel that they can afford to guarantee me no pay. Charges 1 1/2 per cent. Correspondence promptly answered."

THE 23rd Annual Convention of the Kansas State Sabbath School Association will be held at Abilene, June 6th to 8th. Rev. W. F. Crafts, of New York, and Prof. E. O. Excel, of Chicago, are to assist. Abilene offers entertainment to all who come. Delegates who pay full fare going, and take a receipt therefor, will be returned at one third fare. In case you pass over more than one line, buy to junction points taking receipt as above.

Citizens of Elm tell us that the neighbors and friends of H. F. Travis, of that township, are urging him to become a candidate for the office of Representative. Mr. Travis has a fine record, as a soldier in Hancock's corps, as a member of the New York Legislature, as a farmer and as a citizen, and if nominated he will be elected and will make a faithful and ablest representative.

Paola has a new "racket" in the way of social entertainments, described as follows by the Republian: "The Methodists had a 'whistling social' at B. L. West's residence Tuesday evening. Slides were chosen, as in spelling matches, to whistle each other down, and those who could not keep their throats straight enough to whistle were fined five cents for each failure. There were many smiles and many nickels, and a good time all around."
