THE MINT REPORT.

Figures Submitted By E. O. Leach to the Secretary of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Mr. E. O. Leach, director of the mint, has submitted to the secretary of the treasury a report on the operations of the mint and assay offices of the United States for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1892. The value of the gold deposited at the mints and assay offices during the year was $95,476,973. Of the original deposits, $21,961,546 were the product of our own mines; $24,935,842 foreign gold coin and bullion; $57,968 light weight domestic gold coin, and $48,636,694 old mineral.

The deposits and purchases of silver aggregated $3,121,538 standard ounces, of the coinage value of $8,922,393. Of the silver received $1,130,509 standard ounces, of the coinage value of $3,461,972, were the product of domestic mines and refiners; $1,178,078 standard ounces, of the coinage value of $3,649,672, were foreign silver bullion and coin; $5,233,997 standard ounces, of the coinage value of $6,509,274, were purchased domestic coins for coinage; 1,921 standard ounces, of the coinage value of $4,256, trade dollars melted, and 632,299 standard ounces, of the coinage value of $143,411, old plate, jewelry, etc.

The coinage of the mints during the last fiscal year aggregated 414,551,124 pieces, valued as follows: Gold, $23,300,897; silver dollars, $8,829,487; subsidiary silver, $6,850,812; minor coins, 1,296,119; total value, $41,792,956.

The total amount of silver purchased during the year aggregated 44,350,775 fine ounces costing $1,106,908 at an average cost of 94 cents per fine ounce. Since July 1, 1892, the average price has been 92 1/2.

JOKERS IN TROUBLE. Two Jokers Kansas City Mo. Whoose Friend Fanny Canvassed the Death of a Fellow Employee and is Now Caving Them Such Trouble.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 3.—Peter Walters and A. H. Polmeyer have been indicted for manslaughter in the fourth degree, as a result of the "practical joke" perpetrated by them on September 21 last, which cost Thomas H. Vincent his life.

All three of the men were employed in the implement house of Buford & George in the west bottoms. Through one of the rooms in the building ran an electric light wire that in some way had become detached, and Walters and Polmeyer conceived the idea that it would be real funny to so connect this wire as to give some of their comrades a "shock." They spilled out another wire and connected the whole in such manner that any person entering the room would be likely to come in contact with the two poles, thus completing the circuit and obtaining the benefit of the full current. Then the two "jokers" waited. Vincent soon entered the room, closed the door and after waiting for him to come out and other employes of the house entered and found Vincent lying on the floor motionless. Upon examination it was found that he was dead.

At first his death was thought to have been accidental, but at the coroner's inquest the facts as here stated were brought out. The matter was laid before the special grand jury and the indictments returned.

HARVEIZED IRON. An American Invention Satisfactory to the British Government.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The government trial of an American Harveized armor-plate to test its value on board the admiralty's proving tank in Portsmouth harbor. The plate, which was affixed to the stern of the vessel, was eight feet high by six feet wide and was ten and one-half inches thick. It was attacked by a six-inch breech-loading rifle, firing three Hottler and two Palliser armor-piercing projectiles, weighing 109 pounds each, with the usual velocity adopted in all the admiralty tests, namely, 3,070 feet a second. All the projectiles were completely destroyed, being broken into small fragments. Not a single crack was developed in the plate. The trial is considered by experts to be the most important test that has ever taken place in England, and may result in the adoption of the American process for making armor for British ironclads.

W. C. T. U. CLOSED. Resolutions on the World's Fair, Liquor and Long-Sight.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 3.—At the closing of the W. C. T. U. convention, the following resolutions were passed: Whereas, A strong effort has been and is still being made to have the gates of the Columbian exhibition opened on Sunday; and Whereas, We believe that any part of the exhibition on that day would establish a precedent the tendency of which would be to break down our Sunday law all over the country, and bring to us a continental Sunday with all its demoralizing influences; therefore,

Resolved, That we are grateful for the action of our national congress in ordering the gates closed on Sunday; and that we trust no contrary action may be taken.

Resolved, That we are also passing protesting against liquor being sold on the exhibition grounds; against the tobacco and cigarette habit; and approved the movement to prevent the wearing of long skirts on the street. The other resolutions were of an unimportant nature.

Met With Bad Weather. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The steamship Marchioness, ten days overdue from Port of Spain, whence she sailed October 15, has arrived at this port. MORE ALARMING.

The Strike at New Orleans Enters an Acute Phase.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—The strike of the labor unions composing the Workmen's Amalgamated council assumed more alarming proportions yesterday and the prospect now is that all of the city industries, with possibly one or two exceptions, in which union labor is employed, will be at a standstill today.

The conference between the merchants and laborers' committee was resumed at the city hall, Mayor Fitzpatrick presiding, and after an executive session, which covered two hours, was finally dissolved without result.

The merchants persisted in their demand that the men should return to work before any attempt was made to arbitrate the existing difference and the men were equally firm in their demand that the difference should be arbitrated at once before the men were ordered back to work; or at least as an evidence of good faith that an arbitrator should be chosen at once. To this proposition the merchants replied that no charge of bad faith could be laid against them.

The men, they claimed, had failed to carry out the agreement made with them and if guarantees were to be given, they should come from the men.

Up to midnight the men had made no fresh overtures to their employers. The electric light workers union has decided to join the strike but the decision requires the sanction of the International Electric Workers union of which it is a member before it becomes effective.

When they strike, if they do, the city will be in darkness, as the gas men went out yesterday. The longshoremen have refused to strike and have resigned from the American Federation of Labor.

The Typographical union met yesterday afternoon and decided to go out. This will probably suspend the publication of every morning paper in the city except the German Gazette.

The guards at the armories of all local military commands have been doubled and arrangements made to call the troops out at a moment's notice. There has so far been no demand upon their services. Street car travel has been entirely suspended, and the only means of transit to distant parts of the city is by hacks or wagons, which are rare periodically.

ANARCHIST ANNIVERSARY. Fifteen Hundred Men and Women Proceed to Waldheim Cemetery.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Sunday was the anniversary of anarchy in Chicago. Thirty-five hundred people stood in a cold, drizzling rain at Waldheim cemetery and paid tribute with speech and song to the memory of the martyrs who died in the cause of freedom and justice.

The graves of the men who were condemned by the law for their part in the Haymarket riot—August Spies, George Engel, Albert Parsons, Adolph Fischer and Louis Lingg.

Quiet earnestness and enthusiasm and general good order characterized the celebration of the men and women who dedicated to the world a monument that is to mark the graves of those who five years ago paid the penalty of criminal law for their part in the city and the economy at the cemetery were the features of the day.

The labor organizations that were to participate gathered at the Haymarket square at 11:00 in the morning, but it was soon before the procession moved. Fifteen hundred men and women and children were in line and marched to the grand central depot, accompanied by bands playing the Marseillaise and the death march. They were searched with interest by many who had stationed themselves on the sidewalks on the route. At the station two special trains awaited to convey the crowd to the cemetery where the graves were lavishly decorated.

The monument which marks the burying place of the men was hung with ropes of snail and five crimson roses. "Murdered, but not dead," was the inscription, set in emeralds. On the pedestal were Spies' dying words as the name was mentioned about his neck: "Our souls will be more powerful than yours can be." All of the floral emblems bore red streamers and the color prevailed everywhere in badges and bouquets.

CRUSHED IN THE ICE. Many Mariners Drowned By the Wreck of the Helene Mac.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The steam whaler Helene, which has arrived from the Arctic regions brings the news of the destruction of the whaling bark Helen Mac, Capt. Thaxter, and the loss of sixty of her crew. Only five of the vessel's men were saved.

On October 6, while the Helen Mac was engaged in cutting in a whale, in latitude 71° 20' N., longitude 163° 30' W., she was crushed in the ice. The ocean came with a rush and without warning. The vessels and boats were crushed to splinters and the officers and men had no time to lower the boats and get away.

The fifth mate, Ward, a boat steerer, Cook, Okey Kershaw and two sailors were the only ones saved. They clung to the mainmast as the crew was crushed in the ice.

Capt. Thaxter was either crushed to death or drowned. For forty-eight hours the five men clung to the beam and were finally taken off by the steam whaler Orea. The Helene brought down with her the cook and Japanese sailor of the Mac, the two others remaining on the Orea and one went on the whaler Reindeer.

Venerable Woman Dead. St. Joseph, Mich., Nov. 3.—Miss Parmelia Wright died in Benton Harbor last night, aged 102 years.
