

THE PIPING TIMES OF PEACE

Have come, and the plow and the pruning hook rule the world. The lion and the lamb may lie down together, but the lambs—Cuba, Porto Rico and Manila—will be inside the lion. In war or peace the New York Store is to the front. The soldier and the citizen and their wives all buy from them, and tell their friends. You buy all goods on a guaranty that they are as represented or your money back if you want it. THEY BUY FOR CASH AND THEY SELL FOR CASH.

 F. S. Bennett left today for Chicago where he will try to close a real estate deal.
 Mrs. Baldwin came down from Garnett today for a visit with her uncle Mr. Delaplaine.
 Miss Swiney and Miss Wood went to Colony today to visit the family of Mr. Chan. Denton.
 Mr. and Mrs. Rob't. White went to Neosho Falls to attend the reunion and to visit old friends.
 Wanted—100 young people who wish to secure situations in office work. The Ottawa Business College.
 Mrs. C. L. Whitaker and Mrs. Swiney left today for St. Joe, Mo., where a fall stock of millinery will be purchased.
 The Chauteau says that Monday afternoon Judge Stillwell, while holding court was prostrated by the heat, but soon recovered.
 Among the many leading firms employing graduates of the Ottawa Business College are the great packing houses of Kansas City.
 The colored men and brethren are circulating a "little paper" to raise funds for properly celebrating Emancipation Day, September 22.
 O. Love came over from Bronson yesterday and stayed here all morning and the Iola girls never even discovered that Cupid had a relative visiting here.
 The REGISTER is indebted to the managers for complimentary tickets to the Anderson County Fair, which is to be held at Garnett August 30, 31, September 1 and 2.
 Miss May Long, of Erie, who has been visiting the family of her uncle, Finley Long, returned home today. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Maude Long for a visit.
 A traveling passenger agent of the Santa Fe was in town the other day and said that he was planning to bring 100 coach loads of people to Iola over his line on log rolling day.
 Miss Myrtle Marsh left last evening for Lewisburg, Mo., where she will clerk in a store. If she likes Missouri after living in Kansas she will remain, otherwise she will return to Iola.

 Mr. Tudor and Rector Coats have been at work for a day or two converting the Adventist church into an Episcopal chapel, and the result does great credit to their taste and skill.
 One of the wonders of the West today is the phenomenal growth of the Ottawa Business College as attained in the past year. This school for the next year will be the leading one of not only the State but the West.
 Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Overholt were in from Salem Tuesday on business with the Iola Manufacturing Co. There may be a more important announcement in this connection later.
 Young people who are thinking of securing a practical education can learn something which will be of interest to them if they will drop a card to the Ottawa Business College, Ottawa, Kansas.
 A private letter from Camp Merritt says that the boys there are drilling right along but not so severely as during the late war. All the boys expect to be ordered back to Kansas within thirty days.
 Mr. Edwards, of the firm of masons which is building the new school house, will shortly begin the erection of a handsome new brick residence in the Twies addition just north of where the old Buchanan house now stands.
 A. B. Mull yesterday received by express from W. G. McCandless & Sons, of Cottonwood Falls, a fine large Cottswold ram. The poor sheep found traveling pretty warm and was as tickled as a goat to escape from the box in which he came to the pasture.
 Rev. Dr. Wm. Quail has many friends in Allen county who wish to keep track of him and who will therefore be interested in knowing that he has been transferred from Independence Avenue church, Kansas City, Mo., to the Meridian street church, Indianapolis, Ind.
 Mr. Finley Long, who came here and opened up a law office some time ago, has decided to give up the practice and to re-enter his old profession of teaching and has secured the Geneva schools. He sold his law library to Mr. Clifford, who has just opened up a law office here.
 An Edison's Commercial Phonograph will be used in the Ottawa Business College for the next year for the purpose of giving its students practice in typewriter dictation. This school furnishes its students with everything which is up to date and practical. Send for circulars.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.
 The good old custom of setting barrels of ice water out on the side walk for the benefit of thirsty pedestrians is going to be followed on log rolling day. Thirty people have already signified their intention of putting out barrels.
 Yesterday afternoon was scrubbing day on the south bound Santa Fe freight. The caboose was stopped near the tank and for five minutes the Neosho river ran through it. A good many Iola house wives would like to run a hose into their kitchens about twice a week.
 When you are talking to men who are thinking of investing here or who may come here to investigate, do not forget to tell them that the taxes in Iola have been reduced two cents during the past year and are likely to go still lower. Taxes were reduced in '95 from 7.20 to 5.42.
 Mr. W. S. Fallis, of the Humboldt bank, is in town today and says that Humboldt is coming up in a body to the Log Rolling. By the way Mr. Fallis has lately bought the bank building, in which he has been doing business for the past two years,—a very gratifying evidence of the success with which he has met.
 Allen county claims to have the youngest sheriff in all the broad State of Kansas. His name is Harmon Hobart and he was elected to office at the age of 28. Besides being young, he is one of the most popular and efficient officers who ever held the position in the county, which is another point in which he claims precedence.
 Chauteau Tribune: Miss Pearl Peters and Mr. Lee Wertz were married Saturday, Aug. 20, 1898 at Iola. The bride is the fair and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Peters and has a host of friends in this city. The groom is a popular Santa Fe switchman at Winfield. Mr. Wertz took his bride to the east on a wedding tour.
 Work was begun this morning of excavating the alley in block seventy. A gang of six men began digging the alley down to a level with the sink holes and the whole will be filled in and paved with blocks of stone. Those who think it will not be a great improvement should drive down the alley once, and they will either perish in the attempt or come out converted.
 Iola has at last broken over the traces and commenced to boast. The REGISTER declares that she has not only the most gas of any town on earth, but the best gas. While this is barely gas work, the REGISTER puts it as an absolute fact.—Edithson Champion.
 The REGISTER simply quoted the words of Prof. E. Haworth, of the State University, who has made a profound and exhaustive study of Kansas gas and whose conclusions are scientific and wholly unprejudiced.

 Readers of the REGISTER will remember a certain sick fowl which appeared at the court house on the day the Populist county central committee met. Well, it's dead,—not the committee, but the fowl. The committee is in a bad way and its friends are tracing themselves for that dissolution which a lingering disease is sure to bring. This will close one "fowl" chapter of history.
 Mr. Wm. R. Robinson, living in the southwest part of Iola township, brought to the REGISTER office this week a grape vine about 10 feet long upon which there were fifty-one bunches of grapes. The grapes were of the Dracont Amber variety and were very fine in size and flavor. The vine was shown about town and excited much comment. An effort was made to have it put in cold storage and kept until the Fall; but "de gang" was too hungry.
 People have been arguing, discussing and wondering what Iola will look like on September 1, and how she will care for the crowd. One of the chief bones of contention is the question where the railroads will stow the hundred or more passenger coaches which will be here all day. As a matter of fact there is side track enough in and around Iola to hold twice that many cars and in case of a rush the Missouri Pacific and Santa Fe can go caboose and run from one main line to the other when a train wants to pass. Isn't it going to look scrumptious with a few miles of red and yellow coaches strung out into the country? It's a warning, a premonition of "what's to be."
Tuesday's News.
 Mrs. Rev. J. P. Wright returned home today.
 Mrs. R. H. Lanyon left for Pittsburg last night.
 Dan Hunter returned from a trip south today noon.
 C. H. Hackney, of LaHarpe and suburbs, was in town today.
 "Today has been warm." Oh, how inexpressive polite English is!
 Mr. Funkhouser continues to improve from his recent attack of fever.
 For farm loans and insurance at lowest rates see Smith, Ward & Co. if Smith, Ward & Co. have the lowest rates for farm loans and insurance. If Mr. Helle was up from Humboldt today humming around the Iola sweetness.

D. EWART & CO.

 Miss White, of Altoona, arrived today for a visit with the family of Rev. N. L. Vezie.
 Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cozad will leave tonight for Indianapolis to take in the K. of P. convolve.
 Mr. A. L. Harmon returned Sunday from several weeks pleasant camping out trip near Eldorado Springs, Mo.
 Mrs. Grant Bilbe and Mrs. H. E. Thomas drove out this morning to Liberty to visit the family of James B. Pees.
 Mr. L. V. Gardner, engineer at the brick plant, has bought the Japhet house at the corner of N. Buckeye and E. Monroe.
 The Simpson block is going to be in a good shape to strike the eye of log rolling visitors and it won't have to fall on them either to impress them.
 A report on the street yesterday has it that Elmer Gray, a sergeant in Co. I., has resigned on account of ill health and deafness, and will be home soon.
 On August 20, probate Judge Smith issued a marriage license to Joseph K. Manoffey and Onie K. Fulkerson. On the 22nd to Albert E. Holeman and Pearl L. Burruss.
 Frank Daly, a Nevada architect, and a brother of one of the proprietors of one of the new smelters, came over this morning to superintend the construction of the works.
 The Santa Fe railroad is doing a very funny thing for Kansas. Instead of waiting for the paint to wear off the depot roof, it hires a man by the day to scrape it off and put on a new coat.
 J. T. Caler has the contract for laying a brick walk, twelve feet wide along the south side of West street from Northrup's store to the next street west. It will be an immense improvement.

 Three of the huge whistles which are going to puncture the memories of visitors on Log Rolling day came over from Ft. Scott this morning. That old screecher, the father of all noise, was among them.
 Miss Margery Stevenson returned home today after a visit in Kansas City with relatives. She was accompanied by a small specimen of humanity called Lillian Long, who will visit here.
 Carl C. Luckock has taken a lay-off from the pursuit of night prowlers and is pursuing pleasure in a visit out of town. Mr. Castator is carrying the star and "little billy" around during his absence.
 One of the most noticeable of the many attractions of the new residence of R. H. Lanyon north of town is the west verandah. To lie in a hammock in the breeze on a hot summer morning strikes a mighty tender spot in the imagination of the casual observer.
 Mr. Frank Jackson has secured the first stand privilege and part of Floral Hall for the Log Rolling and tells the REGISTER he is making preparations to feed a good many hundred people. He has no doubt the crowd will be here.
 W. J. Thrig has been awarded the contract for paving the alley on the west side with cobble stones. This is Iola's first break into the paving business and is the beginning of what everyone hopes will be a steady movement which will result in Iola's having the finest streets in the country.
