A full line of fresh vegetables always on hand at Tyner's.

"Old Honesty" and "John McCullough" cigars at postoffice, Melrose, Ka.

The pot hunters are thinning out the quail by the covey.

Win. Hartley is building a large corn crib for Prof. Reuben Polk.

Baxter Springs shippers make serious complaints with regard to lack of cars.

The heavy rain of Thursday gave the growing wheat and blue grass a two inch start.

Dr. English is building quite an extensive barn in the rear of Tenelze's building on Sheridan ave.

Robt. Milne is shipping hay direct to Chicago and getting $13 per ton net, which is equal to $8 per ton here.

Prof. Clark has seventy scholars enrolled in his school at Star school house and they are every one of them singers.

Nearly all the farmers about Baxter Springs have finished gathering corn and the cattle and horses are cleaning up the stock fields.

A. Willard has just finished a large corn crib on East street and will be able to crib up a large amount of the cereal for the Baxter mills.

From the numerous loads of four inch lumber going out of the lumber yards we should judge there is some corn to crib in Cherokee county.

The prairies were alive with mallard ducks Thursday, and unless we have extremely cold weather many of them will remain here all winter.

Mrs. Whitten has bought the Richardson residence on Sherman street and is building a substantial barn and otherwise improving the property.

Arthur Huff and mother are expected back from New York today. Mrs. Huff comes here with the expectation of making her future home in Baxter Springs.

The weather prophets still predict a hard winter and plenty of ice for next summer's use. Len Brewster is preparing to build a large ice house on the river bank.

We doubt if any town in this section will have as fine a display of holiday goods as Baxter Springs. Nearly every store in town has something in that line and some of the stocks are elegant.

The Blue Mound Sabbath school will give a mush and milk and oyster supper at the Blue Mound school house Thursday evening, Dec. 10, for the benefit of the Sabbath school. All are cordially invited.

If you think the reading matter in the Baxter Springs News is unimportant this week, for heaven's sake buy a Kansas City paper and read a few columns about Baby Beals and the paving of McGee street.

Marsh Murdock, of the Wichita Eagle, is talked of as a candidate for governor. Murdock is one of the most independent and outspoken editors in Kansas and would carry Baxter Springs by a larger majority than any man spoken of as yet.

Frank Hemstreet, Clarence McFadden and John Jordan have returned from their voyage down the river. They did not kill any big game, but through the kindness of friends and the aid of friendly natives they were not permitted to suffer for the want of food.

A man who would send his wife around town enquiring for large early York apples, and then insist on her picking the bones out of a red horse for his breakfast should be placed on the advisory board of the equal suffrage society.

The bad boys in the west part of town are breaking out a good many window lights and the city marshal should make a vigorous effort to run some of them in. A boy may steal watermelons and still be saved, but a boy who breaks window lights maliciously is not worth saving.

The city Library association will give an entertainment at the city hall this Friday evening. Anita's Trial, or Our Girls in Camp, a lively comedy, will be rendered by the young lady amateurs of Baxter Springs, and everybody should turn out to see the play. We have no more worthy institution in our midst than the public library and every effort should be made to build it up and provide wholesome entertainment for our young people. The price of general admission is only 25 cents.

We have no old holiday stock which has been accumulating for the last fourteen years to sell off at cost, but everything is bright and new.

POLSTER'S DRUG STORE.

WE TAKE

particular pleasure in spreading before your astonished gaze this week a new arrival of STAND AND HANGING LAMPS, fresh from the latest importing jobbers' hands. These are not a bit too late to be snapped up greedily and we expect one will be sold before the week is over. It will be well, therefore, to be among the early buyers who take advantage of the unbroken assortment. The most cursory examination will show you that this sale is no advertising but is a genuine desire to make a record which people will long remember. While we are always on the watch for bargains, and while we have often given Baxter people some astounding evidences of our ability in picking them up, we never had so good a thing as we offer

THIS TIME.

Call and Pay What You Owe Me.

To all those who owe me book accounts, or who have given me their notes, now past due: I would most respectfully request you to call and settle. Your crop has been good, and your circumstances are such that you ought to pay me. I cannot afford to carry you along until wheat gets up to one dollar a bushel or hay is worth ten dollars a ton F. O. B. at Baxter, or the hog reaches four cents a pound. I am too poor for this kind of business. I offer this as a hint.

Respectfully, J. J. FRIBLEY.
